

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

Gov. Iwin, of Idaho, was in town today.

There was another fall of snow last night.

More "check" at the Theatre to-night. Roland Reed is a capable actor.

Last evening a couple of sun dogs were plainly observable in the western sky.

Home missionaries will visit the meetings of the country wards tomorrow.

The Seventies of the 21st Ward held their monthly meeting at the residence of Wm. Sanders, on Monday evening next, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. John Reeve, the efficient agent of the Utah Central Railroad at Ogden, has handed over the business of the position to his son, John J. Reeve.

Knowledge must be earned; it cannot be passively taken. Unless the mind works for its living, it will always remain poor; neither gifts nor legacies, neither houses nor lands, can enrich it.

On Thursday afternoon, in the 21st Ward, while Willie White, nine years of age, son of a widow, was climbing into a wagon, his leg caught in a wheel and the thigh was badly broken. The limb was set by Dr. Pike.

A buckskin pony, containing a small sum of money and a blank application for water was lost on East Temple Street this afternoon. The owner can ill-afford to lose it. The finder will please leave it for her at this office.

A pretty good definition of a lady is this description from George Eliot's "Silas Marner": "She has the essential attributes of a lady—high veracity, delicate honor in her dealings, deference to others, and refined personal habits."

An admirable preparation for coughs, especially during feverish or inflammatory attacks, is composed of honey, olive oil, lemon juice and sweet spirits of nitre—each, one fluid ounce—to be taken several times a day, in half fluid drachms.

"Terra-cotta lumber" is a new building material, made of brick, clay and sawdust fired, and said to be as easily worked as wood and as incombustible as brick. If this is true, its use for partitions and doors will save many a frightful holocaust of human beings.

In a western church the deacon's wife wanted to jot down the text and leaning over to her scapegrace nephew, she whispered, "Have you a card about you?" "You can't play in chapel!" was his solemn reply, and the good woman was so flustered that she forgot all about the text.

To remove beans or buttons from the nose of a child, stop the empty nostril with your finger pressed upon it, then blow strongly and suddenly into the mouth. The pressure is increased and the whole force of your breath goes to expel the button, which commonly flies out at the first effort.

Dr. Hoskins reminds his readers that one ton of good bone dust contains as much nitrogen as 50 tons of fresh stable manure, and as much phosphoric acid as 110 tons of fresh stable manure. But one ton of manure contains more potash than five tons of bone dust. So bone-dust and ashes make a complete fertilizer.

JOSEPH F. SMITH, FRANKLIN D. RICHARDS.

Fireman's Obedience.—Officers and members of the Alert Engine Company No. 3 are requested to be at the Engine House at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning, to attend the funeral of late brother fireman Geo. Clark. Officers and members of the Brigade are cordially invited to attend full equipped.

JAS. WHITE, Foreman.

Lecture Announcement.—On Tuesday evening, April 17th, at 7:30 o'clock, Mrs. M. P. Hughes, M. D., will lecture before the Young Ladies' Association of the 15th Ward, at the Relief Society Hall. We understand the subject will not be connected with medicine, but we have not ascertained its title. Admission free.

The Mechanical Department.—Mr. Geo. B. Bywater was installed yesterday at the Utah Central R. R. shops as master mechanic. His superior mechanical skill and familiarity with railroad work generally, gained by lengthy practical experience, amply qualifies him for the situation, and his numerous friends will be pleased to learn of his promotion.

An Unexpected Decision.—Yesterday Judge Twiss rendered a decision in one of the suits planted against Thomas Taylor by Allen G. Campbell, involving a dispute as to the ownership of certain iron mines in Iron County. The general understanding being that Mr. Taylor's right of possession was beyond legitimate question, the fact that the judgment was in favor of Mr. Campbell will cause a good deal of surprise.

A Deplorable Case.—Yesterday, in the Third District Court, the case of George Steed, of Farmington, suing for a decree of divorce from his wife, came up for hearing. The defendant not appearing, the applicant was granted the decree and the custody of his four children.

Our readers are already familiar with some of the details of this deplorable and aggravated case, a number of which were set forth in the complaint in the suit. Mr. Steed was married to his wife in 1871, and by her had four children. Business lately called him from home to Arizona, and during his absence he left a transient named Robert White in charge of his cattle. On his return he discovered that through the diabolism of White his wife had proved unfaithful to him. He also alleged that this same White threatened to take his life with a knife.

A short time since Mr. Steed shot three bullets into White's body, one in the shoulder and two in the thigh. Had the lethal messengers struck a more vital part and sent the consummate scoundrel out of the world the general verdict would have been—"Served him right." Society has no use for such fiends incarnate.

Vestibule Decorations.—The decoration of the lobby of the Salt Lake Theatre, which has just been completed, was the subject of agreeable surprise and favorable comment by the audience last night. The harmony of tints is beautiful, and the brilliancy of color, used with admirable art and judgment, lights up and enlivens the delicious tones of greys, producing that effect of cheerfulness and life which is a proper introduction to the pleasures inside.

The entrance to a theatre should be inviting, and we congratulate the artist upon his use of color and upon the excellent taste which caused him to stop just at the proper limit to prevent even the suspicion of garishness.

Mr. W. C. Morris in this work has manifested real art ability. We are glad that he has been so entirely successful, and owing to the peculiar conformation of the architecture with which he dealt, it was no easy task to produce pleasing results. His modesty and good sense temper his energy and ambition. We anticipate with interest the work which he will do in the auditorium in the near future.

A Battered Nose.—In our last issue in the particulars of an accident at Wellsville, in which the nose of a boy was injured by a bat slipping from the hands of a baseball player. Our informant gave the name of the injured boy as Owens. We learn from our regular correspondent at Wellsville that the injury happened to Thomas Stoddard, a son of Mr. John Stoddard, aged about 10 years, that his nose was smashed in a dreadful manner, being cut at the root, the gristle broken and the shapely nose driven to one side of the face. Mr. James H. Hallam sewed up the gash and straightened the organ to its natural shape. The youth is doing far better than was expected.—Utah Journal.

The "Easel."—Mr. George A. Meers, an enthusiastic patron of the arts, has opened a little room, next door to his establishment, which he calls the "Easel." All local artists have the opportunity of displaying their productions there, and sales of pictures for the benefit of those whose productions they are can be negotiated. Articles of mechanism can also have a place in the "Easel," for exhibition, on application of the producer. The object is to encourage home talent and form an art centre for the city, to increase in dimensions, like the snowball, as it rolls.

Missionaries on the Way.—We are in receipt of a note from Brother Charles Denney, with the party of missionaries who left on the U. P. R. R. on Tuesday last. It was dated at Cheyenne, April 11th. They expected to arrive at Omaha at 3:40 p. m. on the following day. One man narrowly escaped being killed on the train on the 11th. As it was moving out he endeavored to step on, but missed his footing and hung suspended by his hands between the two cars. He, however, regained his footing and escaped unhurt.

Probable Change.—The U. P. R. officials are considering the feasibility of lessening the express train time between Ogden and Omaha, so as to have the arrival at Ogden 9 a. m. instead of 6 p. m. Such a change would be a great convenience to business men, by enabling them to get their mails direct in the early part of the day. The same benefit would apply as regards passengers, who generally prefer to arrive at their destinations in the day time. We hope the change will be effected.

Do It Understandingly.—Under the new water ordinance the city undertakes the duty of cleaning out the ditches, a work which is now in progress. As this labor necessarily requires some alterations, we suggest that in proceeding to perform it that it might be well for those directing it to ascertain the desires of property owners on the subject, that harmony may prevail between ordinary citizens and officials. Nothing like preserving peace in the family.

Reward Offered.—Circulars have been issued by the Boise City, Idaho, authorities offering a reward of $2,000 for the capture and delivery at Boise, Idaho, of the four convicts who lately escaped from the penitentiary at that place. Their names are Moral Hicks, in for 20 years for murder; Ralph Johnson, in for burglary for seven years; J. W. Hays, for grand larceny, four years; and Charles Chambers, for robbery, nine years.

In the Ministry.—By private letter from Bishop O. F. Whitney, we learn that he is enjoying his labors greatly in the London Conference, and the change from office work to that of the regular ministry had already had a beneficial effect upon his physical health. His numerous friends will be pleased to learn of his prosperity in the missionary field.

Religious Services.—Religious services of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints at the Assembly Hall to-morrow afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

L. A. W.—The annual meeting of the League of American Wheelmen will take place this year in New York. The State Clubs are sending in liberal subscriptions to accommodate visiting clubs, and make the affair a success. We have not heard that any of our Salt Lake Wheelmen purpose attending.

Opera House.—The concert by the McCall Opera Company last night drew a large audience who were delighted with the musical feast prepared for them. It was first-class in every particular and elicited immense applause and numerous encores. This most excellent company will perhaps favor Salt Lake with a call on their return trip from the coast.

A Captured Coon.—Yesterday afternoon a racoon was found in an aperture in the walls of the Temple, about sixty feet from the ground. He was fat and sleek, and evidently took his elevated position on the lookout for pigeons. He had probably reached his hiding place by climbing up the scaffolding and creeping along a beam which extended to the place where he was captured. After being caught, the brute was soon safely ensconced in a box.

"Friend and Foe."—The management of the Salt Lake Theatre will, on Thursday next, present an admittedly chief attraction in its line on the American stage. William J. Scanlan, the young Irish comedian, will then appear. He belongs to the same school as J. K. Emmet, and is carrying everything by storm, having a most winning manner of reaching the hearts of his audiences. Judging from press opinions of him, he plays in Bartley Campbell's new comedy drama "Friend and Foe." It will be Mr. Scanlan's first bow before a Salt Lake audience.

Expression of Thanks.—At the entertainment given for the benefit of the Deseret Hospital a number of ladies and gentlemen volunteered their services. The Unity Club feel deeply indebted and beg them to accept their warmest thanks. Their names are as follows: Miss Julia Thomas, of New York City; Miss Ada Dwyer, Mrs. Sarah Langford, Miss Agnes Olsen, Miss Nellie Druce, Mrs. Edith Knowlton, Mrs. Maggie Hull, Mrs. George Foote, Prof. George Carless, Prof. E. Krouse, Prof. E. Seelye, Mr. H. H. McAllister, Mr. Cal. Carrington, Mr. Oliver, Mr. H. C. Tryon, Master Joseph McIntyre, the Quartette Club, Mr. J. M. Young, Mr. W. C. Dunbar, Mr. Henry McEwan, Mr. John Lindsay, Mr. Sidney Clawson, Mr. Frank Taylor, Mr. James Jennings, Mr. Fred Clawson, Mr. Walter Jennings, Mr. Wash. Young, Mr. Seldon Clawson, Mr. William Rossmore, Mr. S. H. Hill, Mr. Walter Clawson.

"Check."—"Check" is a modern play, with many popular features. The dialogue is brisk, captivating, and witty, the plot interesting and possible, the situations taking though not sensational, and the moral good though not strained or puritanical. Roland Reed's rendition of Dick Smythe, the cheery person and the axis on which the play rotates, is original and clever. Reed's style is a mixture of Raymond's and Robson's, with peculiar traits of his own. He made himself a favorite with the audience from the start, and maintained his position to the close. The company is good. There is not a "flick" in it. Some excellent natural acting was done by both ladies and gentlemen, and we consider them exceptionally well suited to their respective characters.

The scenery in "Check" was splendidly arranged, and though the Madison Square drop was brought here by the company, to Mr. J. Evans, the Theatre machinist, is greatly due the fine effects produced upon the stage.

For a good laugh and a pleasant evening we commend the public to "Check." Go and see it to-night, when it will be played for the last time.
