

SENATE CAN WORK WITHOUT QUORUM

Absence of One Cannot be Noted If Senator is Speaking and Declines to Yield.

RULING TO BE INVESTIGATED.

Senator Nelson Sarcastically Declared Business Interests Need Not be Alarmed.

Washington, June 2.—With the adoption of a resolution providing for day and night sessions, beginning tomorrow, the senate today heard a suggestion of a policy for limiting dilatory motions, which caused an earnest protest from Senator Bacon and others. The vice president, basing his action upon a precedent made in the last Congress, when the Aldrich-Vreeland currency bill was under consideration, held that the absence of a quorum could not be called to the attention of the senate if the senator occupying the floor declined to yield for that purpose.

A REVOLUTIONARY RULING.

Senator Bacon declared this was one of the revolutionary rulings made when the currency bill was under consideration, and that under it there would be a serious abuse of parliamentary rules. He announced his intention to obtain a full consideration of this question by the introduction of a resolution to be considered by the committee on rules.

A long speech, dealing with the pledge of party leaders with respect to a revision of the tariff, was begun by Senator La Follette, and will be continued tomorrow. By newspaper quotations he maintained that no question could be raised as to the pledge of the party for a revision downward, and declared that before he should conclude his speech he would demonstrate that of the whole the Payne bill placed the custom duties above the Dingley rates. Since the enactment of the Dingley law, and until 1904, he said, the control of trusts had been extended to 8664 plants, with a capital of more than three billion dollars.

Senator Nelson also spoke and quoted numerous comparisons between the existing laws and the pending measure with the intention of showing that the cotton schedule rates had been raised from 20 to 50 per cent above the Dingley law by the substitution of specific for ad valorem duties.

Senator Gore quoted dividends and surplus earnings of New England cotton and wool manufacturing companies to sustain his contention that these corporations make large profits, and Senator Nelson replied, declaring that, taking into consideration both successful and unsuccessful cotton and woolen mills, a profit of not more than 6 per cent had been realized by New England manufacturers upon their investments in these industries. Senator Elkins spoke at length, advocating a duty on coal and petroleum.

The cotton schedule was constructively under consideration all day, but no feature of it was voted on.

NEILSON IS SARCASTIC.

Senator Nelson followed: "The business interests of the country need not be alarmed, as their appeals to us for prompt action on the tariff indicates, because there will be no downward revision," he declared after the understanding in his state was that the tariff would be lowered. "The only thing they have to wait for," he continued, "is to see how far they can bear their tariff schedule. At present there is no downward revision that they themselves did not consent to."

Sustaining the contention of Senator Dingley in opposition to the specific duty on cotton, Senator Nelson declared the committee on finance, Mr. Nelson gave extended examples of specific increases and their equivalent ad valorem rates to show that they had been placed higher than in the Dingley law.

"I have demonstrated," said Mr. Nelson, after he had concluded his analysis of the cotton schedule, "that this bill increases all of these duties from 10 per cent to more than 50 per cent over the rates of the present Dingley law."

TARIFF AND MONOPOLY.

La Follette discussed the protective tariff in its relation to monopoly, which he said was a direct result of prohibitive rates of duties. Assuming that 200 manufacturers of shoes came to Washington begging for a hearing before the committee on finance because the tariff makers were obtaining control of the market, Mr. La Follette prophesied that the packers would react out and eventually control not only the tanneries but all the products of leather.

"I would like to ask the senator if this combination of capital which we all recognize as true is not worldwide and is not confined to the United States," said Mr. Dixon. "It is becoming worldwide, and probably in the future will be worldwide," replied Mr. La Follette. "I don't expect to see the trusts of this country controlled by the protective tariff." He added that the additional agreement only exists on some prospects of the United States steel corporation. Senator La Follette turning his argument became somewhat exhausted, owing to the close air in the senate chamber, and a brief recess was taken. When the senate was again called to order Mr. La Follette appeared much refreshed and said that there was no occasion for the anxiety of his friends who feared that he would become exhausted. Mr. La Follette frequently pitched his voice to a high key and became greatly overheated. He was often compelled to gasp for breath, and his pauses marked the progress of his speech.

MISS BEATRICE THAW, HER TITLED FIANCE AND THE BANK IN WHICH HE IS AN OFFICER

Miss Beatrice Thaw is to be married on June 3 to the Marquis Francesco Theodoli. She is the daughter of Alexander Blair Thaw, a half brother of Harry K. Thaw, the slayer of Stanford White. The family has lived in Rome for the last three years, and it was there that Miss Thaw met her future husband. Relatives of the young woman at first offered some objection to the match because of the unhappy outcome of Alice Thaw's marriage to the Earl of Yarmouth, but soon became reconciled and prepared to give her a brilliant wedding. A civil contract in marriage was signed by Miss Thaw and the marquis in London recently, but the religious ceremony will take place at the Thaw villa at Rome, after which the couple will sail for America. It will be the marquis' first visit here. His is one of the oldest families in Italy, and he is an officer in the Bank of Rome. Several members of the Thaw family, including Mrs. Alexander Dow, have gone to Rome to attend the wedding.

ILL TREATED BY POLICE JURY ACQUITS BURGLAR

Chicago, June 3.—A story of ill treatment at the hands of the members of the police department so worked upon the jury in Judge Clifford's court yesterday that it acquitted Max Kaplan of a burglary charge, even after he had confessed to the crime and his attorney had offered to allow his client to plead guilty and submit to a sentence of a year in the house of correction.

Chief among the injustices heaped upon Kaplan at the Harrison street station, where he was confined, was the "cold water cure," according to his story. He claimed that for five days he was prevented from sleeping by policemen who at intervals of an hour threw buckets of cold water over him in his cell.

He also charged that he was beaten with "black jacks" and that officers knocked out several of his teeth by this method. After five days of such treatment, he testified, he was taken before Asst. Chief Schuetler. Several officers were in the room and, fearing further brutality, he stated that he made a signed confession.

ITALIAN COLONIES IN TEXAS.

New York, June 3.—An Italian syndicate has formulated plans to establish two agricultural colonies, each composed of 10 families in the middle part of the state of Texas, according to an announcement made here today. One-third of the amount necessary for this colonization has been subscribed by Texas capitalists, headed by Capt. Nicotini, Italian consular agent at Galveston. The balance has been furnished by a syndicate organized last winter in Milan and headed by Luigi Luzzatti, former minister of finance in the Italian cabinet. The first 200 families are to come from northern Italy, it is understood, and will consist of about 1,000 persons. From this the syndicate proposes to take Italian families from the congested districts in large cities of the United States and establish them on small farms in Texas.

The scheme calls for the establishment by one of the Italian steamship companies of a direct line between Mediterranean ports and Galveston.

USE DISCOVERED FOR SULPHUR WASTE

New York, June 3.—The vigorous campaign which has been waged for 10 years to stop the pollution of lakes and fresh water streams throughout the country, and notably in New York state by the wood pulp mills, is believed to have been terminated by the discovery that the refuse from these paper mills is too valuable as a by-product to be thrown away. Experiments by pulp mills in Clinton county are reported to show that the refuse from the mills which heretofore has been dumped into lakes and streams can be utilized as a substitute for corneal and molasses, used for core-casting in iron foundries and as a top dressing for macadam.

SHORT MIDSHIPMAN WELSH WILL GRADUATE FOURTH

Annapolis, June 3.—Luther Welsh of Kansas City, who had to stretch himself four years ago to get into the naval academy, will graduate Friday as No. 4 among the 174 with a good record in athletics and as drill commander. Welsh passed the mental examination and had the appointment as midshipman within his grasp when it was found he was short by an inch or two of reaching the required height. With great spirit he submitted himself to a specially constructed instrument similar to the rack of inquisition days and pulled out the reefs in his spinal column until he measured up to the full standard of an American midshipman.

CANON HENSON DISCOVERS TARIFF IS LOCAL AFFAIR

Chicago, June 3.—The American congressman who treats the subject of tariff revision solely from the view point of the district he represents might be considered a trifle "unpatriotic" in England. This at least is the impression of Rev. Herbert Hensley-Henson, canon of Westminster Abbey, London, who is in Chicago on a visit to the northwestern states.

"Mrs. Henson and I paid a visit to the house of representatives the other day while Congress was in session," said the churchman. "The debate on the subject of tariff revision—which question also is agitating England—was in progress. I was deeply impressed by the eloquent and logical arguments advanced by members of Congress who took the floor, but there was one point that struck me particularly. Each representative appeared to argue the question solely from the standpoint of the district he represented. And he explained the necessities of that district and told his colleagues how the tariff would affect his people."

S.S.S. THE CURE FOR SCROFULA

The usual symptoms of Scrofula are enlarged glands of the neck, sores and ulcers on the body, skin affections, catarrhal troubles, weak eyes, and general poor health. The inherited poison, transmitted through the blood, pollutes and weakens this fluid, and in place of its nutritive qualities fills the circulation with scrofulous matter, which saps the vitality of the entire system. Thousands of children, born with a scrofulous taint, have spent their childhood in constant physical suffering, and grown to manhood or womanhood handicapped by ill health and stunted growth, and perhaps later some disease of the bones or joints developed. S.S.S., given in their early life, would have prevented this. It would have cleansed and purified the blood of the taint, nourished and strengthened their systems, and assisted each to grow into strong, healthy manhood or womanhood. S.S.S. is the very best remedy for Scrofula. It goes down to the bottom of the trouble, and cleanses the circulation of all scrofulous matter. It supplies the weak, diseased blood with strength and health-building qualities, and under the purifying effects of this great remedy all symptoms of Scrofula pass away. S.S.S. contains no minerals in any form, and is an absolutely safe treatment for children, even infants, or persons of any age. Literature about Scrofula and any medical advice free.

The Bridal Silver

The worth of the bridal silver can only be proven after years of service. Many dealers show only light weights and badly designed and executed patterns which of course sell for less than quality silver, for the same reason that a goat sells for less than a Jersey cow.

Nothing is more humiliating to the giver and recipient alike than to find that the silver which was purchased in good faith and accepted as having substantial worth is light in weight and faulty in design.

Our silver is all made by such factories as Gorham Co., Whiting, and Towle Mfg. Co., and stands the scrutiny of the particular and the use of the rough.

Our prices on silverware are as low as the same quality and weights furnished by anyone anywhere, and all of our best designs are sold locally exclusively by us.

We furnish a seventy-five cent teaspoon or a thousand dollar service on a moment's notice, and everyone knows that our name on a wedding gift is a sufficient guarantee of its propriety.
