

ENCOURAGING
NEWS FROM CUBAPresident's Cabinet Expects to Receive It Today.

UNITED STATES' ATTITUDE

On Platt Amendment—It is Firm and Unyielding—Date of Election Depends Upon the Cubans.

New York, June 11.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says: In spite of statements of cabinet officers to the contrary it is believed that their call on the President last night was not strictly social. Vague hints are given that matters of public interest pressing for attention impelled the President to summon his advisers around him and naturally it is generally surmised that something has occurred in Cuba which the President wanted to lay before the regular session of the cabinet, so that they may have the subject well digested before being called to account on it.

At its meeting today (Tuesday) the cabinet will receive rather encouraging reports from Cuba. Late dispatches from Gen. Wood indicate that two or three members of the constitutional convention who at first were most active and outspoken in their hostility to the Platt law are now about to align themselves with the supporters of that law and it is strongly intimated as probable that if a final vote is reached in the convention this week, the Platt law without modification or qualification will be incorporated into the constitution of Cuba. The sharp note, the secretary of war set forth plainly and unequivocally the attitude of this government as firm and unyielding.

This note apparently has made it plain to the leaders of the radical party that in the end they would suffer in power and prestige by being exposed as the real and only obstructionists of Cuban independence. It is said that they are languishing, whose incendiary message to his constituents on the occasion of the adoption by the convention of the Platt law in modified form is generally regarded on the island as a piece of about the only radical who is still holding out uncompromisingly against acceptance.

It is not expected that at its meeting the cabinet will make any further announcement in respect to Cuba, nor is it likely that any news will be given concerning its deliberations on that subject.

It is more than likely that in view of the changing mood among the constitution makers at Havana the call to discuss the form and date of promulgation of the electoral law for the first general election and the organization and equipment of the Cuban republic. It is known that both Secy. Root and Atty.-Gen. Knox have been giving this phase of the subject considerable attention in detail in the last few days; before the secretary of war left Washington for the Buffalo exposition and the attorney-general conferred on this matter at the request of the President. Before the convention at Havana manifested a disposition to trifle with the Platt law it had been hoped in Washington official circles that the Cubans would be ready to hold their first general election by the first of October or the first of November next. If the convention conforms to the Platt law within the next two or three weeks, it is considered probable that the election plan can be carried out by the original date. If this should be done, it is believed that the President in compliance with the Platt law would be able to withdraw all American troops from the island soon after the holding of the election, and that by next spring the Cuban government will be wholly in the hands of the Cubans. In the meantime a joint commission representing the two countries would be formulating some scheme of reciprocity, on which Congress could act and thus Cuban serious economic problems would be far advanced toward solution about the time the island attained independence and sovereignty.

THE SULTAN'S ENVOYS.

Their Reception at St. James Palace a Unique Function.

New York, June 11.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: The reception of the envoys of the sultan of Morocco at St. James palace was a unique of the kind, even for the oldest of the monarchs who had witnessed all ordinary experiences at court. The envoys were habited in white and decorated them to the king in ornate style. Sir William Colville conducted them to the presence of the king and on an address of congratulations with eastern imagery was presented. The queen was present and witnessed the function of investiture which followed the king's reply. This special audience was staged managed with an unusual degree of stateliness. The house in Lancaster gate, where the special embassy will be lodged until the end of the month is eagerly watched by a crowd of onlookers whenever the royal carriages. The Moors have not yet been to the Alhambra, but they are using the military tournament and are the best town shops.

Payment cannot be with the court in interesting episodes, for there is nothing livelier going on at Westminster than budget alterations based on the relative sweetening power of sugar and glucose with expedients for the relief of the nation and for abating the quality of the pure beer people. But at the Guildhall greater London is holding a two nights' fete. The lord mayor and corporation are entertaining on two successive evenings the mayors and councilmen and officials of the galaxy of cities treated from the nebulous conditions of vestry government. There are five thousand guests including the wives and daughters of the borough magnates and two military bands and the services of the entire Guildhall school of music are required.

BEVERIDGE'S SCHEMES.

After Russian Concessions for Trans-Pacific Steamship Line.

New York, June 11.—A dispatch to the Tribune from St. Petersburg gives additional information regarding the attempts of Senator Beveridge to secure from the Russian foreign ministry concessions for steamship service between Vladivostok or Port Arthur and San Francisco over or carrying trans-Pacific mail in connection with the trans-Siberian railway, which will be completed by the end of this year, he thought.

YOUNG ARTIST

SAYS:

"I Give Peruna My Highest Endorsement. It is Well Deserved."

(To The Peruna Medicine Company, of Columbus, Ohio.)

President Jacksonville Art Club.

Miss Sophie B. Smith, President of the Jacksonville Art Club, writes from 17 W. Adams street, Jacksonville, Fla., as follows:

"From bad to worse is the story of a hard cold when it settles on the lungs and spreads catarrh through the system. From sick to well is the story when you use Peruna. I have tried it twice and each time I had a hard cold, and although one was in midsummer and the other in mid-winter Peruna cured me each time. I give it my highest endorsement—it is well deserved."

—Sophie B. Smith.

A UNITED STATES SENATOR'S WIFE PRAISES PERUNA.

Mrs. F. E. Warren, wife of the late Governor and now United States Senator F. E. Warren, of Wyoming, writes the following voluntary testimonial to the value of Peruna. She says:

"I am never without Peruna either in my home or in my travels. It is truly a great triumph of scientific medicine. I am constantly troubled with coughs, colds, etc., but thanks to your good medicine Peruna, I always find a prompt cure. I believe no medicine ever brought before the public has effected so many permanent cures as Peruna.—Mrs. F. E. Warren, 1849 Wyoming St., Washington, D. C.

Catching cold in the summer is a more frequent occurrence than is more generally supposed. Winter is generally supposed to be the time for colds. But cold nights alternating with hot days, sudden showers following sultry heat, profuse perspiration and cooling draughts, are all peculiar to summer, which causes a multitude of people to catch cold.

Summer colds require prompt treatment. They are always grave, and the Mongolia, each 345 feet long, of 5,000 tons burden, 4,075 horse-power and sixteen knot speed, are building at Trieste, Austria, for the East China Railway company, which already has a fleet of twenty-eight steamers for the Yellow sea traffic.

The Manchuria has already been launched and will be delivered to the Russian commissioners in July. The Mongolia will be finished in the autumn. The opening of the new service has been fixed for December. The passage between Vladivostok and San Francisco is expected to occupy twelve days. The Trieste Shipbuilding company has just signed a further contract with commissioners of the Russian government for the construction of two other steamers of 5,000 tons and 400 feet long for the same service.

BOER PEACE PROPOSALS.

New York, June 11.—Commenting upon the report that the Boers have brought Boer peace proposals from her husband, the London correspondent of the Tribune says: The Netherlands consul is reported to be the intermediary by whom peace negotiations are carried on. The plan can be carried out by the original date. If this should be done, it is believed that the President in compliance with the Platt law would be able to withdraw all American troops from the island soon after the holding of the election, and that by next spring the Cuban government will be wholly in the hands of the Cubans. In the meantime a joint commission representing the two countries would be formulating some scheme of reciprocity, on which Congress could act and thus Cuban serious economic problems would be far advanced toward solution about the time the island attained independence and sovereignty.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Bids That Were Accepted by the Board of Public Works.

At its special meeting last evening to award contracts for sewer construction and vitrified pipe intake flumes for the tanks in City Creek canyon the board of public works let to the Red Wing Pipe company of Red Wing, Minn., the contract to furnish about 14,000 feet of sewer pipe at $1.18.83, this being the lowest of the four bids. The N. P. Glann Construction company of Chicago will handle the laying of the pipe for the balance of this year, at an approximate cost of $13.75. This combination will save about $85 to the city and abutting property owners, as the next lowest bid was $13.26 by Keefe & Rush for work and material. This firm made the only bid for the vitrified pipe flumes, $2.34 being $1.05 for District No. 3, and $1.31 for District No. 4, and the contract was awarded to it.

F. J. Fabian has been appointed by the Mayor acting chairman of the board during Mr. Dooly's absence in the East for the rest of June.

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI.

Warm Welcome Given to the New Class of 1901.

The Salt Lake High School Alumni association held its annual reunion last evening in the High school building, and initiated and welcomed the class of 1901 into the association.

The assembly hall never looked more beautiful than it did last evening. From the center of the ceiling long streamers of red and black, the High school colors, were draped to the sides of the wall. The front wall was draped with a red and black and an American flag, and on the board was drawn a skull and the words "Welcome—Boers."

Around the sides of the room were eight pretty booths, one for each class that had graduated. These booths were decorated with the respective class colors and were used as class headquarters.

FUMIGATE AND DISINFECT.

Doctor Seymour B. Young Tells How to Prevent Spread of Smallpox.

Says Vaccination Alleviates but Does Not Prevent—Cleanliness and Fumigation Effective.

To the Editor:

It seems to be necessary to call attention to the fact that Salt Lake, like New York and Brooklyn, has been and is now infected with smallpox. I quote from the Deseret News on "Smallpox in New York": "But occasion is taken to point out the fact that New York has a number of cases scattered all over the city, including Brooklyn; the prediction is also made that there will be a greater outbreak in the fall."

These warning notes should be heeded, not only by the great commercial city, but Salt Lake should also begin to look about her and consider well what steps have been and are being taken to stamp out the disease; for like New York Salt Lake has had many cases scattered all over the city and so far your correspondent knows measures are not being taken to eradicate the disease, and the prospects now are that there will be an epidemic of smallpox as soon as winter comes again.

Smallpox has been called a winter disease, and properly so, for the closing up of windows and doors to exclude the wintry winds and the huddling together of families around the fires of the kitchen or living rooms, is calculated to foster conditions favorable to the propagation of this most loathsome of all the eruptive fevers. Now is the time to adopt measures looking to the prevention of future outbreaks. Vaccination has been recommended and enforced so far as our health officers have had the power to enforce it, and when a case has been discovered, other quarantined homes or sent to the pest house, which measures are very well so far as they have gone, but it is thought that while these measures should not be neglected others of greater importance should not be overlooked.

The old adage that eternal vigilance is the price of safety should be well remembered and acted upon and lived up to as the only sure means of ever stamping out so contagious a disease as smallpox. It is a point to be no doubt a good illustration of how to fight successfully contagious diseases: In a small town in Colorado three cases of smallpox in a few days had caused the families to be quarantined. The families were moved to a small house, which was disinfected, and the patients were placed in a small room, where they were kept under strict quarantine, and the families were moved to a small house, which was disinfected, and the patients were placed in a small room, where they were kept under strict quarantine.

sometimes dangerous. The promptness and surety with which Peruna acts in these cases has saved many lives. A large dose of Peruna should be taken at the first appearance of a cold in summer, followed by small and repeated doses. There is no other remedy that medical science can furnish, so reliable and quick in its action as Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

The rostrum was handsomely decorated with palms and a candle to represent each class was burning with the exception of the '01 candle which was lighted by a member of the class after their reception into the hall.

About three hundred members of the association were present at 9 o'clock when all the lights were turned down and the class of '01 was ushered into the hall in darkness. Presid. at Will McCrea and a member of each class welcomed the new members. Waldemar Young acted as sponsor for the new Alumni members.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Delightful music was furnished by Haderich's orchestra and Franklin served dainty refreshments. The evening was a success.

PUBLIC LIBRARY REPORT.

The annual report of the Salt Lake public library has been issued by the librarian, Miss Chapman. It covers the twelve months ending with May 31, 1901, and shows that there were in the library at that time 13,574 volumes; 430 books have been worn out and 88 were destroyed by the health department; 2,602 volumes have been purchased, 238 were gained by binding up magazines and 114 were donated. There are now 10,073 borrowed cards outstanding and during the year books have been loaned at the rate of 252 per day, or an aggregate of 73,349, while an average of 129 persons had daily consulted volumes in the reference department. It is estimated that 113,699 visitors came to the library in the twelve months.

What S. S. S. Does
for Children

Children are constantly exposed to all sorts of diseases. The air they breathe is filled with germs, sewer gas and dust from the filthy streets are inhaled into the lungs and taken into the blood. At the crowded school rooms and other public places they come in contact almost daily with others recovering from or in the first stages of contagious diseases. You can't quarantine against the balance of the world, and the best you can do is to keep their blood in good condition, and thus prevent or at least mitigate the disease. You have perhaps learned from observation or experience that healthy, robust children (and this means, of course, children whose blood is pure) are not nearly so liable to contract diseases peculiar to them, and when they do it is generally in a mild form. On the other hand, weak, emaciated and sickly ones seem to catch every disease that comes along. This is because their blood is lacking in all the elements necessary to sustain and build up the body. Poisons of every description accumulate in the system, because the polluted and sluggish blood is unable to perform its proper functions.

Such children need a blood purifier and tonic to give strength and vitality to their blood, and S. S. S., being a purely vegetable remedy, makes it the safest and best for the delicate constitutions of children. S. S. S. is not only a perfect blood medicine, but is pre-eminently the tonic for children; it increases their appetites and strengthens the digestion and assimilation of food. If your children have any hereditary or acquired taint in their blood, give them S. S. S. and write to our physicians for any information or advice wanted; this will cost you nothing, and will start the little weaklings on the road to recovery. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.
