THE WARMEST AUTO COAT YET.

"Patch upon patch," asserts the thrifty housewife, "is beggarly." Coat upon coat, however, seems to be princely—so far as luxury of comfort is concerned. Jack Frost could scarcely find an entering flaw in this armor against the cold. The inner double-breasted fronts, buttoned high to the throat, have outer fronts, also double-breasted and with large revers and collar, which may be turned up as extra protection when needed. The big cuffs in turn may be folded down over the hand and slipped one within the other to form a comfortable muff.

The Misses Gertrude and Florence Shannon gave a party tonight at their home.

Today the patrons of the Y. W. C. A. will find out the meaning of "tag," an idea which has been put to good use in several eastern cities for the furtherance of charitable enterprises.

MUCH TRIMMING IS USED ON FUR.

Elaborate braiding, buttoning and facings are considered an essential factor of the modish fur coat this season. For theater wear over fragile bodies this roomy, easily put-on-and-off coat of baby lamb is particularly well suited. The French liking for black and white is expressed in this instance by white pipings laid under the black braid strappings. An ivory satin waistcoat shows embroidery and buttons of silver.

Mrs. A. T. Christensen was hostess at a pretty luncheon on Thursday, her decorations being in American Beauty roses, and covers laid for Mrs. H. Lovell, Mrs. R. E. Harve, Mrs. J. C. Snow, Mrs. S. E. Pier and the Misses Lucile and Edna Snow.
