OGDEN. UTAH. - JAN. 30, 1903. WARRING ON PRICE OF FLOUR

Large Importation of Eastern Flour Reduces Price of Staff of Life.

Big Damage Suit Against Southern Pacific-$50,000 for the Loss of an Arm.

The war between some of the grocerymen of the city and the manufacturers of flour does not appear to be entirely at an end. About two months ago flour was being retailed in Ogden, high patent at $2.45 and straight grade at $2.25 per hundred, and the grocerymen were paying extremely high prices for the flour at wholesale. Ezra Richardson, the well known groceryman, conceived the idea of sending east for cat load of flour where he could buy it at a much lower price than in the home market. He bought a car load and sold it to his customers for $2.00 for high putent and $1.90 for straight grade. The millers waged a war against the eastern product and reduced the price of the home flour to the This reduction in price of the staff of continued until all the eastern flo was sold, and then the price was raised again, so that high patent sold at $2.40 and straight grade at $2.25, and everybody has been compelled to pay that high price until today when Mr. Richerdson received a shipment of the same easiern flour from Hutchinson, Kansas. This time he has bought three car loads, amounting to 70,000 pounds, which he expects to be able to place on the market at the same reduced price as Shortly after this heavy shipmant of flour was received and was uned, some of the other stores reduced the flour to $2.15 per hundred for high pat-It is expected that the millers will again place their home product on the market at a much reduced rate n order to be able to meet the competition which they are now obliged to

BIG DAMAGE SUIT.

A damage suit for $50,000 has been brought by Charles L. Gloyd against the Southern Pacific Railway company in the federal court, for the lass of an in the federal court, for the task of an arm. The allegations of the complaint are that Gloyd was employed by the defendant company as brakeman on one of their freight trains, and while so employed on July 21, 1902, his arm was caught between two cars and teribly crushed, so that it had to be amnutated. Plaintiff claims that the ac lent was due to the negligence of the lefendant company. Wherefore plaintiff demands judgment in the sum of $10,000 and costs of action.

Smallpox and Scarlet Fever Abating -Schools Open on Monday.

Special Correspondence.

Payson, Utah Co., Jan.28 .- Payson has been going through a quarantine for a little over three weeks on account of an epidemic of smallpox and scarles We have been somewhat affect ed with the above named disease fo some time and as a matter of pre caution the board of health thought i best to discontinue all public gather-ings and schools for a period of 30 days, which no doubt has been effect-ual in checking the spread of disease Quite a number of cases have been reported with but two deaths, and not the epidemic is reported as abating, se it is considered safe to raise the quar antine and commence schools as usual next Monday, Feb. 2. There has been no cause for alarm but no doubt the action of the board of health has met with general approval.

The health of our people otherwise is generally good, and all are feeling hopeful for next year's harvest on ac-count of the liberal downfall of snow and rain.

A sad death occurred a few days ago, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Micksel succumbed to a lingering illness, caused by appendicitis for which he was operated on twice, but it seems he never regained perfect health and other complications set in causing death. Business is quiet owing to the season of the year and the quarantine regulations.

THE FARMER'S GARDEN.

A good garden should be the pride and delight of every farmer; it brings health, happiness and saves money and f managed in a methodical and busi-ness like manner can be made the source of larger profits than any other ome acre

The following timely notes on the farmer's garden operations are taken rom the "garden special" of the Prac-ical Farmer, which has many confrom the tributions from successful gardeners re plete with helpful suggestions. All the writers unite in emphasizing the importance of good soil for the garden which if possible should have a southern exposure, and be located conveni-ently near the house as possible, but protected from the depredations of the poultry.

A deep rich, well drained loam, naturally, containing clay, sand, lime and organic matter in natural proportions in e ideal soil; but as comparatively few ocations contain all these essentials we must make the best selection possible, and by careful culture incorporate hese features. Sandy soll, while re-ponding most quickly, will not carry vegetation through the continual growth without artificial aids. These may be supplied by liberal surface dressings of land paster, ashes and fine tich barnyard manure.

Start all early plants in hotheds. Plant these about March 1; transplant cold frames, and set out in the garden when all danger of frost is past Later vegetables plant as soon as the ground is in suitable condition; com nence cultivating as soon as possible and frequently, and especially afte heavy rains, as soon as the ground is fit. Don't let the surface bake.

The equipment of tools should be for just as certain as you do you fail of best results. And don't depend of the government free seeds, one is jus as good and reliable as the other. Make out your order early and send it ; some one of the many reliable seeds men, and you will get the best seed that money can buy. Don't think that one package of beet, onton or seed is just as good as another, for it is not, any more than one cow or one horse is as good as another.

A permanent garden is a necessity for fruits, asparagus, rhubarb and many small seeds, though most farmer now a-days will prefer to leave it unfenced and enclose the poultry in large runs. The vegetables for horse culture may better be raised in the potato field, if convenient enough to the house, where they will be surest to get attention without breaking into the farm routine the latter being a fertile cause for the neglect of the garden. Many a man can remember the garden of boyhood where most of the work was done rainy days, or when the farm work had beer otherwise interrupted. One side of the confided is also a good place for a vegetable garden, leaving out the swee corn, which would be liable to mix. Make the garden large enough s the best selling vegetables. The gar den can be made the most profiltable part of the farm, where there is a mar-ket for first class produce. Very few arms can show a greater cash gain han the following summary of profits rom a four-acre garden patch grown a New York gardener, Mr. A. Don

Last spring I set more asparagus, a find it pays best and is not so much are and labor as other crops. My re-elpts for the last four years were as ollows, taken from my books: Aspara gus, per acre, green, cut in spring fo the past four years, has averaged $425.-50. The cost of labor 18 about $200 per year; for manure, $75 per year. Re-ceived in full each year from all sales: celery, two acres, $748, the average fo the last four years. Asparagus, year, $426.50; asparagus seed, $70 onlons, $45; greenhouse included, $250 total average, $1,539.50. Cost of labor one man eight months, at $1 per day and house to live in, and vegetables from garden for man and wife; manure $65 per year; total cost for four yearslabor, $832; manure, $260, leaving to credit on account of jand and my labor

Cert. No. and one horse, $5,066 from four acres in four years.

A good fruit and vegetable garden can easily be worth from $200 to $500 M a year to a family, especially if there are several members in the family, and besides the money value just think of the great enjoyment in having at al times perfectly fresh vegetables and fruit gathered from your own garden. And yet there are thousands of farm-J. A. West 500 Johnathan S. Rae1,000 ers' families who do not see a fresh Witt Ellerbeck 500 R. E. Waterman 500 vegetable on their tables once a year Many with the exception of potatoes. city people who hardly ever see a rod of bare earth, fare far better in the way of vegetables and fruits than many of the farmers, with their hundreds of acres. Would not farmers' sons and daughters be better contented to stay on the farms if every farm had its vegetable and fruit gardens? Farmers are ooking too much after that almighty follar and far too little after the health and happiness of their families, and there is far more of both in a good garden than there is in the doctor's medicine. Lay up a full supply of vegetables for winter. Beets, turnips, car-124 rots, etc., should be put into boxes or parrels and covered with dry sand. In this way they will keep a year in per-fect condition. Prizetaker onlons, in started indoors in February or March and transplanted out as soon as the ground is warm will give fine, large ions with less work than by sowing eed of other varieties in open ground. So much for the planning of the gar. len, but the two most important points in gardening have scarcely been meh. ed, manuring and tillage. Much is said nuring. Good success may be

Franklin, Oneida Co., Ida., Jan. 28.-A terrific explosion occurred at the Union store last night, about half-past seven o'clock. The manager, Mr. Thatcher, with Mr. Webster and Mr. Marshal, two clerks, were about closing the store when they saw that the lights were nearly out. Mr. Marshall went down to the cellar where the acetylene gas generator is located and saw water blowing up from the ma-chine. He ran and turned the faucet chine. He ran and turned the faucet and let the water out into a bucket when all at once the lights went out. Messrs. Webster and Thatober were near the cellar door in the store. Mr. Webster lit a match when suddenly a terrible explosion occurred, throwing Mr. Marshail down and burning him badly in the face and hands. It is lit-
