

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, DECEMBER 1.

Elder Joseph E. D. Tomlinson of Heber City, Utah, has returned home from a mission to the Southern States, whither he went November 9th, 1895. He labored fourteen months in Texas and eleven months in Louisiana. Elder Tomlinson was called home on account of the serious illness of his wife, who is suffering with an attack of appendicitis. A telephone message from Heber City yesterday afternoon brought the information, however, that she was much improved.

Elders Christopher Wilcock of Huntington, Emery county, Wilford Robinson of Beaver city and Henry Hughes of Holden, Millard county, called on the "News" Monday and reported their return from the British mission. Elder Wilcock left home Feb. 13, 1896, and labored while away in Sheffield and Liverpool, England, where he reports the prospects good for future work. Elder Robinson left home April 20, 1897, and labored in Liverpool until his release to return home for a season, while Elder Hughes traveled in Manchester, England, and in North Wales, leaving home Oct. 12, 1895. All have enjoyed their labors, have had good health and feel pleased at having had the privilege to go abroad and preach the Gospel.

American Fork World: At 10:20 last night an aged citizen of this place, Mr. George Blood, passed quietly away to realms from which no man returns, the cause of his demise being paralysis. He has been a sincere and faithful Christian, a model man, a kind and loving husband and a good father, and his friends are legion; therefore a deep gloom is thrown over the whole vicinity in consequence of the visit of the death angel at the home of such an honored citizen. The funeral will be at the meeting house at 2 p. m. Saturday, and a number of relatives from Salt Lake county will be present.

Mr. Blood was born at Popplewick, Nottingham, England, May 10, 1824, and is the son of Francis Blood and Sarah Pearson. He joined the Mormon Church in February, 1849, was married in 1850, and started for America in 1855, arriving at Trenton, N. J., April 26th, where he remained until June, 1861, when he started for American Fork, Utah. He has since lived here and occupied his time at farming. He leaves a family of seven children, four boys and three girls. His wife passed away February 24, 1896.

The Ogden Standard of today has the following statement of the sugar factory question which has been agitated in the Junction city for the past few weeks:

Office of Weber Club, Ogden City.
Nov. 30, 1897.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have carefully examined the subscription lists for the Ogden sugar factory and that the sum of $257,000 has been subscribed in good faith by the persons who have signed said list and that we verily believe each and every subscriber able and willing to pay the amount subscribed.

[Signed] HENRY H. ROLAPP,
GEORGE H. MATSON.

The above certificate should and will be hailed with joy by the citizens of Ogden, Weber county and northern Utah, because it says to the people, "Relief is at hand; prosperity will come now that you have worked out your own salvation."

The enterprise will be a success and every man, woman and child will be made happier because of the success of the Ogden sugar factory. It means employment for the many, it means an increased dinner bucket brigade, and an increased merchandise trade; it means a market for the farmers' product and at a good price; it means everything today to this part of Utah.

It is a day long to be remembered—for it proves that when Ogden people go to work to make a success of anything, and they make a good pull and a long pull, altogether, it is sure to be a winner.

Messrs. Wotherspoon and Glasman addressed a meeting at Brigham City last night, and an enthusiastic spirit was aroused. Fourteen hundred dollars was secured in the short time they were there.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, DECEMBER 2.

Scofield, Dec. 1.—The mines have been working pretty steadily of late, the P. V. company's output being about sixty flats per day's work. They have to lay off part of the time for want of cars. The coal trade has been better this fall than for several years.

We have had considerable snowfall here, but most of it has disappeared. We have had frost, too, the mercury having reached 6 degrees below zero.

It has been rumored here that Thomas Lloyd has lost his life in the attempt to reach Klondike. We hope it is not true, however, as the gentleman has many friends here.

William Farthman and family leave this week for England. He sold his residence to Lee Gordon.

S. J. Harkness has been appointed postmaster vice A. H. Earll, resigned.

The health of the people is good. We have good district schools both at Scofield and Winter Quarters. The Sunday schools as also the other Church organizations are in a flourishing condition in the Pleasant Valley ward.

Above is the ticket which was successful at the school election yesterday. All of the members-elect were candidates on the Citizens' ticket. In the First municipal ward the independent candidate in the person of C. W. Symons gave E. B. Critchlow a very hard fight and came near beating him. In the Fifth municipal ward McMaster and Kelson received substantial support but were a long way from being successful. In the Second municipal ward the opposition to the regular convention nominees was so slight as to excite but little alarm. In the Third and Fourth municipal wards the candidates chosen under the Citizens' movement had everything their own way. The vote in detail was as follows:

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, DECEMBER 3.

The "News" received a call today from Elder Benjamin McCleery, of South Cottonwood, Salt Lake County, who returned on Sunday last from a mission to Great Britain. He left home August 12, 1895, and labored as traveling Elder in Liverpool, Wigan, Lancaster and Blackpool, Lancashire. He enjoyed his missionary labors, but says most of the people in the sections he labored are all indifferent to religion.

Neeleyville Ward, Nov. 29, 1897.

A very pleasant evening was spent here on the 28th at a farewell party to Brother Enos Neeley, who has just started for a mission to the Northern States. Relatives and friends were gathered until our small hall was filled to overflowing. An interesting program was rendered; there were also dancing and a delightful lunch. So much feeling was manifested when the parting time came that few eyes were dry, and it seemed like every one was parting from a dear beloved brother, for Brother Neeley is loved by all our people and respected and honored by all business men in our locality. He refused a prominent position to accept his mission, and we feel that his energy and uprightness will make him a favorite abroad as well as at home.

F. KOHLHEPP.

Thanksgiving was a gay day for the people of Circleville. The program was furnished by the school and primary associations; in return the ward furnished the dinner. The school house was decorated as never before, with evergreens, festoons and many of the products of the land. After the program was rendered the assemblage repaired to the Dalton opera house, where dinner was served, followed by a dance for the children. During the feasting Elder and Mrs. A. O. Woodruff and Elder Seegmiller of the Sevier Stake arrived, enroute to Panguitch. Public meeting was held at 4 o'clock and addresses were made by the brethren. The day closed with a Thanksgiving party.

We haven't heard of any one having the Klondike fever since witnessing the riches of this productive and picturesque valley.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, DECEMBER 4.

Elizabeth Duckworth Shlden wishes to know the whereabouts of Charles and Mary Lord, who left England about 39 years ago for Utah, or anyone who knows of them. Please write to their sister, Elizabeth Duckworth, Shlden No. 27, Sketchley St., Blue Bell Hill, Nottingham, England.

The editor and publisher of the Tooele Transcript, F. E. Gabriel, died suddenly at his home at 6 o'clock last evening from hemorrhage of the lungs superinduced by consumption. The deceased came to Utah from New York about three years ago for the benefit of his health and soon after started in the newspaper business in Tooele.
