

LEGAL LIGHTS HAVE HOT WORDS.

Judge King and Attorneys Frye
And Braffett Exchange Compliments at Scofield.

ATTEMPT TO RELEASE EDLER.

At Times it Looked as Though the Throne of Justice Would Become A Pugilistic Arena.

There was a war of words, "burning, bitter and deep" Wednesday evening before Justices Kirkendall and Burrows at Scofield, over the criminal libel case of A. B. Edler, attorney for the striking miners. Judge King, counsel for Edler, asked for his client's discharge on the ground that Justice Kirkendall had no jurisdiction, in that the scene of action lay out of his immediate precinct. The motion was denied, but a change of venue was allowed, and the case was transferred to Justice Burrows' court. Then there was a time between Judge King on the one hand and Attorneys Frye and Braffett on the other. There were four hours of entirely impromptu and forcible discussion, in which the learned limbs of the law exchanged compliments of a highly unethical character, and at times it seemed as though the throne of justice was about to be turned into a pugilistic arena. Edler was unable to furnish the $2,000 bond asked for at first, but the stony judicial heart melted to the extent of $500. Judge King opened the sluice gate of his pent-up feelings, and expressed himself without reserve on the anomalous situation. He declared:

OUTRAGEOUS, SAYS KING.

"I have practised before many courts but I have never seen a place where the desire to railroad a man through to jail was so manifest. It is outrageous, and there is not another place where an attorney for a corporation is supreme in the court. I must consult you and get your permission before anything can be done."

NOT MUCH, SAYS BRAFFETT.

"The man under arrest is a prisoner and a criminal according to the charges which have been preferred and is entitled to no more consideration than any other," retorted Mr. Braffett. "I am assisting the county attorney. He being a lawyer does not alter the conditions. We insist on the law taking its course and nothing more."

Braffett then stated that Edler had stipulated to have the hearing at 2 o'clock. Edler arose to say "that is not true." "You make a few statements like that and there will be real trouble here." "I appeal to your honor to prevent the intimidation of my client," said Judge King.

LOOKED LIKE SPARRING MATCH.

Then there was imminent danger of a sparring match between the two legal lights, without the usual four ounces gloves, but the storm was averted. General Cannon was present and occupied an orchestra chair. He wanted to throw a few bouquets, but there is no hot house at Scofield, and no flowers were available. The grave and reverend justice chewed reflectively on a cedar post as a tooth pick, and finally agreed to further hear the case this morning at 10 o'clock. It was on the program, in case he should be released, to have Edler arrested again on charge of disturbing the peace, and to have him learn by experience that there "is no rest for the wicked," or words to that effect.

After furnishing the $1,500 bonds, Mr. Edler snuffed the free air once more, and spent last night at the local Waldorf-Astoria, revolving many things in his mind.

STOPPED AT COLTON.

The agitators who were threatened with agitation by the company's guards if they attempted to darken counsel by words without knowledge again within the local corporate limits, modestly refrained from doing so. The local militia by their presence, and stopped at Colton, where they enjoyed a love feast with Judge King. Interesting developments are expected.

QUIET AT SUNNYSIDE.

Closing of Saloons Regarded as A Good Thing.

According to reports from Sunnyside, the great disturbance there is that there is nothing to disturb, and on the quietness that obtains in that camp might be built up an ideal summer idyl. The number of local miners at work is increasing daily, the strikers loaf around with their hands in their (cow) pockets, the voice of the coal crusher, like that of the turtle dove, is heard in the land, the military beads continue to grow and become great, and "the sweet harpings of peace" hovers over the land in a monotonous psalm.

However, company officials rather expect this beautiful condition of things will be rudely disturbed when the evictions begin, and while the strikers solemnly aver their utter aversion to harming even a militiaman under any and all circumstances, the soldiers close the left eye very tightly and assume a peculiarly knowing look when told of this declaration of peace. The local coke ovens are running very nearly to their full capacity, and 18 to 20 cars of coke are being sent out daily. The strikers agree with the county commissioners that the closing of the saloons during the union business would be a good thing, and the local union has adopted the following resolution:

Whereas, The county commissioners of Carbon county, Utah, have lately after the declaration of a strike by the employees of the Utah Fuel company at Sunnyside, Utah, requested that all saloons in the camp be closed pending the settlement of the strike; and

Whereas, Such action by the commissioners is one worthy of the commendation of all law-abiding citizens, and is heartily endorsed by the striking workers; therefore, be it

Resolved, By Sunnyside local union of the United Mine Workers of America, that the county commissioners be requested to maintain the present conditions of closed saloons until the troubles between the Utah Fuel company and the striking employees are finally adjusted.

There is little drunkenness in consequence. The strikers claim that if put off the company's lands they will live in tents in the vicinity, for a year if necessary, at the expense of the order of Mine Workers, and the strikers cannot be convinced but that the company will have to give in to the union in the end.

STRIKERS DENOUNCED.

Town Council of Castle Dale Passes Wholesome Resolution.

The town council of Castle Dale has passed the following resolutions on the coal strike situation:

We are opposed to all unions or combinations of either capital or labor that have for their object the raising of prices to the consumer, the shutting down of business, the closing of mines or factories, or the retarding of the wheels of commerce, state or interstate.

We deplore the coal strikes at Sunnyside, Castle Gate, Winter Quarters and Clear Creek, and believe that said strikes were ill-timed, ill-advised, unjust and disastrous in their consequences. We believe that said strikes will entail untold hardships on the consumers of coal, particularly the poor, close mines, shut down smelters, throw many thousands out of employment and cause suffering to innocent people throughout the length and breadth of our state. We also believe that the strike will work a hardship to the miners themselves and their families and cause a general stagnation in all lines of business, more particularly so in Emery and Carbon counties.

Resolved, That the foregoing statement be spread on the records of the council as expressive of our views on the premises.

Orange Seely, President; R. C. Miller, H. P. Ottosen, Seth Allen, Soren Hansen, trustees; John Peterson, town clerk; Neils B. Adler, town marshal.

DRIVEWAYS FOR SHEEP.

Supervisor of Manti Forest Reserve Receives Instructions from Washington.

A. W. Jensen, supervisor of the Manti forest reserve, has received official notice from the department of the interior that driveways for sheep are now established as follows:

Driveway on North Creek ridge: The sheep driven over the North Creek driveway will cross the Manti reserve line in township 14 south, range 5 east, Salt Lake meridian, section line between section 27, and 28, in said township, and thence easterly through the center of section 28, and 29, in said township.

The time for crossing the reserve lands on the above driveway with sheep should be one-half a day.

Driveway on Crystal creek: The old Indian trail between Bill Alfred's canyon and Pigeon creek "canyon" and entering the Manti reserve on section lines between section 23 and 24, in township 16 south, range 4 east, Salt Lake meridian, thence easterly through south one-half of section 34, the southwest quarter of section 35, thence across township line between township 16 south, and township 17 south about 45 degrees east through section 2 in township 17, range 4 east.

The time allowed for any herd to cross the reserve lands in district five and along the driveway aforesaid should not exceed one day.

Driveway on Willow Creek ridge, (known as Serviceberry ridge) between Manti and Six Mile canyon, through Serviceberry gulch and section 29, and crossing the Manti reserve line on the section line between section 29 and 28 in township 18 south, range 3 east, Salt Lake meridian and about the quarter section corner on said section and thence easterly through the reserve lands through the center of section 28, 29, 30 and 31, thence across the range line between ranges 3 and 4 east and into township 18 south, range 4 east and passing through the south-west quarter of section 30, the north-east quarter of section 32 in township 18 south, range 4 east.

The time allowed to any herd to cross the reserve lands and along the above described driveway should not exceed one and one-half day.

The department hereafter will not allow any advance cutting on timber except in extraordinary cases, such as floods, fires, etc., which might be a destruction to life and property.

THERE IS ONE RATIONAL WAY to treat nasal catarrh: the medicine is applied direct to the affected membrane. The remedy is Ely's Cream Balm. It restores the inflamed tissues to a healthy state without drying out the life out of them and it gives back the lost sense of taste and smell. The sufferer who is tired of vain experiments should use Cream Balm. Drug-gists sell it for 50 cts. Ely Brothers, 54 Warren Street, New York, will mail it.

A BAD GIRL.

Father Complains of His Daughter's Incurability.

A shocking case was called to the attention of the police last evening when Charles O. Nelson of 326 Steffensen avenue called at the station with his 15-year-old daughter Carrie, and complained that he could do nothing with the girl; that she had been running out at night and that recently she had stolen $25 from him and had given the money to a soldier with whom she has been keeping company.

The girl does not look to be over 12 years of age and is very small for her age, but despite that fact she admitted to the police that she was in a delicate condition and that the soldier was responsible for her downfall.

Officers went out in search of the soldier and soon located him and placed him under arrest. He gave the name of John Wolf, but refused to give any further information about himself. He neither affirmed or denied the charge against him, so the police say, but he is being held pending an investigation of the case. Just what will be done in the matter cannot be stated at present.

Coughs, Colds and Constipation.

Few people realize when taking cough medicines other than Foley's Honey and Tar, that they contain opiates which are constipating besides being unsafe, particularly for children. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates, is safe and sure and will not constipate. Sold by Johnson-Pratt Drug Co.

NIPPER WINS.

Dr. Keen Loses Her Suit Against Salt Lake Butcher.

It took the jury in the Keen-Nipper case just 45 minutes to decide upon a verdict, and that verdict was for the defendant, meaning that Dr. Keen was not entitled to $19,000 or any other part of defendant's money. The case went to the jury at 4:35 yesterday afternoon and at 5 o'clock they filed back into the court room and returned their verdict, the decision being reached on the first ballot.

When Judge Powers had concluded his argument yesterday afternoon Atty. Frank McDonough made the final argument for the plaintiff. He referred to Judge Powers' effort as verbal pyrotechnics that didn't count and then went on to say that the defendant had deliberately lied, when the court suggested that he use some milder term. Counsel contended that the letters introduced gave no evidence of forgery, and that no carbon tracings could be discovered on the envelope. He paid his respects to Mr. Nipper by referring to him as "a man flabby in character, a man who is not a man, a brute," etc. The attorney concluded at 4 o'clock after which Judge Marshall charged the jury.

Eczema, scald head, hives, itchiness of any sort instantly relieved, permanently cured. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store.

HOUSE COATS.

"Tailored-by-hand" isn't commonly thought of in connection with ready-to-wear clothes; you expect to pay extra for it.

You needn't. Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes are "Tailored-by-hand" as much as the custom tailors' product; and better done than the most of 'em. It's one thing that makes these clothes "ready-to-wear," instead of just "ready-made." We sell H. S. & M. clothes and guarantee everything we sell to give satisfaction.

Mr. A. G. Glaucque, president of the Board of Education, Salt Lake City, writes:

Every family should have an encyclopaedia. A good one is invaluable.

I own and have used for years the Encyclopaedia Britannica. After examining the New Americanized Encyclopaedia Britannica, I am convinced that it is much more valuable to the average American family than the Encyclopaedia Britannica, because it is more concise yet more complete, covering more topics. It is more and American. I know of no more valuable work.

On July 18th, Chas W. Penrose, editor of the Deseret News, wrote the publishers as follows:

The Encyclopaedia Britannica has long been known as the great work of reference in both hemispheres. Its excellence has been universally recognized. The old English editions, however, have had to be supplemented by editions that were absolutely necessary to bring the work up to date. The Riverside Publishing Company of Chicago have issued in fifteen volumes a New Americanized Encyclopaedia Britannica which is gaining great favor because of its modernized features. The information it contains on subjects of the utmost importance is invaluable. Corrections have been made, new matter has been added, the maps, cuts, portraits and other illustrations with which the volumes abound are modern and well executed, and the great work has been so reconstructed as to render it suitable for every library. It is bound in different styles to suit the pockets of purchasers, and is hereby recommended to all who need to consult a reliable work of reference.

From the President of the University of Chicago.

I can think of no more valuable work for a library. No man can afford to be without it.

WILLIAM R. HARPER,
President of the University of Chicago.

From the Professor of Mathematics, Beaver College, Pa.

I have examined the New Americanized Encyclopaedia Britannica which I have lately received from you, and can say for a student up-to-date encyclopaedia, at a moderate cost, I have never seen its equal.

E. D. WEST.

From a Prominent Railroad Official.

After a careful examination of the New Americanized Encyclopaedia Britannica I desire to say that in my opinion it is superior to any encyclopaedia with which I am acquainted for convenience of reference, compactness of statement, range of topics and unquestioned authority.

H. S. BRYAN,
Master Mechanic, The Duluth & Iron Range Railroad.

Ex-President Timothy Dwight said, "The Encyclopaedia Britannica is equal to a library of three thousand volumes selected at random as a working library."

The great preacher orator Spurgeon said, "If all the books in the world were destroyed the Bible and the Britannica alone excepted, the world would have lost little of its knowledge."

Senator Chauncey Depew said, "I look with great favor on and attach considerable importance to encyclopaedias, as may be judged from the fact that I not only paid $250.00 for my first set, but have bought several others since then. I have always advised young men who could afford to buy a library to get an encyclopaedia, which is a library in itself. The enterprise of the publishers in placing this grand work within the reach of even those of small means is highly commendable."

Ex-Secretary Lyman J. Gage said, "The movement inaugurated to supply the people with the New Americanized Encyclopaedia Britannica, is a marked indication of an advance in the intellectual taste of the community. It ought to be in every library, however humble."
