Plain City, Weber Co., Feb. 14.—To-day will be a red letter day in the memory of Plain City people. Ban-queting, music, and a literary program occupied the entire day, and will last with dancing until 12 o'clock tonight. All vesterday afternors and accus

All yesterday afternoon and early this morning teams were flying around the town, gathering up picnine for the hundreds who gathered at the meeting-house. The event is in honor of Bishop house. The event is in honor of Bishop G. W. Bramwell, who, on account of his intended removal to Ogden to reside, has resigned as Bishop of the ward, after having labored in that capacity for 23 years. The demonstration of today shows in what esteem he is held by the people of this ward. During the program he was presented with a token of their respect which shall endure while life shall last. A handsomely bound set of Church works, for which nearly every family in the ward contributed, was the present givwith a

At 11 o'clock the meetinghouse was filled with people.

There were present Elders L. W. Shurtliff and C. F. Middleton of the stake presidency, both making felici-tous addresses. Elshop H. J. Garner stake presidency, both making felici-tous addresses. Bishop H. J. Garner acted as master of ceremonics. The choir rendered many selections. Wm. England, Sr., delivered the speech of welcome and P. M. Folkman made the presentation address, to which Bishop Bramwell made a feeling reply.

Dancing and Feasting for Young and Old-Irrigation Prospects. Special Correspondence.

Special Correspondence. Portage, Boxelder Co., Feb. 12:-Fri-day, Feb. 9, the Portage ward held a reunion in the ward meetinghouse. At 11 a. m., a good program was given, consisting of songs, duets, quartets, re-marks, recitations, instrumental musio and step dancing. Some of the special features were a step dance by Enoch Harris, who is 64 years of age, who appeared as spry as a boy of 20: reci-tations by William Heaton and Mr. Bowcutt, who are deaf and mute.

Bowcutt, who are deaf and mute. At 2 p. m. all sat down to a sump-tuous dinner. Four courses were required to accommodate all, there be-ing 250 guests. The tables were served by the young ladies of the M. I. A.

A dance was given in the afternoon for the children, and the Bishopric gave a free dance to the adults in the evening, old and young enjoying themselves to the full. The Portage orchestra to the full. The Portage orchestra furnished excellent music during the

NEW STAKE ACADEMY.

Handsome Structure Completed and Occupied--School Greatly Improved.

Special Correspondence. Colonia Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico, Feb. 1.--Important changes have re-cently been made in the schools here. At the opening of the present school year all were elated with the pros-peer all were elated with the pros-peer of soon occupying the spiendid new high school building. The struc-ure was almost complete and lacked but the class room seats to be ready for occupancy. These had for weeks been ordered. Days grew into weeks and weeks lengthened into months before the benches finally arrived. During the last week in November, at the time of the floods so disastrous to the colonies in Sonora, the river which cuts this town in two rose high-er than ever before known, and along which calls this town in two rose nigh-er than ever before known, and along with many other things it swept away the only bridge which spanned it. As most of the members of the faculty were on the wrong side of the river, the High school work came to a standstill for a week. When it was resumed quite a number of students had been obliged to discontinue be-cause of the loss of their homes by the high waters. At last the school seats arrived and Monday, Dec. 11 was designated as the day on which formal leave of the old building should be taken, and en-trance into the new one made. When the morning for the "move" came several inches of snow covered the ground and the temperature was decidedly cooler. Though this was unexpected and unprepared for the pro-gram was carried out. After appropri-ate exercises and an affectionate fareate exercises and an affectionate fare-well to the old home, henceforth to be known as the Normal Training school, a line of march was formed with the grades leading—the first grade first, and so on to the eighth grade. Then came the academy Silver band, follow-ed by the classes of the high school in their order, each carrying aloft its banner. These were followed by the faculty and members of the board of education. Last came visitors, pateducation. Last came visitors, pat-rons and friends. To the lively strains of band music the school marched rons and friends. To the lively strains of band music the school marched across the river to the west side where the new building is located. There the students formed two lines between which the board of education led the way into the new academy, followed by all the others in the reverse order to the line of march. Once inside a rousing program was carried out. On the day following regular work began. It was singularly appropriate that on the second anniversary of the inception of building a stake academy

Bowman, the academy is the proud possessor of an excellent plano, which is the delight of the school. A few hundred dollars worth of books have been fur into the library already, and many more will be add-ed before the year has passed. The band is making strenuous efforts to prepare itself for the official opening of the academy March 23. At that time the governor of the state and a large party of Mexican officials are expect-ed to be here.

The University Squad Must do Without Two Record

Men.

ADAMS IS OUT OF COLLEGE

And Will Register Neither at Provo Or at the University of Utah.

The joy which has circulated through the University of Utah over the prospective attendance at the University of Morgan Adams is about due to subside. Adams won't come. He ran the pole vault record away up in the air at the field meet last year and the year before, and, in fact. was the Utah athlete nearest to making a world's record. At the beginning of this year it was found that he was not attending Provo, and had designs upon the University of Utah for the second semester. ond semester. On that account rumors spread over the land from time to time that the track team would nave him this year, and re-cently the statement was made at the University with some positiveness. It is bad dope, however, as there is no hope of Anams' coming to the U. Far from it he has a little faim, or a big farm, just as one is accustomed to think of areas away down south, and when next he poie vaults it will be on the business end of a pictoriar.

NEW MEN LOOK BAD.

NEW MEN LOOK BAD. Becond semester additions to a track squad are in many ways undesirable and a strict regard for the ethics of sport, would say that it were better to bar men who register at this season, rather than let them compete. The lust of winning has been declared bad. It is urged that track sports are primarily for exercise, development, and the giory of jetting the Alma Mater see her sons swat those from down country. When her sons just come to do the swatting, it makes their sport a pushes, which studying should be at col-lege; and thus classes them as bad chli-dren. Adams has been reasoning something on

Adams has been reasoning something on Adams has been reasoning sometime on this line, evidently, as he says that even if he should be induced to study some this year at either Provo or Utah, he could not be induced to enter the spring track meets, as a representative of either col-

WHAT HE SAYS.

WHAT HE SAYS. Adams was interviewed last night by the "Nows" at Pleasant Grove, where he is now living at the home of a relative. "You may say for me," he declared. "that I am not going to attend the University of Utah this year." "How about Provo?" was asked. "No, I am not going to attend Provo, either. In fact, I shall not be in any spring track meets this year." A close friend of Mr. Adams at Pleas-ant Grove stated that it was his intention to go south this year when spring broke up to look after property in southern Utah.

BUTLER WON'T COME.

BUTLER WON'T COME. Another athlete whom the University of Utah has been expecting back is Butler, the crack hurdle man. Butler will be missed this year, and the "dope" that booked him to return is wrong, unless there is a change of present intentions. A "News" representative is just in re-ceipt of a letter from a brother of Butler who states that he is down in New Mext-co and isn't coming back. Utah would gain nothing through the coming of Adams, as Russell does within a few inches of him on the pole, and will no doubt bring the points home that Adams has heretofore carried south. In the high jump Adams took only second place, and the U. of U. has a number of men capa-ble of gathering in the laure is in this event.
