LOCAL NEWS.

Edna Elster.—Lovers of the drama will be pleased to learn of the re-opening of the Walker Opera House, on Friday evening, the 29th, when this favorite actress, who has so well deserved her immense popularity, will appear, supported by a strong dramatic company, in Belasco's great success, "La Belle Rousée." The box office for the sale of seats opens Wednesday morning. For Saturday's matinee "Camille" will be given, and the same night "East Lynne" will take the boards. A programme rich and rare.

Thanks, Many Thanks.—The undersigned committee desire to publicly return their sincere thanks for the generous aid tendered to them by the press, the citizens of Salt Lake and American Fork, Superintendents John Sharp and W. W. Riter, and others, who have by their assistance helped to make the Old Folks and Orphan's Excursion successful, and have made the hearts of many old veterans and friendly youth. The response was more enthusiastic and liberal this year than ever before, and sufficient means have been furnished by the generous-hearted to cover all the expenses connected with the two movements.

The blessings of our Eternal Father may attend all who minister to the wants of the needy, the earnest prayer of the committee: George Goddard, C. R. Savage, Wm. Edgington, Wm. Taylor, John Kirkham, Andrew Jensen, Nelson Remy.

"Lady Clare."—Wallack's New York Company, which arrived last evening, open their engagement at the Salt Lake Theatre to-night, presenting for the first time in this city, the celebrated metropolitan success, "Lady Clare." They will play four nights and a Saturday matinee, repeating this place to-morrow evening and Saturday afternoon, and doing "Moths" on Thursday and Friday evenings. This will be a rare treat for our theatre goers. See what the New York Telegram says.

"Lady Clare" is attracting thousands every week to Wallack's. The popularity of the piece has resulted in its demand by outside managers and during the summer season it will be presented with its present cast and all of Rochester's exquisite scenery in Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Omaha, Salt Lake, St. Paul and San Francisco. Arrangements to this end have been made by Mr. Charles Frohman.

Found Dead—Not Murdered.—It was reported about the city, last evening, that a man named Woodbury had been murdered and robbed at Park City. It was too late to be mentioned in our last issue, and perhaps it is just as well that it is now a rumor of murder, though it is now an established fact that the dead body of the man was found at the place mentioned.

The deceased was Nathaniel A. Woodbury, of the Second Ward, who has taught the District School there for some time, and has been spending his summer vacation in Cambridge for the wagon team of Lynch and Correll. He was found dead in a house near Park City, where he had been staying, and the cause of his death, as stated, was inordinate drinking. He was well educated and respected, and has written for the press over the sum of phone of "gnat," a paraphrase on the first syllable of his given name.

He left home several weeks ago, and since then his family have heard from him but once. The latest word was the telegram announcing his decease. His family have been in needy circumstances during his absence. He leaves a wife and several children. He was a native of Salem, Mass., and came to Utah in 1870. The body will probably be brought here for interment, though it is required to be carried to the place of burial, and it is said that the body from the Park.

James Howell.—Information has been requested, by letter to the Editor, regarding the present whereabouts of the family of James Howell, of Oregon. Those, England, who are believed to be in Utah, letters to them at their old home, having been returned to the writer, unable to acquire the whereabouts of the family.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

Including calves, the cattle of Montana number over a million.

The contracts have been let for the building of an opera house at Butte, Mont. It is to cost over $25,000.

Frost has been experienced near Conville, Summit County. No damage is reported as yet.

Mount Baldy and adjacent peaks near Beaver have received a summer blanket in the form of a covering of beautiful snow.

Salt Lake apples have appeared in Gunnison, (Col.), and sell at a discounted newspaper, "three schway ones for a dime."

Agent Davis, of the United Indian agency, thinks he has the best lot of savages in America. There are 1,100 on the reservation.

Tombstone (Arizona) miners who have been laying off for three months have accepted an offer of $3 per day, and business has recommenced.

A party of Ogden cricketers went out to Almy, Wyoming, to play against some amateurs there. The latter beat them last Saturday by a score of 107 to 70.

Sam Hutton, arrested on the charge of murdering Aaron Morris at Ketchum, Idaho, has been held without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

Wm. Mendenhall, Esq., of Springfield, was terribly kicked and bruised in the face by a horse a few days since. He was placed in hospital, but his slight will not be injured.

A two pound carp has been caught in the Weber, which proves that that excellent fish will live and thrive in our mountain waters. It is only about two years since the carp were put in the stream.

The Salt Lake baseballists who went to Montana a few days ago to play the Butte club, and who have had an easy time with the mines between here and there, seem to have met a Waterloo on Saturday. The Montana boys just walked away with them.

Not everything is lovely and bright in the city. It is too much in debt to build a city hall and there is a great amount of sickness, which the doctors ascribe to drinking hydrant water. But the place is booming nevertheless.

A man named Whitaker met a painful death at the Grass Creek mine, Summit County, last Wednesday. He was being ruptured and otherwise internally injured through the falling of a trunk upon him. He was about to place it on the cars when the train made an unexpected start, throwing him to the ground and precipitating the heavy chest upon his head.

Packer, the cannibal, confined in a Gunnison (Col.) cell, now confesses that he killed Bell, one of his associates, cut strips from his body, and ate them. After having tasted human flesh, he found it so palatable that he prepared to camp on the spot for a few days, and on breaking camp he roasted an ore sack full of the meat to last him on his journey.

A northern exchange gives the following idea of the cost of construction of the Canadian Pacific railroad through British Columbia. The average cost between Emory and Boston Bar, a distance of 29 miles, is over $80,000 per mile. Twenty miles of this has been hewn out of solid granite and carried through thirteen tunnels and over eight large and fourteen small bridges.

Frank Morrell, while hauling ore from the Crescent mine, Park City, was precipitated under the wagon by the giving way of a brake. He had a trail wagon which also passed over his body, one wheel rolling across his stomach, one over his leg and another over his feet. He jumped up after his remarkable experience, mounted his fore wagon, which was loaded with three tons of ore, and proceeded to Park City, where he was found to have sustained only a few bruises.

The Miles City Review tells how near Montana came to losing John Coburn. After the term of court in Bozeman he visited the National Park. While he was there a dispatch was sent to his Indian home, offering him the Chief Justiceship of Utah. His wife telegraphed the dispatch to Miles. It was sent back to Bozeman. Meanwhile Congress was about to adjourn and somebody must be appointed. His friends reluctantly withdrew his name, and another man was nominated and confirmed. The Utah office is considered a place of great dignity. He might have accepted it had he known in time.—Butte (M. T.) Miner.

A JEW'S GENEROSITY.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS TENDERED "MORMON" MISERABLES.

Mr. Cyrus H. Gold, who went out some distance on the Denver & Rio Grande line to meet the returning corpses of Elders Berry and Gibbs, and who thus had an excellent opportunity of conversing with Elder W. E. Roberts, who accompanied the remains home, heard from him of a circumstance which deserves public mention.

He told him in a letter that he represented the last evening, and since then a letter has been received by Elder John Morgan from Elder B. E. Roberts, which gives the occurrence, substantially as follows:

Immediately after receiving news of the tragedy and in view of the fact that a heavy expense would be entailed in securing and placing the bodies in a fit state for transportation, Elder Roberts telegraphed here for means. The application was promptly responded to, and the amount required was wired to him at Chattanooga. By some mistake, however, the money did not reach him when expected, and it was a day or two before the trouble could be corrected. In the meantime he and Elder Kimball were anxious to get the remains of their brethren and were in considerable perplexity as to how they could procure caskets and take the preliminary steps without money.

This extremely Mr. E. Moses, a Jewish merchant living in Chattanooga, came to their relief. He went the caskets, the amount being $300, loaned Brother Roberts a few days afterwards to get the money from home and found that it had not come. Mr. Moses again stepped forward and raised $500 for the purpose, enabling the brethren to go on in their operations and get the bodies home.

"It was a case," says Brother Roberts feelingly, "of Jewish helping Ephraim;" and an act of generosity of so rare occurrence in these heartless days of cold business transactions that it is at once conspicuous and likely to be long remembered.

Fourteenth District School.—By announcement in another column it will be learned that the Fourteenth District School will open September 1st, (next Monday), with C. F. Wilex as principal, assisted by Miss Emma Fitch.

The school room, recently purchased, has been repaired and two new ones added. The educational facilities have been greatly increased, so that the school room under auspices much more favorable than ever before. The gentleman to whose charge its conduct is entrusted is a teacher of acknowledged capacity and Miss Fitch is a capable acquisition to the school for its capacity to secure the services.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

At Ogden the Tabernacle was filled on Sunday, an immense congregation of Saints, who came to show the last offices of respect to the murdered Elders. The speakers on the occasion were Elder James Taylor and Apostle F. D. Richards.

At Paradise, the home of Elder Gibbs, where the body arrived about a week on Saturday, a large body had been specially erected for the occasion. The casket was taken out of the case in which it had made the journey, but on removing the lid of the glass top, it was found that the remains were enveloped in a shroud, and the features could not be seen. Remarks were made by President Taylor and Canon George F. Gibbs, brother of the deceased. The grave was dedicated by President Taylor.

"Three Black Crows."—A story characteristic of its origin, and one of the most interesting tales published of you. It does its work well in every respect; in fact, the best work of any magazine I have seen.

Messrs. Hudson & Sutton working the blunder for me. They are the parties to whom you can send all your "Three Black Crows" and say the McCormick does better binding than was done on any other paper.

Yours very truly,
