

SELECTING JURORS TO TRY HAYWOOD

Panel is Exhausted. Not One Accepted. Special Venire for Hundred Men Issued.

COURT ADJOURNS TO MONDAY.

Jury May be Secured by End of Next Week—Counsel Will be Given Wide Latitude in Examinations.

Boise, Ida., May 9.—William D. Haywood, first of the alleged participants in the avenging conspiracy by which it is averred the assassination of Frank Steiengberg was plotted and executed, was placed upon trial for his life today. Counsel for state and prisoner entered at once, in business-like way, upon the examination of prospective jurors, and kept steadily at the task for five hours. No juror was finally accepted, but substantial progress was made, and the indications at the close of the session were that a jury would be obtained by the end of next week.

The opening day of the trial went through to its conclusion in quiet harmony, unmarked by unusual incident. It was earnest and business-like. Its striking feature was the entire absence of crowds or demonstration in any form. At no time, morning or afternoon, was the courtroom more than half filled, and the streets forming the courthouse square contained not a single loiterer.

The case was halted shortly before 5 o'clock by the exhaustion of the jury panel, and an adjournment was taken until Monday morning. Meantime, the sheriff will summon a special venire of 100 men. The 11 men under examination, but not yet finally accepted or rejected, were locked up and will be closely guarded.

Haywood was brought to the courtroom sharp at 10 o'clock in the morning. He found his family in a line of chairs to the right of his seat, and in front were all of his counsel. He devoted more attention to his youngest daughter than to any one else, and throughout the day took practically no part in the selection of jurors. Many men in similar jeopardy, as a rule, make close study of their prospective jurors, and frequently express their personal preferences, but Haywood seems content to leave the matter entirely in the hands of his lawyers. Haywood gave no sign of any feeling of emotion, but sat quietly throughout the day. Mrs. Haywood and the older daughter stood the ordeal of appearance in court very well, but the younger child cried after the examination of the jury. Mrs. Haywood and her children did not attend the afternoon session.

The questioning of the defense took a much wider range than that of the state, and its most striking feature dealt with the personal effect upon the minds and attitudes of jurors of the letter of President Roosevelt in calling Haywood and his associates "undesirable citizens," the speeches in Idaho of Secy. Taft, the message of Gov. Gooding to the legislature of Idaho, the speech in Boise of Senator Heyburn, and the action of the Idaho legislature in passing a resolution and appropriating money for the prosecution of the three prisoners.

Mr. Richardson, who conducted the examination of the talesmen, was also particular to ascertain their attitude toward Socialists and members of labor organizations and whether they could give them a fair trial. He was also anxious to know if they had any professional, personal, fraternal, religious or political affiliations with any of the counsel for the state, any connection with detective agencies, any experience in the pursuit or prosecution of criminals, or were members of the Mine Owners' association. Richardson also asked if they had contributed to any fund for the prosecution of the prisoners, if they were members of the Citizens' alliance, if they remembered the old labor troubles in Idaho, and if they had taken sides in the labor troubles at any time. A remarkable feature of this examination was that all of the talesmen questioned by the defense swore that they had not been influenced by the letter of President Roosevelt or the speeches of other officials of the national or state governments, and a majority of them said they were Democrats.

The chief concern of the counsel for the state in the examination of talesmen, as indicated by their questions, was their attitude toward circumstantial evidence, the absence of the accused from the state when the crime was committed, the effect of the manner in which the prisoner and his companions were brought from Colorado, views of the talesmen as to the death penalty for murder in the first degree imposed upon labor. They also asked each talesman as to his acquaintance with the murdered governor, with a view to disclosing friendship or enmity. Their examination brought out the fact that certain labor and Socialistic papers are being distributed free of charge in parts of Ada county.

The custom of the Idaho courts in selecting juries for criminal cases is to call 12 talesmen to the jury box and to keep the box full by immediately filling any vacancies that occur. The state first conducts a complete examination, that continues until 12 men have been passed, when the body of talesmen pass to the defense for examination. The state then calls 12 men early this afternoon and the general examination is in the hands of the defense. Of the 11 men remaining in the box at the close of today's session, only three have been passed by both sides. They have not been finally accepted and sworn, and are still subject to peremptory challenges.

They are A. L. Ewing, a carpenter and veteran of the civil war, William Van Ordeale, a grocer of Boise, and Samuel D. Gilman, a farmer, who lives in the country, 10 miles from Boise. Gilman served in the Philippines with the Idaho volunteers. Under the law as recently amended, each side has 10 peremptory challenges.

Judge Wood announced that he intended to give both sides a wide latitude in the examination of talesmen. He also showed a willingness to grant challenges where there seemed any reasonable objection to the attitude of the talesman, and in the one contest of the day he ruled with the defense, which had challenged the talesman, and was resisted by the state.

When Judge Wood directed the calling of another talesman to replace Mr. Butts, the clerk of the court announced that the panel had been exhausted. The defense had passed but three men without challenge for cause up to this time and neither side had exercised any one of the 10 peremptory challenges allowed state and defense. No juror had been finally sworn in for service. There was a consultation of opposing counsel with Judge Wood as to the number of men to be called on the new panel.

When Judge Wood again took the bench he announced that a special venire of 100 men would be summoned by the sheriff for jury duty. An adjournment then was ordered until Monday morning. The 11 men in the jury box awaiting disposition were ordered locked up by Judge Wood.

PRESTON FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

Was Indicted for Murdering Silva. The Independent Restaurant Keeper, in Goldfield.

JURY RECOMMENDED MERCY.

Smith, His Pal, Was Convicted of Voluntary Manslaughter—Conspiracy Case of St. John et al Went Over.

Goldfield, Nev., May 9.—The jury in the case of the people against Preston and Smith for the murder of Silva, growing out of labor troubles, reached a verdict late tonight. Preston was found guilty of murder in the second degree, which carries a penalty of from 10 years to life. Smith was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter, with the penalty from one to 10 years.

The conspiracy case of St. John and other members of the I. W. W. went over under a motion to quash the indictments, but the findings of the jury against Smith, who was charged as an accessory, presages an opinion from the court against the so-called conspirators. The jury in the matter of Preston recommended mercy. Sentence will be imposed Monday.

EMMETT'S STORY OF TUBE SWINDLE CORROBORATED.

Pittsburg, May 9.—Today's witnesses in the trial of J. Jay Dunn and Charles I. Close, charged with furnishing deceptive boiler tubes for warships, were employees of the Shelby Steel Tube company.

Elmer S. Mason corroborated the testimony of Frank Emmett, who turned state's evidence, relative to the opening of the desk of the government inspector, where was kept the stamp. He said that he had frequently seen Emmett going through the mail yards, stamping tubes that the inspectors had never seen.

Perry M. Thompson swore that when the exposure was first made Close and an attorney called him into the office, told him he would probably be called as a witness, but he should not give the government attorneys the impression that anything had been done secretly at the plant.

R. Burnett, who operated the hydraulic testing machine, said he examined the gage when the tubes were tested and that about half the tubes were given no pressure at all.

Emmett knew the pressure was weak, he said, and offered him money to get the tubes through the machines.

ERUPTION OF STROMBOLI CAUSES APPREHENSION.

Messina, Sicily, May 9.—The eruption of Mount Stromboli was more violent today, and the apprehension is growing.

The violence of the present disturbance is declared to be without precedent, even the oldest inhabitant of the Lipari islands not remembering such a threatening condition. Almost all the people of Stromboli island have made their escape. Ashes from the volcano have destroyed everything on the island.

The detonations are heard at all the other islands of the group, with remarkable distinctness and produce an effect of terrific roaring. Fears are held that the entire island of Stromboli may be engulfed.

At the same time the activity of Mount Etna, on the eastern coast of Sicily, has increased. The column of smoke rolling out of the crater serves to reflect the fire within, and the clouds can be seen from Catania and even from the straits of Messina.

The people living in the vicinity of Mount Etna are panic-stricken. They are flocking to the churches to pray for intercession and protection.

Princeton, N. J., May 9.—John Grier Hibben, in a communication from the Princeton alumni committee of 50, announces the gift of $1,200,000 to Princeton university. The money was donated by a private family, whose name is not made public.

DOUGLAS PLEADS GUILTY.

New York, May 9.—W. D. Douglas, the former loan clerk of the Trust company of America, pleaded guilty in court today to the larceny from the trust company of a certificate of the Rock Island Railroad company, valued at $112,000. He was remanded to the Tombs prison to await sentence. It was reported he will be used as a witness against O. M. Duquet, the broker who is under arrest, charged with complicity in the theft.

PENNSYLVANIA CAPITOL.

Further Light on the Story of Graft and Swindle.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 9.—S. Mayshall Williams, of Pittsburgh, today resigned as secretary of the Pennsylvania board of trade. Williams testified before the capital investigation commission two weeks ago that he borrowed $10,000 from a "national official" during the last editorial campaign in Pennsylvania after he had made threats to expose how he was cheated out of the $2,000,000 contract for the lighting fixtures of the new capitol. He admitted borrowing the money on an undorsed note when he was insolvent, and refused to deny that it had been given to him by Congressman H. Burd Cassel, of Marietta, Pa., president of the Pennsylvania Construction company, which supplied $2,000,000 worth of metallic furniture for the capitol.

PUGILIST PALMER.

When He Heard Verdict of Guilty of Murder, Fell Down in a Faint.

London, May 9.—A verdict of murder was returned in the Croydon police court today against Pedlar Palmer, the English pugilist, who killed Robert Choate April 24, by beating him while they were returning from the races in a railroad car.

When Palmer heard the decision he shrieked and fell down in a faint in the dock. His wife and sister were present in court and also created a scene. They were borne screaming from the room. After the testimony had been taken the prisoner was formally committed for trial.

YUKON EXPOSITION.

President Can't Break Ground for it But Wishes It Success.

Washington, May 9.—The president was asked today by Commissioner Ballinger of the general land office, on behalf of the officers of the Yukon-Seattle exposition to be present and break ground for the exposition buildings on June 1. The exposition officials in a despatch to Mr. Ballinger suggested that if the president could not come, that he send Secy. Taft as his representative. Neither the president nor Mr. Taft will be able to go, but a telegram expressing the best wishes of the chief executive will be read at the ceremonies.

DR. BILLINGS PRESIDENT.

Washington, May 9.—The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis has elected the following officers:

President, Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago; vice president, Dr. M. P. Ravenel of Philadelphia and Dr. J. C. Foster of New Haven; secretary, Dr. Henry Barron Davis; treasurer, Gen. George M. Sternberg.

Many of the delegates left today for Norfolk to visit the Jamestown exposition.

QUARANTINE AGAINST SHEEP.

Salem, Or., May 9.—After mature consideration Gov. Chamberlain this afternoon issued a proclamation declaring quarantine against the sheep of the states of Washington, Nevada and California, based upon the sworn statement of State Sheep Inspector Lytle, and the statements of the United States sheep inspectors that the sheep from those states are infected with scab and fixed a penalty of a fine from $25 to $1,000 for the violation of the proclamation.

The quarantine proclamation is particularly effective against the sheep of southeastern Washington, and was vigorously protested against by the Wenaha Woolgrowers' association of Washington, on the ground that their flocks were free from disease and that it is a discriminatory move to exclude the Washington sheep from the range of the Wenaha Indian reservation. It is expected a lawsuit will be instituted by the Wenaha association to enjoin the enforcement of the quarantine.
