RAILROAD MACHINISTS GET INCREASED PAY

OGDEN, Nov. 1.—By granting an increase of three cents an hour to the men in the local railroad shops, the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific companies averted a strike, as it is estimated that the men were prepared to walk out this morning. The men have been receiving 25 cents per hour and the decision to increase this amount to 28 cents was reached Saturday at a conference between the railroad officials and the officers of the Machinists' union, held at Salt Lake. The matter has been under advisement by the railroad officials for the past 30 days. It is thought that the officers of the Machinists' union will now make a ballot for a similar raise for their demand for the employment of the Oregon Short Line and Southern Pacific companies.

POLICE COURT HEARINGS.
 OGDEN, Nov. 1.—J. W. Shepherd, charged with highway robbery, was arraigned in police court this morning and after taking the testimony, the court discharged him for lack of evidence to obtain a conviction.

John F. McFarland pleaded guilty to drunkenness and received the customary sentence of 15 or 20 days. Walter J. Franklin, vagrant, was sentenced to 15 days of a fine of $10. George Griffith pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy and was sentenced to 15 days in jail, the court refusing to allow him to pay a fine of $10 on the ground that it would be better for him to remain in jail.

MILL DAM REBUILT.
 OGDEN, Nov. 1.—The old dam situated near the saw mill in Ogden, which has been completely rebuilt during the past few weeks and "Billy" Wilson of the Hiramite, the owner of the dam and mill, says the new dam will last for many years. The dam is immediately above the Perry summer home and is an old landmark in Ogden canyon, having been built over 30 years ago. The mill has saved many millions of feet of lumber and Mr. Wilson says it will save millions of feet more in the future.

VALUABLE FREIGHT TRAIN.
 OGDEN, Nov. 1.—On Saturday afternoon a special train of five cars went from Ogden transferring from the Southern to the Union Pacific company at this point. This entire train was loaded with silk, valued at about $100,000, and is being rushed from the Orient to New York merchants. The cars are built of specially constructed steel and are used exclusively for this purpose. Some time ago a car of silk, valued at $100,000, was totally destroyed by fire at the Union Pacific and after that the railroad companies decided to build steel freight cars for transferring such valuable merchandise over their lines. There is less competition between the Harriman lines, the Hill lines and the Santa Fe system in the handling of merchandise from the Orient, and every effort is put forth to save the cars and to rush them to their destinations.

ALFRED TAYLOR INJURED.
 OGDEN, Nov. 1.—About 2:30 Saturday afternoon, Alfred Taylor of Hiramite, as he stepped from the entrance of the Commercial National bank at the corner of Twenty-fourth and Washington avenues, fell in a faint. His head struck the pavement with such force that it was thought at first the man was dead. He was picked up and taken into the bank and a physician called to attend to him. He was soon revived and able to go to his home, but his face and head are badly bruised from the fall. Mr. Taylor is a man 56 years of age and is very heavy.

FIRST SNOW FALL.
 OGDEN, Nov. 1.—On Saturday, Ogden was visited with the first snow storm of the season and the temperature took a very sudden drop. Overcoats and wraps of all descriptions were much in evidence. The fall of snow in the hills and mountains was rather heavy and it is thought that this marks the end of the beautiful fall weather which has been so much enjoyed for the past two months.

CONVENTION OF FORESTERS.
 OGDEN, Nov. 1.—After a week's session the first national convention of the grazing department of the United States forest service came to a close Saturday, when the convention unanimously adjourned to meet at Salt Lake for the next convention, which will meet in 1910. District foresters and heads of the grazing departments of the various districts of the service have been left for their respective homes.

The object of the convention was to discuss matters regarding grazing privileges on the ranges controlled by the forestry department, by those at the head of the various grazing departments, so that an agreement could be reached as to uniform rules, also to afford opportunity for the interchange of ideas on the forestry service.

A. F. Potter, assistant to Gifford Pinchot, chief forester, came from Washington, D. C., to attend the convention. He says that the convention has accomplished much in the way of regulating grazing allotments in the five forestry districts, and that henceforth similar conventions will be held each year. A number of resolutions and suggestions which were discussed by the delegates to the convention have been embodied in a report which will be submitted to Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot and Secretary of Agriculture Wilson. A resolution of thanks was passed by the convention for the assistance rendered the delegates by the Weber club during the week.

SETTLERS ON MINIDOKA PROJECT WANT WATER

(Special Correspondence.)
 BURLEY, Ida., Oct. 29.—A meeting of the settlers of the south side of the Minidoka project was held Saturday afternoon for the purpose of determining whether the settlers wish to continue on a rental basis of water for the season of 1910, as was done during the past season, or whether they desire the regular construction charges and announced and made payable beginning with the season of 1910.

After considerable discussion, the question was finally settled by the unanimous adoption of the following resolution: Resolved, that we instruct our directors to sign and present to the secretary of the interior a petition asking that the south side Minidoka project be declared open April 1, 1910, and that the first payment becomes due not earlier than April 1, 1911.

Before adjournment the association extended to J. G. Cramer, the retiring engineer, a vote of thanks for the very able and satisfactory manner in which he had managed the affairs of the Minidoka project during the past several years.

MURDER TRIAL AT BASIN, WYO. CREATES AGITATION

(Special Correspondence.)
 BASIN, Wyo., Oct. 28.—The prosecution in the cases of the state against seven prominent cattlemen charged with the murder of Allen and Lazier, sheepmen, is becoming alarmed over the large influx of cattlemen to Basin, and will probably request the governor to send additional troops here at once. There is now a small guard of state troops at the local jail.

The disappearance of William Goodrich and wife, important witnesses, has occasioned much comment, and it is openly charged in the streets that sympathizers of the cattlemen prevailed upon Goodrich and his wife to sell out and leave the country.

One of the latest moves of the defense, it is alleged, is to have the proceedings of the first trial printed in every newspaper in the county in the hope of disqualifying prospective jurors through their becoming familiar with the case and passing opinions.

The prosecution announces that it will endeavor to try the three ring leaders of the raid at this session of court.

The defense is saying little. The defendants do not appear to be worrying much over their fate, and the indications are their attorneys have prepared their cases well and will put up the hardest legal fight ever witnessed in the courts of Wyoming. It is known that the prosecution is relying upon the testimony of witnesses whose evidence will be difficult to refute, and the defense is leaving no stones unturned to counteract this evidence.

Business is practically at a standstill and little else is discussed aside from the trial.

LAST RAIL IN NEVADA LAID

Reno, Nev., Nov. 1.—Late Saturday evening the last rail connecting the two stretches of track of the Western Pacific company in Nevada was laid at a point about 50 miles north of Reno and about 100 miles west of Winnemucca. This completes the Western Pacific road clear across the state of Nevada, and with the exception of about six miles of track between Golconda and Winnemucca which still remains to be ballasted the road is ready for business.

It is not expected that regular train service will be started on the line before the first of next year as but few of the stations and side tracks will be completed before that time. It is said, however, that train service between Winnemucca and Salt Lake City will be started as soon as the ballasting between Winnemucca and Golconda is completed, which will probably be in about a week or 10 days.

A special train containing the Western Pacific officials is expected to arrive in Winnemucca today. For some time past the Western Pacific has been conducting regular train service between Elko and Salt Lake City. Elko is to be the main division point of the Western Pacific in Nevada.

The total cost of the station will be $50,000.

WINTER TRAIN SCHEDULE.
 Trains 200 and 201 running between Tropic and Tintic on the Salt Lake Route have been taken off for the winter. Then on and after today, only one train a day each way, will run between this city and Tintic. This leaves Salt Lake at 7:45 a. m., arriving from Tintic at 5 p. m.

LOOKING OVER NEW LINE.
 While stopping in this city for 15 minutes Saturday afternoon, en route to San Francisco, Vice President Schlacks of the Western Pacific said to reporters: "I am on my way west to see what my new job looks like. The rails may meet any day now, though it will require some time to get the entire line into working condition. Only the president and two vice presidents of the Western Pacific have as yet been chosen, and all announcements made up to date are news to me. In fact, they are wholly without foundation. It is too soon after the stockholders' meeting to have anything to give out; it does not exist to tell."
