FUNERAL OF MOSIAH TRACY

Impressive Services in Marriott Meetinghouse
Largely Attended, Sunday.

George E. Burnell, Student of Occult Philosophy, to Lecture—Recently Manuscript News Briefs.

Mr. George E. Burnell, who is well known to all metaphysicians as a lecturer and author, is coming to Ogden, having completed a tour of lecturing in the east.

Mr. Burnell has been a student of occult philosophy and oriental scriptures for many years and is recognized as a master mind among the people of the "new thought."

His pilgrimage of investigation not only led him through the debris of primitive Aryan records, but previous to this, he had made a complete college and theological course.

His speech is replete with illustrations, and holds an audience spellbound. He will give one or two public lectures here and also a series of lectures in Salt Lake.

FUNERAL OF MOSIAH TRACY.

One of the largest funerals that has been held in Weber county for some time past occurred yesterday, over the remains of Mosiah Tracy, the twenty-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tracy, who died Friday morning. The funeral services were held at the Marriott meetinghouse, which was filled to overflowing with sympathizing friends who gathered to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of a noble young man who was called to the great beyond just as he was entering into manhood.

Bishop Moroni Marriott presided at the service. The ward choir rendered some sweet music. Patriarch George W. Larkin Sr. was the first speaker. He delivered a most comforting sermon on the redemption of mankind and the resurrection. Elders Archibald McFarland and Hans Hansen offered consolatory addresses and eulogized the upright character of the deceased.

Many beautiful flowers were laid on the casket, and a funeral cortege nearly a half mile long followed the remains to the West Weber cemetery. The grave was dedicated by Elder Erickson.

LIVELY RUNAWAY.

A lively runaway occurred yesterday afternoon on lower Twenty-fourth street, in which two young men and their ladies miraculously escaped injury. They were out driving down the tracks, when the horses became frightened and dashed up the street at a rapid speed, one of the horses got his leg over the singletree and kicked furiously, breaking the harness and injuring the buggy. The occupants jumped out of the vehicle and some gentlemen caught the horses.

FOUNDERS' DAY EXERCISES

The B. B. Brigham Young Academy Celebrates Its Fifth Anniversary.

Grand Parade of Students—Spurred Address From Presidents—Divided John, B. Cluff and Others.

Special Correspondence.

Beaver, Beaver Co., Oct. 31.—The fifth anniversary of the founding of the Beaver Branch of the Brigham Young Academy was celebrated today at Old Fort Cameron. All the exercises were spirited and impressive.

At sunrise guns were fired in honor of the day. Old songs, hymns, and the shouts and class yells of the students reverberated among the adjacent hills to the echo.

At 8 o'clock a. m. a salute was fired, the bells were rung, and the people gathered upon the campus about their respective banners. A marching line in the file was formed under direction of the marshal of the day, R. L. Woodward, and when in moving order was just three blocks long. It was an imposing spectacle, never before seen in these parts.

The procession halted several times, at President O. D. White, M. L. Shepherd, and J. R. Murdoch's, where cheers and yells were in order. On Main street another halt was made and Hon. P. T. Farnsworth was cheered. At this point the company was served with lemonade and nuts, thanks to the kind consideration of J. P. Tolton and M. M. & Co.

From here the return was made. It was an inspiring sight, most enthusiastically received by the people. All parts turning out to witness the grand procession.

At 2 p. m. services were held in the court hall. After the beautiful singing by the choir under leadership of Prof. A. M. Durham, a brief historical sketch of the events transpiring during the life of the institution was graphically given by Prof. R. Maeser. A full list of donors to the school was read, showing a total of 279, who had in greater or smaller amounts subscribed for the establishment and maintenance of the school to date. This was followed by a powerful and telling address by President David John of the Utah academy.

President John began by congratulating himself on his good fortune at being present to participate in these inspiring exercises. He felt that education is an imperative need, without it we should have no Bible, no Book of Mormon, no Doctrine and Covenants, no other books. No mercantile, banking or other business could exist without it.

Utah would never have been committed. His voice was always for peace and he told his tribes that they were fighting their own battles and were not the brothers when they fought, the "Mormons." He set his face like steel against the civil warfare upon the settlers. He was a Black Hawk in 1862 and 1863, and the war with the Indians, led by Black Hawk, Cut Lip, Jim Walker and others, revolted and headed the raids. The speaker strongly urged upon the young the necessity of improving every opportunity afforded them in this great institution.

Musical numbers, given by members of the choir, most pleasingly varied the exercises.

President J. P. Cluff, Jr., felt proud of this day's work. He proceeded to explain the status of the founding of the school, himself being but a humble instrument in the hands of the Lord to bring about the founding of the school. In examining the situation he found that the Church owned a half interest in the Old Fort Cameron property. He then read a letter from Philip T. Farnsworth, a resident of Vernal, as Indian agent. From there it was removed to Ogden and finally to White Rocks, the present headquarters.

There is considerable speculation as to who will succeed Tabby as chief. His son, Tabby, is a capable young man, but he will never consent. There will likely be a council held shortly and a "head man" or chief chosen. If they succeed in getting on as good as Tabby was one of whom they can respect as they did him in the days of his vigor and strength it will be well with them for he will lead them as did Tabby in the walks of peace and industry.

A Legacy of the Grip.

Is often a run-down system. Weakness, nervousness, lack of energy and ambition, with disordered liver and kidneys often follow an attack of this dreaded disease. The greatest danger is that it leaves the system debilitated, blood purifier and regulator of stomach, liver and kidneys. Thousands have proved that they wonder how they were able to get on so long, build up the system, and restore the health and vigor after an attack of Grip. If suffering, try them. Only 50c. ## LOGAN.

FUNERAL OF C. C. AMUSEN.

Both Political Parties Confident of Success at the Polls.

Special Correspondence.

Logan, Cache Co., Nov. 2.—On the eve of the election in this county, both sides seem to be confident of success. The Democratic county committee expresses the belief that Cache will roll up a heavy majority for the Democratic ticket. On the other hand, the Republican county committee expresses the belief that the trend toward Republicanism is strong enough to land the Republican candidates safely over the top.

Both parties have what might ordinarily be called strong tickets, and yet some dissatisfaction is heard on both sides of the political fence. Whether these complaints will be of any avail in the balloting can only be proven by the count. Both sides have made an energetic canvass of the towns and have distributed considerable money.

A Thanksgiving Dinner.

Heavy eating is usually the first cause of indigestion. Repeated attacks inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach, expose the nerves of the stomach, and the inflammation protects the nerves and cures the catarrh. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia, all stomach troubles by cleansing and stimulating the glands of the stomach.

FORT DUCHESNE.

TRIBUTE TO CHIEF TABBY.

Noble and Peace Loving Red Man Reaches Great Age.

Special Correspondence.

Fort Duchesne, Uintah Co., Oct. 30.—Chief Tabby has died. To some of your readers, perhaps all, this will be interesting news. To the minds of the pioneers it will recall many incidents connected with the early settlement of this section. Chief Tabby was a noble Indian, the son of a noble Indian. His age it is impossible to determine, exactly, but all the Indians on the reservation, among them being men of 70 years old themselves, say that he was an old man when he first remembered him, and all agree that he was over 100 years old; some say much older. He had been blind for years, but consistently helpless since that time but in the councils of the Indians his voice has been heard even though he had to be led to the council chamber. Tabby was truly a noble Indian. Those people whose philosophy teaches that the only good Indian is a dead one will scoff at the statement but those who know him best testify that he was indeed a noble Indian. The name Tabby signifies sunlight.

Had his councils been followed the awful deeds of plunder and bloodshed which characterized the settlement of

PLANTING TROUT FRY.

The first batch of fish fry deposited in Portneuf river occurred Thursday, Oct. 30, at Pebbles, the famous fish resort, 40 miles east of here, 12,000 young trout were deposited, as follows: Eight Thousand black and spotted and steel heads, 2,000 rainbow and 2,000 brook trout. The same day A. B. Bean and Wm. Ingling deposited 5,000 trout in bottom, mainly rainbow, brook and black spotted trout. This autumn some of the very largest trout have been caught in the bottoms with red and fry, the largest weighed over nine pounds.

The government agent in charge of the fish fry is enthusiastic in his admiration of Pebbles as an ideal home for trout, and a state first hatchery. The law prohibits the sale of trout and wild ducks, and their transportation by express.

The St. Joseph church, Catholic, is now equipped with a chime of three bells that were recently installed.

The Ladies Relief Society gave a pleasant and successful Halloween ball Oct. 30, for the benefit of the new chapel.

THE FIELDING ACADEMY.

Very Rapid Increase in the Attendance, Now Nearing 300 Marks.

Work on Third Story of Handsome Building Nearly Complete—Visit of Gov. Hunt and Dr. Tanner.

Special Correspondence.

Pearl Lake, Oct. 30.—From Seattle, Wash., Oct. 29.—The Fielding academy opened for the present year of school work, it has had a most auspicious beginning. The attendance of 140 on the first day, and the increase to 200 the second day, and the 200 mark was reached and passed three weeks later; and now those who are acquainted with the conditions here are sanguine of the prediction that the winter count will be in the middle of the coming month, the number will aggregate 300 or more. In the high school and normal department there are at present 100 students. The patient has begun with eight active workers; and the rest of the school attendance, which comprises the preparatory department, is divided into three sections according to grade.

To accommodate this large number of young people, in addition to the increase in attendance anticipated for the coming year, the academy has been necessary to employ two new instructors, which increases the faculty to ten. And it is probable that at the end of the year the academy will be in a position to receive 300 or more.

The work on the academy building is now all but finished. For some time the building has been in use, and within two weeks the painting and graining will be completed in the third, so that it will be in readiness to receive the students. The furniture and general equipment, too, is in every way complete, and up-to-date, approximately $2,000 having been spent during the summer for the building and its equipment. This, with the first class calculating, carpenter work, and painting, gives the interior of the building an appearance of things of the highest quality. The building is well lighted, and the most favorable comments from all our visitors.

In the two stories now used all the students at present in attendance are quartered, and the building is well lighted, and the most favorable comments from all our visitors.

On Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 27 and 28, we were greatly honored by the visit from our worthy superintending, Dr. J. M. Tanner, who spoke very interestingly on two occasions to the students, and expressed his high regard for the school and gave an excellent talk to various calls that are being made for the good of the Church.

The thorough business farmer who systematizes his work on a just business basis, would extend his methods so as to cover his relation with each of the different members of his household. Not only would the wife's share be taken into account, says the New York Tribune, but the children would be recognized as workers, and business methods would be taught them from their childhood. Many of the bright and promising youths of the country, who are so soon to be called upon to become valuable to their country, are not properly recognized as such, and are not given the same respect and consideration as they should be. For some time the building has been in use, and within two weeks the painting and graining will be completed in the third, so that it will be in readiness to receive the students. The furniture and general equipment, too, is in every way complete, and up-to-date, approximately $2,000 having been spent during the summer for the building and its equipment. This, with the first class calculating, carpenter work, and painting, gives the interior of the building an appearance of things of the highest quality. The building is well lighted, and the most favorable comments from all our visitors.

In the two stories now used all the students at present in attendance are quartered, and the building is well lighted, and the most favorable comments from all our visitors.

On Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 27 and 28, we were greatly honored by the visit from our worthy superintending, Dr. J. M. Tanner, who spoke very interestingly on two occasions to the students, and expressed his high regard for the school and gave an excellent talk to various calls that are being made for the good of the Church.

RESPECT CHILDREN'S RIGHTS

The thorough business farmer who systematizes his work on a just business basis, would extend his methods so as to cover his relation with each of the different members of his household. Not only would the wife's share be taken into account, says the New York Tribune, but the children would be recognized as workers, and business methods would be taught them from their childhood. Many of the bright and promising youths of the country, who are so soon to be called upon to become valuable to their country, are not properly recognized as such, and are not given the same respect and consideration as they should be. The father, the head of the household, should be trained in business methods, and should be able to teach his children the same. ## PLANTING TROUT FRY.

The first batch of fish fry deposited in Portneuf river occurred Thursday, Oct. 30, at Pebbles, the famous fish resort, 40 miles east of here, 12,000 young trout were deposited, as follows: Eight Thousand black and spotted and steel heads, 2,000 rainbow and 2,000 brook trout. The same day A. B. Bean and Wm. Ingling deposited 5,000 trout in bottom, mainly rainbow, brook and black spotted trout. This autumn some of the very largest trout have been caught in the bottoms with red and fry, the largest weighed over nine pounds.

The government agent in charge of the fish fry is enthusiastic in his admiration of Pebbles as an ideal home for trout, and a state first hatchery. The law prohibits the sale of trout and wild ducks, and their transportation by express.

The St. Joseph church, Catholic, is now equipped with a chime of three bells that were recently installed.

The Ladies Relief Society gave a pleasant and successful Halloween ball Oct. 30
