The re-sult of the contest gave general satis-function of the Contest gave general satis-forced to take second place. The end faction. The Short Lines, heretofore considered the weakest team of the ing thanges may yet take place. garded as the "invincibles," a sound Short Lines, Saturday and yesterday trouncing and established a score of nine to seven. .

It is evident to careful observers that the "Shorts" are slowly but surely gain-ing ground while the Rios are retrograding. The tallenders won Saturday's content by good batting, neat and careful fielding, and the splendid pitching of Ed. Kidde

Intense interest and enthusiasm in the game began in the lifth inning. From that inning until the end of the game Clippinger's lads hit Pendergraft hard and never let up until the number reached seventeen. Of these hits Margetts and Waller rach got a three-bagger. The team work of the victors was swift and indicated "brain movenient." Their good batting began with the first inning of the game when they made two single hits and Waller's double, one wild throw and two runs. one short inning if looked like the Short Liners would be defeated by a big score. That was in the second, when the Rics got in six runs through four fielding errors. Henre's double, three singles, and Ridder's forcing a man only allowed two bits with nary a run in the third, and three singles in the fourth. Fred Cain, the Short, Line's fourth. Fred Cain, the Short Line's entries on that night. Chapman and new infielder, did good work, making a Lawson will be there and show the short stop in fine style. Bill Martin was one, out of the game. Shannon and Seare changed places, the former doing credit. The game was umpired by Henry

Rand of the Pocatello team, and his d cisions were just in every particular although some of his companions who were in the grand stand called him a "robber." But they were only "jollying" him Following is the score:
