It now turns out that the railroad company that has been helping to pay the government's bill for dredging is the Western Pacific.

Before American Dredging com pany started in on its contract the Western Pacific was planning to build a pier out into the bay along the north training wall, and it wanted the ground filled in so that, with some fur-ther filling, to be undertaken later, it would have a mole similar to that of the Southern Pacific. And it was only by means of its deal with the Western Pacific, by which it was guaranteed 15 cents a cubic yard for all material dredged, that the dredging company was able to make such a low bid for the government work and secure the

Thus was evolved a situation quite paradoxical in the extreme. The Western Pacific was actually engaged in paying for the improvement of South-ern Pacific property, for while the dredgings were impounded, to some large extent, on property belonging to the state, the title to some of the prop-erty thus improved rests in the name of the Sauthern Pacific erty thus improved res of the Southern Pacific.

Thus the dredging company, by an arrangement profitable to itself, finds atrangement profitable to itself, finds itself called upon to pull some of the Western Pacific's chestnuts out of the fire. It was only the dredging com-pany that secured an injunction against the Southern Pacific pile-driving activ-lities at the easterly bend of the training wall. On Friday night, when it devel-oned that these operations were deoped that these operations were de-signed to thwart the plans of the Western Pacific.

YELLOWSTONE PARK.

Arrangemens Made to Install Stage Line From End of New Road.

F. Jay Haynes, president of the Yellowstone Park company, is in this city en route to the hig passenger associatton in Chicago, Mr. Haynes announces that no matter whether the Yellowstone railroad is completed by the time the purk is opened next season or not he will at once establish a stage line of Corcord coaches from the terminus. The coaches used by the company last seasan have been shipped from Mon-ida to Salt Lake where they are being overhauled in readiness. It is how-ever, anticipated that the road will be completed in ample time to the ter-minus which will be known as Parkside, Mont. At the present time some 16 miles of the line has been completed and is under operation with trains run-ning to and from the new town of Ashton. Mr. Haynes has caused the print-od cards showing the new line into the park with the stage route taken after passengers have left the cars.

J. P. HOVEY DEAD.

Veteran Master Mechanic Dies in Harness at Age of 84.

Another member of the old Union Active guard has passed away in the person of J. P. Hovey, superintendent of motive power for the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient, who died at Wichita, Kans., last week. He was the oldest man in active service in the country, being 84 years of age when he died. He was the father-in-law of Ed Dickinson, formerly general manager of the Union Pacific and now vice president and general manager of the Orient. He was in charge of the Shoshone (Ida.) shops between 1890 and 1894, prior to that time being master mechanic of the Wyoming division of the Union Pacific at Laramie, and superintendent of mo-tive power of the Union Pacific at Omaha. He was widely known throughout this inter-mountain coun-

Land Owners Getting Ready for a Big Town at Garfield.

The occasion of this is the prospect of a big town at Gar-field, with a gradual building up between that point and Sait Lake City, and taik of a trolley read or two. In this connec-tion there is also talk of laying out north and south streets regularly from Tenth West street to the west bench. If the numbering system employed in many oth-er cities is used, the Point of the Moun-tain will be located at about 155th street.

NEW GAMBLING ORDER.

Places Ordered to Close-Question a To Permanency of Move.

Chief of Police Sheets last night gave orders to close the gambling houses in Salt Lake. It is said that he acted on the advice of Mayor Thompson. Sheets says the closing is to be permanent. Thompson says nothing at all about it. The gamb-lers themselves say it is simply a nour-ish of trumpets at the outset of the new administration and that they will soon be running again as of yore. They refuse to tell what their assurance is or from whom it comes. But they say they have it and with them that is the main thing. The green cloth men declare that there is simply to be a "weeding out." that the "right" men will be able to "run" on the quiet, and that the "wrong" men will have to "run" out of the city, but that there will be mighty few of these. No names are given us to who are to be the favored few. A morning organ today published a car-toon purporting to show the lawless ele-ments fleeing from Sait Lake under the "new order" of things. Inquiry at the railroad offices develops the fact that they had not sold any tickets to gamblers so far as known. It is probably a flight on paper. advice of Mayor Thompson. Sheets sava on paper. To the public the news sounds too good to be true. It remembers that Mayoe Thompson, while chief executive before, gave several orders to close the gambling houses; and it remembers also that after things had "been quiet" for a few days that these establishments lovariably were again opened. Therefore it will take the present "permanent closing proposi-tion" with a liberal dose of sail.

Few are entirely free from it. Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of moving to Utah from St. Louis. Mr. Caine, said he, from a humble begin-ning, had risen to prominence, and there are but few homes in Utah or surrounding states where he is not per-sonally acquainted or known by repu-tation. No matter, said the speaker, in what capacity he was serving, whether as newspaper carrier, the di-reator of a hank or in the halls of rector of a bank or in the halls of Congress, his demeanor towards his fellow man has always been of the congenial, whole souled kind that has endeared him to all.

Bishop Clawson wittily recounted ome of the happenings in the old Salt Lake theater days, when Clawson and Caine were the managers, while Mr. Richards told of the work of years by Mr. Caine as delegate from the terri-tory of Utah. After the tables were cleared away the older ones enjoyed themselves in recounting early experiences and listening to the music which was interspersed with dancing by the ounger set.

In appearance Mr. Caine looks no older today than he did 10 years ago, notwithstanding his recent severe ill-ness, and his prospects for another 10 years' lease of life are now very flat-

I beg to call your attention to the Highline and Twentieth ward tanks. These tanks were built in 1890, and were only intended for temporary use, pending the construction of a reser-voir, which was begun but never com-pleted. These tanks, which are wooden, have served their purpose, and are unsafe and were in a dilapidated condition necessitating an expenditure of over $500.00 this year and a large sum will be made for further repairs the near the "dead ends." I would further recommend that on all extensions made in the future a hydrant or valve be placed at the end so that the main can be flushed. As it is now, many of the extensions have no hydrant or valve within 300 feet of the end, thus preventing a proper flushing. Under the present arrangement, the water used for street sprinkling is drawn from the mains by use of the fire hydrants. This plan is very detri-mental to the system, as the hydrants are constantly used during the summer months, and, owing to the inexperience of the men driving the sprinkling carts, the hydrants are broken or damaged frequently; aside from this evil, the large quantities of water taken from the system at the season when the water is needed the most, works great injustice upon the consumers of water, who pay for water that we are un-able to furnish them. This condition could be overcome largely by utilizing the water from the city canal for street sprinkling, by means of constructing a system connected with the canal on those streets where it is practicable, or, if this cannot be done, put cutoffs on all hydrants used for sprinkling and this would save the wear and tear on the hydrants.

COUNTY SHOULD PAY.

I further recommend that the county pay for its water at the county jail and ground; also that the city grave yard pay for the water the same as others. and that the sprinkling department pay for all repairs for hydrants from May to November.

In nearly every city in the United States a charge for water is made for churches and for building purposes, and as a very large amount of water is a charge be made by the city. Aside from the condition stated, I wish to report that the system is in read or the states and states are good order; all hydrants and valves are in good condition.

OUR CLOTHES ARE DISAPPEARING LIKE A FLASH

The people now realize that our January sale is BONA FIDE and that we are giving them some of the greatest bargains ever offered in the city. They have discovered that we are not putting on our counters a lot of shop worn goods and holding back the best garments, but everything in the line of clothing and overcoats is offered at a sacrifice. The fact is we have no old shop worn goods. Everything in the start is we have no old shop-worn goods. Everything is new and up to date. As we have only been in the business 16 months one can depend upon securing the prevailing and most approved styles of clothes at the remarkable prices already announced. Indeed, this is a veritable "carnival of sacrifice. But the stock won't last for-ever, so come carly and secure the great advantages ever, so come early and secure the great advantages offered.
