 THE dynamite bomb which exploded in the Third District Court room yesterday, was the principal topic of conversation on the streets the rest of the day.
 THERE was a civilized Indian opposite the News office to-day. He and his squaw were walking along and he was carrying their baby, of which he seemed to be very fond.
 THE different architects who are competing in the matter of plans and specifications for the proposed new penitentiary, have concluded their work and will soon submit it.
 JOSEPH BLUNT was called in the Third District Court to-day to plead to an indictment charging him with unlawful cohabitation. He was not present, and is to appear on Monday next at 10 a. m.

 THE meeting of stockholders of the Wasatch Mining Company, which was advertised for Sept. 27th at 6 p. m., in the office of N. W. Clayton, Hooper & Eldredge Block, was adjourned till to-morrow, Wednesday, at the same hour and place.
 THERE are a good many nondescript on the streets, most of them poorly clad and without the means to obtain food and shelter. The worst of it is, they keep coming, though how they get here or what for they never disclose outside the police court, and not always there.
 MRS. AMELIA HOWARTH, of the 17th Ward, has lost a sum of money—$50 gold piece and $2.50 in silver, between Mr. Pomery's house and Main Street. It dropped out from a handkerchief, and those who find such a thing in that neighborhood would do a generous act by leaving it where she can get it, as she is needy and in want of it.
 IN this issue will be found a new and large advertisement of Z. C. M. I., in which some of the classes of goods carried by it are enumerated. In directing attention to it we can but say that no more reliable house exists, and not only does it carry almost everything wanted in ordinary life, but it has an established rule to the effect that it does not propose to be undersold. Its leading idea is to do a fair, square business, without resort to trade baits—reducing the price of specialties, and more than covering the reductions by running up rates on other lines. Even prices is the rule.

LOCAL NEWS.

FINE Publication.—We have received from the publishers, R. A. Y. 2, of the Illustrated News, published at Cincinnati, O. It is a double number and is profusely embellished with engravings of a high class, one in particular—an eight-page bird's-eye view of that city, this being the best thing of the kind that we remember to have seen of late years. It is worth framing and preserving; in fact the whole paper is a model of its class, and during the Exposition now being held there is especially bright and entertaining.
 THE Home Dramatic Club and Conference.—The Home Dramatic Club of this city, whose name is so well known throughout the Territory, have been tendered the Conference dates at Coalville, and will appear in Cluff's Hall several nights, rendering their great success, "The Green Lanes of England," and the huge comedy of "Confusion." Cluff's Hall is a cozy little theatre, having a regular stage, drop curtain, scenery, etc., and a seating capacity of from 400 to 450. The Club will doubtless duplicate their Logan success of a year ago.

THE JONES-TRESEDER TRIAL.

THE EVIDENCE ALL IN—IS IRELAND A PERJURER AS WELL AS CONSPIRATOR?—THE CASE BEING ARGUED.

After the News had gone to press last evening, Capt. J. W. Greenman testified—I went to the Valley House on the 20th of January last, for the purpose of overhauling a conversation; heard Franks and Treseder talking in an adjoining room; I lay down on the floor part of the time; heard Treseder say they wanted to know what was going on in the District Court, and they were willing to give a good price for the information; knew Treseder's voice well; had known him for ten years.
 To Mr. Brown—I was in the Valley House an hour or a little more—fifteen or twenty minutes—before Franks and Treseder came in; I was told during the afternoon the service that would be wanted of me; Franks said he would make any promise until some responsible party appeared to guarantee the money; I don't remember that Franks suggested any names of any he would like as security; am sure that Franks did not mention Jones' name; I believe he did say he would like to have Orson Arnold; don't know why he did; heard him between Ireland and Franks as to any reason they had for wishing to catch Orson Arnold; I recollect bringing Treseder in from the pen in a single buggy, instead of the regular wagon; wanted him in a hurry; I talked about this matter some; I told him I thought it would be better for him if he made a clean breast of it; he said he would once and not him they were after.
 To Mr. Dickson—I think the way Arnold's name came in was that Franks was putting a number of names and asking if they were behind him. I talked with Treseder when I brought him in from the penitentiary on my own responsibility; I had no authority to make any promises.
 Deputy Marshal T. F. Smith was called and testified that on the evening of January 20th, I was in the rest of a saloon on First South—first with Deputy Marshal Ireland, then with Ireland; I saw no one in the room; saw Franks, Treseder and Jones come out of the back door and climb over a board fence; they went down the alley till stopped by another fence, and they then came back and went through the saloon to the street.
 To Mr. Brown.—The yard where we all were is about fifteen or eighteen feet wide; I was about eight feet south of them as they came out, Ireland was fifteen feet from me; still in the hole; Franks got on top of the fence and pulled Jones up; I had not heard of this matter before; didn't know the nature of their business till I went there; saw Franks; we then looked at the room and behind a hole, half an inch wide and an inch and a half long in the wall; I went out and tested the hole; did not look through after I came with Ireland; did not hear of this matter when I signed Franks' bond.
 Mr. Brown asked me worth $10.00. Objected to by the prosecution; objection sustained.
 Witness to Mr. Brown.—Was a deputy about three weeks before Jan. 21st; before that I was in the grocery business.
 Albert Fletcher, W. J. Quillen, James Watson and C. W. Rankin testified to having seen Franks, Treseder and Jones in the Gem Saloon.
 Ex-Marshal Ireland was recalled and testified that he was present at the examination of this matter before the commissioner; don't recollect having seen a postal card with an address written on it; Treseder's memorandum book was placed by me in the Marshal's safe; the postal card was never put in my possession.
 To Mr. Brown.—Have not talked with Franks and Dickson of the testimony in this matter.
 Commissioner McKay was sworn. Before he took the stand Mr. Brown asked him if he had not been in the court room while Mr. Franks was testifying. He replied yes. Mr. Brown then objected to his testifying as he had visited the exciting rule excluding witnesses. Mr. Dickson said he was not aware during the morning that he could have to call the commissioner. There was no violation of the rule. The Judge ruled that he might testify. He said he remembered the postal card with the address upon it introduced as testimony before him. His impression was that he had handed it to Marshal Ireland. He had looked for it since but could not find it.
 The prosecution announced that they rested their case, and court adjourned to 9:30 a. m. to-day.
 This morning the prosecution obtained permission to recall E. A. Ireland, who testified that he had seen the appointment of Franks as bailiff before he was appointed deputy marshal.
 Mr. Brown objected, as the indictment charged Franks had been bribed as a deputy and not as bailiff. Franks had ceased to act as bailiff on May 20th, 1885.
 The objection was overruled by the court, and the testimony allowed to go in.
 To Mr. Brown—I had him sworn in as bailiff; he was drawing pay as bailiff and deputy marshal both up to when I went out of office; I have no record of his appointment as bailiff; he never had a written commission; prior to Franks' appointment I do not know how many I had appointed.
 Mr. Brown moved to strike out this testimony, refused by the court.
 To Mr. Brown—I do not know how many commissions I had appointed; there were less than five whose commissions were unrevoked; Franks held two offices; when I transferred a man to guard I revoked his appointment; I considered his removal from office a revocation of his appointment; they are paid differently; a guard gets $100 a month; Mr. Franks was changed to being a guard, and received pay as such; I re-appointed him bailiff when he came back; I told him he was to be bailiff; I think he was sworn in, but do not know; I have no memorandum of it; I recollect appointing him; do not know when or where he was appointed; do not remember the occasion; he was brought in and set to work.
 E. A. Franks recalled.—After I was guard, before I was made deputy, I was not re-appointed bailiff; Ireland said the law was an appointment; I do not remember the occasion; he was brought in and set to work.
 Mr. Dickson opposed several of the requests made by the defense for instructions to the jury, and in his opening argument reviewed the points made by the defense to convict the defendants.
 Le Grand Young followed for the defense. He argued that it must be shown, to constitute the crime, that the defendants had been appointed; that the agreement was made, which had not been done, and that the defendants were not appointed, as the charge in the indictment was not proven. Every good man would despise the despicable method by which Marshal Ireland procured the commission of a crime. The crime alleged to have been committed was not half so disgraceful as the action of the Marshal and others with him, which because they were making a fight against a certain class of the people, said to themselves, while perverting the law, they would do it; "it don't make any difference what we do we are above reproach, and are above finding out." The officers were not justified in what they had done, for as Judge Zane had said, "The object of the law was to prevent crime, not to induce men to commit it."
 This afternoon Mr. Brown made his argument for the defense, and the case made by the defense in reference to charging the jury as to the law, should be made by the defense, and the request which the District Attorney had opposed, was in the language of the court, "it is the duty of the defense to make these instructions Marshal Ireland and those with him were shown to be what they were in connection with the case, informers, spies, spotters. Franks had told Treseder that he was not a deputy, but was in the private service of Ireland. This Court had held that knowledge of the official position of the defendants was necessary when the demurrer to the indictment was overruled. The evidence showed that the defendants did not have this knowledge. The bond that was procured for Franks by Ireland was not in accordance with the provisions of the Poland law—it was in fact no bond at all. Franks was still speaking as we went to press.
 J. B. Furster Pleads Guilty.—In the Third District Court to-day John B. Furster was arraigned on the charge of cohabiting with his wives, Harriet E. Furster and Mary Nielsen Furster. The indictment contained one count, covering from Oct. 1, 1885, to Sept. 21, 1886. The defendant entered a plea of guilty.
 The Court asked—Do you wish the judgment of the court now?
 Mr. Furster—I would like a few days' time, your honor please.
 Court—Well, say Friday morning at 10 o'clock.
 Fine Line of Home-Made.—The dry goods window of S. P. Teasdel is to-day dressed with a fine lot of home-made woolen goods which would be hard to excel. It shows an advance and improvement in our manufactures that should be encouraged by the liberal patronage of the public. The goods are made by the Deseret Woolen Mills Co. at their factory.
 Police Court.—Oliver Smith, charged with getting drinks and refusing to pay therefor, was fined $7.50.
 William Rose, charged with petty larceny, plead not guilty. The little evidence offered in defense was inconsequential, and that of the prosecution circumstantial and not sufficient to justify conviction, whereupon he was discharged.
 Isaac Pierce Pleads.—To-day Isaac Pierce, of the Tenth Ward, was arraigned in the District Court on the charge of cohabiting with his wives Mary Jane Pierce and Eleanor Thomas Pierce. The indictment contained five counts, separated as follows: Sept. 1, 1885, to March 31, 1884; April 1, 1884, to Oct. 31, 1884; Nov. 1, 1884, to May 31, 1885; June 1, 1885, to Dec. 31, 1885; and Jan. 1, 1886, to Aug. 13, 1886.
 A plea of guilty was entered, and at the request of Mr. Pierce, sentence was deferred to Friday, Oct. 8th.
 Probate Court Items.—In the matter of the estate of David G. Archer, deceased, Wm. H. Rowe, I. M. Wadwell and M. L. Cummings have been appointed appraisers of said estate.
 Estate of Emma I. Wright, deceased; bond of Geo. A. Burton, administrator, filed and approved.
 Estate of Lovina Careless, deceased. Order made allowing the final account of the administrator, and making distribution of the residue of said estate among the persons entitled thereto.
 Estate and guardianship of Thomas Butterworth et al., minors. Petition for letters of guardianship filed and order made appointing the time and place to hear said petition.
 The Last Night.—There was not so large an audience at the theatre last evening as on the two previous occasions, but it was what can properly be called a good house. The piece went off quite smoothly, most of the imperfections consequent upon hasty preparation having entirely disappeared. Miss Clawson's naturally fine voice was considerably improved, she having partially recovered from her cold, but not to the extent her friends hoped for, but she stayed it through like a heroine. Miss Bayless sang the opening solo for her, and created a good impression. The other characters were well rendered in fact, there was a general improvement all along the line, suggestive of what can be done with time enough in which to prepare.
 Arraignments.—In the Third District Court, to-day, the following defendants were arraigned:
 Henry Reiser, for unlawful cohabitation with his wives, Marantha, Catharine and Madeline Reiser; the indictment contains one count, covering from Oct. 1, 1883, to Sept. 18, 1886. Plea of not guilty entered.
 R. H. Schettler; cohabitation with Ann Leaker and Elizabeth Parry Schettler; four counts, covering from June 30, 1884; July 1, 1884, to March 31, 1885; April 1, 1885, to Dec. 31, 1885; Jan. 1, 1886, to Sept. 18, 1886. Plea of not guilty.
 John Cartwright; cohabitation with Ellen Cartwright and Ann Cartwright; one count, Oct. 1, 1883, to Sept. 20, 1886. Plea of not guilty.
 Wm. H. Foster; cohabitation with Eunice Foster and Eliza Newland Foster; one count, Oct. 1, 1883, to Sept. 17, 1883. Plea of not guilty.
 John Gillespie, of Tooele; cohabitation with Catharine Gillespie and Hannah Chamberlain Gillespie; two counts, Sept. 1, 1883, to Dec. 31, 1885; Jan. 1, 1886, to Sept. 1, 1886. Plea of not guilty.
 Amos H. Neff, of East Mill Creek; cohabitation with Catharine Neff and Elizabeth Neff; two counts, Sept. 1, 1883, to Dec. 31, 1884; Jan. 1, 1885, to July 1, 1886. Plea of not guilty.
 Second District Court.—The following are Monday's proceedings at Ogden:
 Mr. Isaac Burton was excused as a petit juror for the term.
 Tregent vs. Baker; demurrer to complaint overruled and fifteen days given to answer.
 Burgon vs. Snow et al.; demurrer to complaint overruled and ten days given to answer.
 The grand jury presented two bills of indictment under the United States and one Territorial. The grand jury ignored charges against Mr. A. Marks, Harry K. Thompson and Charles Patterson.
 John W. Pike was sworn as official reporter pro tem.
 Herman Reklind and Thomas Strange were admitted to citizenship.
 The People vs. William Anderson; case heretofore dismissed, argued and submitted.
 The People vs. Samuel Miller; defendant arraigned upon an indictment for house-breaking and given the statutory time to plead.
 Swan Anderson was admitted to citizenship.
 Verdict issued summing 12 additional jurors.
 The People vs. Reuben A. McBride, murder; continued for the term on October 11th.
 The People vs. Cleon Jackson; case set for October 11th.
 The United States vs. R. C. Rikwood, unlawful cohabitation; jury being impaneled.
 Home from Alabama.—Last evening Elder J. C. Delamare, of Tooele, returned via the P. & R. C. W. from a mission to the Southern States, from which he has been absent almost two and a half years. On April 8th, 1884, he left home and was assigned to Alabama as his field of labor. There he acted in the capacity of a traveling Elder, preaching the Gospel as well as of opportunity, and meeting with varied success. He was threatened by mobs, but paid no heed to them, and suffered no violence. Last October he was appointed to the presidency of the Alabama Conference, which position he filled until his release to return home. Last March he was waited on by a mob numbering 150 men, headed by ex-Governor Cobb, who prevented his holding public meetings, and forbade him preaching, under the penalty of death. He continued to teach privately, however, and in April the mob reassembled in an attempt to kill him. They were prevented doing this, however, by the bold stand taken by the gentleman at whose house Elder Delamare was staying. The feeling throughout the State is very bitter against the "Mormons," though at the present time the conference is in a prosperous condition, with good prospects for the future. In one case the state, a lepan of horses and stock was of a friend of the Elders were burned, and others were threatened with similar treatment till they gave shelter to the Elders. Brother Delamare has greatly enjoyed his labors throughout. His health was good, with the exception of an attack of chills last week, which lasted a couple of months. He leaves for his home to-morrow.
