DESERET EVENING NEWS: TUESDAY, MAY 30, 1905.

This. AMUSEMENTS. The B. Y. U. Opera company of Pro-vo made its first appearance at the Salt Lake Theater last night, and as-tonished the natives. It is not saying too much to state that Professor Lund's MAY 30th chorus has not been approached in the volume of sound it sends forth, in vigor volume of sound it sends forth, in viger and attack, and in general breeziness, by any amateur chorus the Theater boards have heard in recent years. When both the chorus and the en-larged orchestra, under Professor Lund's magnetic influence, with the big volces of the principals added, were beard in ensemble, the effect was quilt big volces of the principals added, were heard in ensemble, the effect was quite clectrifying, and some of the finales, not only had to be repeated, but the curtain was raised again and again. The applause started after the excel-lent rendition of the overture by the orchestra, and Professor Lund was found to two wound is his place and forced to turn round in his place and how his acknowledgements. Several hits were made among the principals. First comes Alfred Best, the only Sait Laker listed in the company. He has made wonderful progress in his upper notes, and his ringing tenor told upper notes, and his ringing tener told beautifully throughout the evening, especially in his solo and in his duct with the seprano. Miss Hazel Taylor, the leading lady, in spike of a threat trouble which was so severe as to keep her in the hands of the doctor all day, thoroughly charmed the audience by her bird-like bigh some and one and her bird-like, high soprano voice and her charming appearance, and she fully shared the bonors with Mr. Best. An-other hit was made by Miss Boren, the other hit was made by Miss Boren, the second soprano, whose cute action and sweet voice made her a favorite from the start. Miss Jepperson has good comedy talents and is also an excellent singer. Mr. Paxman in the role of the second Student has a good pres-ence and a sweet voice, but a tendency to sing off the key. The duet between him and Miss Foren, when they got to the union point, was one of the genus the unison point, was one of the gems of the evening. Mr. McAilister worked hard in a rather hopeless comedy part. TEACHERS' and the other roles were capably sus-tained by Mr. Filisted, Mr. Alired, Mr. McAilister, Mr. Lloyd, Mr. Driggs, Mr. Wootten, Mr. Fletcher, Mr. Murdock, Misr Newell, Miss Salmon and Mr. The action was quick throughout and the stage work showed the hand of a good director. The dialogue, especially the comic dialogue, might be cut down to advantage, and two or three of the amination chorusters wearing costumes hardly of this or any other period, might be kept in the background. The final per-formance will be given this afternoon and this evening, and ought to draw an immense house. They would do so beyond a question, were the season not so far advanced and were there not so many attractions already arranged for EXCURSION TO the holiday the holiday. At the conclusion of last night's per-formance, Professor Lund was show-cred with compliments by Salt Lake musicians who visited him upon the . . . Frank L. Perley, manager of Mar-garet Anglin, who is passing through sait Lake on his return to the east, occupied a stall at the opera last night, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Milando Pratt and their daughter.
