

SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS.

Salt Lake City.—The Teacher's association has formulated a petition for a one-half month's school year, beginning next year. The same has been supported by the principals. Attached to the petition are the reasons why said request should be given. The petition will be presented to the board of education, to whom the petition will be presented.

The superintendent has distributed some of the educational exhibit matter, which was furnished by the respective schools for the late fall. Considerable activity is again manifested in all the buildings to prepare a commendable showing for the Portland exposition.

The Lowell school dropped in on the Independent Telephone office last Monday.

The last monthly report of the city schools shows that 12,500 children are enrolled; attendance reaches 98.4 per cent, the punctuality record is 99.7 per cent, and 701 patrons have favored the schools with visits.

Supr. Christensen was at the Riverside last Thursday.

The Lowell baseball club scored a victory over the Sumner and Lafayette teams.

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY.

Provo, April 28.—President Brimhall went to Salt Lake City yesterday to attend to some business, and has not yet returned.

Prof. Eastmond is in Springville today.

A delegation of 18 were here from Beaver last Friday night. Among the number were Principal Anderson, Prof. Durham, Mr. George Mitchell, President of the Branch Student body and Instructor Kelley who addressed the students in devotional Friday morning.

The concert given by the music school Friday evening has been pronounced by many as the rarest musical treat of the year. A large and appreciative audience was in attendance. Among the best numbers on the program were: Vocal solos by Mr. Best, especially was his "Face to Face," appreciated; the piano duet rendered by Prof. Anderson and Miss Howard; the violin quartet by Prof. Miller and company; Mr. Holdaway's piano selection, the vocal solos by Misses Jepperson and Taylor and the violin solos by Mr. Goodman.

A committee from the faculty meets with the prospective graduates this afternoon.

The missionary class had the privilege of listening to a very interesting talk by Mrs. Lightner on the 14th of this month. Mrs. Lightner is now 87 years of age. She joined the Church shortly after its organization, bore all the hardships of its early days, and has gone through many interesting experiences. She was sealed to the Prophet Joseph many years ago. The burden of the lady's talk was the early history of the Church.

Mr. Clark, an old veteran of the Church and a friend of Joseph Smith's, was an anti-saloon worker, in California, was present at devotional Monday morning when he related some interesting experiences of his life.

Miss Laura Frankenhoff, who appeared in the "Ghosts" this week, delivered an interesting lecture in College hall Tuesday afternoon, on the "Life and Works of Henry Hudson."

The contest with Beaver which came off Saturday afternoon was "the real thing," in every particular. At its close the score stood 64-39 in favor of our team. Adams reached 11 feet 6 inches in the pole vault; McAllister won the 100 yard and the 200 yard races, and others of our boys did excellent work in their events. Beaver won most of their points in second places.

From the debaters who tried out before the Speech Improvement club last Wednesday evening, Messrs. Rasmussen and Boyer were chosen to meet the team from Logan.

The matter for the Circular for the coming school year is now in the hands of the Deseret News Publishing company.

Assignments were made to the missionary class last week when the department was visited by Bros. Reynolds and Young. All but two in the entire class have received appointments.

Editor Mangum has resigned. By action of the board taken at a recent meeting the management was placed upon Messrs. Sutton and Forsyth, who have acted as Mr. Mangum's assistants.

Seldom do we hear better sermons than the one delivered before the students in their domestic meeting Sunday evening by President Brimhall. It was an Easter sermon, and the resurrection was treated in a most beautiful and impressive manner. The sacred solo rendered by Mr. Wilford McAllister was also highly appreciated.

School will close a week earlier than the scheduled time on account of the summer school which will convene here on the 6th of June.

The dressmaking and millinery classes are busy on spring dresses and hats. Considerable work is being done by these departments. The dressmaking department is under the necessity of employing the entire time of two or three girls to keep up with the work that comes in from the outside. The class girls are busy now on their commencement dresses.

We are expecting an interesting time at the dual meet with the U. of U. which comes off next Saturday.

The U. of U. Dramatic company will play "Christopher Jr." in the Provo Opera house Saturday evening. It will be presented under the business management of our student body.

BRIGHAM YOUNG COLLEGE.

Logan, April 28.—The athletes of the B. Y. C. and A. C. U. will meet on the B. Y. campus tomorrow afternoon for a contest in track sports. The program of events will be the same as that arranged for the entire time of May 20. There will be 12 events. The contest promises to be a lively one, and the records made by both schools in their inter-class meets recently held indicate that victory may go to either one. After the athletic contest there will be an evening dance in the college gymnasium, in which both schools will join.

The athletic association is arranging for a meet with the L. D. S. university in Ogden on May 6. Student Manager Joseph Hill went down to Ogden yesterday to confer with representatives of the Salt Lake school, and with the Weber Stake academy athletes regarding the event. There is a possibility that our track team will go to Provo on May 13.

Miss Lillian Oliver and her pupils, assisted by Prof. C. M. Harris, violinist, and Miss Carrie Thomas, vocalist, gave an excellent recital in the assembly hall of the college last evening, before a large and appreciative audience. The pupils who took part were James B. Linford, Miss Ida Hansen, Miss Mary Burns, Miss Lillian Hall, Miss Agnes Purdie, Miss Gwen Thomas, Miss Julia Hendricks and Miss Gates.

The Engineering society of the college met last evening and discussed miscellaneous questions of scientific interest. The society is doing excellent work, and the members show considerable enthusiasm. Some questions programmed for future discussion are "Wireless Telegraphy," and "Radio." The society welcomes questions from its members on scientific topics, and the 20 ambitious young men who are regularly present are receiving much valuable information from the society's work.

Prof. Charles H. Skidmore had as his guest last Saturday and Sunday, Prof. W. S. Morley of the University of Idaho, who was a fellow student at the Chicago university some years ago.

Prof. W. M. Wolfe spoke on "The Teachings of Geology" in devotional on Tuesday. His remarks were excellent.

Prof. L. A. Ostlen, educational director of the Lewis & Clark exposition was a visitor at the college last week. He was here to arrange for an exhibit from the several departments of the college. The training school is preparing to make a display at Portland, and there will be on exhibition also work from the mechanic arts department, in wood and iron, from the domestic arts departments, and from the commercial, English and art departments.

The singing in devotional recently has been noteworthy because of the splendid work of the choir under Prof. Robinson. Some difficult anthems have been especially well rendered. On Monday there was a variation, when Prof. Robinson, Mr. Grow, Miss Kewley and Miss Abbott rendered a beautiful quartet selection. They were recalled by the vigorous applause, and repeated a part of the selection.

Following a pleasing custom established some years ago, Prof. and Mrs. C. H. Skidmore are giving a series of entertainments at their home, at which Prof. Skidmore's students in mathematics, with their partners, are the guests. Last Friday evening about 25 members of the advanced classes were entertained, and spent an enjoyable evening playing games, etc. Refreshments were served during the evening.

President James H. Linford was in Salt Lake Tuesday and Wednesday on college business.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Logan.—A track meet is being held today between the college and the Brigham Young college team on the athletic field of the former institution.

Representative Austin and Senator Barber addressed the members of the Agricultural club last Friday, the former giving a most entertaining and instructive talk on the growing of sugar beets. Mr. Austin also spoke that morning to the students in chapel.

Prof. Ostlen has this week been visiting the towns south of Salt Lake to arrange for the school exhibits from those towns at the Lewis and Clark exposition.

Prof. Bessell lectured before the Commercial club on Thursday on the economy of by-products in the large packing houses of Chicago, Kansas City, and Omaha.

In his chapel talk on Wednesday morning Prof. Ostlen spoke of the anniversary of the birth of Hans Anderson and gave an interesting account of the life and work of the great Danish writer.

The students of the Domestic science department are preparing their exhibit for the Portland fair. They will exhibit their preserved fruits, jellies, jam, art needle work, lingerie and gowns.

The members of the Dramatic club celebrated the end of the season last week by a banquet with toasts and a musical program at the college.

Miss Florence Foster, a former student of the college, will take work at the Summer school with Mrs. Cotey.

On Wednesday the gymnasium class of young women under Miss Moeck gave a public exhibition of club swinging.

Prof. Baker of the class of '99, has resigned his position at head of the engineering department of the Montana Agricultural college in order to be an assistant of the state engineer of Montana.

Mr. Luther Howell of the Sophomore class left last Monday to fill a mission in England.

At chapel last Tuesday Prof. G. W. Thatcher gave a program of modern songs which was much enjoyed by both faculty and students. Mrs. Thatcher accompanied him on the piano.

New officers of the Commercial club are as follows: Mr. McKnight, president; Mr. E. C. Cox, vice president; Mr. Hyde, secretary; Mr. Kerns, treasurer; Mr. A. B. Olsen, historian; Mr. Hillman, sergeant-at-arms.

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

Salt Lake City.—This morning the University track team, accompanied by a train load of students and friends of the University, went to Provo, where the meet with the B. Y. U. is taking place this afternoon. The special excursion train left over the R. G. W. at 10 a. m. This evening the "Varsity Dramatic" club will present "Christopher Jr." in the Provo Opera House. A special train will leave Provo at midnight to bring the students home.

Present indications point to vigorous contests between the engineers and arts and science students at the coming election of student body officers, which takes place early in May. On Wednesday the fourth year normals, who rank as freshmen, united with the arts and science students in nominating Harold Stephens for president and Dan Alexander for editor of the Chronicle. A meeting is now called by the engineers on Monday, when they will no doubt put candidates in the field. Every engineer is requested to be present. Already active preparations are under way.

Messrs. Jarvis and McFarlane of the school board of St. George visited the University yesterday. They are looking among the college graduates for a principal for their high school.

On May 22 Prof. Stewart will deliver the address to the graduates of the Snow academy at Ephraim.

Mr. Welsh of the training school has been employed by Principal Ezra Christensen of the Ricks academy at Rexburg, Ida., to give a course in nature study for teachers during the summer vacation.

The summer school bulletin was issued on Monday.

In announcing the work to be given by Miss Emily C. Jessup of New York last week an error was made. Miss Jessup will give courses in music and handy work, including vocal culture for teachers and theory and practice of teaching music in the public schools. The courses in dress making will be given by Madam Helen M. Root of the department of domestic science of the University. She will give a "shirt waist suit" course and a "summer gown course," including lessons in cutting and fitting dresses for summer wear.

Mrs. J. P. Moorman of New York visited the University on Wednesday. In next Saturday's news the subjects, Pre medical course to be given by the University next year, will be listed.

In addition to summer arrangements previously made with several medical schools in the United States, Prof. Chamberlin has now effected an agreement with Dean Hill of the medical school of the Northwestern University, whereby students who successfully complete the two years' work in medicine, to be offered by the University next year will be given junior standing in the regular four years course at the Northwestern Medical college.

On Thursday Dr. Gowans delivered a lecture before the principals of the city schools on physical education in the grades.

During the week the troops at Fort Douglas have been conducting a series of sham battles. A number of students couldn't withstand the temptation to cut their classes and watch the maneuvers of the infantry and artillery.

President MacLean of the University of Idaho, with Prof. Miller of the department of metallurgy and Regent McCarthey spent Thursday and Friday at the University. They visited all the departments and made a thorough inspection of the school of mines.

L. D. S. UNIVERSITY.

Salt Lake City.—We are glad to have Miss Edwards at school again. She has been out several days on account of sickness.

A challenge has been accepted by the senior boys to play a game of baseball with the junior boys without practice.—Sylvia Compton.

The following students of the advanced shorthand class were engaged to report the district Sunday school convention, held in this city on the 23rd inst.: Misses Anna Schneider, Stella Angell, Hedvig Esterholm and Estella Wilcox.

Mr. George Gatrell, formerly official court reporter at Ogden and one of the oldest court reporters in the west, addressed the Stenographic society on Thursday.

Mr. Goss, who left school recently to accept a temporary position, has been taken on a permanent position in the master mechanic's office of the Rio Grande Western railway.

Mr. Elmer Christanson, one of this year's shorthand students, has just taken a position as stenographer in the office of the Utah Light and Railway company.

Miss Anna Schneider, one of our shorthand students, took a position last week as stenographer and bookkeeper in Ottinger's railway ticket office.

The fourth year English class has completed the subject of argumentation, and is now taking up the subject of persuasion. The members of the fourth year theology class have finished their character sketches of Joseph Smith.—Leone Asper.

The '05 class held their regular monthly meeting, at the home of Orson M. Rogers, on April 27. There was no special program given, the entire time being devoted to class business.

Next Monday and Tuesday at 3:30 and 2:30 p. m. respectively, Prof. C. D. Chamberlin will lecture to our students on his travels in India, with accompanying illustrations. The lectures are free and friends are welcome.

The '05 class mourns with the relatives and many friends, the death of Miss Jennie Summerhays. She was a popular and active member of our class four years ago. We shall greatly miss her in our "general reunion" to be given during commencement week.—Sara M. Jensen.

Two of the Kindergarten teachers recently took the children out for a walk, while the others arranged the tables, which had been elaborately decorated with spring flowers and paper Easter lilies made by the children. During the week the children had made little chicken-coops and hens, and these also were used in placing a coop, hen, toy chicken, and nest of Easter eggs in front of each child's place. Two baskets, containing little live "bunny" rabbits, were placed in the center of the tables. The children were brought into the room, and marched to their places, when refreshments were served. Great was the astonishment of the children to find the eggs hatched into chickens, but still greater to see the live "bunnies" when the baskets were uncovered.—Ina G. Johnson.

Ogden, Utah.—Prof. Lind has withstood his operation nicely and will soon be able to leave the hospital.

M. R. Porter of the L. D. S. university of Salt Lake, has charge of the science work in Prof. Lind's absence.

An entertainment was given by the domestic arts girls on Monday night in the academy building. It was considered a success from every standpoint.

The score of the baseball game at Plain City on Friday night was 14 to 5 in favor of the W. S. A. The dance in the evening was well attended. The students are delighted with the kind treatment they received from their hosts.

When the students came to school on Monday morning they found one of the giant boxers in front of the building lying prostrate on the lawn.

A good audience greeted Hon. B. H. Roberts at the Tabernacle on Wednesday night to hear him lecture on the "Morning of Our Civilization." One more lecture remains to be given, on May 3, by Mark May Babcock, on "An Evening with Browning."

The students of the academy took unusual interest in the character ball given at the Second ward hall Friday by the class of '05. All periods of all the leading classes seemed to be represented.

An interesting game of baseball was played at the Tabernacle on Wednesday at 4:30. Our boys met the Mound Fort team. The result was another victory for the academy team.

The following students were chosen by the faculty to take part in our commencement exercises: William Manning, Delphia Hetzler, Estella Hollands, Etta Halverson, Reuben Saunders and Marlon Belnap.

Some choice papers were read in devotional this week, one on Monday by Delphia Hetzler on "Unselfishness," and another on Thursday by Marlon Belnap on "Archaeology as an evidence of the authenticity of the Book of Mormon."

Prof. Kendrick was detained from school on Wednesday on account of sickness of three of his children.

The Acorn staff is working energetically to get out the souvenir edition of the Acorn. It promises to be something very choice.

At a meeting of the Athletic committee of the L. D. S. U., B. Y. C. and Weber Stake academy, held at the academy last Thursday it was decided that the "meet" be held in this city on

TO WORK IN LABRADOR.

Dr. ALFRED T. GRENFELL.

The idea of missionaries is not new, but that of medical missionaries is. Dr. Grenfell is devoting his life to work amongst the fishermen of Labrador, who are sadly in need of medical help. The mission that Dr. Grenfell heads is patronized by Andrew Carnegie, who is said to have given $100,000 to the mission. The doctor has worked many years there alone, but this year he is to be accompanied by two young ladies, trained nurses.

May 6. The track athletics will be participated in by the B. Y. college and L. D. S. U. and W. S. A. Both Salt Lake and Logan will bring loaded trains for the occasion and the people of Ogden will have an opportunity to see some real snappy athletics. Both Logan and Salt Lake will bring their hands, which together with our hand will furnish excellent music for the day.

Principal McKay went to Salt Lake City last Thursday in the interest of the academy.
