

"BLACK FRIDAY" IN POLICE COURT

Chicken Sandwich Was Too Thin, So Was Chin's Complaint.

LENIENT TO THE MILK DEALER

Merely Drunk, Not a Pickpocket—
"Merely Drunk" Were Most of the Penitents—Two Beggars.

Although it is Friday, the 13th, the fears of the superstitious were groundless in Judge Bowman's court this morning. The court wore a benign smile throughout the proceedings, and with one exception the penitents left the court room with an even happier smile.

When Otto Dappo entered Chin Yui's restaurant last night, and ordered a chicken sandwich for which he was to pay 15 cents, he expected to get a little of the white meat at least. According to his story, however, the sandwich when served was of the microscopically variety and the morsel of chicken was lost even in the waters of bread. He refused to part with 15 cents for what he thought was a false image, and refused the sandwich. Then the thrifty Chinaman had him arrested for obtaining a meal under false pretenses. When the testimony was introduced this morning Asst. Dist. Atty. Rogers asked that the case be dismissed much to the amazement of the Chinaman who although he still has the sandwich, thinks he should have the 15 cents too.

THIRTY DAYS' GRACE

Sentence in the case of A. Bendson, who pleaded guilty a few days ago to the violation of the milk ordinance by failing to deliver milk in bottles, was suspended this morning for a period of thirty days, in order to permit the defendant to show his intention to comply with the ordinance. City Food Inspector W. J. Frazier, was present in the court room, and called the court's attention to the general unsanitary condition of the defendant's method of handling milk. The defendant was ordered to report to the court in 30 days and show that he had taken every step possible to comply with the ordinance.

NOT THE GREATER CRIME

Nine bibulous celebrators of G. A. R. week answered the pull of the law, but all escaped on their excuses. One of the drunks was C. F. Cummings of Heber City, who was arrested yesterday in the Log Cabin saloon on complaint of W. C. Applegate, proprietor of the pool room. Mr. Applegate informed the officers that he had witnessed Cummings make an unsuccessful attempt to pick the pocket of a "veteran." Cummings was under the influence of liquor at the time, but protested that while he might have jostled some one in the crowd he had no intention of wrong-doing. He was arrested on a charge of drunkenness and discharged this morning.

THESE ALSO WERE WEAK

C. S. Richardson, one of the visitors from Helper, had intended to return home yesterday, but lingered too long at the cool resorts. He will use up his return ticket today, however.

F. T. Scott naively thought he had probably offended his wife by taking a drop or two too much last night, and came in for a scolding from the judge before he was discharged.

J. F. Wilson, who looks strong enough to work on the streets instead of working the public, will break rocks for the city for 30 days. Wilson was caught joggling yesterday, and had no excuse to offer this morning.

were caught in the Crescent hotel by Officers Carstensen and Riley indulging in the dreams of the seductive pipe this afternoon. Both women, and later their consort, John Gill, were arrested and taken to the city jail.

REVIEW OF THE GUARD.

Gov. Spry and his staff left for Camp Cutler to review the Utah National Guard at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The inspection will consume the entire afternoon and a large attendance is looked for. Gov. Spry and his staff will make the trip in automobiles.

NELLIE WORTHEN EK.

Funeral Services Preceding Interment Of Beloved Young Woman.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Nellie Worthen Ek, were held in the Fourth ward meeting hall Wednesday, Aug. 11, at 3 p. m., Counselor C. A. Sperry, presiding, and Geo. Bridwell offering the opening prayer. The house was crowded to overflowing with sorrowing relatives and friends, all eager to show a last tribute of respect to such a worthy departed sister. The floral offerings were very beautiful indeed.

The following speakers bore testimony of the worth of Sister Ek: Prest. Wm. McLachlan, Counselor Wm. P. Silver, Patriarch Harrison Sperry, Prest. C. H. Hyde, John T. Williams, John T. Schmitt and Levi R. Young. The closing prayer being offered by Robert Steller.

The selections by the ward choir and solos by Louise Poonon and Kirk Jesslyn Shaw were especially beautiful and appropriate. The grave was dedicated by Geo. Gibbs.

PRIVATE CAR FOR MUSICIANS.

The National Civil War Musicians will be tendered a private car by Manager Wells of the Utah Light and Railway Co., President L. C. Maringer, and Manager Lawrence Maringer of the "Seeling Salt Lake City Car" company, tomorrow (Saturday) at 2 o'clock. The old veterans will be escorted by Chairman J. J. McChesney, Secretary Fred G. Graham, and the music committee of the G. A. R., and nothing will be left undone to make them happy. They will play a number of selections en route and at Fort Douglas.

They are this afternoon the guests of Mrs. Emma Ramsey Morris at her home.

ARMY NURSES.

Last Official Meeting This Morning—Social Functions Planned.

The last official meeting of the Army Nurses was held at the Colonial hotel this morning. The feature of the gathering was the installation of the newly elected officers, a list of whom was published in last evening's "News." Following the installation the exercises were closed with singing: "God be with us till we meet again."

This afternoon the nurses are enjoying an automobile ride about the city, and will be entertained by Maj. May at Fort Douglas where they will be treated to a musical and dress parade. This evening they will be tendered a musicale at the Tabernacle and tomorrow morning will go to Davis county where they will be guests of Miss Chase, one of the nurses. There they will be served luncheon and upon their return will be entertained by Mrs. Lacey, the newly elected president, at her home, 22 Delmar avenue.

STRENUOUS WIFE DRIVES HIM OUT

Andrew G. Anderson Compelled To Sleep in Cellar or The Garret.

CHASES HIM WITH A KNIFE.

Lively Incidents Connected With Marital Bliss Are Ventilated in the Divorce Court.

From the answer filed by Andrew G. Anderson to his wife's suit for divorce this morning, it appears that he was compelled to sleep in the garret and seek refuge in the cellar to escape the wrath and violence of his wife, Mrs. Emily O. Anderson, his wife, charged him with cruelty and drunkenness and in turn he makes the same charges against her.

He charges her with associating with men and women who drink and says that she stays away from home several days at a time. When she comes home she makes life miserable for him. On several occasions, he says, she has beat him, thrown dishes at him and driven him out of the house. He has slept in the garret and the cellar a number of times. Recently she chased him out of the house with a knife. When he hid in the cellar and shut the door, locking it from the inside, she held him a prisoner there for hours. They were married 10 years ago and have several children.

PETITIONS FOR ALIMONY.

Mrs. Mary E. Angell filed a petition for her suit for separate maintenance against Albert F. Angell this morning. In the petition she asks that she be allowed $75 a month alimony and $20 attorney's fees during the pendency of the case. Her complaint is that she has been deserted for several months ago. She charges Angell with desertion. They were married on Aug. 7, 1904.

SAYS HUBBIE IS JEALOUS.

Mrs. Annie Irene Nuttall Defends Her Character in Court.

Mrs. Annie Irene Nuttall, a young and pretty fair-skinned, defended her character against the accusations of her husband in Judge Lewis' court this morning when her suit for separate maintenance was called up for hearing on the order to obtain temporary alimony and attorney's fees. While her husband, John F. Nuttall, who is employed by the Utah Light and Railroad company, charges her with infidelity, she declares he is extremely jealous and that his charges are unfounded. She admitted taking dinner with her employer on one occasion, however, and wearing his suit.

Nuttall is making a fight for the possession of his son, 3-years-old, and is attempting to prove that she is not a proper person to have the custody of the child. In her testimony this morning, Mrs. Nuttall declared that her husband and his folks were turning her child against her. She said that her mother-in-law charged them 50 cents a day for taking care of the child when they were both working to obtain money to buy furniture. For more than four months, she says they have quarreled repeatedly and that her husband denounced her and tormented her on account of it. She said that she was unable to live with him any longer, her testimony occupied the attention of the court during the entire morning session of the court.

COURT NOTES.

Joseph M. Mariott and William H. McIntyre have brought an action against A. & J. McDonald and the Utah Savings & Trust company, and the Utah recovery damages in the sum of $430 for dumping gravel on a lot. It is alleged also that the defendants tore down a fence, a shed and a chicken coop of the value of $100.

The supreme court yesterday granted a writ of prohibition returnable Sept. 1909, upon the petition of J. M. Whitmore, plaintiff, against Carbon county and the county commissioners. The writ restrains the editorial from the "Deseret News" from publishing $40,000 worth of bonds which were issued following a special election. The bonds were issued to erect a courthouse, but Whitmore claims that there are many irregularities in the publication notices and the method of holding the election.

TOILERS SERENADED.

Modoc Club Breaks Into the Privacy Of a Newspaper Office.

All operations tending towards the production of the regular hour this afternoon of the "Deseret News" were temporarily suspended for some time this morning, when the famous Kansas musical organization, the "Modoc Glee club," crowded into the editorial rooms and compelled the cessation of the news. The "boys" sang perhaps as they have never sung before, and in a short time the occupants of every department of the Oregon Short Line offices from the second to the sixth floor of the building had crowded into the halls and doorways in the editorial department.

The Modoc club has come to be regarded almost as one of the permanent features of the Grand Army encampments, having attended so many of them. The club has been the recipient of the camps and other meetings during the week, always being received with pleasure.

BEWARE OF METER READER!

Bogus Gas Company Employee Has Been Turning Burglar Tricks.

The house thief who, under the guise of a gas meter inspector, has been operating in Salt Lake for several weeks past and has created a list of victims, was run down last night by Officer C. R. Riley and Special Officer C. R. Riley.

The man, who gives his name as Charles S. Coyne, was caught shortly after he had stolen a gold watch and other articles from a jewelry store in the home of Mrs. Chatham, 644 South Temple street. When taken to the station the watch was found upon him, and later Mrs. Chatham identified him as the man who had called and entered the house under the pretense of reading the meter.

Coyne, the "gas meter man," has been effecting entry into residences under the pretext of inspecting or reading the gas meter. In the present instance he was caught in the act of burglarizing the home of Mrs. Chatham, who was awakened by the noise of his tools.

Coyne is being held without complaint pending his further identification by other victims of the "gas man."

"CORIANTON" FOR THE G. A. R.

A complimentary production of "Corianton" this afternoon at the Colonial at 2:30 p. m., to the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, bids fair to be a grand success.

At the instance of Joseph E. Taylor, president of the Deseret Dramatic syndicate, and cheerfully responded to by the members of the company, "Corianton" is being presented at the Colonial at 2:30 p. m. on the evening of August 13th, in honor of the old soldiers of 1861-1865, now in encampment in our city.

No tickets have been issued; the brass G. A. R. button worn on the lapel of a coat entitles the wearer to a seat with the privilege of one lady to accompany him to the play.

"HOUT, MON!"

Inspired by the tunes of bagpipes under such able manipulation as can be given by pipers Ben McPhie and Joe McPhie, the Scots in the Thistle Club will make a most enjoyable evening of it on Wednesday, Aug. 18. The club will run a special excursion over the Denver & Rio Grande to the Hermitage in the morning and goes to meet the Scots of Ogden.

In the afternoon and evening a program will be rendered consisting of Scottish songs and recitations, and dances will be given, including the highland fling, sword dance, reel o' tulla, sailors' hornpipe and Irish jig.

JUVENILE COURT.

Judge Gowans disposed of seven cases yesterday in the juvenile court, the last session at which he is likely to preside. Maggie Smith and Sarah Hopper were adjudged delinquent for general incorrigibility and ordered committed to the Utah reformatory school. The five children of Mrs. Peter Connell were taken in charge by the court. If the mother can show that she is capable of having the custody of them, they will be returned to her care.

UTAH DAY AT THE FAIR.

And the Beehive State is Being Extensively Advertised in Consequence.

The department of publicity of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle of which Will F. Thompson is in charge, has mailed to every daily newspaper in America news items regarding the fair. The latest contribution is devoted to Utah week and the item, which was received in this morning's mail is as follows:

Seattle, Aug. —The public building of Utah at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition will be the place of the Utah day at the fair. It will be especially decorated in Utah colors and will be turned into a huge reception hall for the visitors.

One of the largest delegations which has attended the exposition on any state day will arrive from Utah on a special train at 10 o'clock on August 25, which is Utah day at the fair. It will be especially decorated in Utah colors and will be turned into a huge reception hall for the visitors.

The address of welcome will be given at the exposition grounds near the athletic stadium. They will give an exhibition drill in the stadium on the state day.

Much interest has been exhibited in Utah over the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition and that state has erected one of the most novel and attractive buildings at the exposition.

WHO KNEW WM. PROCTOR?

Although nearly half a century has passed since John Proctor, 814 west Eighth South street, last saw his brother, he continues to hope that he may yet find him. In a letter Mr. Proctor says that his brother, enlisted in the American navy during 1864, and served on the United States ship St. Mary. He declares that he has never been able to find out anything as to what became of either the ship or the man. Mr. Proctor says that his brother's name was William, and he hopes that some of the veterans now visiting the city will be able to give him some information concerning him.

HE CRADLED WHEAT IN SALT LAKE, 1849

David Corsaut Dropped In on Celebration Two Years After Pioneers Came.

Among many other interesting visitors is David Corsaut, originally of Illinois, but now of Delta, Colo., where he is engaged in raising fruit. Mr. Corsaut is 35 years of age, but does not look to be a day over 60. He came here in 1849 and happened to walk down from the mountains on July 24th of that year, when the pioneers were holding a celebration. He had crossed the plains on his way to California, and had followed the old Mormon trail.

"When I looked down from the hills and saw the people, I wondered what was going on. I came down and found they were having a celebration. They were mighty poor but that did not prevent them from having a glorious time. While I was looking on at the fun a man slapped me on the back and said: 'Hello, Dave.' I looked around and it was Jake Seecrest. He introduced me around and then demanded that I 'cradle' his wheat. This I did and we had a great time during the five days I was here. Yes, I knew Brigham Young and heard him preach. He was a grand man."

"Salt Lake City is the greatest young city I have seen. The Mormons treat me as well as I was ever treated in my life and I shall never forget their kindness. This is going to be the biggest city in the west, and that before long."

COVERED HERSELF WITH REAL GLORY

(Special Correspondence.)

OGDEN, Aug. 13.—That Salt Lake City has established a reputation as a convention city is the verdict of many of the business men and prominent citizens of Ogden who have visited the capital during the past week. Not only has Salt Lake City established this record, but it has also caused the bond of good fellowship and best wishes between the two towns to become ever-lastingly welded. Nowhere in Ogden can one hear anything but praise of Salt Lake City on the manner in which they have taken care of their guests.

The G. A. R., and their friends who accompanied them to Utah.

In a communication to a local paper Dr. A. S. Condon takes exception to what had been said of the crowded conditions in Salt Lake. The article is as follows:

"I hesitate to butt into public notice, but duty is duty. You have sure been misinformed in regard to the way Salt Lake City is behaving during the meet of the G. A. R. I have been to Ogden and I mean in comparison to Ogden, of course."

"It has been necessary for me to spend much time in Salt Lake City during the last two weeks, and I have also been fortunate heretofore in being at many national encampments, and other conventions, from San Francisco to Portland, Maine, and I have never seen more regard and solicitude shown the stranger in any city than has been at all times manifested by Salt Lake City toward their guests."

"I have dined and lunched at most of their hostilities, have seen and noted with interest their anxiety to be real whole-souled and generous hosts, and have heard their praises from the tongue of almost every state in the Union. In fact, there has been nothing but praise, and I have had my ear to the ground more than once to catch, if possible, one discordant sound, but I have not heard it except here in Ogden."

"I have seen the most ready and refined hospitality from every one, from the bootblack to the rubicon landlord, of both sexes, everywhere, and everybody seems to appreciate it."

"The undertaking was enormous and well has Salt Lake City acquitted herself. She has covered herself with glory at this trying time where much was expected, let her reap her reward ungrudgingly, it will do Ogden no harm. Here and there a crank may raise his voice, but let it not be heard in Ogden. Some men will kick when they get to heaven and roar for an extra string to their harp."

"I am not in the pay of Salt Lake City, but for God's sake let us have peace." (Signed) "A. S. CONDON."

BADGE LOST.

Edward Johnson of Albuquerque, N. M., reported this afternoon the loss of his past post commander's badge. The badge is of the department of New Mexico, its ribbon having a maroon edge. Mr. Johnson resides at No. 310 West Silver avenue, Albuquerque, and will be grateful for the return of his badge should it be recovered.

RESUMING THE NORMAL.

Beginning tomorrow morning, the local hotels will be able, in a measure, to care for their regular patrons as in times of yore, as many of the veterans and their wives are making preparations to leave the city. Reservations for tonight's trains and for tomorrow morning were made by the dozens at the various hotels and it is expected by

Hoover, Chicago; Mrs. Agnes Davis, Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. Mabelle Gooding, Somerville, Mass.; Mrs. Alice C. Johnson, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Linda B. Schulz, Cincinnati, Ohio.

The newly elected president will appoint her staff this afternoon, the official titles of which are guide, assistant guide, guard, assistant guard, and the Jesse Benton Fremont tent of the department of California presented the retiring president, Miss Hoover, with a fine leather sofa, pillow ornamented with the typical flowers of the state, and the Jesse Benton Fremont tent of the department of California presented the retiring president, Miss Hoover, with a fine leather sofa, pillow ornamented with the typical flowers of the state, and the Jesse Benton Fremont tent of the department of California presented the retiring president, Miss Hoover, with a fine leather sofa, pillow ornamented with the typical flowers of the state.

An interesting feature of the afternoon was the presentation from the national organization to the Mrs. James Tanner tent, No. 1 of Salt Lake of a lovely set of four silken colors as a token of appreciation for the kindly courtesies extended during the week by the Salt Lake sisterhood. Miss Hoover made the presentation speech.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state Thursday by the Sigurd Mercantile company, which is organized at Sigurd, Sevier county, to conduct a general wholesale and retail mercantile business. The incorporators are nine residents of the district and the capital is $20,000, divided into 400 shares, of the value of $50 each. The officers are: Ephraim Dast-rup, president; John F. Chidester, vice president; Ben F. Bickel, secretary, and Martin Christensen, treasurer; these with T. L. Fisher, Lorenzo Nielson and F. W. Sevy, forming the board of directors.

An amendment to the articles of the Prince of Wales Mining and Development company was filed with the county clerk Thursday increasing the capital stock from $10,000, in dollar shares, to $75,000, which is divided into 300,000 shares, of the value of 25 cents each. Fred L. Schrott is president and manager; A. F. Ellegren, vice president, and E. A. Ulrey, secretary and treasurer; these with W. W. and A. J. Ellegren, forming the board of directors.

CITY SCHOOL STATISTICS.

D. H. Christensen, superintendent of the city schools, completed his report yesterday for the last school year, and is ready to submit it to the board of education. It is accompanied by reports from the different principals and supervisors.

The report shows that out of a total school population of 30,114 in Salt Lake City, 16,774, or approximately 50 per cent are enrolled. This is considered an excellent percentage. The largest monthly average number belonging to the schools was 14,748 in the second month. There were 103 pupils graduated from the high school and 946 were advanced to the high school.

In the school year there were 743 pupils who had a perfect record of attendance, not being either tardy or absent. The number of visits to the schools by patrons was 9,894 and a number of patrons visited by the school officers was 1,214.

The cost per capita for maintaining the schools for the school year was $39.99, based on enrollment and $35.93 based on the average number belonging. The cost of superintendence and instruction was $357,427.75, the cost of books and other school supplies, $30,244.94. The estimated value of the school property is placed at $1,749,433.29.

WANTED IN IDAHO.

Owner of Eight-Legged Horse, and Manager Thereof, Held as Prisoners.

P. H. Hackett alias P. H. Woods was arrested yesterday on the charge of burglary while attempting to secure the services of an attorney for Mrs. Margaret R. Ganser, who was arrested the day before for receiving the property which he is said to have stolen.

The alleged crime was committed in Idaho Falls about a year ago. Hackett is charged with stealing about $1,000 worth of men's and women's suits from a tailoring house and part of the property was recovered here in Mrs. Ganser's room. She was arrested, and the sheriff of Idaho Falls is now on the way to Salt Lake to take charge of the prisoners and take them back for trial.

Mrs. Ganser is the owner of the eight-legged horse which is now on exhibition at Saltair. Hackett was her manager. Both were arrested upon information given by the Idaho authorities. Hackett is known here to the police. He once served a 90 days' sentence for vagrancy in the county jail.
