

out their lumber from the mill. Frank says it is not much of a road yet, but they have, in his own phraseology, succeeded in "getting a hole through."

Another Sheep-Header Shot.—Brother B. W. Briggs, of West Jordan, sends the following under date of yesterday—

"Henry Sadler, of Salt Lake City, in the employ of Bateman Bros., was accidentally shot by an Indian, last Monday evening, on White river, east of Saupete. The ball entered the hip and came out at the thigh, in front. Mr. Sadler reached here last night, by train. He says the Indian felt very badly about the misfortune and procured a 'Medicine Man' (Indian) to dress the injured limb. The wound is an ugly one, but, with proper care, it is thought it will not prove fatal."

Prevention.—During the next few days we may expect to hear of numerous disastrous accidents happening in various parts of the country, from the careless use of fireworks, fire arms, &c., in celebrating the Fourth of July. It is invariably the case at such seasons, every time they come around. Accidents hereabout, however, have been fewer at Fourth of July times of late years than heretofore, because of the stricter enforcement of the law on the subject, and that fires and other damages to persons and property may be prevented during this Centennial Fourth, it is to be hoped the City authorities will not slacken in the matter.

Kay's Grove.—The grove is large and beautiful, being sufficiently extensive in area to afford ample room and shade for all who may attend. It is distant about 100 rods from the Iron Works, and is approachable from that point by footmen, should any desire to go in that manner; in such case the road is via the U. N. R. R. track. We presume, however, a large part of the people going from the city and from distant points will go in cars of the above company, which will be kept in motion during the day. Carriages, buggies and wagons, however, can approach the grounds by way of the Ogden river bridge and good road thence to the grove.

The grounds are well covered with a coat of clean grass; shade trees in abundance, dense in some places, and with just open space enough for the fireworks to make a good show. A stand for speaker, seats for invited guests, platforms for refreshments and amusements of various kinds, among which we noticed a new thing to us in swings, there will be three of them, which, for want of a name; we will denominate "Griffith's Rotary Swing." If our readers don't know what that is, let them go up to the grove on the Fourth and see.

The main point, however, we want to make is, that the grove is large enough, shady enough, clean enough (no mud there), and near enough to water (plenty all around) and as to dust, we don't see how the crowd of one day can raise one in Kay's Grove.—Ogden Junction, June 29.

"Mormonism" in Mexico.—The following is published in the San Francisco Chronicle as translated from the Semanario Oficial, the official organ of the government of the State of Chihuahua, published in the city of Chihuahua—

"A few days ago a remarkable event attracted the attention of the public of this place. Daniel W. Jones, a prominent Mormon Apostle, had printed and distributed handbills announcing that he would preach a sermon on Mormonism at the Zaragoza Theatre. Rumors that Mr. Jones and his co-laborers would be stoned (apedreados) incited us to attend the meeting. The audience present was very large and at first complete order reigned. The preaching commenced in the midst of profound silence, which was an evidence that the audience was interested. After a little while a few discontented persons commenced to initiate disorder by throwing small stones and pieces of wood at where the speaker stood, but they had few imitators and were frowned down by the good judgment of the majority. The lecture was not very interesting, the audience diverting itself principally by contemplating the constant struggle of the orator with the difficulties of the Spanish language. The performance concluded with a heterogeneous mixture of applause and hisses. The Mormon missionaries intend to carry on their work along the Sierras. We wish them a pleasant trip, but we cannot assure them that they will meet with the same tolerance in other places that they have in Chihuahua."

Democratic Demonstration.—Last night the stars and stripes, suspended from a rope stretched across East Temple Street, from the Wash Hotel Building to the White House, floated in the breeze, and it still continues to wave, in token of the satisfaction of Salt Lake democrats with the recently adopted democratic presidential ticket, Tilden and Hendricks. Olsen's band was on the balcony of the first named building, performing "Yankee Doodle" and other national airs, causing a considerable crowd to collect. Towards ten o'clock the scene of operations was transferred to the front of the Walker House, where the meeting was brought somewhat into contempt by a fellow named Lascelles, who appeared to have taken too much of the ardent on board, putting himself forward in an attempt to make a speech, succeeding only in uttering a few jumbled sentences, which were scarcely audible. He said something about Utah being redeemed under a democratic administration, but if he individually didn't look like a specimen needing redemption we never saw one of that kind. The crowd, becoming impatient with his badly articulated and almost inaudible jumble, and windmill gesticulations, tried to shout him down, and derisively called for "Patsey Marley," and similar names.

After he got through there were loud calls for Tildford, who did not appear, but Mr. Burnes stepped forward and somewhat redeemed the character of the meeting by delivering a sensible and rather pointed address.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, JULY 1.

A Novel Incident.—In the First Ward a little bluebird has built its nest in a newspaper delivery box.

Lost Paper.—The person who picked up a copy of the Utah Mining Gazette, of May 9, 1874, near the Bath House, will confer a favor by leaving it with Mr. John Black, at the Post Office.

Balloon Ascension.—On Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, there will be a balloon ascension in front of Dwyer's book store. The article is of goodly size, and will be suitably illuminated.

Seriously Injured.—The Beaver Enterprise of June 27 says, M. Willis Coplan has sustained a dangerous injury at his saw mill at the head of the Sevier, having been crushed by an upsetting engine.

An Excellent Time.—The superintendents and teachers of Sunday schools and friends had a splendid time at Lakeside yesterday. Music, singing, dancing, bathing, boating, &c., were the order of the day.

Too Transparent.—In view of the exceedingly numerous, almost daily, pleasure excursions, patronized by thousands, the present season, the incessant growling about hard, dull times appears somewhat transparent.

The Shooting Case.—The preliminary examination of Maguire, for shooting and wounding Martin Florida, was to have come off this morning before Justice Pyper, but, on account of the absence of some of the prosecuting witnesses, it was continued until six o'clock this evening.

City Council.—The Council met last evening, pursuant to adjournment, Mayor Little presiding. The ordinance in relation to waterworks was passed.

The matter of negotiating for the purchase of some land, from Mr. C. Popper, north and east of the cemetery, was referred to the special committee on improvements.

Another Veteran.—Father Henry Lewis, an old and much respected citizen, departed this life this morning, at his residence, in the 20th Ward, where he had lived about twenty years. He had the reputation with all who knew him of being an honest, upright man, firm and true in his integrity to the work of the Lord.

Tried and Sentenced.—Last evening Francis Harker was brought up from Provo, where he has been tried, convicted and sentenced, in the First District Court, for twice robbing the mail, in Millard county. His sentence was imprisonment for life, at hard labor, in the Detroit, Michigan, house of correction.

Willis, his late companion in the robbery business, being one of the party that broke from the penitentiary, is away in search of pastures new.

Mortuary.—Sexton's report for June. Males 34, females 21. Of these adults 20, children 35. Causes of death as reported—Scarlet fever 12; diphtheria 6; lung disease 6; bowel complaints 4; old age 3; convulsions 3; heart disease 3; dropsy 3; gunshot wounds 2; still born 2; premature birth 1; injuries at birth 1; measles 1; peritonitis 1; snowslide 1; elephantiasis 1; cancer 1; whooping cough 1; lead poison 1; general debility 1; not reported 1. Total interments 55.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR, Sexton.

Ice Cream.—A large number of deaths occur annually throughout the country from the excessive and otherwise injudicious eating of ice cream, an article that should be partaken of with caution. Yesterday a girl who was with the excursion party at Lakeside took some, while she was heated from exercise, the result being that circulation was almost totally suspended for some time. She finally recovered, but had a narrow escape. When ice cream is taken at all, it should be when the body is not overheated, should be taken in small quantities and eaten slowly.

"Juvenile Instructor."—We have received No. 12 of the current volume of this excellent paper. It opens with an article on "The Secretary Bird," illustrated, followed by the concluding chapter of Geo. M. Ottinger's paper on "Old America," then "Entomology," "Capture of a Slave," Correspondence, "Editorial Thoughts," "A Trip to Our Antipodes," illustrated; "The International Exhibition," "The Power of Kindness," "Letters to Our Children," "Joseph Smith the Prophet," poetry and other good and useful reading matter. The Instructor should be in every family.

The British Mission.—The following is from the Millennial Star of June 12—

"RELEASE AND APPOINTMENTS.

"Earnest I. Young, chief clerk in the Liverpool office, and James Sharp, assistant clerk, are released to return home June 14.

"V. L. Halliday, travelling in the Birmingham Conference, and Joseph H. Parry, travelling in the Liverpool Conference, are released to return with our second company, June 28.

"John Robinson is appointed to travel in the Durham Conference.

"James McFarland is appointed to travel in the Glasgow Conference.

"Stephen L. Richards is appointed to travel in the Liverpool Conference.

"Platte D. Lyman is appointed to preside in the Nottingham Conference and Jabez W. Taylor, Benjamin H. Telman and Thomas Ball to travel therein."

It will be remembered that the sailing of the 12th of June company was postponed till the 28th. We understand that Elders Young and Sharp are expected to arrive in this city this evening.

A Warm Salute.—For some time past a fellow was noticed prowling around the residence of a gentleman who lives on First South Street, and it was well understood that his design was to entice away from her home a member of his family, a young girl, with base intentions. A favorite position taken by the fellow was on the corner opposite eastward, where the branches of a peach tree hung over the fence, partially screening him from observation. A young lady, living in a house close by, who had seen him lurking around, and whose indignation was accordingly aroused, was determined to clear that corner of the nuisance. Filled with this resolution, she, the other evening, got a loaded pistol, and opening the window of an upstairs room, sent a shot in the direction of the intruder. The skulk probably thought the pistol had been accidentally discharged, or something of the kind, as he did not move, but the next shot, though it did not perforate his physiology, told terribly on his nerves. The bullet whizzed and tore through the leaves and branches by which he was surrounded, coming uncomfortably close to his cranium. The force of the situation then broke clearly upon him and the next instant he was tearing away from the spot at a rate of speed rarely attained by mortals unless impelled by some unusual motive power.

It is needless to state that last evening that corner was vacant.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, JULY 3.

Returned.—Superintendent Hibbard, of the Western Union Telegraph Office, in this city, returned on Saturday evening, from a trip to the east.

Bound Over.—On Saturday evening, Maguire, for shooting and wounding Martin Florida, was held, by Justice Pyper, in $800 bonds, to answer to the grand jury.

Carolina Lundgren.—Carolina Lundgren, who emigrated from Lund, Sweden, in or about the year 1865, there is a letter for you at this office.

Returned Missionaries.—Elders Ernest I. Young and James Sharp reached home from England, where they have been on missions, on Saturday evening, in good health and spirits.

The Supreme Court.—The Supreme Court opened this morning, and shortly afterwards adjourned till Thursday morning at ten o'clock, when it is expected decisions will be rendered in most if not all of the cases submitted during the session.

Tabernacle Meeting.—President D. H. Wells gave an interesting account of a visit by himself, Elder B. Young, Jr., and others to the new settlements on the Little Colorado. He was followed by Elder John Taylor, who delivered a brief and instructive address.

Demolished.—We might have recorded weeks ago that the old oriental caravanserai sort of building, formerly owned by Hugh Findlay, Esq., on Arsenal Hill, has been razed to the foundations, apparently with the view of rebuilding after the modern western style.

From the South.—Presidents B. Young and D. H. Wells, Elder B. Young, Jr., and party accompanying reached home on Saturday night, all well. They were met at the terminus of the railroad track and escorted to the city by a company of relatives and friends.

Resumption.—Work on the buildings being erected by Mr. George Romney, south of the White House, which had been suspended on account of the lack of heavy timbers, has been resumed again since the roads to the lumber mills in the canyons have been reopened.

Seriously Ill.—We receive numerous inquiries relative to the health of Brother David W. Evans, phonographic reporter for and member of the editorial staff of the News. We regret having to state that there appears to be no change in his condition as yet for the better. He has been prostrated with his present spell of sickness for about two months. Together with his many other friends, we hope he will speedily recover.

The Centennial Fourth.—On the glorious Fourth, the Centennial Fourth, the following places in addition to the celebration at Ogden, will be resorted to by the public of this city—

Glendale Gardens.—Various games and amusements, etc.

Lindsey's Gardens.—Various games and amusements, balloons, fire works, dancing.

Fuller's Hill.—Benevolent Societies' reunion, various games and amusements, dancing, fireworks, etc.

Lake Side.—Ladies' Centennial Excursion. Various games and amusements. Boating, bathing, dancing, etc.

Ladies' Centennial.—Exhibition at Constitution Buildings.

Spring Lake Pleasure Grounds.—Various games and amusements, boating, gymnastics, dancing, etc.

Theatre.—Royal Illusionists, afternoon and evening.

Utah.—Congress will very likely adjourn on the 15th of July, and, having more than enough other business on hand, it is not likely they will, during the remaining few days of the session, give any attention to the unconstitutional measures sought to be enacted to curtail the liberties and rightful privileges of the people of Utah; so the enemies of her people are likely to be again disappointed by another failure of their contemptible schemes.

Next session of the National Legislature, which opens in December, is the short one, concluding by March 4, 1877; business of importance is more than likely to crowd upon that body then, leaving but little if any time for attending to the machinations and plots of cormorants who would like to build up their fortunes on the downfall of "Mormonism" and the "Mormons."

From the Sandwich Islands.—This morning we had the pleasure of greeting Elder Alma L. Smith, just returned from a mission to the Sandwich Islands.

Sister M. E. Randall, who has been engaged in school teaching on the Islands, returned at the same time, and accompanying Elder Smith were also five natives, who have come to make Utah their permanent home. Three of them belong to one family, being husband, wife and child. The remaining two are young girls, one of whom, the younger, will live in Elder Smith's family as an adopted daughter, and the other, whose name is Likabeka, comes for the purpose of uniting in marriage with Kauleinamoku, a native who has lived in this city for some time, and who is a carpenter.

The party left Honolulu June 20th, on the S. S. Australia, reached San Francisco on Saturday, coming direct here, arriving by the morning train to-day.

Elder Smith left Utah to go to the Islands on his last mission, September 8th, 1874. This was his third mission to that part of the globe, where he has spent, in all, ten years of his life.

When he left there the Elders from Utah were all well in health and in good spirits, and everything connected with the mission was peaceful and prosperous.

Elder Smith will remain a day or two in town, during which time persons having relatives on the Islands, and desiring to hear of or about them, can do so by calling on him at the residence of President Wells, after which he will proceed to his home, at Coalville, Summit County.

Sudden Death.

PANACA, Lincoln County, Nevada, June —, 1876.

Editor Deseret News:

The quiet of our little community was suddenly disturbed on Saturday evening, the 24th inst., by the arrival of certain members of J. B. Atchison's family, bringing with them the mortal remains of Daniel, his son, who was found dead in bed the same morning at the ranch some fifty miles distant.

An inquest was soon afterward held on the body by A. M. Findlay, justice of the peace and ex-officio coroner, when the following facts were elicited—

That the name of the deceased was Daniel Atchison; his age, twenty-four years and six months; that he was found dead in bed on the morning of the 24th inst., having died, apparently, without a struggle; that a little boy some four years of age slept in the same bed and was quietly sleeping when it was discovered the deceased was dead; that no member of the family, consisting of five grown persons, heard any noise or disturbance during the night.

There was testimony adduced showing that the deceased was troubled with heart disease of an alarming type.

VERDICT OF THE JURY.

We, the undersigned jurors, having been put under oath to faithfully and truly inquire into the cause of the death of Daniel Atchison and a true verdict render, according to the evidence, and to the best of our ability, do hereby declare, after hearing the testimony of the witnesses, and examining the body now before us, that death resulted from heart disease.
