Eddie Knox was recommitted to the state industrial school today by Judge Morse upon the charge of incorrigibility. Knox is 12 years of age and was recent of the new stake Sunday school and hoped that the enthusiasm of the pust might be perpetuated and that the best possible good be done among the youth of Zion. It was decided by the superintendents that the union meeting should be held on the third Monday of each month, and that if arrangement could be made, to hold same in the Six-teenth ward assembly rooms.

In the secretarys' department, mis-clianeous suggestions were offered and the necessity of punctuality among the secretaries of the stake was referred to. The theological and intermediate departments discussed the lessons to be taken up in the schools the present month. The class leader also gave a talk on punctuality while in the Primary, and in kindergarten the presen month's work was taken up,after which the class leaders gave an instructive talk on punctuality. The department reassembled at $:50 and meeting closed after singing "Marching Home." Benediction by Elder John Nebeker.

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

First Meeting of Salt Lake Stake Workers Held Last Night,

The first meeting of the present Sunday School Union of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion was held in the assembly rooms of the Twenty-second ward last evening, and was attended by a very creditable representation from the several schools, all save North Point being represented at roll call. The meeting was presided over by Supt. Chas. B. Feit and assistants,

The opening song was "Gladly Meeting." Prayer was offered by Supt. Henry Gardener of the Twenty-second ward, "Beautiful Day" was next EUNE sung. Supt. Felt briefly commented on the apparent success of the first meeting, and thanked the officers and teachers for their co-operation and liberal re-sponse. He expressed his apprecia-tion of the efforts put forth by the local workers in the interest of the Sabbath school cause and spoke of the great good that has been accomplished in this work. "The universal movement is onward and upward," said the speaker. There are fields yet untrod which must be reached. We as the Sunday school workers of the Salt Lake Stake of be reached. Zion should in the future feast upon these pastures." Elder Edward T. Ashton of the stake presidency, next addressed the union and expressed his pleasure in the association of his co-laborers in the work of the Lord. He prayed the belssings of the Lord to attend all who are working in this great cause. President Nephi L. Morris also expressed his appreciation of the efforts put forth by the Sabbath school workers and the spirit which they mani-fest in the cause. He expressed the thought, "Be Latter-day Saints, yield an influence among your associates, and

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

Frosts Were Frequent and Did Considerable Damage to Fruit.

The weekly crop bulletin issued by the United States department of agriculture, Utah section, for the week ending May 2, has this to say; The weather during the week was cold and windy with cloudiness somewhat in excess of the normal. Frosts were frequent and in some parts of the section did considerable damage to fruit and gardens. Lucern was also damaged in some few localities, but on the whole, the damage r-sulting from the frosts was slight. The un-favorable weather had the effect of retarding plant growth, but apart from this crops were in good condition. Grain and sugar beets were doing well. Farm work, which had been delayed by the wet weather of the previous week, was under rapid headway. The range was very good and stock are in thriv-ing condition. Sheep shearing was in DIOTRESS.

LYCEUM REUNION.

Old-Time Debating Society Has a Jolly Time at Commercial Club.

"The Lyceum," organized in this city about 20 years ago ("Do you remem. ber?"), by a number of talented young men of the community, and which for years was recognized as the best literary and debating society in Utah-if not in the west, held a reunion last evening in the diningroom annex of the Commercial club. Oliver Hodgson,one of the charter members of the club, and its first presiding officer, was chosen master of ceremonies, and right well did he perform the duties required of bim.

D. R. Lyon was appointed secretary the Josiah Burrows was chosen"critic." There were about 20 members present and letters of regret in not being able to attend were received from Joseph M. Romney, new in South Pasadena, Cal., P. Elliot, St. Louis; C. J. Ross, Ogden: Prof. Wm. M. Stewart, who was out of the city, and last evening return-ed from a visit to Marysvale, and R. R. Irvine, Jr., Provo. The first thing in order was the partaking of a sumptuous repast provided by Steward Beattle of the Commercial chub, during which many early remin-scences were indulged in.

The menu was all that could be de-sired, and J. Fewson Smith, Jr., who tendered the club the banquet, * was given a hearty vote of thanks before in adjournment was taken. After the tables had been cleared an informal program was rendered. Prof. Frank W. Merrill favored those present with a plano solo, which was followed by the singing of a male quartet, composed of John James, D. J. Watts, J. T. Dunbar and W. D. Bowring. The boys rendered two beautiful selections and were armly received and applauded. President Hodgson followed in a short speech, recounting the past efforts of the club, and citing as a peculiar fact that all of the original members were still in the land of the living, and doing

The Lyceum quartet gave another solection, after which the roll was called by Secy. Lyon,each member responding with an original sentiment.

Mr. John James then rendered in good style Dr. Parry's famous song, "Make New Friends, But Keep the Old." Josiah Burrows favored the members with a recitation entitled 'Betty and the Bear," after which D. J. Waits convulsed those present by realing a few jots from his diary for 1890.

The critic then gave his report, com-plimenting all on the part they had taken in the affair. D. R. Lyon, D. J. Watts, and Josiah Burrows were appointed a committee to arrange for the next meeting of the society, when the vives and sweethearts of the Lyceum boys will be included. A press com-mittee was also appointed, consisting of John James, J. T. Dunbar and D. R. Lyon. Prof. Frank W. Merrill was lected an honorary member, and af-er another selection by the quartet the lub adjourned by singing in chorus, The Days of Auld Lang Syne."

Those present were: Oliver Hodgson, D. R. Lyon, N. Y. Schofield, John James, D. J. Watts, Jas, T. Dunbar, J. Fewson Smith, Jr., M. A. Romney, Ja-slah Burrows, Samuel W. Jenkinson, George J, Ross, W. D. Bowring, F. W. Merrill. animation teactions to information in the local statements and
