FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

Mayor Campbell of Logan, was in the City yesterday.

The City Council will hold its regular weekly session to-night.

Dealey concert at the Fourteenth Ward Assembly Rooms to-morrow night.

The cold wave which has swept over Utah has been general all over the United States.

The panorama of the Pyramids is to be exhibited at the 16th Ward School-house to-morrow night.

Brother David O. Calder and family have our sympathy in their bereavement, in the death of their son William O.

The funeral services of the late James Watson will be held at the Sixth Ward Schoolhouse at 10 a. m. to-morrow.

Father Thomas Colborn, of Enterprise, who has been in town on a visit for about three weeks, will leave for home in the morning.

A church in a country village recently circulated a paper among the congregation asking for contributions "for the purpose of paying the organist and a boy to blow the same."

On Sunday night, the U. P. express train from the East, due at Ogden 5.40 p. m. was two hours late. The delay was caused by a freight train getting off the track at Echo. No special damage was done.

The rigorously cold weather of the past three days, having sent the thermometer down as low as seven degrees above zero, has brought out the small boys with their heads to indulge in coasting on the hill sides.

This morning we had the pleasure of a call from E. H. Calkins, Esq., of Burlington, Iowa. He was formerly agricultural editor of the Hatchville, a journal noted for its humor. He is now a correspondent of that paper.

There is said to be a man in Newark, N. J., so close that when he attends church he occupies the pew farthest from the pulpit, to save the interest on his money while the others are passing the plate for contributions.

The sheep-raisers of Los Angeles County, California, are sustaining great losses, one man near San Francisco having lost 500 head of sheep. The cause is said to be a poisonous weed on which sheep feed when pasturing is scarce in the autumn.

H. C. Emmons, of Lovelock, Nev., has informed the Winnemucca, Nev., Silver State that he has shipped 600 tons of wheat raised on the Big Meadows to Europe, and he will ship 50 tons more this week. It is transported by rail to Port Costa, where loaded on vessels which sail direct to Europe.

Last year George Stead, of Sun River, planted a few pounds of Mammoth Pearl potatoes, a new variety, and the yield fairly astonished the natives. This year from half an acre of the same variety he has harvested 253 bushels of as fine "Mammoth" as ever grew anywhere, and Mr. Stead is beginning to realize that he deserves the palm as a potato grower.

Fred Griswold, a rancher, living near Divide, Montana, lost some horses recently. In looking for them he got down to Blackfoot, and there had a dispute with a man which was to be left to a deputy sheriff named Jim Westfall. The latter was hunted, found in a saloon, and soon a general melee occurred, in which Westfall drew his pistol and shot Griswold in the leg. Scott Donnelly in the hand, a man named Howard in the breast, and then signed for more words to conquer.

The following story is told of a distinguished Edinburgh professor: Desiring to go to church on one Sunday, he hired a cab. On reaching the door he tendered a shilling—the legal fare—to the cabby, and was somewhat surprised to hear the cabby say, "We're waiting, sir." The professor, taking his eyes on the cabby, demanded why he charged two shillings upon which the cabman drily answered, "We wait to discourage traveling on the Sabbath as much as possible, sir."

The clergyman's wife had presented him with a son, and the happy father as he went his parochial rounds was consulted by the members of his congregation. There was an old farmer, however, who received the tidings very coldly, but when presenting the pastor's disappointment good-naturedly explained: "I ain't got no spite; it's all according to nature, I s'pose; but when I think of that boy of yours I can't help reckonin' that in a few years there'll have to be a new fence put round my watermelon patch."

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Correction.—Mr. C. J. Bassett, who has been elected to the Idaho Legislature from Oneida County, is son of our townsman, Mr. C. H. Bassett, and not his brother, as erroneously stated yesterday.

City Taxes.—City Tax Collector J. R. Winder, announces that all unpaid taxes become delinquent on the 1st of November. Unless payment is made forthwith he will proceed to collect with costs, as provided by ordinance. Read the notice.

A Proper Use.—In California the alfalfa sunflower is abundantly cultivated. It produces sixty-two bushels of seed to the acre, and from each bushel of seed one gallon of oil is obtained, which makes a first-class illuminant. The cows and chickens are fed and fattened on the meal of the seed after the oil is expressed. This is a much better purpose than the adornment of the effeminate breast of a sickly-looking young man with pimples on his forehead. It will probably drive Oscar wild when he learns that his favorite flower is put to such common use.

Welcome Home.—Elder Joseph Tingey, one of the missionaries who reached home from England last Friday, has been absent since the 17th of September, 1890. He first labored in the Nevada-on-Tyre Conference, where he remained six months, during which time the additions to the Church were quite numerous in that field. He was next appointed to labor in the Birmingham Conference, where he operated in the ministry until his release. Brother Tingey was employed as a compositor in the office before his departure and enjoyed the esteem of his fellow workmen, who are pleased to tender him a hearty welcome home.

The British Premier and the "Mormons."—Some time since the dispatches stated that Mr. Gladstone, the English Premier, had been appealed to to secure interference on the part of the British government to prevent the Elders of the Church from prosecuting their missionary operations. It appears that the request came from a regularly organized anti-"Mormon" League, existing in the city of London, as will be seen from the following extract from Reynolds's Newspaper:

"At a meeting of the Anti-Mormon League, which was formed last year for the purpose of opposing the advocates of Mormonism in the metropolis, held recently, in Darnley's Assembly Rooms, St. Pancras square, it was stated that a member of the league having written to Mr. Gladstone calling his attention to the fact that bands of Mormon missionaries visited England annually, decaying away numbers of young persons to a life of immorality in Utah, and inquiring if the government could not do something to put a stop to the practice, the Premier has forwarded the following reply:

"Sir—Mr. Gladstone desires me to acknowledge the receipt of your communication relative to the practice of the Mormons to carry off young persons to Salt Lake City, and I am to say that he fears it is not a matter in which he can interfere. He presumes the young persons go voluntarily. He begs you will accept his thanks for your kind wishes. I am, sir, Your obedient servant, E. W. HAMILTON."

Labors in England.—This morning we were called upon by Elder James Farmer, another of the missionaries returned from Great Britain. He is a resident of Monroe, Sevier County, and left this city for his field of labor on the 9th of November, 1890. He labored the first four months in Nottingham Conference, when he succeeded Elder John Cooper in the presidency of the Leeds Conference. He labored actively, and attained good success, having had the privilege of baptizing about seventy-five new members of the Church during his mission. He found the Saints warm-hearted and kind, and reports the prospects of the work very encouraging in the neighborhood of Bradford and Leeds, several persons having been requested for baptism about the time Elder Farmer was on the point of leaving for home. He purposes leaving for Monroe to-morrow morning.

Elders Joseph A. Smith and Willard Smith, brothers, both young men, from Coalville, are laboring with great intelligence and good success in the Leeds Conference, giving promise of usefulness.

Perished in the Snow.—The Laramie Boomerang says that U. P. Conductor Peck, with his brother and three friends, went up to Creston from Rawlins on Friday afternoon, on a hunt. Toward evening Peck's companions returned to the station, but he declined to accompany them, saying he would hunt a little longer. Night came, and with it the storm. The wind blew a perfect hurricane, and the snow fell in sheets. Railroad men who were on the road in that section declare that it was the worst storm they ever experienced. This morning news of Peck's disappearance was telegraphed along the road, and as he had not reached any of the stations of that locality, a party of over a hundred men left. It is almost certain that he has perished in the storm. The country thereabouts is a perfect wilderness, and as he had on very light clothing and no overcoat the searchers did not expect to find him alive.

A Visit to Wasatch.—Sisters Z. D. H. Young, E. B. Wells and Louis Wells attended the Ladies' Conference of Wasatch Stake. There were two sessions of the Relief Society, one of the Primary Associations and in the evening of the Y. L. M. L. A. All these meetings were numerously attended. President Hatch, Bishops and leading brethren being present. The sisters of Midway, Charleston, Wallburg and Centre Ward, holding meetings in each place, all very interesting. At Haber the large and commodious new co-operative store is just about completed, the goods have been put in and, altogether, both inside and outside, presents a very fine appearance.

Apply the Law.—Three of the four tramps who were connected with stealing an overcoat from M. H. Lipman's establishment were each found $50 and costs by Justice Spiers. That kind of commendable justice will go along way toward ridding the city of the tramp nuisance. Clean them out by a rigorous administration.

Large Boarding House.—On the East side of Main Street, a short distance below Third South Street, we understand that Messrs Walker Brothers are about to begin the erection of a large building of fifty rooms. It is designed for use as a private boarding house.

Death of William Knowles.—This morning Mr. William Knowles, plasterer of the Twelfth Ward, died from the effects of pneumonia. The funeral will be conducted at 11 o'clock on Thursday. The deceased suffered severely for some time before his death.

This Alarm.—This afternoon a fire started in the Eleventh Ward Schoolhouse, from a defective stove. The alarm was rung and the fire brigade with apparatus, were soon on the spot. The fire was soon extinguished and but little damage was done.

Railroad.—Some few months ago, we stated that the third rail on the D. & R. G. line running to the northern limits of this city was only the commencement of the extension of their road to Ogden. This statement at that time was contradicted, but is now affirmed to be the fact. We believe it is only a question of circumstances, when, in the near future, the Union Pacific, and Central Pacific Railroads will have the terminus of their overland roads in this city, instead of Ogden.

St. Johns and Clover.—A correspondent writes from St. Johns, Tooele County, under date of Nov. 10th:

Last Saturday evening the Saints of this and Clover Creek Wards were visited by Apostle F. M. Lyman, Bishop Edward Hunter and Wm. C. Rydalen, of Grantville. They held four meetings, two in each Ward, and the instructions that were given by these brethren were calculated to be a lasting benefit to us. The health of the people in this and Clover Wards is generally good. Our grain crops were average, but our potato crop, with the most of the people in St. Johns, was very poor, owing to the heavy frost we had in July, but we have plenty of the substantial life and some to spare.

The Liverpool Conference.—Last evening we had the pleasure of meeting Elder W. R. Jones, of the 15th Ward, who was one of the missionaries who returned with the late immigrant company. He has been away from home engaged in the ministry since September 14th, 1890, on which day he started from this city. During the entire time of his stay in England he labored in the Liverpool Conference, first as Traveling Elder, and since last April as President of that field, having succeeded Elder John Donaldson in that position. He labored devotedly, preaching at every available opportunity, and the fruits of those efforts were additions to the Church in some portions of the Conference.

Wintering Bees.—The following may prove of benefit to apiarists, of which Utah boasts a goodly number:

I had such good success in wintering my bees in clamps last winter that I shall bury at least 25 colonies the coming winter. Upon a dry sandy hill I dug a trench six feet long, two feet wide, and two feet deep. This trench I filled with straw, I then laid sticks across the trench, and upon these sticks I placed the hives. The bottom boards of the hives were removed. I then built a pen of rails, and placed the hives and the sides of the pen was about one foot. This space was filled with straw, and straw was also placed over the hives to the depth of one foot. Rails were then placed over the straw that covered the hives, and the straw was then covered with a layer of about 12 inches. No holes were left for ventilation. Thus writes W. Z. Hutchings in Gleanings in Bee Culture.

Magnificent Hotels.—That Salt Lake who visit the great National Park may know what kind of hotels they will stop at, we append the following from the Helen Herald:

The Yellowstone Hotel in the National Park is to contain 400 rooms. The ground floor will contain the office, museum, parlors, dining room, kitchen and laundry. The second and third stories will be devoted to reception and sleeping apartments. The building will be situated on a level plateau at the base of a mountain bluff, which stretches away skyward in the rear many hundreds of feet. The Mammoth hot springs, the waters of which are highly medicinal, will be utilized for heating the equally mammoth buildings, and thus are the phenomena of nature brought to serve the physical needs of man. Numerous bathing houses will be erected and supplied with the medicinal water, which has proven to contain great healing qualities. The Yellowstone Hotel is to be but one of twelve hotels in different parts of the Park, all to be built by the same company, and which, when completed, will be the most magnificent hotels in the world.

Held for Aiding a Deserter.—Last Wednesday E. Baetner of Frisco, was examined before U. S. Commissioner Watkins, at Beaver, on a charge of aiding a deserter soldier of the army to escape. The proceedings resulted in his being held in $3,000 to answer to the grand jury.

The facts which lead to the charge are thus related by the Beaver Utahian:

"It seems that on the night of Oct. 31st, Sergeant E. Feltzer, who also occupied the responsible position of guard and quartermaster. Sergeant, deserted from the military command at Fort Cameron, leaving his accounts and stores, it is said, in a most unsatisfactory condition. Immediately upon the fact of his desertion being officially reported to Colonel Osborne, telegrams were sent to every military post that the runaway might make for, on the evening of the next day a dispatch was received from Constable Beckett at Frisco to the effect that he had arrested Feltzer, and would hold him till called for. An ambulance and guard were at once sent out, arriving there early on the morning of the 2nd inst., only to find that both the prisoner and Mr. E. Baetner, in whose charge the Sgt. had been placed for the night, had disappeared. Learning that the fugitive had apparently gone in the direction of Marysville, the Lieutenant and party returned to camp where they received orders to follow up in pursuit, which they did, suddenly coming upon the two men as they were playing a game of pool in a saloon a short distance outside of Marysville. Acting on his orders, the Lieutenant arrested both men, charging the citizen with aiding a soldier to desert."
