

PORTUGAL ON EVE OF A REVOLUTION

Many Arrests Being Made. Newspaper Suspended and Repressive Measures Taken.

TALK OF KING ABDICATING.

Should He, Not Impossible That a Peaceful Republic May be Established.

Paris, Nov. 24.—Reports representing that Portugal is on the eve of a revolution are received here with caution. As dispatches coming directly from the country have been censored, and those coming indirectly across the frontier are held more or less under suspicion, the reports of the banishment of the crown prince and the mutiny of the fleet are denied at the embassy here; nevertheless, the making of arrests, the suspension of a newspaper and other repressive measures which have been taken by what Premier Franco terms an administrative dictatorship, seems conclusive proof that matters in Portugal have entered upon a critical phase. This condition undoubtedly has precipitated by the interview with King Carlos, which was published last week in which he announced his absolute faith in Premier Franco and his intention to allow the premier to choose the time for the holding of the election of the cortes. The parliamentary opposition which has been stirring up the country for months past, expected by a gigantic demonstration planned for Jan. 2 next, to force the king to dismiss Premier Franco, but his majesty's bold endorsement of the dictatorship represses this hope abruptly, consolidating the entire opposition in the direction of republicanism.

Senior Ma, the proprietor of the newspaper Vanguardia, of Lisbon, which was suppressed, is now in Paris and considers that a republic is inevitable and that the issue will be decided before Jan. 1. He declares that the people are disaffected, and that the king abdicates, he said, "there will be a peaceful republic as in the case of Brazil. If he does not, there will be revolution, with all its violent character."

A correspondent of the Temps, who has just returned after an investigation of affairs in Portugal, and who has had an interview with King Carlos, Premier Franco and ex-Premier Castro, reports that he is clear that the situation is the outgrowth of conditions which have been endured for years. The main object of the number of the Progress party and the republicans alike is to preserve personal emoluments and, whether in office or out, they protect each other's sinecures, while at the same time the members of the royal family get advances which were never paid.

Premier Franco, when he assumed the dictatorship cut off the parliamentary structure, suspending the cortes, and only of politicians, but the courts as well, and even the queen mother. On the other hand, he legalized the king's advances and increased the allowance by dozens on the ground that the royal family was so insufficient that the royal family were obliged to sell the crown jewels, mortgage their property and hypothecate their rights of government honors. The salaries of government officials, the salaries of police-paid government employees and the officers of the army and navy, as a result of these changes being considerable savings to the treasury. Premier Franco insists that the people and the military are loyal to the king and that the surface effervescence has been engineered by the politicians.

A special dispatch from Madrid to the Echo de Paris says it is rumored that serious disturbances have occurred between the troops and insurgents in Lisbon and that many persons have been killed and wounded. Persons arriving from Lisbon, the dispatch states, report that Col. Tasta, aide de camp to King Carlos, has resigned and that several regiments of faithful troops have been disbanded. All leading politicians, the dispatch adds, are being shadowed and increased numbers of persons are leaving the country. The king has refused to sign a decree extending martial law throughout the whole kingdom.

NO JURY TRIALS.

Lisbon, Nov. 24.—The government has passed yesterday, in addition to extending the life of the cortes against the press until the cortes assemble, under which newspapers of Lisbon and nearby were suppressed, a decree extending martial law to judge without jury persons concerned in conspiracies or attempts to provoke uprisings against royal order and purity of the state. The decree permits an appeal to the court of cassation, but gives that court the right only to annul or confirm the sentence of the tribunal.

KING A PRISONER.

Madrid, Nov. 24.—The Liberal has received a letter which escaped the censors, that states that the palace in Lisbon is surrounded by loyal troops, but that the king is practically a prisoner. The government will be interpreted as having a hostile attitude toward the king, and will be required to observe strict neutrality.

STRUGGLE FOR EXISTENCE ENDS IN SAD SUICIDE.

New York, Nov. 24.—A special cable from London to the Times says: Another story reflecting the bitter struggle for existence of a section of the literary and artistic life here came today with the discovery in the bath of the bodies of Alexander and his wife. Both were authors and Mrs. Good was also a painter of considerable talent.

The couple tied themselves together and jumped into the river, after losing a battle against big odds. Careful search in waterproof paper in the garments of both were found letters addressed to the coroner. They have not been opened as yet. The couple disappeared from the cheap lodging in which they had moved on Nov. 4, leaving their last pennies to their landlady and a letter to a friend, saying in part:

"If you think of us in the future do not do so sadly. Remember that we shall be asleep together, and what is better than sleep after the long day's work?"

Mr. Good was author of several books which were meritorious but not popular. His wife wrote under the name of Mrs. Waugh.

NEW YORK WOMEN HAVE BLACKLIST

Club is Formed in Which Many Alluring Fads Are Tabooed.

FEMALE DOCTOR LEADS.

Adelaide Wallerstein, Physician and Lawyer, Organizer of Maids and Matrons Who Seek Reform.

A new blacklist has been established in New York and this time it is the fruit of the efforts of women who cannot tolerate anything which brings them too much into the limelight for extremes which sometimes call for stern rebuke from a fashionable pulpit. In the Washington Herald, from New York comes this peculiar story: No more low neck gowns, highballs, cocktails, popular songs, handsome cabs, or peek-a-boos!

This, in effect, is the pledge of the Philocollan, a new club composed of four-and-twenty prominent club women, who have banded together for the good of society and the extinction of those things on which they have set the seal of their disapproval.

No more the after theater farcical "smack" at home to good enough for any girl says Dr. Adelaide Wallerstein, who is head of the new reform who lives at 265 west Eighty-third street.

Open-faced cabs are vehicles of vice, while a highball or cocktail with or without a cherry, point the way to crooked paths that lead to the low-neck gown, the peek-a-boo waist, and to the popular song.

"Members of the smart set drink and wear low-neck gowns in public," said Mrs. Wallerstein today, "it has a bad influence on people in all walks of life. I don't say it is a sin, but it certainly is a bad example to set the young."

GOWNS CUT TO COLLAR BONE.

"Oh, I don't mean that our collars will be high all the time. We will wear them cut down to the clavicle, that is, the collar bone," explained Dr. Wallerstein, smiling. "And let me repeat that it is not right for women to go to restaurants and cafes and nonchalantly order cocktails and highballs. Why, do you know some young girls are as familiar with the different kinds of drinks as a man of the world."

"Another thing is the supper after the theater. I deplore the fact that young girls go to supper with young men after the theater. Even should the girl be engaged to the man, she should not go to supper with him after the theater. Let her go on home and have supper there. Any girl of mine would have to do this. It would make no difference how nice the man was."

HOPE TO MOVE PUBLIC OPINION.

"I know it is perfectly conventional now to do these things, but we are obliged to do our best to change public opinion. Then it will stop."

"Not that we lack confidence in the girls, but one step leads to another. The girl goes to the cafe after the theater and takes a cocktail. It goes to her head—and she is taken home in a handsome cab. The cab habit is another thing which I deplore."

Mrs. Wallerstein said that she sees many things in her work which "makes her heart stand still."

"Do you know," she said, "the other day, while I was driving home 'Not in a handsome cab?' she was asked.

"Oh, no, I was in my carriage," and she continued, "when I was shocked to find according to the New York Broadway singing popular songs quite loudly. I also very often see young girls standing talking to young men on street corners."

ROUND TO BE ENTERTAINED.

"No charity would be more beneficial than a place of entertainment for the young, where they could meet their friends. The young demand entertainment, and will have it."

"They see the fashionable folk in cabs and cafes, drinking cocktails, or highballs, or eating late suppers, and they go out do likewise."

Dr. Wallerstein is a graduate of the New York Medical College for Women and of the University law school. She is founder and president of the East Side clinic, having a membership of $30, and she organized the Rubenstein society, a musical association.

MEMBERS OF THE CLUB.

The members of the new Philocollan club are all prominent women. They are: Dr. Adelaide Wallerstein, president; Miss Helen Barrett, first vice president; Miss Anna Wilson, second vice president; Miss Ella Louise Henderson, secretary; Miss Florence Gilderleeve, treasurer; Mrs. William H. Anderson, Mrs. John Bolton, Mrs. Theodore P. Gilman, Mrs. Samuel L. Gross, Mrs. E. Monroe Hand, Mrs. John Alton Harris, Mrs. Samuel J. Jan, Mrs. William Jayne, Mrs. Eugene Hoffman Porter, Mrs. Marie Cross Newhouse, Mrs. M. J. Pendergast, Mrs. John Hudson Storer, Mrs. Harry E. Scripps, Mrs. Sherman B. Townsend, Mrs. Carl Tollner, and Mrs. Charles Valadier.

AMERICAN INTERVENTION IN CUBA NEAR END.

Havana, Nov. 24.—With the completion of enumeration of the population of Cuba there has been accomplished the first step in the direction of the termination of the American intervention and the re-establishment of the Cuban republic.

Pending the difficult task of tabulating the results probably will not be known for some weeks. Taking precedence of all other features of the census is the preparation of the registration lists by municipalities and wards. These naturally will be subject to much revision, involving much delay.

An estimate by one of the most accomplished statisticians in the service of the provisional government places the population of the island at 2,000,000, of which about 400,000 are foreigners not entitled to the franchise.

An element that may prove to be of prime importance in the coming election is the health of Jose Miguel Gomez. It is rumored that the general is afflicted with a dangerous ailment which may compel his retirement from the field, in which event a reconciliation of the Miguelista and Zayasista factions is not improbable.

A singular feature of the present situation is the utter apathy with which the Cubans appear to regard the preparations making for the restoration of their republic. At no time since the intervention began has political discussion been so languid.

ROCKEFELLER INSTITUTE.

One for Medical Research Receives Gift from Founder of $2,000,000.

New York, Nov. 23.—The board of directors of the Rockefeller Institute for medical research of this city announced today an additional gift from John D. Rockefeller of $2,000,000. The money is to form an endowment fund, the proceeds of which will be used in any way the directors see fit.

One of the first things to be done when the income is placed at the disposal of the directors will be to build a hospital where special cases may be watched. Only cases which will afford some specific line of investigation, such as spinal diseases, cancer and tuberculosis, will be admitted to the hospital.

A DOWNPOUR OF BARGAINS

It's the constant dripping of the water that wears away the stone.

It's the little monthly payments that add comfort to the home.

About three weeks ago the "BIG STORE" inaugurated the greatest slaughter sale of home furnishings ever attempted in the WESTERN COUNTRY. We had something like a $170,000.00 stock that we desired to reduce to one-half size. The only way to force our goods on the market in an off-season is to allow the people to almost make their own price. We invited the public to come in and make us any reasonable offer, and we would do business; that we have lived to this agreement is proven by the manner in which the people have been buying since the sale started. We anticipated a heavy business but it simply went beyond our expectation. The sale is progressing to our entire satisfaction. You will understand that it is quite impossible to accomplish our objective point of cutting this tremendous stock down to one half its size in such a short time. But we are more than pleased with the results already obtained, and we believe that in another week or two will see the work completely accomplished.
