Moroni, Sanpete Co., March 27.—The funeral of Minnie Nielsen, whose tragic death occurred at Provo, as previ-ously announced in the "News," took place today at the family home. It was one of the most numerously attended funerals that has ever been held here. The great throng showed its sympathy for the family and for the poor child that had been so greviously upper here and here and here so greviously wronged by that conscienceless villain

Wronged by that conscienceless vinam, Partridge. The speakers were Bishop Bradley, Elders Julius Christensen, Joseph L. Jolley, James Kropp and Joachim C. Anderson, who each spoke words of love and comfort to the bereaved family In the long cortege were 32 of her gir companions who showed their love for their friend by marching on each side of the hearse for a distance of about two miles to the cemetery. This and event has cast a gloom over the whole city where she was known only as a shy, diffident and delicate girl. The intimation of your Provo correspondent that the self confessed mis-creant may escape punishment on ac-count of his victim's death, seems to be about the last straw needed to dis gust fair minded people with the tech-nicalities of the law, as but too fre-quently administered in favor of crim-inals. inals.
