A SURE CURE FOR THE PILES. —You need not suffer from this most distressing disease again in all your life. Emall's Balm acts as a poultice and lubricator, absorbs the tumors and allays the intense itching at once. No caustic, no acid, no pain. A. McGibbons Esq., 19 Poplar street, Allegheny, Pa., writes: "I had itching and bleeding piles so bad I could not sit, stand or walk without intense suffering. I doctored with many physicians, and tried all the (so called) cures that I ever heard of, in vain (paying out hundreds of dollars), until I used Emall's Magic Balm, or Ointment. After the first application I enjoyed the best night's sleep I had for ten years, and two boxes have cured me completely." ☞ Wherever introduced Dr. Emall's Balm takes the lead, and has the largest sale of any Pile remedy in the world. CRITICAL ANALYSIS.

UNIVERSITY OF DESERET,
Salt Lake City, June 8th, 1887.

By carefully examining DeLand's Chemical Baking Powder with the microscope and with chemical reagents, I find that it is free from Alum, Starch, Flour, Bone Ash, Ammonia and White Earth; and that it consists essentially of Cream of Tartar and Bi-carbonate of Soda.

The Baking Powder examined I purchased at Barnes & Davis, in this city.

A WEIRD PANTOMIME.

THE STRANGE SCENE WITNESSED BY A CONDUCTOR ON THE MOJAVE DESERT.

"I have the worst time in the world convincing my people of the real facts about mirages on the Colorado desert," said Conductor Tom Williamson, of the Atlantic & Pacific road, to a San Francisco Examiner reporter yesterday.

"Twenty miles out from Mojave, on my run, and all across the desert, every morning just after sunrise, you see everything. You'd think you were right on the bank of a river, but you never get to it. Then, again, you see a magnificent lake, the color of an emerald—no go, no lake, can't get to it. And bless my stars, though I run over that road every day, and see these scenes over and over again, I can't bring myself to believe that I don't see water. Well, it's difficult for me, but how much more difficult is for passengers.

"Between my own superstitions about these things, if you may call them such, the questions of a fresh grist of passengers every day, and my regular duties, you may be sure I have enough to do.

"I have heard of ghosts hovering round and bothering railroad trains; I never saw any ghosts—that is, none of those things dressed in white—but I'll tell you what I did see once. It was two weeks ago last Monday morning. The sun rose just as we were crawling out of Fenner, which is a station 200 miles east of Mojave. It tipped as glorious a lake as I ever saw, all in an effulgent glow. Upon that lake moving to and fro in boats was a myriad of people. Gilding hither and thither the scene reminded me of the realization of a strange mythological tale. It appeared to me as though there were a thousand people on that lake, big and little, old and young, male and female.

"It was as if the whole thing was in pantomime, and then all at once the 'thing,' or whatever it was, disappeared.

"I was scared. Upon my word I was. I have a sort of a notion that I'll get a new route. The hobgoblins on those mirages alarm me."

NEW CANAL PROJECT.

ANOTHER GREAT WATERWAY TO RECLAIM THOUSANDS OF ACRES.

South of Tempe to the line of the Pima reservation, twelve miles distant, lies perhaps the finest body of land in Arizona. Fertile and pleasantly situated its natural capabilities are unexcelled, while conveniently located for shipping over the M. & P. its product. The whole extent of country is located, most of it under the desert land law, and the owners have been for some time casting around for the necessary water for reclamation. The Tempe canal commands all the ground, but its organization is a close one. The project deemed most favorable is to obtain the water by way of the Utah or Jonesville canal right of way and through its extension southwestward until the mountains south of Tempe are reached, near the projected town of Kyrene.

The original Utah ditch carries about 2,000 inches and the extension but little more. These ditches will therefore be much enlarged and a new canal of greater capacity excavated from the present terminus of the extension, at the north end of Alma avenue, Mesa, for a distance of over ten miles. Over thirty sections are to be supplied, or a matter of some twenty thousand acres. The estimated cost of all this work is $63,000, but it would be safer to double the amount.

A preliminary meeting was held last Thursday, at the Tempe hotel, by members of the three organizations interested—that is to say the Utah ditch, the Utah extension and the new company, which is to be dubbed the "Tempe Valley Canal." Nothing definite was reached regarding the matter, but another meeting was arranged for to-morrow, when a plan of action may be determined upon.

This is a most important move, one that will turn the country south of Tempe into a veritable garden.—Salt River Valley News, Aug. 20.

HE HID THE BODY.

THE TRICK BY WHICH AN ENTERPRISING CHICAGO REPORTER SAVED HIS PAPER FROM DEFEAT.

I was present at the hearing of the "omnibus" boodle case the other day when Guy Magee, city editor of the Times, was called to the witness stand. Magee is one of the land-marks of the Chicago press. It so happened that the very day he was a witness the papers of the city contained an account of the finding of the body of a man under a sidewalk. You may wonder what connection this has with Guy Magee. A long time ago, before there were any telephones or patrol wagons or boxes, when reporters had to hoof it between stations for the police news of the night, Magee was a night reporter for one of the morning papers. Scoops counted in those days, and when a night man couldn't turn in one or two to his credit in as many weeks he was transferred. One morning, after the last batch of items had been sent in, Magee was homeward bound when he discovered the dead body of a man in the street. He knew it was too late to get the item in the paper, and he knew if he informed the police of his discovery that the afternoon papers would have the lead on the item. In those days Chicago abounded in plank sidewalks of the most miserable kind. Magee tore up one or two of the planks in the walk near by, and planted his dead man under them. Late that day, when he came down to his work, he notified the coroner and the afternoon papers were beaten.—Chicago Mail.

The World's Largest Cities.

The following information is often inquired for, and, as it may be useful in many cases for reference, we have compiled a table of the largest cities of the world, with their populations as stated by the latest authorities. In the absence of any official census, the Chinese cities have simply to be estimated, and, of course, must be accepted as an approximation only. We have not given any city whose population is below 500,000, though there are many we could enumerate which closely approach that figure. It will be seen that in the thirty-five cities tabulated below, there are 32,510,219 souls, or nearly the population of the British Isles, a fact which cannot be grasped in a moment by any ordinary intellect.

How to Avoid Premature Old Age.

The following advice is given by Dr. Benjamin Ward Richardson:

To subsist on light but nutritious diet, with milk as the standard food, but varied according to the season.

To take food in moderate quantity four times a day, including a light meal before going to bed.

To clothe warmly but lightly, so that the body may in all seasons maintain its equal temperature.

To keep the body in fair exercise and the mind active and cheerful.

To maintain an interest in what is going on in the world, and to take part in reasonable labors and pleasures, as though old age were not present.

To take plenty of sleep during sleeping hours. To spend nine hours in bed at the least, and to take care during cold weather that the temperature of the bedroom is maintained at sixty degrees Fahrenheit.

To avoid passion, excitement, and luxury.

I then tried the favorite prescription of one of the most renowned physicians of Louisville, Ky., but to no purpose; whereupon I was induced to try Simmons Liver Regulator. I found immediate benefit from its use, and it ultimately restored me to the full enjoyment of health.
