F. B. Weeks of the geological survey, now in service in the southern part of this state, is about to publish a series of papers on water supply.

Col. George W. D. Dorsey is in the city from San Francisco, where he went to be in attendance on the G. A. R. encampment. He will now go to Idaho on a mining trip.

Mrs. Martin Belknap, a trapeze performer in Ringling's circus, was brought to St. Mark's hospital yesterday from Provo with typhoid fever, which the lady contracted while the show was performing in that city.

The contract for the erection of the new jail at Bingham Junction has been awarded by the county commissioners to A. Benson of Sandy. His bid was $2,495. The contract for the plumbing was awarded to J. M. Higley & Co., for $380.

Miss Calnebury of this city was thrown into the lake at Calder's last evening, by the capsizing of her boat. Several bystanders rushed into the water and pulled her out before she suffered any consequences more serious than a thorough wetting.

Sept. O. P. Arnold Jr., of the street car company is "out" a horse and buggy. At 11:30 last night he tied his rig in front of the company's office on First South street, and in half an hour he returned to find an achingly cold $250 vanished. The police are in hot pursuit of the thieves.

The Utah Automobile has arranged a club run to Brockbank's farm for Saturday afternoon, Aug. 22, leaving the Commercial club at 4 p. m., returning, leaving the farm at 5 p. m. Dinner will be arranged for those making the drive and their guests who wish to remain. All automobilists are invited to participate, says Dr. H. S. Scott.

Hon. George M. Cannon has returned from a trip to St. Anthony and Buxburg. He says the sugar beet in that part of the country are looking remarkably fine, although in sections the need of a little more intelligent cultivation is evident. The new local sugar plant is located, Mr. Cannon believes, on the best possible site, and that it will prove remarkably successful.

Mrs. M. Hanson and her six-year-old son arrived in the city yesterday. They were sent back to Butte, Mont., from where they came last night. The reason for their short stay is, that information was received here that Mrs. Hanson was a window smasher and that the Butte authorities had given her money to leave town with. When met at the train by a deputy sheriff she admitted that she had $40. The county commissioners of Salt Lake county had her promptly shipped back.

Supt. Frank Hines of the water department reports today that the reservoir was cleaned out last Sunday in order to insure a better water supply. The rain storm last evening came just at the opportune time. The sprinkling carts have been taken out of the streets today to enable the reservoir to fill. It can be filled at the rate of two million gallons a day, and as it holds about five million gallons, it will be filled in two or three days. This ought to help materially the health of the city and lessen the danger of disease.

ADAMS TAKES HIS OWN LIFE.

Man Who Carved Mrs. Gerald With a Razor Commits Suicide At the Hospital.

DROWNS HIMSELF IN BATHROOM

Was Discovered by a Sister, but He Was Then Beyond Human Aid—A Determined Character.

Andrew Adams finally succeeded in taking his life, at the Holy Cross hospital last evening. Monday last, by the use of a razor, he nearly succeeded in killing himself and also Mrs. Gerald, a woman with whom he was infatuated. The physicians thought he could not live but he began to recover with incredible rapidity. But as his hold on life grew stronger, his determination to carry out his suicidal intent also increased, and last evening about 6 o'clock he slipped into a bathroom, while a carriage was waiting on the outside to take him for a drive, and throwing himself across the tub he fastened his mouth around the spigot and turned the water on full force. Within three minutes he was dead and the nurse was conveyed to Mrs. Gerald who was in an adjoining ward. That woman manifested some signs of regret and of course was naturally shocked and yet she showed plainly the relief she felt and also expressed it. It is perhaps best after all, was her comment. "He was determined to kill himself and me as well as and as long as he lived my life would have been in danger."

ADAMS WAS DETERMINED.

Ever since Adams entered the hospital he repeatedly told his attendants and the doctors that he would finish it yet. On Tuesday he tore the bandage from his throat in an effort to tear open the wounds but they were protected by a plaster cast and he therefore did himself little damage. The following day, while walking about the ward, he stole a knife belonging to a patient and hid it under his pillow. The sister who was attending him found it and took it away before he had time to use it. It seems that he was so fixated in his mind that he was willing to do it in any manner possible.

Yesterday afternoon he told Dr. Beer that he wanted to go to his room in the hospital. He looked after some of his effects. Thinking that it would do him no harm, the doctor drove to the hospital at about 6 o'clock to take the man to his room. Dr. Beer says he saw Adams standing at the window as he drove up, but he turned his back and walked away. The doctor says he went on into the building and noticed a form moving down the hall toward the bathroom. He had a vague idea that it was Adams but at that moment the ambulance drove up with a patient who was in a very critical condition as well as in much pain, so the doctor turned his attention to him.

DISCOVERED BY A SISTER.

About three minutes later a scream was heard emanating from the bathroom. The doctor ran to the door. Where he found one of the sisters struggling in an effort to remove a man's form from the tub. Dr. Beer gave the desired assistance, but it was only the woman he could help—the man was dead. Of course, it was Adams. The doctor explained that she was passing the bathroom a few moments before and heard the water running. She stepped through the door and saw the man lying across the tub with his mouth around the spigot. She then rushed in and tried to get him out of the tub. The bandage was so tight that she could not get him out, and the shock caused her to scream.

Dr. Beer says he never before saw a man who was so set upon his own destruction. "I did all I could to disengage him," said the doctor, "but it was talk for nothing. He thanked me for what he said was my kind advice, but he insisted that it was all off with him and the next time he tried to end it he would carry it through. If anyone had told me that he was going to do it in the way he did, I would have said it could not be done."

WAS MADLY IN LOVE.

Adams told Dr. Beer that he tried to kill Mrs. Gerald because she would not reciprocate his love. He confessed that he thought more of the woman than he did of his life and when he went to her room Monday morning and found her preparing to leave, he thought that they were to be separated. He denied him. He swore upon his oath to Dr. Beer that there had been no criminal intimacy between himself and Mrs. Gerald; that the latter carried for him only as a friend and she thought drove him into a frenzy. He said he returned from Butte a few days ago with quite a little pile of money that he had won at a faro bank. When he saw the long box in the hall, which Mrs. Gerald was packing her things in, he suggested to her that it would make a good coffin for her. Then he told her there would be something doing pretty soon, and when it did start there would be some fun. The woman paid little attention to what he was saying, but he returned to empty some garbage. When she returned, he knocked her down with a catnap bottle and then pounced upon her with a razor. The rest of the revolting story has already been told. The woman will live but she will be disgraced for life, which is a great pity since she was a very beautiful woman.

Adams' body is being held here until word is received from some relatives. Nothing is known concerning the latter except that a letter was found on the person of the deceased from his sister. It was dated from Albuquerque, N. M., and a message has been sent there notifying her of her brother's death.

Tired Mothers.

It's hard work to take care of children and to cook, sweep, wash, sew and mend besides.

It makes a shop of the home—a shop, too, where sixteen hours make a day and yet there is much working over-time.

Good's Sarsaparilla helps tired mothers in many ways—it refreshes the blood, improves the appetite, and assures restful sleep.

DIED THIS MORNING.

John Ferguson Succumbed to Injuries Received While Out Hunting.

John Ferguson of Euroka died at the Holy Cross hospital at 4 o'clock this morning as a result of being shot in the leg while out hunting. The young man, it appears, was wounded at a point 25 miles from his home and was taken to Stockton where it was found that the injury was such as to make his recovery almost impossible. He was immediately done, after which he was brought to the Holy Cross hospital.

VISITING HER OLD HOME.

Cholera Infantum.

This disease has lost its terrors since Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy came into general use. The uniform success which attends the use of this remedy in all cases of bowel complaints in children has made it a favorite remedy for its value has become known. For sale by all druggists.

GIRL'S RASH ACT.

Miss Edna Rolley of Park City committed suicide Wednesday evening at a village named Freewater, near Milton, Ore., by taking strychnine. The girl was living with a Mrs. Gills and went to her room shortly after dinner on Wednesday, where her dead body was found some hours later. No reason is assigned for the rash act, save it that she was despondent over love affairs.

Miss Rolley had lived in Park City nearly all her life and was well known and highly respected there. She was 19 years of age and her parents, who are working people at the Park, are heart-broken over the sad affair. Her letters had never indicated that she was downhearted or despondent but to the contrary she always appeared to be feeling well and in a happy and contented frame of mind. Her remains have been shipped home for burial.

No Substitute Offered.

Say what you will about druggists offering something "just as good" because it takes a better toll, the fact still stands that ninety-nine out of a hundred druggists recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when the case is really one of cholera, and do so because they know it is the one remedy that can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. Sold by all druggists.

One Thousand Dollars' Worth of Gambling Devices to Go Up in Smoke.

(Special to the "News.")

Burke, Idaho, Aug. 21.—The unique spectacle of over a thousand dollars' worth of property being destroyed will be witnessed on the outskirts of Wallace this afternoon. If the order issued to Sheriff Chas. Manley by Judge Moran is carried out, in pursuance to an order of the court the sheriff yesterday returned to Wallace from a raid of gambling dens in this city with a wagon load of gambling paraphernalia, his vehicle being piled high with roulette and four outfits.

Sheriff Manley has planned another trip to Burke today when he proposes to return with a load of slot machines. The property of the green cloth men will then be stacked in a vacant lot under orders from the court a huge bonfire will be started. Judge Moran's order has caused a sensation since procedure being unheard of in the mining camps of the northwest. MAKING A LIGHT WITHOUT HEAT.

The most wasteful, the least efficient of all widely used electrical devices is the incandescent lamp. Of all the power used in producing the glowing filament in the Edison bulb, more than 97 per cent is absolutely wasted, scarcely three per cent appearing in light. This three per cent efficiency of the incandescent lamp compares very unfavorably, indeed, with the 40 per cent efficiency of the gasoline engine, the 22 per cent efficiency of the marine engine, and the 90 per cent efficiency of the dynamo.

The only device now on the market that is known to be due largely to the conversion of a considerable part of the electricity used into useless heat. It was therefore necessary to produce a cool light; that is, a light in which the energy was converted wholly or largely into light rays, and not into heat rays. Mr. Cooper Hewitt turned his attention to the gases. Why, comes not some incandescent gas be made to yield the much desired light without heat?

This was the germ of his idea. He took up experiments with mercury confined in a tube from which the air had been exhausted.

He discovered that when once the high resistance of the cold mercury was overcome, a very much less powerful current found ready passage and produced a very brilliant light. The glow of the mercury vapor. This, Mr. Hewitt says, was the crucial point, the genesis of his three inventions, for all of them are applications of the mercury arc.—Ray Stannard Baker, in June McClure's.

WHITE STILL REIGNS.

White linen and colored linen gowns are exceedingly smart this season, but have been so imitated in cheap qualities and made with such quantities of cheap embroideries that they have lost the distinctive individuality that gave them such a charm last year. The smart gowns and the expensive ones now are, however, exceedingly handsome. They are more elaborate in design and in the manner in which the lace is inserted, showing an originality that is very attractive. The skirts and waists to match are trimmed so that the lines of trimming meet at the belt, and the narrowest possible waist band is sufficient, so as to give the effect of a princess' gown. There are a great many new weaves in the linens; a curious fad is to use linen that looks as though intended for table linen, and has much the same black and white. This, however, is merely a passing fad, and is not a wise fashion to adopt. The plain materials are best, with a little embroidery, provided it is well done. This is better than quantities of machine work.—Harper's Bazar.

THE NEW COURTSHIP.

Time was, before the Age of Tin, When Woman took to Bridge or Euchre, When it was deemed a deadly sin To sully Love with thought of Lucre. Gone are the good old rules; and now The time (in Walker's phrase), manly; Our girls in every lover's vow Detect the possible Levantier; Each careless fragment you indite, The simplest idea, the merest sonnet—Keep it, it is better than quantities of machine work.—Harper's Bazar.
