

FIRST TRAIN MADE SCHEDULE TIME

Traveling Auditor Mitendorf Says Trip Over Western Pacific Was Successful.

ESTABLISHED FOUR AGENCIES

Amount of Business Gathered Up by Initial Trains is Surprising. Laborers Going Out.

"The trip was a complete success," said Traveling Auditor W. Mitendorf of the Western Pacific railroad on his return from accompanying the first official train over the eastern division of the Western Pacific line between Salt Lake and Shafter last evening. "The train made the trip in schedule time, and no accidents happened to mar the journey."

Mr. Mitendorf accompanied the train out of Salt Lake for the purpose of installing agents at the four points where agencies are to be maintained on the line at present, namely at Grants, Delta, Wendover, and Shafter. The first train named in Utah, while Shafter is the present western terminus of the line in Nevada, and is distant 161.8 miles from Salt Lake.

"The amount of business carried on the first westbound train was remarkable, all things considered," said Mr. Mitendorf, "and so was the business on the train returning. If the business keeps up like it starts out, there is no question but what the service will have to be increased."

The train leaving Salt Lake for Shafter this morning carried several carloads of freight, 28 passengers and 170 laborers for section work along the line of the new road.

SHIRLEY PARKER SENTENCED.

Shirley D. Parker was this morning sentenced to four months imprisonment in the Salt Lake county jail by Judge Marshall of the United States district court. Parker was accused of presenting fraudulent accounts to the government on account of conveyances hired in which to make the points along the road while acting as a special agent of the general land office in this state in July, 1907. Parker admitted that he had charged team conveyance charges for horseback rides where the latter means was the most serviceable, but had not exceeded the allowance made by the government for the purpose. He represented that he was working during the summer to make his way through the University, where he is a highly respected student. In fact, the university professor and other prominent men gave him letters attesting their high regard for his integrity; but Judge Marshall told him that the higher the responsibility imposed the more was expected of the man. The amount of the alleged fraudulent overcharge made was $11.50.

FORMALLY ACCUSED.

The technical classes combined and the woman has confessed to having been with the man on many plundering trips. The complaint was filed by Judge C. H. Diehl in the criminal division of the court.

PAINT THE TOWN RED.

The students of the state university after long experience and many trials atone their town painting to a law school. The town is painted red today by permission of Chief of Police Pitt and the business men in front of whose establishments the advertisement are pasted.

The method of advertising the Boulder game which will come off Saturday was kept a profound secret by the classes. The technical classes combined with the junior classes and were to begin the crusade against beautiful sodalities at 12 o'clock Tuesday night. It was learned that the seniors had planned the same thing for 9 o'clock of the same night. The three classes combined and the effect was apparent in the morning. On every corner in the business district and in front of many stores is an inscription concerning the football game along with the date in large red letters.

AMENDMENT LOST WORKS NO INJURY

No Danger of Assessed Valuation Passing To Hundred Million Mark.

BIG DEMANDS ON THE STATE

Revenue Will be Drawn Upon Heavily if Contemplated Legislation Passes.

The people of Utah will not suffer in the least from the failure of the state, because of the failure of one of the three amendments submitted to the people at the recent election, to attract attention of voters. This is the amendment which provides that the figures at which the tax rate is to drop in five mills should be raised from $200,000,000 to $400,000,000. The contingency against which this amendment was intended to provide was that of suffering a drop in the present insufficient revenues which would occur as soon as the assessed valuation reached $200,000,000.

But there is now considered to be no danger of the assessed valuation reaching $200,000,000 within the next two years, at which time the amendment can be resubmitted.

The total assessed valuation for 1908, is $165,000,000, and for 1907, it was $162,000,000. That leaves a mill tax on increasing valuations $35,000,000 before the drop from eight mills to five mills goes into effect. At present the schools are paying $35,000,000 in taxes for state purposes five mills. At eight mills on $165,000,000, the taxes for 1908, will be $1,320,000.

Demands being made upon the state for a sum greatly in excess of this amount, without counting in the demand for a state highway from Logan, St. George, and for a capitol building.

How the revenues would suffer by a drop from five mills to three is indicated by the fact that while at eight mills $165,000,000 would be only $1,320,000, at five mills it would be only $1,060,000. The difference of $260,000, that there is a $35,000,000 of leeway before the state slumps in this manner is sufficient guarantee that another amendment can be resubmitted before such an event takes place.

VISIT SITE OF OLD BRIDGE.

Mayor and Councilmen Inspect Jordan River With View to New Structure.

It is quite probable that not before Jordan river will there be built a bridge over the mouth of the Virgin bridge, to take the place of the Virgin bridge, recently demolished. The site was visited yesterday by Mayor Bransford and eight members of the city council and the bridge proposition was discussed in all its phases. It may perhaps be that a wooden structure will be built, rather than one of steel. The first named bridge was built by the city engineer, but the city councilmen who went with Mayor Bransford were Foster, Ray, Mayor, Reedall, Murdoch, Hodgson, Wood, Martin and O'Donnell.

The bridge was built in a most unique manner, in that a saw was scarcely used during the entire period of construction. The late President John Taylor, 1849, a member of the quorum of the apostles, superintended the making of the bridge from beginning to end. Most of the men working under his direction were Canadians, men hailing from a part of the British dominion where snow covered the ground in the winter and where lumbering was the chief occupation of the inhabitants. Experts in the use of the axe and the adze, these men had little use for the saw, and that the work done by them on White bridge was of a high order was fully recognized by the engineers who ever inspected the structure.

Most of the material that was put into the bridge came from the Butte canyon. Even the part of the work superintended by Mr. Taylor, who often spent in the mountains with the grand larceny in a complaint filed today by Assistant County Attorney Aaron Myers. The complaint covers only the goods found on Davis when arrested, namely, a silk skirt and four silk waists, of the value of $100. The technical classes combined and the woman has confessed to having been with the man on many plundering trips. The complaint was filed by Judge C. H. Diehl in the criminal division of the court.

ACTORS ENVY LION.

"Wallace, the man-eating-lion" which for some months past has been performing behind the footlights with the recently stranded "Pride of New York" company, has fallen in a peculiar birth, at least pleasant for a stranded lion. Wallace eats enough beef every night in a local saloon where he is on exhibition to feed the entire troupe for a week. This king of beasts has now descended from a prominent downtown bar-room, where the crowd congregates every night at 11 o'clock to watch the fine animal devour 15 pounds of beef.

SCENE OF MURDER VISITED BY JURY

Witnesses Unable to Give Court, Attorneys and Jurymen Lay of Ground.

FEUDS HAVE NOT BEEN TOLD

Anticipated Stories of Religious Controversies Have Not Been Brought Out in Trial.

The jury that is hearing the Marovich murder case is at Bingham today, inspecting the grounds and surroundings where the killing of Mike Popovitch took place. It was almost a matter of impossibility for the jury to understand the lay of the land from the testimony given from the witness stand, and the attorneys who had investigated the situation as far as practicable were at sea regarding the exact surroundings of the scene of the killing. The state concluded its side of the case yesterday afternoon, after the testimony of Deputy Sheriff Jack Forbes, who had been directed to go to what he knew of the relations of the two men before the shooting. At one time he had warned Popovitch that if he did not leave the grounds he would do him harm. This was done at the request of the Greek Catholic priest, Melich, who was the other partner, that Melich is a Greek Catholic, Marovich, a Roman Catholic.

It has been expected all along that when the case came to trial the much disputed feud between the Greek Catholics and the Roman Catholics would form a considerable part of the proceedings. But up to date religious has scarcely been discussed. An attempt was made by the defense to go into the religious phases of the case, but the court refused to allow it, stating that the state had not gone into the religious differences said to have existed between the dead man and the man who shot him, and that the defense will take advantage of the religious controversy when its turn comes to cross-examine the witnesses.

The jury was accompanied to Bingham by Dist. Atty. Lofsbrough and P. J. Daly, the latter being associated with the state. The jury was also accompanied by Charles Jennings, charged with failure to provide for children.

COMPLAINT IS ISSUED.

Charles Jennings is charged with failure to provide for children.

WALL WANTS DAMAGES.

HEBER CITY NEW OF ONE AMENDMENT

Comment In Wasatch County Over Its Apparent Defeat in Salt Lake Percinct.

RIGHT TO FIX BOUNDARIES

If Amendment Succeeds a New County Will be Created in the Former Reservation Country.

(Special to the "News.") Heber City, Nov. 11.—The news from Salt Lake received here this morning to the effect that Salt Lake county's vote, so far as recorded in the canvass, was against the three proposed constitutional amendments was generally discussed for the reason that one of these amendments intimately concerns itself with a Wasatch county problem—that of creating a new county to which Wasatch county would give part of her present territory.

The problem has been developing ever since the opening of the Uinta reservation brought new population into a country remote from the county seat. While the discussion was general it was far from unanimously denunciatory of the result in Salt Lake county, many people expressing themselves to the effect that a more satisfactory form of amendment can be devised, fitting local conditions better, and still preserving the rights to the people that the amendment contemplated giving to the legislature.

BUSINESS MEN TALK.

A canvass of leading business men of Heber City made this morning, brought out the following opinions on the drift of the voting in Salt Lake county and its possible effect on the final fate of the amendment.

JOS. R. MURDOCK, president Heber City bank, "I am sorry to learn of the adverse vote to this particular amendment. I think it safe to leave the matter to the people, as any community with a majority of the votes, could then shift the boundaries to fit its particular needs, as in its own interests. I was for the amendment."

WILLIAM S. WILLES, county attorney-elect, "It was in our interests to create a new county, and I think the best way to bring the matter about in this case, as it proposed to open the way for much more justifying in the interests of political parties and machines. Any political party, under the

His principal rival, Bryan, secured 2,869 votes.

THE VOTE IN TOOELE.

Official Canvass Shows Substantial Republican Pluralities.

Special Correspondence. Tooele, Nov. 11.—The official canvass of the election returns for Tooele county was made public today and shows a majority for Republican nominees with one exception, Frank W. Frailley (R.), county clerk, lost to Alfred Green (D.). Following is the proposed amendment, could "shoe-string" any county it might wish to. ATTY. A. C. HATCH.—"The legislature under the amendment could run a county line through the county seat, if it wished to splitting the town in two. I opposed it, although I wished to see a new county created in our case, I would have favored the amendment had it left the initiative with the people through legislative petition. EDITOR WILLIAM BUYS: "I opposed the amendment because it placed absolute power with the legislature, taking away all local rights to settle such matters. The question should finally be settled through some means which saves to the people the right of local suffrage in such cases." J. C. Jensen, cashier Heber City bank: "I was for the amendment, but I don't think our own people will ever get together on the matter of the county boundary, and it would be safer to leave it to the legislature, trusting to the wisdom and fairness of that body." Others who said they favored the amendment were J. C. Jensen, J. Clyde, Councilman David Fisher and J. H. Roberts, a former member of the council.

ANOTHER ROBBERY

Home of Mrs. Irene Morris Entered And $300 Worth of Jewelry Stolen by Bold Thief.

About two weeks ago, while Mrs. Irene Morris of 35 Canyon road was down town shopping, a thief entered the Morris residence and made off with $350 and a revolver. The robber missed a quantity of valuable jewelry. Yesterday afternoon he returned for the jewelry and got it. He also escaped and no trace of the fellow has been found.

There was some one in the house all day until about 5 o'clock when it was left unoccupied, but locked, for about half an hour. During that time the thief gained entrance by means of a skeleton key, ran across a room and made off with a pair of diamond earrings valued at $200 and a pearl, ruby and diamond pin worth $100, the property of Mrs. M. A. Sears who resides at the Morris home. The robber also took some small change.

When Mrs. Morris returned home about 5:30 she found the skeleton key in the door. She hastened to call the police and detectives made an investigation. They discovered that a robbery had been committed and that the thief had left the key.
