

that numbers of rent payers would be compelled to go to the workhouse.

The price of bread is rising slowly in London and the outlook for the winter is not the gloomiest.

Thirsk requires 70,000 quarters of foreign wheat weekly, and in August less than 35,000 quarters arrived per week.

Nineteen loaves of London's bread is made from English flour, and the bakers assert that with flour at the present figure a loaf of bread at 5½d. (11 cents,) will send them into bankruptcy.

DANVILLE, Ky., Sept. 4.—Wilhe, aged 7, and Eddie, aged 9, sons of Matthew Cox, a farmer living near Danville, Taylor county, met death from rattlesnake bites.

They were playing hide-and-seek with some other children and Willie ran into the bushes and failed to reappear at the proper time. Presently Eddie heard cries from his little brother, and went out to him alone, as he at first thought that his head had become fastened in the hollow of a stump. He tried to pull the child from the stump. Eddie discovered that our big rattlers were biting Willie time and again. Badly frightened, but determined to rescue his brother, Eddie ran off in search of a better plan, and was himself bitten repeatedly.

The cries of the two children attracted some men and they were finally rescued from their perilous position, but not until they were past all aid. One died in five minutes and the other in ten.

The four snakes were killed, and it was found that the youngest child had jumped into their nests in the hollow of the old stump.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 4.—Skokawa, an Indian chief, residing in the lower Nicola valley, has been arrested after a hot fight with members of his tribe by the provincial police for killing his aged squaw to a horse by the heels and then having young bucks lash the horse to a gallop with the result that she was dragged to death.

EDINBURGH, Sept. 4.—A snow storm has come over Scotland. The Grampian hills are completely covered with snow.

GLENNWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 4.—The bodies of the twelve miners killed by the coal-dust explosion in the Shubert mine of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company, sixteen miles south west of this city, were brought to this city today and prepared for burial. Coroner Clark empaneled a jury who viewed the remains.

The force of the explosion had completely crushed each bone in the twelve bodies, so that the remains were merely a mass of flesh and bone and as easily filled into a knot as the human body.

Three of the dead miners, Louis and John Annette and John Joachim, leave families.

This mine is the oldest of the Spring Gulch group. Two or three feet below the level of the creek. The slope which proved the death trap of the twelve men is usually the working place of forty toilers. Yesterday the main force were employed in entry

No. 4, 250 feet above the level, when the explosion occurred. The explosion broke away the stoppage from the lower worked-out slopes and the two working slopes were at once filled with the deadly blackdamp. Aids of the force of the explosion can be read when it is seen that the timbers, many 22 inches in diameter, were twisted and broken as though mere planks.

The local superintendent, B. Davis, now lies dangerously ill from the effects of the Blackdamp breathe while lying out the dead bodies.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 4.—The strikers were encamped about the DeArmit mine and out to a mine for the purpose of resuming work at the rate of 65 cents per ton until he could be paid. Paul Trimmo, a district official of the United Mine Workers, was ordered to command of C. M. Determation at Little Creek, said there were to be considerable opposition to the proposed settlement when the convention meets in Columbus next week.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 4.—Broad Ripple, a suburban village, was the birth of two natural gas explosions this morning. Two dead bodies have been taken out of the ruins and fifteen or twenty are badly injured. The business portion of the town is on fire and the city fire department has been called upon for help.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 4.—Two fatal explosions of natural gas occurred at Broad Ripple, a suburban village, this morning. Five are known to have been killed and the seriously injured will number between twenty and thirty. The business part of the town took fire and the large building were destroyed. The city of Indianapolis was called on for help and sent engines and doctors.

The first explosion occurred in J. L. Watt's drug store, from unknown causes. Five were injured there as the building was set on fire. Across the street was the Old Federal building, under which was the P. O. and the fire spread. Grosh and two men went to remove the office stock and groceries, when a second explosion occurred in this building. The walls were blown out and the upper floor fell into the main. Grosh and John Darling, a painter, were taken out dead. The others in the building were badly injured, several of them probably fatally. Nearly every one of them suffered a broken leg or arm.

The fire spread from the Old Federal building and the drug store in every direction. Five buildings were on fire and were doomed before they could be extinguished. The entire community turned out and there was war or all in rescuing the injured or threatened with death by fire. Hundreds for help were sent to the city. The hospital and dispensary doctors took the first Ripple cases and the fire department issued an engine and a non-fire car and left for the mine. The fire was under control at night, with five business houses destroyed.

BARCELONA, Sept. 4.—The chief of police and his assistant went to investigate the investigation into the bomb outrages were shot and seriously wounded last night by a supposed anarchist, who was latter arrested.

POKONA, Cal., Sept. 6.—David Perce, a well-known ranchman near 4th Street is lying in a room from ailing of a mosquito last week. He was cleaning an irrigation ditch at nightfall in his property and was frequently stung by mosquitoes. He sat out at his work and went home. A mosquito in his back is left ear itched him more than all the others. Next day it became somewhat painful and on the following day the pain increased. From that time the wound grew rapidly worse, and for the past two days Mr. Perce has been in constant pain. His head has swollen to the back of his neck, much enlarged. It is believed that the mosquito must have come from the malaria swamp in the ditch.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 7.—The only one known dead was found in a one-room room back in the city last night, killed by a mosquito. He was a blooded murderer, followed by careful observation of the crime. The corpse was decomposed and could be recognized. The body was entirely nude and was lying on the floor of the shanty, a short distance from a door.

The house had been occupied by a gambler, Ben Smith, who traded in no cloth.

The only clue to the identity of the man is that he is too large framed to be a child.

MONTEREY, Cal., Sept. 7.—Twenty-five German families from the East coast will form the nucleus of the German colony which is to be established in Monterey county which will have here about the end of the month. They will settle on 11,000 acres of land between this place and Salinas, near the Java Spruce sugar factory and about 15 to 20 sugar beets.

As a 6,000 acres of the land are ready planted in beets and a portion of the fruit is for sale.

Each family must have at least 61,200 in the crop last year.

LOND N, Sept. 8.—J. Guinness, gray of the G. & M. Co., who is the brother of the late Lord, was the first of the Danaster Sept. 8th in the BRIGMAN YOUNG.

SI MONUMENTUM QUARIS CIRCUMSPICE!

What graven words on marble blocks
Can speak with nature's voice?
The whispering trees and stream that talks
In music was his choice.

With precise mind, a thinker bold,
He saw his life's great work
Fulfilled in blooming fruit and corn
And told where men don't shrink

He chose the desert for his task
Nor feared the winds to blow,
As homes for all who come to seek
In brotherhood's great name.

And shall the man who did so much
For others be forgot
And cease from memory as such
That fill a meaner lot?

Not where the dark green waving boughs
O'er Zion's brooks shall float
Each generous heart to him allows
A Leader's full-voiced vote.

The massive thought, the guiding will
His people yet can feel,
As o'er his city floating still
His spirit's vision steal.
