As the delegates arrived on the early trains they were met by representatives of the local papers and escorted to the Brigham Young academy where arrangements had been made to entertain them and a room had been placed at their disposal by courtesy of President Cliff. They were taken in charge at the academy by a committee of students and inspected the buildings and educational facilities of the institution after which the following program, which had been arranged for their entertainment, was carried through:

The program closed by the choir singing "Hail, Bright Abode."

At the close of the program the association members met in college hall to transact the business which had brought them together. There they were welcomed by Mayor Taylor, who in his characteristic manner, bade them welcome to the Garden City, and tendered them the keys to the city and all its institutions except the jail.

President D. P. Felt, formerly a resident of Provo, responded, in behalf of the visitors in a very appreciative manner.

Regrets from J. F. Gibbs, Jas. Dunn and J. B. Graham at their inability to be present were read by Secy. Dresser.

An interesting paper, prepared by J. M. Boyden of the Mount Pleasant Pyramid, entitled, "Should the County Press Establish a Uniform Rate for Legal and Foreign Advertising?" was read. Mr. Boyden advanced the idea that a uniform rate should be established, and should be made the newspaper men should be made to make their value as advertising mediums. He also advocated the united action to protect the association from fraudulent advertisers. The paper was fully discussed and commended.

Miss Cannon, of the Young Woman's Journal, read an excellent paper on "The Newspaper—Its Usefulness as a Factor in the Progress of Education." She maintained that the influence of the newspaper in this direction was great, and that therefore it should be the aim of the manager of a paper to present his readers with matter that would be instructive and elevating in its results.

Wm. Glasmann, of the Ogden Standard, spoke of "Newspaper Publishing as an Art, as a Profession, and as a Business" and brought out many good points, advocating conscientious, honest work on the paper, and condemning yellow journalism, which had not come to stay.

Changes were made in the constitution by striking out section II, and section 3 covered the same points. The time of the annual meeting was changed from Jan. 20 to the 3rd Monday in January.

After a few remarks by Editor McHenry, the Utah County Democratic association adjourned to the Hotel Roberts, where a banquet had been prepared for the visitors.

There a very enjoyable time was spent. Postmaster Grove of Provo acted as toastmaster, and responses were made to the following toast: Senators and newspaper men, Senator Reed Smoot. The senator expressed a high opinion of the press and its usefulness in the community and was well pleased with the newspaper on every occasion, however, to criticize the habit of misrepresentation into which some papers had fallen.

"Men in Public Life" was treated by Editor Glasmann in a serio-comic vein, and the speaker drew upon personal experience for humor.

"Utah Journalism" was responded to by Editor Buys of the Wasatch Wave, in the main commendatory and suggesting advancement.

"Provo" was given a fine send-off by President Peter who has a warm place in his heart for the Garden City. Other speakers were E. T. Hyde, I. E. Dahl, Miss Stella Neff, Murray E. King, James Grove, and other members of the association.

At the banquet the visitors enjoyed carriage rides around the city and to the lake resort.

In the evening a reception was given in the Elks' lodge room attended by many prominent citizens. A fine program of music and readings was given, in which Prof. A. C. Lund, Miss Mirlan Neke, Mr. W. D. Roberts and others appeared.

The expressions heard from the visitors was to the effect that the session had been a most enjoyable one, and constant attention to the affairs of the ward, his thoughtfulness and kindness to the people, have endeared him to the people of Mendon, and they can never cease to remember kindly his helpful term, and wish him every success in his future career.

DEPOSITORY FOR CITY FUNDS.

Mrs. Hannah Jacobson, city treasurer of Logan, has transferred the city funds from the Thatcher bank, where they have been kept since the first National bank. It is understood that the death of the late George W. Thatcher, who was one of her bondsmen, caused a necessity for new bondsmen, and as Messrs. Goodwin, Stewart and J. H. Allen of Provo, were the willing ones to sign her bonds, she acquiesced with the result stated, they being directors in the First National. While the entire balance of the city administration is deposited in the Thatcher bank, the First National, and the First National managers are receiving the congratulations of their friends, especially in view of the fact that the $85,000 to be obtained from the forthcoming sale of lands will be deposited in the near future and paid out in small amounts from time to time.

The matter has been under consideration for some time and some investigations as to cost, etc., have been made, but this is the first time the council has placed itself on record in regard to the project.

Considerable discussion took place as to the time in which the work should be completed. The necessity for connecting with the springs, and thus securing pure water at as early a date as possible by the advertising of the question of the increased taxation necessary to complete the work was also considered and the opinion prevailed that it could not be accomplished in one year. It will probably require a 15-mill levy on the taxable property to make the contemplated improvements, and the general opinion expressed was that the amount could not be raised in less than two and possibly three years; but a start will be made this year.

Approximate costs of two lines of pipe were presented: One on the line of the Blue Cliff canal to cost about $33,990, and one along the railroad grade to cost about $29,000.

The committee on waterworks and the superintendent of waterworks are authorized to make investigations of the Salt Lake and Ogden Waterworks systems with a view to gaining information to be applied on the proposed improvement.

Two things to do: give strength to the whole body and new force to the nerves. Scott's Emulsion will do it; contains just what the worn-out system needs. Rich blood, healthy flesh, resistive force, more and better nourishment are what Scott's Emulsion supplies to the convalescent. We'll send you a sample free upon request.
