Recount of Ballots Shows Up Carelessness of Election Judges -News Briefs.

Ogden, Feb. 15 .- More rapid work was accomplished yesterday in the counting f the ballots in the judgeship contest, but the tediousness of the work has had a dampening effect on the spectators, as only a few attend the counting each day. The only special feature that developed yesterday was the refusal of toth sides to count the ballots of Ogden district No. 3. When the package was placed in the hands of the court, Fiftieth Wedding Day of Mr. and Mrs. he found no seal on it, and it was tearned that Mr. Shields, who brought h to the county clerk's office the next day after election, brought it in that endition. The contestee especially opresed the counting of these ballots, as read the counting of these ballots, as the original count gave Judge Rolapp a majority of 63 in that district. The challenging of votes from both sides in-reased yesterday, the total being 444. The following tabulated list shows the work accomplished during the past four cays in the recount. The result would be practically the same for both candi-dates were it not for the many chal-kness, which the court will consider sparately after the entire count is completed. It is conceded that at least concision of the challenges will stand. Judge Rolapp's attorneys have chal-ienge 42 more Howell ballots than have Howell's challenged Rolapp's. shown by their "banquet hall of Joy in a castle of sorrow," and promised the legislators that for every effort they made to cast one ray of hope across the path of the unfortunate inmates the people of the state would thank them and "God will not deny to you His approving smile." Atty, W. E. Rydalch spoke of early conditions in the state and its growth, paying tribute to the pioneers and urged the young men, their successors, to build upon the strong foundation they had laid, and be loyal to the prog-ress of the state, especially applying his ress of the state, especially applying his remarks to the question under con-sideration, the mental hospital,

GOVERNOR PLEDGES SUPPORT.

Gov. Cutler pledged his hearty sup-port to the institution, within such bounds as the resources of the state prescribed. He was of the opinion that the revenues of the state would not permit of the erection of another cot-tage at this time, but suggested that a wing could be added to one of the buildings, and additional room could thus be provided at comparatively thus be provided at comparatively small expense. Representative Petersen, chairman of the State Mental hospital committee, made an earnest promise to do all he could in the interest of the institution. Representative Austin regretted that the revenues of the state were not commensurate with the demands, and intimated that for this reason the re-quests of the hospital could not all be met, but promised his support in doing all that was possible. A mail route has just opened between here and Sage station, on the Oregon Short Line, about 18 miles, leaving here at 7 a. m., arrives at Sage at 10 a. m., leaves Sage at 1 p. m., arrives at Randolph at 6:30 p. m., seven times a week. Donald McKinnon has the con-tract and will run the business himsolf. This greatly improves the mail service. HARD ON THE SENATE.

Representative Tolton stated that

Representative Tolton stated that there had been some apprehension in Salt Lake that the legislators, when they visited Provo would not be per-mitted to return, and for that reason the members of the senate had, wisely, decided to remain away. He promised his aupport to measures for the relief of the hospital. Chairman irvine of the Provo Com-mercial club, urred that it thus was necessity for cutting down appropria-tions for other institutions, and he believed the men at the head of those institutions would be willing to have this appropriation deminished, if they understood the needs of the hospital. Dr. F. W. Taylor, city physician of Provo, spoke of the excellent sanitary condition of the institution, and of the importance of proper treatment of those orthoge would be the sellents.

Special Correspondence. Pocatello, Idaho, Feb. 16.-The first quadrennial election of officers of the Pocatello ward Relief Society occurred today, and a new set of directors were lected as follows: Mrs. Mary J. Hawk-ley, president, Mrs. Mary W. Hunts-man and Mrs. Mary M. Hawkes coun-selors, Mrs. Mary Ann Traynor, secre-tary and Miss Martha M. Scaddon, treasurer. condition of the institution, and of the importance of proper treatment of those afflicted with mental aliments. City Attorney Jocob Evans referred to the necessity for maintaining the hos-pital, not only for the good of the af-flicted, but for the safety of others, and maintained that if there was a necessity for cutting down appropriations other institutions must give way. He hoped that when it came to a vote on the hospital appropriation the same method would be used as in voting on the time when the legislators should return. (Representative Edward, before the speechmaking began, called a vote on that question on a motion to make the time 4:30, and only called for the af-firmative vote.)

WILSON DISSENTS.

Representative Wilson differed from other alienists in this, that he was of the opinion that the patients did not ap-preciate their beautiful surroundings. He felt, therefore, that in justice to the taxpayers, who, many of them, did not have the convenience that were provid-ed for the patients, that if good, whole-some food, clean clothing and com-fortable quarters were provided for the removed. 10 children and 4 members died, 2 Elders on missions, 16 persons married, total number of souls 018, members without certificates, 72.
