C. S. L. CUT-OFF
READY TODAY

Will Make a Great Improvement
At the Ogden Union Depot.

PROVIDE FOR CONDUCTORS.

M. Rooney Missing—Sunday School Union Meeting—Horse Thief Caught.

Ogden, Dec. 10.—Arrangements were completed for the opening of the Oregon Short Line cut-off from Roy to Ogden city today for regular traffic. The first train to be pulled over the new track was taken over about three weeks ago by Supt. Manson and other railroad officials, but it was only an inspection tour to look over the work done by the Utah Construction company, which prepared the road bed. While the cut-off will not shorten the distance between Ogden and Salt Lake City very much, yet the time to be saved is an important matter. The O. S. L. track, which has been used for many years, coming into Ogden made a large bend from near the old depot to the depot grounds, making practically a half circle, and the trains could not pull in front of the Union depot building without backing up to the place, which was a great loss of time. It is believed that the cut-off will save time by pulling in from the old track near Roy and coming into Ogden city near Thirtieth street, where the deep cut has been made, and will there run onto the Union Pacific track and straight into the depot grounds.

By the building of the Oregon Short Line cut-off and abandoning the old track the track arrangement of the Union depot passenger and freight yards will be made. The dirt taken from the big cut in the sand ridge has been used to fill in the places in the yards. It is the intention of the railroad officials to commence straightening out the tracks in the yards just as soon as spring opens up, which when completed will give the yards a much better appearance.

LYMAN.

Dismissing Experiences of B. G. Turner, Jr. and Byron Cook.

Special Correspondence.
Lyman, Utah, Dec. 8.—An occurrence that was exceedingly sad and unfortunate in every particular recently happened here. The story began with the death of one person, and but for the overruling hand of Providence, would have been followed by one or more fatalities in the mountains and near. As it was, there was suffering and sorrow on the part of two men, who will long remember their experience in a region where wintry elements reigned supreme. They will remember, too, the narrowness and littleness of

He has therefore asked the police to take a hand in an endeavor to locate him. Rooney is a member of a large road manufacturing company of Hastings.

S. S. UNION MEETING.

The regular monthly Sunday School union meeting of the Weber stake was held yesterday afternoon at the stake academy building. The attendance was very large from all the wards and much interest was manifested in the preview study of this month's lessons in the various departments.

HORSE THIEF CAUGHT.

James McDonald, with several aliases, who is wanted in Ogden on the charge of horsestealing, is at Reno, Nevada, it is believed, under arrest on the charge of shooting a man. After the horse was stolen from the city, he had been since recovered. McDonald went to Nevada. Word sent to Winnemucca brought out the information that McDonald had appeared at that point shortly after disappearing from here and applied at a blacksmith shop where he had formerly worked, for a position. Not securing the job he went to Reno, where he got tangled up in a shooting scrape. If he fails to get convicted there he will be brought back over for trial on the horse stealing charge.

MRS. BLACK INJURED.

Mrs. E. C. Black, who has apartments in the Peery annex on Twenty-fourth street, had the misfortune to fall yesterday in the building and break her left leg in two places. Dr. Gordon was summoned and reduced the fracture, but it will be considerable time before the lady can resume her household duties.

WEEK AT OPERA HOUSE.

Saturday matinee and night, Maud Fealy will be seen in "The Illusion of Beatrice."

FIRST BABY AT CRAGUNS.

The home of W. G. Cragun, the well known wholesale produce merchant was made to rejoice exceedingly yesterday by the arrival of a bouncing baby boy. Mr. and Mrs. Cragun have been married over 12 years and were not blessed with a child until yesterday. The mother is doing well and the baby is the pride of the family.

accidentally came across a sheep camp, where he was hospitably received, and next morning Alonzo Holt accompanied Mr. Turner to Mr. Cook's camp, at which point they arrived at midnight on the 22nd. The news was broken to the bereaved husband and he was restrained, almost forcibly, from starting homeward until morning.

When day dawned, Mr. Cook began his journey, and within an hour and a half was enveloped in a dense fog and fell of snow. The rider could only see a few feet in advance, and he lost the trail. As night fell, Mr. Cook found himself on the banks of the Colorado river, a day's ride in the opposite direction from where his course lay. He was wet and cold and his horse was fatigued almost to exhaustion.

Having located himself, Mr. Cook immediately began to retrace his tracks. He walked behind his animal to keep as warm as possible. To build a fire was impracticable, as material was wet. By this time the snow had changed to rain. In Box canyon, at 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning, Mr. Cook found a box, from which he made a fire, under a projecting rock, partly dried his socks, became somewhat warmed up, and re-saddling his horse, resumed his journey.

On the morning of the 24th Mr. Cook found the sheep camp of William Heaps, where a fresh horse was secured, and the journey was continued through the snow two feet deep. At 5 p. m. eight miles south of Sandy he met Alfred Osterburg, William Chappell and Charles Sampson, who were trying to find Mr. Cook and Benny Turner, both of whom were supposed to be lost. It was now five days since young Turner had started on the trip.

From Norton, Mr. Cook and Mr. Chappell traveled with fresh horses to Prentiss, and there another snow storm party was encountered, consisting of George Chappell, Sr., Orville Oldroyd, B. G. Turner, Sr., and Jerry Jackson. Lyman was reached at 2 p. m. Sunday, the 25th, the body of Mrs. Cook having been kept to await the coming of her husband.

The strain upon Mr. Cook during the long and terrible hours that he struggled through the snow, stricken with grief at the death of his wife, and more readily be imagined than described. To add to his sorrow and dismay, assistance was refused him from more than one source, one prominent man, with an abundance of hay, refusing to sell any of it for the animal of a man whose journey had been so fraught with suffering and distress. No names are publicly mentioned in this connection, but the story is known by many, who will long hold the uncharitable conduct in remembrance.

PAROWAN.

Reunion of Indian War Veterans—William H. Lyman III.

Parowan, Dec. 8.—The Indian war veterans held a reunion in the Opera House on the 7th inst., commencing at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and continuing until 12 o'clock at night, with the exception of a short adjournment for supper. The program consisted of speeches, in which the various experiences of the early settlers of the surrounding bands of Indians, notably those of Walker and Black Hawk were recounted, by Comrades John Lowder, Alexander Matheson, William C. McGregor, William C. Mitchell, R. H. Benson, James J. Adams, George Taylor, and Charles Adams. By special request, a number of the old Indian war veteran songs were sung by a company under the direction of W. T. Morris. Dancing was interspersed with the other numbers of the program with a number of old fashioned reels, etc. A selection was furnished by the district school. All present seemed to greatly enjoy the occasion and although this is the first of the kind held here it is to be hoped it will not be the last.

William H. Lyman is seriously ill with a complication of pleuro pneumonia, but is reported as improving at this time.

The city council at their last session passed an ordinance reducing the amount of liquor licenses from $1,200 per annum to $600, and it is quite likely that this will have a saloon running in the near future.

CAINEVILLE.

Snow or Rain Fell Continuously for a Period of Nearly Two Weeks. Special Correspondence.

Dec. 4.—This section of country has seldom, if ever, received so much moisture at this season of the year. A severe snowstorm set in Nov. 21, and continued until the last few days, since which time it has been raining hard. The ground is thoroughly soaked, giving promise of abundant crops the coming season.

This year the harvest was bounteous. Alfalfa seed to the amount of $2,000 was produced here, and the seed was first class, every particular. The health of the people is good, and everybody is rejoicing at the prosperity that is to be seen on every hand.

Mt. Pleasant, Dec. 8.—Yesterday while Evan Johnson was on his way to St. Anderson's high school, he was struck by a fall of ice from the roof of the school building, fracturing one of the rider's legs between the knee and foot.

The Y. M. C. A. of the North and South wards are making preparations to have their annual winter fund party at the opera house next Tuesday evening, Dec. 11. The receipts of the party are to be used in defraying the expenses of the Y. M. C. A. of the North and South wards.

The house and lot owned by Miss Lena Jorgensen, in this city, near the depot, changed hands this week. Mr. A. R. Young, who is occupying the place, being the purchaser.

Oscar F. Wall, cashier of the Mt. Pleasant Commercial and Savings bank had a sudden attack of illness last week. Prompt medical aid obviated an operation. The public schools have under headway for Christmas a cantata, entitled, "The Nativity."

A committee of the Mt. Pleasant Commercial club waited upon the city council in its last session, and as a result the committee on streets and lighting is to co-operate with the club in an endeavor to have the electric light and telephone poles in this city painted.

The city has had a crowd of men at work for some time digging a channel through the flood district of last summer. Some $500 has been expended, and the channel, it is hoped, will carry away future floods.

DEAD AT FOOT OF CLIFF.

San Francisco, Dec. 9.—The body of an unknown, apparently an Italian laborer, was found this afternoon across the railroad tracks of the Globe Mills company, at Montgomery and Chestnut streets, at the foot of a steep bluff.

The body was still warm when discovered and half way up the sheer declivity hung a black overcoat upon a jagged rock. The police were immediately notified.

The cliff at the base of which the body was found is fully 200 feet high and almost perpendicular. Presumably the man had wandered along the edge of the cliff early in the day and coming to this natural seat, had stopped to rest. He probably dozed and plunged in his death over the cliff.
