GOVERNOR CLEVELAND VIMES BUFFALO.

HIS ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION BY THE PEOPLE. THE DEMOCRATIC BOOSTER

FIRING ON ST. JOHN-A BALL

THAT MISSED ITS MARK.

Buffalo, 2.—Indications at a meeting to-day were that it would be impossible to carry out the detailed arrangements so elaborately made for the reception of Gov. Cleveland to-night. It has been steadily raining since daybreak, and there is nothing to warrant the belief that the rain will cease. However, should the clouds clear away, there will be witnessed one of the grandest parades ever held in the city. The democratic forces have been hard at work and the subscriptions have been mere than usually liberal. Banners and transparencies without number, and designs, have been appointed, and the work put in such shape as to, the weather permitting, welcome the Governor in a royal manner. A column will be formpurity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitudes of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders.

A column will be formed of six large divisions, with bamis and drum corps as follows: The division will consist of the Ward Phalanx of about 1,000 men from the Governor's Home Ward, to be followed by the National Veteran Association of 80 men and the Democratic Legion of 800. These will be followed by the Governor and the reception committee in carriages. Several gun squads will be stationed at different parts of the city along the route; as the procession passes will salute it at intervals. The route of the march will be through the different principal streets, forming at the depot, all forming in columns of fours. Visiting clubs will be provided with refreshments and accommodations in the several large halls, the guests of the different Cleveland clubs. Along the line of march it is expected that many of the principal stores and houses will be decorated, and in many cases illuminated. A large number of COTTON CANVASS of all numbers—14 to 150 nches wide, for Deck, Car, Trunk and Wagon Coverings, Machine Aprons and or other purposes, constantly in store and nade to order.

houses will be decorated, and in many cases illuminated. A large number of the principal business men of the city will meet the Governor and friends at Batavia. It is expected they will reach here by 8.30, and the Governor will review the procession from the balcony of the Genesee House, where he will remain over night. It is not yet definitely arranged who will speak tonight, except the Governor, and the manager states that he will probaby make but a short address. Should the rain interfere with the out-door arrangements, a meeting will be held at the Music Hall, which has a seeting capacity of 7,000.

morning, cleared off, and all omens pointed to a prosperous and successful journey. At West Albany, where are located the great car shops of the New York Central Railway, hundreds of workingmen, fresh from the forge and bench, waved a greeting to the train as it whistled by. The train stopped at Palatine bridge and Utica for water. At the latter point, being fifteen minutes ahead of time, the Governor appeared at the rear platform of the train at both places, and was enthusiastically cheered by thousands.

Governor Cleveland's train arrived, in East Buffalo at 8:15, five minutes ahead of time. The first loud voiced welcome was the continuous and combined shrieks of the locomotives and whistles. The train steamed slowly into the depot, which was reached at 8,35 p. m. The drizzling rain which set in early in the morning and continued with but brief intermissions set in early in the morning and continued with but brief intermissions throughout the day, was still falling but it seemed to have no terrors for the vast multitude who thronged the streets leading to the depot, and the depot itself, until they were absolutely impassable. Tumultous cheering greeted the Governor's car as it came to a stop in the depot yard, and the din was kept up without intermission. Everywhere necks were crained to catch a glimpse of the distinguished citizen, who had been elevated to the governorship of a great State and was nominated for the highest office in the affit of the American people. The Governor's appearance on the platform of the car was the signal for renewed cheering. The Governor with his party, walked to the Exchange street entrance of the depot where a handsomely decorated coach to which were attached eight while horses; driven by a liveried coachman, was in waiting. The Governor, accompanied accorded him. Arrived at the Genesee House, his carriage halted for a moment, then proceeded in the line of march.

The procession was fully eight miles long, and it is estimated that there were 15,000 persons in line. In the square opposite the Genesee House many thousands had congregated, and the appearance of the Governor on the platform was the signal for wild and tumultuous cheering, that fairly made the building tremble.

The Address of Welcome. The Governor stood with uncovered head while Hon. Henry Martin, To years of age, the president of the Mannfacturers' and Traders' Bank, and the oldest banker in the city as well as the oldest ex-railroad conductor in the country, welcomed him to the city. Mr. Martin said:

Governor Cleveland, in behalf of this thronging multitude of your old friends and neighbors, I welcome you throughing munitude of your old friends and neighbors, I welcome you home to-night. You came to our city a boy: you learned your profession here, and for more than twenty years have gone in an out before us, respected and trusted and honored by all. In the course of time the public weal demanded you, and regardless of party stillations we elected you our mayor. The singleness of purpose, rugged honesty, faithful discharge of duty, unpretentious, but ever watchful care of public interests which marked your administration of our civic affairs, led the people of this proud State by an overwhelming majority to select you as their chief magistrate. You entered upon this great office, and while you have held it you have had the public eye turned fully at times on you as a prominent candidate for the Presidency, and at a period remarkable in its demands for pure and good government and a reform of old abuses, you have steadily pursued your way, deciding every question which has have steadily pursued your way, de-ciding every question which has arisen out of the manifold affairs or needs of this great commonwealth, or which has been urged to the night and how gratified I am for this demonstration of confidence and esteem of my friends and fellow-citizens. I have resided among you and in this city, where all my success in private life has been achieved, for nearly thirty years. To-night I come to you after the longest absence that has occurred in all that time, and yet within the few weeks that has passed since I saw you last an event has happened of supreme importance to me, and that places me within the Nation's gaze. The honor it has brought to me I ask my fellow-townsmen to share, while I acknowledge with grateful heart all that they have in the past done for me. But two short years ago you stood steadily by my side in every effort of mine as the Chief Executive of our city to advance its interests and welfare. Whatever I was able to accomplish of value to this community was largely due to your strong and intelligent support, nor can I ever forget; the generous endorsement you gave my candidacy for the high office which I now hold in the State, and I assure you that in its administration I have received no greater encouragement than the approval of my friends at home. What I have seen and heard to-night has touched me deeply. It tells me that my neighbors are still my friends, and assures me that I have not been altogether unsuccessful in my efforts to deserve their confidence and attach.

deserve their confidence and attach-ment. In the years to come I shall deem myself not far wrong if I still re-tain their good opinion, and if sur-rounding cares and perplexities bring but anxiety and vexation, I shall find solace and comfort in the memory of the days spent here and in recalling the kindness of my Buffalo friends. But other friends are here to-night, and to all who tender me their kindly welcome. I extend a heartfelt greeting transparency on which was inscribed "Our Citizen, Governor and President, Buffalo Greets Thee." The sight was a grand one from Exchange Street to High Street, a distance of over three miles. Every store was more or less decorated with latterns. At half past nine, in the face of the rain, the procession began its march, and fully 10,-000 men, irrespective of the bands of music, took part. The appearance of Governor Gleveland, with all honorary guard, composed of sixteen members of the Cleveland Phalanx, was the signal for cheers, loud and long the Governor standing with bared head bowing his acknowledgments. A hearty and spontaneous reception was accorded him. Arrived at the Genesee House, his carriage halted for a motified state of the signal for the first and only time to Harriet Stanwood, in Pitts-Indianapolis, 30.—In the U. S. District Court to-day in the Blaine-Sentinal libel suit the attorneys for the Sentinel filed an amended bill of discovery and twelve additional interrogations. The bill begins by stating that Blaine pretends to have been secretly married to Harriet Stanwood at Millersburg, Ky., on June 30th, 1850, which claim is wholly denied by the orators. The bill further alleges that Blaine was lawfully married for the first and only time to Harriet Stanwood, in Pittsburg, March 20th, 1851, and that said marriage was not one of love and affection on the part of Blaine, but compulsory, as charged in the original bill. The bill then states that full information concerning these matters is in the possession of Blaine, and the discovery of such evidence is necessary to enable the orators to make good the issues upon their part, and the prayer of the bill is that Blaine be ordered to answer positively under oath and without evasion the following interrogations:

First-State whether or no a marriage First-State whether or no a marriage if any, in any manner of form, took place between you and Miss Stanwood on the 30th of June, 1850; that you deciare on oath in what building, apartment or residence said marriage took place, at what hour of the day or night of said day, and the name of the judge, minister, magistrate or other officer or person who performed the ceremony of such marriage, if any such officer or person were present. person were present. Blaine breakfasted late this morning. Long before he was accessible the hotel halls and corridors were crowded with people attracted there by his presence, and that of Gen. Logan. As soon as Mr. Blaine's rooms were opened, callers began to pour in, and the pressure continued all the forenoon. Several delegates called to pay their respects, one from the Irish-American Republican League, who presented resolutions and assnrances of support; one representing the Republicans of Tennessee; one sent to urge Mr. Blaine to visit the Louisville exposition, and one representing the Jewish element.

At 12.30 Mr. Blaine was escorted to the Chamber of Commerce, where he was very warmly received. Being introduced by the president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Blaine said: "Gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce: I quite appreciate the person al courtesy and compilment in time of high political excitement, of a body composed of members of both parties receiving me thus cordially in my present position, and I beg to thank you for it sincerely. I always take great pleasure in visiting your city. Eight years ago, on the occasion of my last visit, I was complimented by this chamber as I am to-day. I watch the progress of this city with great interest. It has been to me from my early boyhood an object of interest. I was born and reared only the waters that connect directly with Cincinnation steamboats on the Ohioriver. That refers to an age almost river. That refers to an age almost antedeluvian. (Laughter.) The railway has taken the place of the steamboat, and yet as I have said in Congress and on every public occasion where it was proper that I should say it, I think the great western cities do not fully appreciate the magnitude on the value and advantage of this vastiniand navigation. Stretching onward again, gentlemen, for your courtes and shall not, in a temperature of a delay you longer. (Prolonged chees ing, during which Mr. Blaine re-tired)

The pool rates of 20 cents on dead freight, and proportion-ate charges on live stock, will be en-forced to-morrow. The lonlowing was telegraphed from Circuro to day: "Official. All reports to the contrary notwithstanding, freight rates have been restored to 20 cents, and all East-bound freights are billed at pool rates to-day by all the roads."

Republican-Rowdies. HUNTER'S POINT, 2.—While the In-dependent Democrats were raising a Cleveland banner at Dissville last night, a number of Towdies, led by ex-policeman Stafford, made an attack with clubs and stones, injuring a numbet of persons. Stafford frew a pistol and attempted to fire at one of the speakers, but was disarmed by the police, who arrived and stopped the fighting. The Cheveland banner was taken by some person during the night and carried off. Several arrests are expected to div. expected to-day.

Firing on St. Sohn. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., 2.—The Gazette Sullivan special: Some villain fired into a car in which Governor St. John sat on his way from Carlisle to Terre Haute last night. The ball passed through the window on the opposite side, making a clean hole lodging in the side on which St. John sat, and a little in front of him. The train was just slowing up north of Sullivan when just slowing up north of Sullivan when the shot was fired. The Governor took the matter coolly.
