Deadlock Precipitated Between Faculty and Senior Students Of College Department.

REFUSE TO BE GRADUATED.

Prospective Alumni Take This Stand Provided Instructing Force Insists On a Joint Commencement

With the faculty on one side Ignor ing the efforts of the college students to assert a long cherished hope that they would hold university commencement exercises independent of the exercises conducted by the normal students, the seniors of the university are rapidly organizing to effect a general and sympathetic "strike."

That there is a deadlock between students and faculty has long been well known. Discontent over the character of graduating ceremonies conducted at the university campus has been grow-ing through many years, and has at last reached an acute state in which a committee of students has notified the faculty that there will be a university all in which the college students at all in which the college students participate.

A special faculty meeting yesterday afternoon considered the case, and as is usual in faculty meetings, there was a free for all discussion, with everybody contributing a brief opinion who cared to and voting at will. Prof. R. R. Lyman favored replying to the notice by passing a resolution that diplomas would only be given students who appeared on the stuge at the regular ceremonies, in connection with the graduates of the lower department. At the end, however, it was decided to treat with the beiligerent students, rather than to try to force submission, for in pursuit of the policy a committee of leading faculty members was appointed to meet the students and to try to arrange matters. This committee consists of Dr. J. F. Merrill, director of the Mining school; Prof. Byron Cummings, dean of the school of arts and sclences; Dr. William Clarence Ebaugh, chairman of the discipline committee; and William M. Stewart, principal of the normal school.

William M. Stewart, principal of the normal school.

This committee will bring whatever adjustment is possible out of the dradicek, and meanwhile another committee is going ahead with preparations for a regular conventional senior week, of the pattern followed through the past decade. This committee is headed by Prof. R. R. Lyman and associated with him are Profs. E. H. Beckstrand, D. R. Allen, Fred W. Reynolds, and Miss Althea Wheeler. The exercises are to begin Sunday, June 28, and end Friday, June 7, commencing with the baccalaureate to be preached by Rev. Benjamin Young of the First Methodist church.

Monday is senior class day, the exercises being of a burlesque nature and filled with witty satires at teachers and students. Tuesday the normals hold their class day, and this is followed in the afternoon by the president's reception to the graduates. Wednesday, alumni day, will be given over to the entertainment of all old students at work. At 11 o'clock there will be a "get acquainted" meeting in the Assembly hall, followed by alumni meetings at noon, a luncheon given by the normal department, and in the evening, the annual alumni banquet. Thursday the graduating exercises will be beld this. ning, the annual alumni banquet. Thursday the graduating exercises will be held, this year on the campus for the fist time, and Friday a field day at Saltair will be given. This will close the formalities of the final week, and the large size of the graduating classes insures a lively season of finalities.

missioner of Wisconsin, lectured last evening in Castle hall before the local Knights of Pythias on the subject of fraternity insurance. In his lecture he called attention to the fact that fraternal societies generally are collecting inadequate rates, only later to be compelled to raise them. With the Pythian order the rates are based on the American experience table, with 3½ per cent interest. Accumulated surplussage is distributed among members by lapsing payments for one year, Mr. Host says there are 700,000 members of the order in this country, of whom 32,000 are in the insurance department. WETZELL RECITAL.

Y. M. C. A. Auditorium Packed Last Night on Occasion of Musicale, merely filled, but packed solid with society people last evening, on the occasion of the spring tide recital given by Mrs. W. A. Wetzell, the well known instructor in vocal culture. The stage was decorated with a profusion of flowers and palms, and while encores were forbidden, there were enough floral tributes sent up to the footlights to have flied an express wagon. Only one singer on the long list failed to be smothered in floral offerings, and that was John Robinson, the only man singer on the program. No one seemed to think of decorating him, notwithstanding the fact that he gave an excellent account of himself in his baritone aria from "Elijah."

The program was carried out as printed excepting that two of the singers switched, a matter of no consequence for the lights were extinguished and no one could read their programs anyway. The choral society composed of 14 ladies made an excellent impression last evening, as they have in the clety people last evening, on the occa-

of 14 ladies made an excellent impression last evening, as they have in the past. Their voices blended well, and their tempo and expression were good. The principal soldist of the evening, was Mrs. Charles Daley, whose soprano aria from the "Dinorah" of Meyerberr, won for her prolonged applause. Her florature work evidenced careful and studious graining, for it is difficult of performance. Mrs. Daley, however, has mastered the score. Her singing was very acceptable. Miss Pearl Allenbaugh of the First Presbyterian church choir was another excellent voice. Her song was Gounod's "Sing, Smile and Slumber," which was given with a sweetness of expression and nicety of interpretation very creditable to the fair vocalist. Miss Corinne Harris also, made a taking impression. In fact all of the singers were handsomely received, and the evening was much enjoyed.

The action was brought to recover a bonus of $9,500 for completing the Big Cottonwood conduit ahead ing the Big Cottonwood conduit ahead of contract time. The city offered him $2,700, but he refused to take it. At the trial of the case recently in Judge Ritchie's court the jury returned a verdict in Moran's favor for $2,700, just what the city offered him. The contractor does not intend to accept this amount unless the supreme court refuses to give him a new trial.
