

Woods soon flew past him, and kept the lead easily close of the race. At one time one called out to him, "out Billy, Howe is close behind," when he shot on ahead nearly a lap, Mr. Howe getting in last. We learned the reason Mr. Pierce got unusually far was because he thought the race through at the completion of the sixth lap and slackened. Mr. Brown on the gold and Mr. Howe on the silver medal.

Best time was made by W. J. in the heat run with W. J. the mile being accomplished in three minutes and a half. There was a 100 yard foot-race. There were four entries—McComb, Denver, Reed, of Ogden (one Athletics), Hyrum Stedman, West Jordan, and an Ogden whose name we did not get, he never started it is of no moment.

McComb is one of the prettiest we ever saw, and is in good starting, which he does not bound. There was some about getting a fair start, but getting several times ahead. Finally he and McComb let loose and went over the line, McComb getting in last. They were called back, to race was then between McComb and Reed. At last they started. McComb being slightly ahead for fifty yards, when he is a tremendous runner, and got a yard ahead and to the end. It was a contest between a professional foot-racer and a farmer boy, the latter chief attraction among the was the balloon ascension of an Tassel, which took place in minutes to four o'clock. It ended for Mr. Stone to assist the professor, but it was that the condition of the balloon the atmosphere would not support the additional weight. This great disappointment to Mr. Stone who almost insisted on being to enter the air. The only companion of the Professor was "Mr. Geo. A. Meears."

Aerial vessel sailed up into mid-air on a perpendicular line great distance, when it inclined toward the northwest. Suddenly it appeared to enter an ardent and sailed away eastward toward the Wasatch range, and was watched by thousands of eyes besides the people on the square, the population of the city, recent places being on the square. It reached an elevation of 5,000 feet above sea level, the highest point attained being between the city and Fort Douglas.

Conditions were not favorable at over the Wasatch Range, descent to terra firma was a Red Butte Canyon, the ascent a complete success, that the universal verdict. This feat was the 19th aerial feat by Mr. Van Tassel.

Persons who reached Mr. Tassel were F. Pickering, Archibald, Miss J. Snow, Miss J. Shepherd and Shepherd, a picnic who assisted him all power. Quite a number of people to the spot on horseback, carriages, among the latter Messrs. H. J. Stone and O. P. the latter bringing him to

MINN. 2.—Col. George L. member of the Utah Commission returned from the west and in an interview he outlined what, in his opinion, the ultimate effect of the bill in accomplishing the for which it was intended. He said 160,000 people in Utah said Col. Godfrey, "of these the Mormons, and only 15,000 are polygamists. The Operation of the Edmunds bill is confined solely to those who practice polygamy; a professor of the Mormon religion with only one wife does not come within the scope of the law. The work of the Commission has been confined to disfranchising polygamists. The law provides that every citizen shall be registered before he shall have the right to vote, and if his name don't appear on the register he has no appeal. As female suffrage is one of the institutions there, a large number of women, more women indeed than men, have been omitted from the registry lists along with their lords and masters. So far as possible the Commissioners have endeavored to keep the name of every polygamist from appearing on the lists. The Mormons are disposed to interpose every obstacle to the enforcement of the law, which to them is extremely odious. They have made up ten test cases, and will be submitted to the courts as soon as possible. The night before I started for the east, wires were served on the Commissioners. While there is no doubt that the courts will affirm the constitutionality of the law, the Mormons will leave no stone unturned so as to impede its operation. The suppression of polygamy is only a matter of time. While the Edmunds bill may not accomplish all that is claimed for it, I regard it as the entering wedge which is designed to divide the Mormon Church. The power of naming the officials has heretofore rested with the church as a whole, but when the law is enforced so that no polygamist can vote, the voting class will determine the candidates to the exclusion of those who fail to conform to the letter and spirit of the law. This of itself will ultimately break up polygamy. The railroads also accomplish much in this direction. With railroads opening up the country, thousands of Gentiles will pour in who will speedily outnumber the Mormons and get possession of the municipal offices which are now held by the Mormons. When it becomes apparent that polygamists cannot rise to honor or profit, an abridgement of the number of wives will speedily follow. As a people the Mormons are quiet and orderly and police regulations are lived up to the same as elsewhere. Salt Lake City will compare favorably in this respect with any eastern city of like population. Contrary to the general impression, licentious practices are not more prevalent than in Gentile communities. There are many wealthy Mormons, especially in Salt Lake City; these, for the most part, are content with one wife. It is due to the more refined classes to state that among them polygamy is gradually falling into disrepute. Those who till the barren soil of that region compose the poorer classes, and among them a plurality of wives is quite common. Numbers of proselytes, induced by missionaries to come from Europe, arrive on every train. They hunt out little valleys between the mountains and scratch the unproductive soil with rude implements, in order to eke out a miserable subsistence. Numbers have entered Montana, Wyoming, Idaho and Arizona where they follow the course of the streams.

An Elder was cramped with an ache, St. Jacobs Oil did the pain; he was so highly pleased that again he was greased, and took a lot home to Salt Lake.

A soldier on guard at Fort Wayne, was suddenly stricken with pain, he thought he was gone, but when he rubbed on St. Jacobs Oil, was all right again.

Concerning Certain Relics of the Past—Dogs that have had their Day.

George Stephenson's "Rocket," and the magnificent locomotives of to-day, are built upon the same general principle, yet the machine with which the great engineer astonished his age, is interesting now only as an illustration of the beginning of the invention. There were plasters with holes in them long before BENSON'S CAPSINE PORUS PLASTER surprised both the public and the physicians; and the triumph of the Capsine is founded upon the partial successes, or the utter failures of its predecessors. Everything of value in the old porous plaster is retained in the Capsine, but at this point all comparison ends, and contrast begins. For example:

The old plasters were slow in their action; the Capsine is quick and sure.

The old plasters lacked the power to do more than to impart slight, temporary relief in cases easy of treatment; the Capsine penetrates the system and permanently cures the troubles for which it is recommended.

The old plasters depended for any good results they might attain, upon an accident of their makers; the Benson's reaches its ends by means of the scientific combination of the rare medicinal ingredients which it contains.

In brief, the old plasters, like Stephenson's discarded engine, are switched off the track, while the Benson's goes on its way winning golden opinions from all sorts of people.

Yet in this very fact lies the leading danger to the people who buy and use this reliable and scientific remedy. "Hypocritism is the tribute vice pays to virtue." Imitation is the concession failure makes to success. Benson's Plasters are parodied in name and style.

Beware of swindles. The genuine have the word CAPSINE CUT in the center. Price 25 cents. Seabury & Johnson, Chemists, New York.
