LAX MORALS OF FACTORY GIRLS

Governor Cutler Talks to Business Men Regarding Their Hired Help.

JAMES G. M'DONALD RESENTS.

He Affirms That the Maids Employed In Salt Lake Factories Are Not Morally Bad.

At a business men's meeting yesterday afternoon, in the city and county building, with Gov. Cutler, the executive stated his regret at the alleged lax morals of Salt Lake young people, especially girls employed in the local factories. With Rev. P. A. Simpkin and Secy, Beatty of the state board of health, he recently visited the state health, he recently visited the state reformatory, where he was given startling information by a givi inmate. She stated that she had been employed in two Salt Lake factories and one store. While there the givi stated she had made the acquaintance of a young man who persuaded her to accompany him to a rooming house. She claimed that most of the givis employed in the factories conducted themselves very much as she had done. The governor stated he had been informed there were many such places in this city, and had discovered other cases in the reform school similar to the one just ONE CASE CITED.

ONE CASE CITED.

ONE CASE CITED. Gov. Cutler asked the business men present to look into the moral condi-tions obtaining in their establishments, and see that girls are warned of possi-ble dangers. He spoke of a case where a girl contracted disease by drinking from a drinking fountain cup infected with germs, and applied the illustra-tion in asking his hearers if customers knew they were flable to contract dis-case in consuming products of factories where one or more of the operatives were diseased.

URGES REGARD FOR HELP.

Rev. P. A. Simpkin told how vice Rev. P. A. Simpkin told how vice when once started spreads through society as a whole, urging those pres-ent to exercise regard for the moral welfare of their help. Dr. Beatty stated that the apathy of Salt Lake people in such matters was astonishing: due probably to ignorance. He advised that parents watch their daughters when above from beams and not at work. absent from home and not at work.

chants or manufacturers should not be held responsible for the acts of their employes when away from their work, and while attending dance houses and public resorts. He did not, he said, cuploy girls who did not live at home and had to live in furnished rooms, for the wages paid were not sufficient for such a mode of life. STATEMENTS OF EMPLOYERS.

STATEMENTS OF EMPLOYERS. Similar statements were made by Mr. Sweet, proprietor of the Sweet Candy company, and L. L. Terry, of the Troy laundry. The former said that he had had 17 years' experience in hiring help and he stated that the moral standard of the shop girls of this eity was higher than that of most large citles. He endeavored to em-ploy good young women who were anatous to make an honest living, and he had a careful forewoman who used the utmost discretion in considering applications for positions. He un-qualifiedly resented the statement made that 50 per cent of the shop girls of this city were lumoral. The three speakers said that the word of one girl, who, according to her own statement had gone wrong, should not be made the basis of a sweepling compatint against the mer-chants and business men of the com-munity.

absent from home and not at work. SKATING RINKS OVERLOOKED. J. G. McDonald resented any assertion that girls employed in factories are morally bad. He said. "You have overlooked the skating rinks and the dance halls." He denied the statements made by Governor Cutler and Mr. Beatty. In 19 years, he said, he had employed thousands of girls and he had never had occasion to discharge but three for unbecoming conduct. The executive was asked the question as to whether he had not employed numbers of young girls in his store and other places of business, and whether any of them had gone wrong. Governor Cutler replied yes to the first question and no to the other. Mr. McDonald said that the same condi-tions obtained in his own establish-ment. He went on to say that mer-

Chief of Police Knew All the Time Where the Bogus Policenian Was in Hiding.

With the arrest of W. W. St. Clair llas W, W. One was sent from Riverton, Wyo, where Bell and hi-wife lived, and the other was sent from Kansas City, where Bell was arrested They were both received by Chlei Sheets and signed for by him at the Salt Lake postoffice. It is said that the postmaster at Riverton will identif. Bell as the man who sent the letter under the name of Frank Martin and it looks as though the chief will have a hard fime explaining the letter inci-dents.

SHEETS KEPT QUIET.

He certainly knew all the time that Martin was none other than Bell, where the officials wanted so badly, but not a hint was dropped by Sheets as to the matter and no effort was apparently made by him to secure the arrest of Bell. This information will be very Bell. This information will be ver-useful when Sheets is again placed on trial in the district court. It is also stated by the authorities that William Newton, the lawyer who has already been arrested as a conspira-tor in the case, knew of the where-abouts of Bell, as the latter had New-ton's address in a note book and gave it to his attorney in the courtoom al Kansas City and then attempted to tear the page with the address on it out of the book and destroy it. Deputy, Sheriff Eddington was too quick for him and setzed the page before it was de-stroyed.

LOOKS LIKE CONSPIRACY.

The county officials believe that The county officials believe that other letters passed between the chief and Bell and they expect to prove the contents of the letters when the case is again in court. This will no doubt prove very interesting and will cer-tainly be a strong link in the chain of circumstantial evidence against Sheets. Dist Atty Loofbourge will of circumstantial evidence against Sheets. Dist. Atty, Loofbourow will no doubt take action at once to file a new information against the chief so that the trial may be proceeded with in the district court.

IDENTIFIED HIM. Alexander and William McWhirter

Alexander and William McWhirter both called at the county jall yester-day afternoon and picked Bell out of a number of prisoners as the man who acted as bogus policeman and also went to the police station and negotiated with Chief Sheets for the return of $1,000 of the money stolen from the McWhirters. A. M. Gordon, the tailor, will call at the jall this afternoon for the purpose of identify-ing Bell. He made a suit of clothes for Parrent and also for Bell. He identified Parrent by the clothing and will, no doubt, be able to do the rame thing with Bell. It is said that Atty. Soren X. Chris-

Boy Committed to Reform School is Given Another Chance.

Walter Krough, who was committed to the Industrial school by Judge Gowans in the juvenile court several days ago, will not have to go to that institution. Walter is a bright boy and is a hard and willing worker. He was committed to the school on the request of his mother, who declared that she could do nothing with him. The boy broke down and cried upon being committed but after the court told him that he would be given a good home and an opportunity to go to school and learn a trade, his tears gave way to smiles and he seemed pleased way to smiles and he seemed pleased that he should have such an opportunity. "Can I learn to be an iron moulder?" he inquired. He was informed that he could and he seened satisfied to go to the school. His uncle learned of his commitment, however, and today ap-peared before the court and stated that he could arrange to care for the boy. He said that Walter was a good boy and was bright and willing to work but that he had been neglected and had had no home and no opportunities. The man said that he would be respon-sible for him and would furnish the required bond. Walter was according-ly committed to his custody and will be paced in an orphans' home for the present, whech he can receive some attention and schooling. Later on he will no doubt be afforded the oppor-tunity of learning the iron moulder's trade, which seems to be the height of his ambition. Charles Pierce and Fred Solls were before the court for stealing flowers and were made wards of the court and requested to report once a week. Guy Hart was fined for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk but his fine was suspend-red. 'Can I learn to be an iron moulder?'
