Special Correspondence

La Grande, Union Co., Ore., Dec. 7 .--In answer to many inquiries respecting the facilities offered homeseekers in this new Stake of Zion, the presidency of the Stake, F. S. Bramwell, C. W. Nib-ley and L. J. Jordan, have issued a circular briefly outlining the resources of this wonderful and beautiful section of the state of Oregon. Union county covers an area of about 3,000 square miles, and is thus a generprincipality within itself. Its chief products are fruits, cereals of all kinds At present, however, the county does not depend upon the product of its mines for its sustenance and pros-perity, but does beast of its unpar-alleled yield of fruits, its astonishing grain productions, its herds and flocks of sheep and cattle, its forests of valuable fir and pine timber and the im ortance of its sugar beet industry. A ounty carried away a greater number awards for the excellence of its fruit splay than any other county in the inited States. Oregon was honored ith the first premiums for its fruits and it was Union county that earned this commonwealth that great disduction. Thirty boxes of apples to the is maturity, is an expected ield, and as many as forty-six boxes have been taken from one tree. In 1900 fr. C. W. Nessly picked from forty pres 1,120 boxes of marketable apples. SUGAR BEET INDUSTRY.

The sugar beet culture has become an mportant industry in this county, and beet sugar factory of a capacity of 350 tons of beets per day is now in operation here. When properly attended to, beet culture has proven highly profitable, farmers realizing a net profit as constructed of brick, are of superior architectural appearance, and in them all branches of mercantile pursuits are represented. There are two national banks—the La Grande National bank and Farmers and Traders' National— each with a capital of $60,000.

While fortunes may not be plucked rom the branches of the trees, a plethora of opportunities are call, as plethora of opportunities are offered for obtaining homes that for ds-sirability are not excelled, perhaps, on this continent, but they are not tossed with reckless abandon into the hands of any person or every individual who

NEW COURT RULE. The following card has been issued to the members of the bar, by County Clerk Hollingsworth, under direction of ure through leaving the warden's hands. "There have also been improvements made during the year as follows: Four wheels in the factory race have been acreened in June of this year; fish runway at power dam in Provo canyon re-paired, but not as directed by the coun-ty warden. I look upen the condition of the power dam in Provo canyon with its auxiliaries as a menace to the trout and herring of Provo river." Seventy-seven bass (spawners) and forty last spring fry have been furnish-ed to stock private ponds throughout the state. Fifty carp have been fur-nished for the same purpose. Injured fish have been condemned and sold during the year to the value of $8.10. Three persons have been arrested for violat-ing the fish and game law, convicted and fined in the sum of $10, $12, and $15. Total collected in fines, $37.

per acre from their growth. To this industry it is desired to call special attention here. There are forin it for all who may come here with a ready capital of from, say, $1,000 and upward. The land is here and may he had at reasonable cost. Tillers are needed now, for these garden , rich as the far-famed valley of he Nile.

There should not be an idle acre of and in this county that is susceptible of cultivation. There are fortunes for the farmer in this county, and they may had with but a modicum of ef-. Immigration of this class is urgnvited. Magnificent rewards are awaiting all industrious citizens who may cast their lots with the most generous and hospitable people now residing here.

STOCK GROWING.

Emphasis should also be placed on the advantages of Union county as a stock growing section. Nowhere can lities of large returns are guaranteed those of poultry and hog raising. In the poultry and egg business there has never been a time when the supply equaled the demand. Besides shipments to Portiand there is an ever constant market to the surrounding mines. The average price of eggs is 25 cents per dozen; never has the price been less than 15 cents per dozen, and very often the price has been 40 to 50 cents per dozen. Poultry has never sold for less than $3 a dozen. Dressed poultry sell-ing readily at from 40 to 50 cents each. furkeys and ducks sell at 15 to 16 cents per pound. Raising swine for the market is an-

ways healthy here and the price seems uniform at 5 cents per pound live

With the possibilities thus presented, one can readily see that if in order to procure a home in this "Eden of the West" it is necessary to shoulder a reasonably heavy indebtedness that there is every chance to be relieved of this burden by the product of the soil. When one can acquire a home in a sec-tion of the module to be a section of the country known for its fer-tillity and where a ready market for every kind of product has been estab-lished at but a small advance in price above desert land, without the consequent inconveniences, one can readily see the advantages Grande Ronde Valey offers The altitude of this valley is about 2,700 feet above the sea level with cli-mate similar to Salt Lake City, Utah, with perhaps less severe frosts during the winter months and the summer nights a little cooler. The former is doubtless due to this being lower, and the latter to the fact that this vallev is much more moist and naturally the atmosphere becomes cooler. About ore-third more rain falls here during conths of May and June than in Utah. Itah. Another important feature of this famous valley is that it is surrounded with extensive forests and numerous sawmills are catering to the demands of the populace, and good common lumber is obtainable at $5 per 1,000 feet

Good schools are established every two miles and the people of this sec-tion are strong supporters of educa-The peope are generous and sodesirable people to have as neighbors.
