RED LETTER DAY FOR ACADEMY.

Successful Closing of Twenty-fifth Year of the Provo Institution.

LIST OF THE GRADUATES.

An Excellent Showing - President's Report - The Various Departments - The Faculty.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, May 31.—Yesterday was a red letter day in the history of the Brigham Young academy and an epoch in the lives of many of the students, the closing of the twenty-fifth academic year. The celebration has been tastefully arranged for holding the commencement exercises, the speakers stand was beautifully ornamented with flowers and garlands of roses were erected over the stage leading to the stand, and in front of the railing were placed a bust of President Young, pictures of President Young, President Smoot and President Cannon, all wreathed in flowers. A large audience had assembled and the students were heartily greeted as they entered the building at 10 o'clock after the march from the academy and took their positions in the center of the building.

RHEUMATISM

My RHEUMATISM CURE is just as certain to cure rheumatism as water is to quench thirst. No matter what part of the body the pain may be in or whether it is acute or chronic, RHEUMATISM'S CURE will drive it out in a few hours, and fully cure in a few days.—RHEUMATISM'S CURE.

Advancement, would in the future have the privilege of seeing them raise the most beautiful standard of intellectual superiority that the world has ever seen. The graduates should cultivate the beautiful and the noble as well as the mechanical and the material, and if they went forth hungry and thirsting after the true, the beautiful and the good, then, indeed, would they begin life under most promising conditions, and after youth—the time of hope and work—would come on old age—the time of recollection—which would be the most beautiful period in life.

Raymond H. Clayton sang "From Provo, Both Land and Wave," from Verdi.

Mrs. Minnie J. Snow was the next speaker, she directed her remarks principally to the young ladies, impressing upon them the necessity of determining upon the life work they desired to do, and then labor earnestly to that end. No greater aspiration could be entertained than the development of perfect womanhood and to this the heart must be educated and love and sympathy develop, and the mistake should not be made that graduation ends all efforts at moral and intellectual growth.

Miss Marie Bush rendered the "Flowery Song," from a play by the same name.

Apostle Smoot, whose name appeared on the program for a sentiment, expressed himself forcibly and eloquently on the results of cultivation, bringing illustrations from nature, such as the growth of the acorn, the seedling, the sapling, the tree, to illustrate the growth of the mind and the development of the character.

Little Miss Lida Edmunds, of Wales, Sanpete, 10 years of age, rendered a piano selection, and was invited on the stand by the wish of President Smoot, who was complimented by the President and other visitors.

Apostle Teasdale commenced his address by referring to the labors of Dr. Tanner and the great results obtained from the system of education commenced by him under the direction of President Young. He impressed upon the graduates that it is not so much what we know as what we do that brings success, and that by building upon a love of righteousness, giving their love and affection to Jesus Christ they would be accepted and blessed by Him.

Miss Eva Ward rendered a vocal selection, "The Church," from the opera "The Bohemians," by Jacques Offenbach.

The faculty had been a unit during the entire year. There has not been a single day to disturb its peace. While many of the leading teachers and professors have been offered higher salaries to work elsewhere, they have all excepted preference to remain and labor in the academy.

In conclusion I express it as my opinion that the academy has had a successful year, and that the future prospects for the immediate future never were brighter.

PRESIDENT SNOW'S ADDRESS.

President Snow next delivered an address, expressing great pleasure in being privileged to be present, and complimented the faculty on the great success of the year, predicting that they would do still better in the future. The students were also congratulated upon the success of their labors; the advantages they had obtained would prove a great help to them in achieving success in life, and their efforts to advance to the high position the Lord has designed for His children. They were admonished not to rely on their own learning; if they did they would never reach the degree of advancement which the Lord desired them to attain—to sit with Christ in His kingdom. President Snow related that when he had been in the Church, he had heard that it had been revealed to him in a manner that admitted of no doubt, that "as man now is God once was." God had revealed His purposes to His children and given them an opportunity to understand His will, and to receive His blessing, increase your knowledge, still be earnest, still be diligent and do not forget that you are sons and daughters of God, be good, be virtuous. Do not forget that you are to reach the degree of advancement which the Lord desired them to attain—to sit with Christ in His kingdom. President Snow announced that there was now on hand $25,000 to be used for the academy, and that whatever could be done for the institution, while he was President, the Church should be helped, and that he would be pleased to receive with manifestations of great pleasure by the students.

President Brimhall, who had been complimented by President Snow for his efforts in behalf of the academy in a financial way, stated by way of explanation that the motto of the academy was "Faith in God, faith in our brethren and sisters, and faith in ourselves." He then announced that the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Nelson, who should have made a speech, had been prevented from filling the appointment, but had left the sentiment, "Long live and forever prosper the Brigham Young Academy," as a greeting to the school.

A selection was rendered by the academy orchestra.

DR. TANNER'S ORATION.

Dr. J. M. Tanner, general superintendent of Church schools, felt honored by the invitation to attend the graduation exercises of the graduates of the Brigham Young Academy and extend to them such words of encouragement as the future may justify and their labors and application of the past enable them to do. He then announced that they commenced active life among their fellows, having had the advantage of an education in scholastic branches and in addition to that had received it under the influence of the Spirit of God were eloquently referred to.

The stage was arranged as a business office with desks, typewriters, letter presses, etc. At the desks were seated Hon. Barlow Ferguson, the orator of the day, and the graduates, who are: Alfred Robinson, R. E. Allen, Sadie Morrison, V. R. Bird, Arthur Bird, R. Brasher, Elijah Allen, E. S. Davis and Gove Phelps.

After a quartet by members of the class and prayer was offered by F. G. Warnick.

President Robinson delivered a brief address, dwelling upon the work of the class and promised that the class would remember and live up to its motto.

Hon. Barlow Ferguson prefaced his address by referring to his school days in the academy twenty years ago, paying tribute to Dr. Tanner, who had been the orator of the day, and the graduates, who are: Alfred Robinson, R. E. Allen, Sadie Morrison, V. R. Bird, Arthur Bird, R. Brasher, Elijah Allen, E. S. Davis and Gove Phelps.
