WASHINGTON'S VISION.

BY WESLEY BRADSHAW.

[CONCLUDED.]

"A second time the angel dipped from the ocean, and sprinkled it out as before. The dark cloud was then withdrawn back to the ocean, into whose heaving waves it sank from view. A third time I heard the mysterious voice, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn! I cast my eyes upon America, and behold villages, cities and towns springing up one after another, until the whole land, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, was dotted with them. Again I heard the mysterious voice say, 'Son of the Republic, the end of a century cometh—look and learn!'"

"At this the dark shadowy angel turned his face southward, and from Africa, I saw an ill opened spectre approaching our land. It flitted slowly over village, town and city, of the latter the inhabitants of which presently set themselves in battle array, one against the other. As I continued looking, I saw a bright angel, on whose brow rested a crown of light, on which was inscribed the word 'Union,' bearing the American flag, which he placed between the divided nations, and said, 'Remember ye are brethren!'"

"Instantly the inhabitants, casting from them their weapons, became friends in once more, and united around the national standard. And again I heard the mysterious voice say, 'Son of the Republic, the end of a century cometh—look and learn!'"

"At this the dark shadowy angel placed a trumpet to his mouth, and he blew three distinct blasts, and taking water from the ocean sprinkled it out upon Europe, Asia and Africa.

"Then my eyes looked upon a fearful scene. From each of those countries arose thick, black clouds, which soon joined into one, and throughout this mass gleamed a deep red light, by which I saw hordes of armed men, who, moving with the cloud, marched by land and sea, to America, to which country was presently enveloped in the volume of the cloud. And I dimly saw the vast armies devastating the whole country, and pillage and burn villages, cities and towns, that I had beheld springing up. As my eye fastened to the thundering of cannon, clashing of swords, and shouts and cries of the millions in mortal combat, I again heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn!'"

"When the voice had ceased, the dark, shadowy angel placed his trumpet once more to his mouth and he blew a long, fearful blast, and a bright light, from a thousand suns, shone down from above me, and pierced and broke into fragments the dark clouds which enveloped America. At the same time I heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn!'"
