Unite in running FOUR EXPRESS PASSENGER TRAINS DAILY between Chicago and New York, Boston, and all intermediate points in New England, New York and the Canadas.

The renowned Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars are run on this line, exclusively, from Chicago east, and are fully supplied on all night trains.

The famous PULLMAN HOTEL CARS leave daily on evening trains, running directly through to Rochester, N. Y., without change.

The passenger equipment of this line is unequalled by any other in the country, and will be found by patrons to possess all the requisites of "SPEED, COMFORT and SAFETY."

GREAT CENTRAL ROUTE IS ALSO

The Blue Line

Established January 1, 1867, for the carriage of Through Freight without transfer.

This Line is owned and operated by the Michigan Central; Illinois Central; Chicago, Burlington and Quincy; Chicago and Alton; Great Western of Canada; New York Central; Hudson River; Boston and Albany; Providence and Worcester; Worcester and Nashua; Housatonic; and Jackson, Lansing and Saginaw Railroads.

THE "BLUE LINE"

Is the only route that offers to shippers of freight the advantage of an unbroken gauge of track from Chicago and the Mississippi river to the Seaboard, and is of the

Same Gauge as the Union Pacific,

Over which these cars will run on completion of that road.

THE BLUE LINE CARS

Are ALL OF UNIFORM BUILD, thus largely lessening the chances of delay from the use of cars of a mixed construction, and the consequent difficulty of repairs while remote from their own roads.

The Blue Line is operated by the Railroad Companies who own it, without the intervention of intermediate parties between the Roads or Line and the public.

The facilities of the Line for making uniformly quick time are unequalled.

All claims promptly settled on their merits.

Freight contracts given at the offices of the Companies in New York, Boston, &c.

Persons inquiring for the above letters are requested to state when advertised.

A. W. STREET.

Postmaster

"Victory," said Napoleon, "belongs to the most persevering."

Quincy, Ill., has discharged its police from motives of economy.

Two things that can't safely be calculated upon—lightning and juries.

France has 337 theatres; Italy, 298; Spain, 168, and England, 159.

India rail ways charge passengers eight cents per mile.

A portrait of Napoleon I, taken when he was four years of age, has been found in Corsica.

"I want more head and less tongue," said Napoleon when filling the varied departments of state.

Women who live to be thirty, and over, without marrying in Russia, are tabooed in fashionable society.

Bull Run Russell will do the Suez Canal opening for the London Times, and Edward Dicey for the Telegraph.

The Queen of Prussia gives five hundred dollars to every woman in the kingdom who has given birth to twelve children.

At a public house the landlord has painted upon the outside of his door: "Good beers sold here; but don't take my word for it."

"I did not usurp the crown," said Napoleon, proudly. "It was lying in the mire, I picked it up. The people placed it on my head."

The city of New York consumes annually fully one million five hundred thousand sheep, Boston five hundred thousand, and other cities in proportion.

Ninety-two thousand nine hundred and ninety-three buildings in Philadelphia are supplied with water and about 65,000 in New York.

A newboy in New York, the other day, was heard crying out, "Ere's your Police Gazette. 'Nother one of them things by Missus Stowe."

A wedding guest in New York estimates that, out of 82 marriages which he attended last season, only nineteen were "love matches."

Napoleon had no tendencies to gallyantry. Madame de Stael said to him, "It is reported that you are not very partial to the ladies." "I am very fond of my wife, madam," was his laconic reply.

A fashionable young lady was seen walking down Montgomery street, San Francisco, recently, with five-dollar gold-pieces on the tips of the heels of her boots.

A writer in the New York Times charges that the practice of indulging in "private bottles" at home is fearfully on the increase among the respectable ladies of New York.

Mr. Jones, of Hartford, thought he smelt gas the other night and lighted a match to see it. He next found himself in the street, all ablaze, when a friendly policeman put him out by rolling him in the gutter.

A witty prelate was once asked if he did not think such a one followed his conscience. "Yes," said his lordship, "I think he follows it as a man does a horse in a gig—he drives it first."

Mrs. Foley, of West Rutland, Vt., a few days since, poured kerosene oil upon her fuel to hasten the fire, and lost her life by the experiment. Thousands of foolish people tempt death in this way.

Dr. Lyman Beecher once said: "A great many professed Christians have no other idea of religion than that it is the means of getting to heaven when they die. As to doing anything for God while they live, it does not enter into their plans. I tell you, my brethren, I do not believe there is one in five hundred of such professors that will reach heaven; for there is a magnanimity in true religion that is above all such contemptible meanness."

An invalid son of Bacchus was about to undertake an operation for dropsy at the hands of his physicians. "Oh father, father!" screamed a son of the patient, who was looking on, "do any thing else, but don't let them tap you." "But, Sammy," said the father, "it will do me good, and I shall live many a year after to make you happy." "No father, you won't. There was never anything tapped in our house that lasted longer than a week."
