

Class 6—$50 per month; inexperienced teachers.

Class 5—$60 per month; teachers of one year's experience in the city schools; new teachers who have not more than two years' experience.

Class 4—$65 per month; teachers whose previous salary in these schools was $60 per month, and whose work will not warrant an increase to exceed $5 per month; new teachers of more than two years' experience.

Class 3—$70 per month; teachers whose previous salary in these schools was $60, and whose work was entirely satisfactory; teachers whose previous salary in these schools was $65 per month, but whose work will not warrant an increase greater than $5 per month; new teachers whose experience has been long, and success exceptional.

Class 2—$75 per month; teachers whose previous salary in these schools was $65 per month, and whose work was uniformly excellent; teachers whose previous salary in these schools was $70 per month, and whose work was uniformly excellent; new teachers of long experience, thorough professional training, good scholarship, and undoubted success.

Class 1.—$80 per month; teachers who, during their previous year of service in these schools were of class 2 and whose improvement in scholarship, teaching, skill and power of school management, has been great.

Note 1.—In no case is any teacher during her first year of service in these schools to be paid according to basis of class 1.

Note 2.—Any teacher whose work for a year in these schools shows no improvement, may be retained for a second year without increase of salary.

Note 3.—Any teacher receiving less than $75 per month, whose work is such as to render her ineligible for employment at an increased salary for more than two years shall be deemed unfit for longer employment.

Principals.—The principal's salary as a teacher shall be governed by the rule adopted for assistant teachers. It may therefore be $70, $75 or $80 per month, depending upon experience, success, etc. In addition to his salary as a teacher as above defined, each principal shall receive $50 per year for each assistant teacher in his corps. If then a principal receives $75 per month initial salary, he would in case of three assistants receive $93; six assistants, $105; eight assistants, $115; twelve assistants, $135; fourteen assistants, $145.

In case of teachers whose initial salary should be $80 per month, each of the above would be increased $5 per month, rendering the highest possible salary for principalship of fourteen-room buildings $1500 per year.

High School Teachers—Class 2, $90 per month; inexperienced teachers.

Class 1, $100 per month; experienced teachers during their first year of service in our high schools.

Note 1.—Beginning with the second year of service in this school the salary of each teacher shall be increased $10 per month each year, until a maximum of $140 per month has been reached.

Note 2.—The salary of the principal of the high school, not to be fixed by rule, but adjusted to circumstances.

On motion of Young the following was appended to the schedule:

That on employment of teachers preference shall be given, where efficiency, preparation and experience are equal, to bona fide residents, first, of Salt Lake City, and second of other parts of Utah Territory.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The committee on finance reported that they had audited the teachers' pay rolls for the month ending April 21st, in the sum of $11,651, and directed the issuance of warrants in payment of same. Adopted.

The same committee recommended that no further payment be made to R. M. Wright, contractor for the Washington school building, nor to Bothwell & McCaughy, his bondsmen, so long as there are any filed liens against the building, or garnishments existing against the contractor. Referred to the attorney for report to the committee on sites and buildings.

Dooly offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the committee on sites and buildings be authorized to contract for the addition of three feet to the basement story of the Wasatch school as a cost not to exceed $1500 for the work referred to in the communication of the superintendent of buildings.

F. M. Wright asked that he be allowed compensation for the attic floor in the Nineteenth ward school building. Committee on sites and buildings.

Miss H. S. Dougherty of Eminence, Ky.; Miss Nadine Crump of Cambridge, Mass.; C. V. Fulton of Butte, Mont. and E. P. Thorn of Chicago, applied for positions as teachers. Committee on teachers and school work.

S. C. Lyman applied for a position as janitor. Committee on furniture and supplies.

H. E. Redfield sent in a communication bearing the information that he was and has, for some time past, been a taxpayer, and demanded that the board should readvertise for sealed proposals for the erection of the Oquirrh school building. He also stated that if the board proceed with the erection of the said building without so advertising, he would institute legal proceedings to compel a compliance with the provisions of the statute referring to the same. Committee on sites and buildings.

Appropriations aggregating $8,909.55 were made after which the board adjourned for one week.

NEWS OF THE WEST.

The Walkerville (Montana) Telegraph suspended publication Saturday. It didn't pay.

Johnson and Carr, the two prisoners held for horse stealing, broke jail Sunday night at Casper, Wyoming, but were recaptured Monday and are again in jail.

At Pueblo, Colo., C. L. Hassler, a car repairer, has been instantly killed at the Missouri Pacific shops by a jackscrew slipping and striking him on the neck.

The rumor was again flying around yesterday, says the Cheyenne Sun, that the Burlington had bought the Cheyenne and Northern and would extend that road to Sheridan.

A gold brick weighing 437 ounces, worth $6500, is being exhibited at the Ashland, Oregon, bank as the product of the April run of a five-stamp mill on ore from the Ashland mine. This mine has been the center of attraction in the gold excitement in Southern Oregon during the last few months.

Only twenty Chinese were registered in San Francisco yesterday. Eighty-five applications for certificates were received from the country towns. The total registration in the city has now reached the thousand mark. This is only one-thirtieth of the number of Mongols who are local residents.

Sheridan, Wyoming, Post: The construction train and about fifty track layers came in a few days ago to work on the extension. It is understood that the track will be completed to Tongue river at once, where extension yards and shipping pens will be erected. Beyond this no contracts have been let so far as is known to the general public, but every indication points to the early completion of the road to its northwestern connection.

Joseph Gans, one of Montana's largest sheep raisers, is in Orrin Junction, Wyoming, with 50,000 sheep, states the Cheyenne Sun. Gans is en route from Colorado to Nebraska with them. At this place the sheep were turned out to rest and feed. Sheep Inspector Williams caused him to be arrested for bringing sheep into the county without notifying him. Gans will fight the case, as he claims the sheep are in transit. It will be a test case of the sheep law.

The Sunset Telegraph and Telephone company of Oakland, Cal., has filed a statement with the city clerk showing that the company has expended $13,652 on the underground wire system up to date. This statement was quite necessary because the ordinance granting the franchise required that $10,000 should be expended on the work within a year after the ordinance was passed. The franchise was granted to the company on May 1, 1892. The cables have now all been laid in the main streets and the work of stringing the high poles on each corner will soon be commenced.

On Tuesday afternoon a rather unique robbery was attempted by a drunken hobo, being no less than the stealing of a telephone from the walls of Judge Merrell's office says the Rawlins, Wyo., Journal. The judge was in Louis Schalk's at the time, listening to one of Dr. Rickett's wonderful bicycle romances, and had stepped to the door to laugh, when he caught sight of the man coming out of his office with the telephone under his arm. He promptly collared the fellow, rang for the police on the telephone under the fellow's arm and the enterprising thief is now in jail. What he intended to do with the telephone after stealing it is not known.

Craven Robinson, the 7-year-old son of Richard Robinson, who lives about six miles down the valley from Boise, Idaho, has been dragged to death by a horse. Young Robinson was leading the horse to water. He had the rope wrapped tightly around his right hand. The animal became frightened and dashed off at a furious rate, the unfortunate lad being dragged along behind. The horse sped over the sage brush, kicking the poor boy at almost every jump. When the rope finally gave way the boy was mangled terribly. His head was crushed and there was scarcely an unbroken bone in his body. The sufferer passed away in a short while after the accident.
