BOSTON, 21.—In wool there is no material change; prices remain quiet and steady, and the same indifference about operating on the part of manufacturers and dealers is noticeable. There is some inquiry for fine fleeces, but the demand still runs on medium and low priced wools. At the same time holders are not pressing their fine wools on the market, and prefer to sell in small rather than in round lots at current rates. Combing and delaine fleeces remain unchanged. These wools are taken as fast as graded. The transactions of the week comprise 160,000 lbs. at 38 @ 43 for washed, and 28 @ 30 for unwashed, the bulk of the sales being at 40 @ 42. A lot of 13,000 lbs. of new and superior fall California, sold for 22. The sales of spring were 256,000 lbs. at 24 @ 40; mostly good and choice northern wool at 26 @ 30. A lot of old Fall 16 @ 16 1/2. Other sales comprise Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces, X, XX, and above at 35 @ 37. Michigan X and medium 31 @ 33 1/2. Wisconsin X, 32 @ 32 1/2. Western fleeces, 27 @ 34. Texas, 15 1/2 @ 27. Territory, 15 @ 25. Oregon, 21 @ 30; tub washed, 35 @ 37; scoured, 34 @ 64; super and X pulled, 33 @ 40. Total sales of domestic for the week, 1,200,300 lbs.

CLEVELAND, 21.—The body of Mrs. A. Higby, an old and esteemed citizen of Garrettsville, was found in the homeopathic college vat. The college officials, after the search was instituted, had the body decently dressed, cofined and sent to her friends. The faculty were arrested and bailed.

Cohen and his followers made several attempts in the afternoon to create strikes in the northern part of the city, but the police prevented any disorder. He started on a general tour with a mob of 100 negroes, and visited "Hill's Bottom," thence proceeded to Fourteenth Street, where the pavement is being laid. Cohen addressed the men and about 20 of the 100 employed joined the mob, which next proceeded to Seventh Street, the mob increasing to about 400. At Seventh and M Streets, where 50 men are laying pavement, Cohen made another speech, and several of the workers fell into line; thus enforced, the mob went off yelling and hooting vigorously.

She was the only woman in the car, and the two or three other passengers were asleep, but as they were nearing the station her cries for help aroused one of the sleepers, who shouted 'What's matter?' and her assailant fled. The agent at Ogden noted her statement, and promised to investigate the matter, but though she was positive that her assailant was a train hand, she declined to stay and have the men brought in for identification.

LONDON, 22.

The Pesther Lloyd announces that the Austrians have occupied Bjelina, 35 miles north of Wornik.

A Calcutta dispatch says: An officer of the Ameer of Afghanistan, at Alimusjid, refused to allow the British mission to Cabul to go through the Khyber Pass and crowned heights which command the pass, with his followers.

After a three hours' interview with the officer, in which he warned him that his act would be regarded as the act of the Ameer himself, Major Cavagnari, commanding the advanced escort of the mission, returned to Jamrood and the mission has withdrawn to Pesthaman.

Another special from Calcutta says: The main body of the mission to Cabul had proceeded as far as Jamrood. Its return thence was telegraphically ordered by the Viceroy. The mission will be now withdrawn.

It is fully recognized that the Ameer of Afghanistan is merely the puppet of Russia. The question will, consequently, cease to be treated from an Indian standpoint, and becomes a very serious problem of English politics. The immediate object of the Viceroy is to make it clearly understood that he has no quarrel with the Afghanistans people and to win over all the border tribes. Major Cavagnari repeatedly warned the Afghanistans officer that the Ameer would be held responsible. The officer, in the presence of two Indian princes, attached to the mission, expressed his unflinching determination to forcibly resist the passage of the mission. There is not a shadow of doubt that he is acting under full instructions from the Ameer as one of the Ameer's responsible officers, who are also believed to be in direct communication with the Russian embassy who recently arrived at Alimusjid. The Russian envoy is still residing at Cabul.

General Skobeloff has informed a correspondent that not a single Russian will remain between Constantinople and Tchorla by Wednesday next.

A Pesth dispatch says: The Bosnians are showing evident signs of a collapse.

A Vienna dispatch says: Private advices state that General Zapary has fought a serious engagement near Tiozla, which it is hoped will result in the complete expulsion of the insurgents from Northeast Bosnia.

A Paris dispatch says: M. Gambetta's speech at Rouen, as published in the Republique Francaise, is considerably toned down. It is said this was done in consequence of President MacMahon having threatened to resign.

PARIS, 22.—The Republique Francaise, in an article on the unsettled state of Europe, advises France not to enter into any engagements. It says: "The perilous times are not yet over, and still less the era of alluring offers." The article is regarded as a reply to the revived rumor that England recommends France to take possession of Tunis.

CONSTANTINOPLE, 22.—The Russian evacuation of San Stefano is completed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, 23.—Russia has proposed to the powers to make a collective demand upon the Porte for immediate surrender of the territory ceded to Montenegro by the Berlin treaty.

Owing to the scarcity of water, crops are but moderate; but another season will probably see improved facilities for irrigation, as the sum of $1,200 has already been expended on a new canal, and the people are earnest in their endeavors to benefit themselves in this respect.

Brother Geddes has received a letter from Elders May and Shreves, who are now laboring as missionaries in Australia. At the time of writing they were quite well, and were being kindly treated.
