MISSION NEWS

Brooklyn Conference. Elders H. Owen, president, — recently succeeded and Twenty-fourth St., New York City, Oct. 26. The Mutual Improvement Association, the New York branch, was organized for the first time. Elder C. A. Davis, H. Owen, and Mrs. Margaret H. Owen, their assistant, and Miss Margaret H. Davis, and C. E. Dinwoody, all conducted with Miss Fanny Burns as secretary.

Elder Jason L. Abeynous has been transferred to the West Pennsylvania conference.

In October, during the 2nd, Mrs. Emma Morris and Miss Ivy Morris who were on their way to Germany, where they go to pursue their studies in music, visited the Adams conference with their beautiful voices, which were greatly appreciated by those in attendance.

East Pennsylvania. William H. Dredge, president, This conference, St. Philadelphia, Pa.—Sunday school organization has recently been organized at Bethlehem, a number of students from the west taking a leading part. A Mutual Improvement Association, the Philadelphia branch, M. J. A. has commenced its winter work with great interest.

Elders John E. Moody and Ezra J. Phelps have been transferred to the South West Virginia conference.

On Oct. 31, in the home of Henry Wilkins at Conduit, N. J., a Sunday school was organized by Elders James A. Ure and Rev. W. T. Webb, with an enrollment of more than 25.

Maine Conference. William H. Sted, president, — now meets every Ave. Portland, Me.—regular Sunday services and Sunday school are now being held in the Farrington block, 429 Congress street, Portland.

Elders Steed and Elmon M. Lyman have recently been visiting saints and friends in West Baldwin and vicinity.

While tractoring in the city of Portland, Elder Joe G. Gubler met a gentleman who had visited Salt Lake City several years ago. He invited Elder Gubler into his office, where two pleasant hours were spent in conversation upon the subject of "Mormonism and Mormonism."

He spoke very highly of the people as he had found them. Before the elder left him he purchased two small books for his further information.

New Hampshire. Jno. G. Allred, president, 22 Ashurst St., Manchester, N. H.—Brentwood, Concord, Dover, and Keene, and Perry Howell are meeting with considerable success in their labors among the people.

While tractoring in Manchester, Elder Allred was invited into a home where the lady of the house expressed her great pleasure in having the privilege of talking to a Mormon elder. She stated that while in New York she had heard our elders speak on the street and was much impressed, also in Boston, who had attended a street meeting. She concluded, from what she had heard, that Mormonism was worthy of investigation, so purchased a book of Mormon and other works. At another door he was invited in, the people stating that recently they had visited in Utah and had seen the Mormons as they really are, and were very much interested in them and their teachings. A physician of Manchester told the elder he had met, a student in Boston, who had given him an entirely different view of what the Mormons believe and desired further information. He purchased a book on the Church works, stating that he was going to give it a thorough study. These elders are meeting with success as the people become better acquainted with their message and learn that Mormonism is in the world to bless mankind.

Elder B. Cull Gates has recently been transferred from the Vermont conference, and with President Allred is touring the northern end of the conference.

New York. Chas. L. Weed, president, 145 N. Pearl, Albany, N. Y.—The elders have discontinued their country work, and are now located in the cities for the winter.

President Weed has returned to Albany after a visit of two months in the western part of the state, where he formerly lived, and has been visiting among his relatives and friends, among whom he left a very favorable impression relative to Mormonism.

Elder Heber C. C. Kimball, who has been laboring in this conference for about a year, has been transferred to the British mission and will work from Liverpool on the 20th of November.

While cleaning his clothes with gasoline, Elder Maxwell D. Sedley had his hands burned quite badly; he got out close to the stove and the gasoline exploded; however, he is getting along nicely and will be at work again in about two weeks.

North West Virginia. Oscar F. Rice, president, 145 N. Pearl, Albany, N. Y.—Elder Gilmer, H. S. and Rev. R. Garrison were called to the ministry. About three months the administration had the deepest effect, and recently Elder Rice received a letter from Brother Kader, stating that his wife was well and again attending to her household duties.

A meeting had been arranged at Laverne by Elders W. D.

Henninger and Jas. O. Gibbons. A few hours before the appointed time for the meeting three men appeared at the schoolhouse where the meeting was to be held, leaving a large club on the desk, together with a note to the effect that if the elders attempted to hold the meeting they would be taken out and clubbed. However at the time appointed, the elders were at the place of meeting and a large crowd of their friends were there to listen to them. The three men mentioned above were also there but they made no attempt to carry out their threat. A good meeting was held and the people listened with much attention. It is presumed that the attendance of so large a crowd dissuaded the men from putting into force the threat they had made. A few days afterwards the elders baptized two converts.

Rhode Island. Jno. T. Barrett, president, 34 Franklin, Providence, R. I.—Elder Charles Dyer, who had labored in this conference for nearly a year, has been transferred to the South West Virginia conference.

President James E. Anderson and wife have been honorably released to return home after faithful and devoted service.

Elder Anderson has preached over the Rhode Island conference since last July and the work has been materially advanced under his able leadership.

Sister Anderson and husband about six months ago, and are very much interested in them and their teachings.

A physician of Manchester told the elder he had met, a student in Boston, who had given him an entirely different view of what the Mormons believe and desired further information.

He purchased a book on the Church works, stating that he was going to give it a thorough study.

These elders are meeting with success as the people become better acquainted with their message and learn that Mormonism is in the world to bless mankind.

Elder B. Cull Gates has recently been transferred from the Vermont conference, and with President Allred is touring the northern end of the conference.

South West Virginia. Frank Leavitt, president, Box 88, Huntington, W. Va.—Mr. James A. Paxton, a very warm friend of the elders who has shown them many kindnesses, has been very desirous that the elders should hold a few meetings in the city of Hinton; however, they have been unsuccessful in getting a place of meeting. Mr. Paxton is greatly aiding the city here for the benefit of the church for one week. His offer is being considered.

Elder Charles Dyer, Kankakee, August J. Johnson and President Leavitt held eight meetings last week near Logan.

The following week the two last mentioned elders held another week's meetings at the same place.

On Sunday, Nov. 1, in the afternoon meeting the hall would not accommodate those who had come out to hear. The saints bore faithful testimonies and the elders repeated their arguments. At the close of the meeting the circuit to a number of about 100 addressed to a nearby creek, where a baptismal service was held and two converts baptized.

It was the intention of Elder Paxton to baptize another, but after he was baptized, Mr. James Paxton, buttoning up his coat, walked out to the nearest elder and stated that he could see no reason why he should defer baptizing another longer. He was accordingly baptized by Elder Leavitt. The two brethren are prominent and interested men in the neighborhood where they live.

Alabama. Elder J. J. Curtis, president, 145 N. Pearl, Birmingham, Alab.—The elders during the month of October, 1909, during continuing work report rapid progress having been made.

Stones and Howard report five souls added to the fold of Christ at Euclidville, Fla.

Four more were added at Calhoun by Elder Swapp and President Curtis.

East Kentucky. Elder Albert Oldroyd, president, 145 N. Pearl, Lexington, Ky.—The elders in this part are all reported in good health and holding well attended meetings throughout the conference.

W. H. and Lamoille counties, the elders are meeting with good success; they anticipate that a number will be baptized before long.

West Pennsylvania. Heber D. Clark, president, 145 N. Pearl, Pittsburgh, Pa.—President Jacobson and wife, who were recently released to return home, took their departure on the 2nd of November. Quite a large crowd assembled at the depot to see them off. At the Sunday services on the 3rd, Brother George Jacobson gave an internal portion, many of his friends testifying to his fourth witness. They leave the conference with the good will of a large number of friends.

In the "Pennsylvania Gleaner" of Oct. 31 appears an article, "Aggressive Mormonism," by Mr. John J. Cowan. The article is very fair and is accompanied with pictures of Presidents Brigham Young and Joseph Smith, also of the temple tabernacle and other Utah buildings.

On Sunday, Nov. 1, the elders labored in the hills between Pittsburgh and Pittsburg, holding three regular meetings each week, all of which are being well attended and conducted in interest shown.

C. E. DINWOODY,

Secretary.

CENTRAL STATES MISSION ACTIVITIES

"We are enjoying our labors exceedingly because the people almost everywhere we go are anxiously waiting for spiritual refreshment. We have a number of invitations to go and talk to the people, but it is impossible for us to accept them at this time. We were told by some of the good people to call on them if we needed any money to help the good work along for they certainly believed we were the true servants of the Lord. We have had the privilege of leading two into the waters of baptism, Elder Albert W. Garfield officiating. We are holding meetings every night and having fine crowds to talk to. They tell us they can see there is much lacking in the churches of the world today."

The above is from Elders W. L. Barton and A. W. Garfield of Arkansas conference and is a sample of the many we receive each week. They indicate that the work is growing and the revealed gospel is taking firm root in this mission as it is in nearly all other parts of the world.

President C. E. Bronson reports splendid success in St. John conference and says he thinks many are preparing for baptism in the near future.

Oct. 24, President Benson visited the Missouri conference and held conference meetings with the elders, saints and friends at St. Louis. All enjoyed the annual spiritual and social feasts which attend such occasions.

While on this trip President Benson was present Oct. 30 to conduct the funeral of Brother G. G. Dupont who died suddenly at Crested Butte, Colo.

A few days before his death he was in a failing condition and much good care was given him.

At the close of the conference a well attended baptismal service was held by Elders Dyal and Jones on the banks of the Willamette.

Two candidates were led into the ground of baptism.

Elders C. E. Gray, president, Box No. 44, Marion, Ind.—The elders are holding successful meetins in Live Oak and Gainesville. In the former, elders were placed on the train and sent away only a few years ago.

Sunday schools in Nebo and Cameron have been reorganized and are now in a thriving condition and much good work is done.
