FIFTY-SECOND YEAR

EMPLOYERS GLAM TO BE VICTORIOUS

Expected Effect of Labor Day Demonstrations Did Not Materialize in Favor of The Striking Metal Workers.

Pittsburg, Sept. 3.—It was believed yesterday's creditable labor demonstration would give impetus to the strikers' cause and strengthen their great fight, but the demonstration today were all favorable to the employers. Thirty-two new workmen were employed at the steel mill, and the strikers returned to work in the Pennsylvania and Continental Tube plants, and 12 imported men went to work at the steel mill in Monaca. At Duquesne, further efforts were made to get the men out and the works were in full operation. Painters and Lindsay and McKee's men were running, with increased force.

It is stated at McKeesport that the steel mill will be started within six hours with its old employees. The mills were put on the night turn at the Clark plant last night. The other six mills are operating in full force. It is claimed by the management that they have had many applications from former employees for work, but had refused them all, as the mills were now fully equipped.

Referring to the statement attributed to J. D. Hickey, of Milwaukee, that Mr. Hickey had offered in consideration of the strike the terms proposed for ten years, that in two years all the mills would be included in the agreement, President Shaffer said today: "When Mr. Hickey was here, he told me several reported statements of him, and I was not at all surprised that he would make such a statement, as on doubt this one is. He made the statement, however, it is not mine. That is all I can say concerning it."

Mr. Hickey said, further, that he had heard nothing from the west and that there was no change in the situation, but continued to be satisfactory. Mr. Williams of the Amalgamated union was indignantly at the report from Buffalo that the charges made by Vice President Hickey of Milwaukee are to be investigated by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. Secretary Williams said the charges are so groundless that he should not be dignified by an investigation. Advice from Warren, O., is that the charges are being taken for a meeting at once, perhaps this afternoon, of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. Warren, O., is taking the charges very seriously, and is taking the charges very seriously, and is taking the charges very seriously.

BINGHAM WANTS INCORPORATION.

Geo. L. Nye, as attorney for 105 petitioners praying for the incorporation of Bingham, this morning presented the petition to the county commissioners. The name proposed for the new city is Bingham Canyon, and it would include nearly Bingham, Carr's Fork and Fremont, and have a population of 1250.

A largely signed protest has already been received in which it was stated as already published in the "News," that the incorporation would only be a source of taxation without any adequate return to the law, when a petition for incorporation, signed by not less than 100 qualified electors of any county, is received by the commissioners, they shall call for an election to decide whether or not the incorporation shall be effected.

Bookmakers Enjoined. St. Louis, Sept. 3.—In the circuit court Judge Zachris issued a temporary injunction restraining bookmakers at the race track from operating further without a license. The injunction was issued on the application of Attorney General Crow, who declared that the license under which they were operating was illegal and that another could be issued under the Breckers law, but the case will come up for argument in the natural course of events at the October term of court. The Delmar track officials had intended to keep the track open until September 2.

There are signs that diplomatic circles everywhere are realizing the growing necessity for a sort of moral concert of the powers regarding Turkish affairs.

JEWELRY RECOVERED. Owner Reduced to Bankruptcy but is Now Reinstated.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Unearthed, like buried treasure, in a rusty strong box, a glittering heap of jewelry consisting of diamonds and other precious stones, watches, rings, brooches and suitcases was brought to the police station last evening. It was the $6,000 worth of booty secured by the men who blew open the safe of B. J. Hagmann's jewelry store last Thursday morning.

When Hagmann was informed of the recovery of his goods he went to the station to give his thanks. The man was scarcely able to speak, being so affected.

"I was a ruined man until this morning," he said. "Now I can begin my business and will be all right again."

The jeweler said the burglars had left him a few plated articles and 70 cents.

Getting Cold Comfort. New York, Sept. 3.—The religious orders which are quitting France, according to a dispatch to the Times, from Paris, are finding a less cordial welcome abroad than they anticipated.

Prosecutor Muir replied that there was, of course, information against the accused in Cape Colony. The police here, he said, had acted upon telegraphic instructions.

The police testified that Dr. Krause, when arrested, looked at the warrant and remarked "The charge is absurd."

DOLE A STICKER. Liliuokalani Advises Abandonment of Fight Against Him.

Honolulu, Aug. 27, Via San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 3.—(Continued from the Associated Press.)—Former Queen Liliuokalani is reported to have reached the conclusion that the home rulers are making a mistake in spending their time and energy in efforts to have Governor Dole removed.

At a recent meeting of natives, where the matter of choosing a man to be advocated as Dole's successor was discussed, Senator Kalakaua, who is regarded as the queen's political agent and adviser, advocated letting the matter drop altogether.

Acting Governor Cooper recently received an interesting letter from John Kaula, a native who was district magistrate of Koolau, Oahu, at the time of the overthrow of the monarchy.

At that time Kaula resigned, refusing to take the oath of allegiance to the provisional government or the republic. Recently the position, became vacant and he wrote to Governor Cooper, who had felt compelled to resign years ago because of his royalist sympathies, but now that all the people in Hawaii were Americans he would like the position again.

He was appointed. Reports from the island of Hawaii continue to indicate that the Volcano Kilauea is about to break forth again. Visitors to the volcano report intense heat for a long distance around the crater and huge volumes of smoke are rising.

Sapping Boer Strength. London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch from Lord Kitchener, Pretoria, dated today, says: "Since August 26th the columns report 19 Boers killed, 3 wounded, 212 made prisoners and 127 surrendered, and that 194 rifles, 27,500 rounds of ammunition, 1,700 horses and 7,500 head of cattle have been captured."

Venezuela Awakening. Caracas, Venezuela, Sept. 3, via Haytian Cable.—The Republica, semi-official organ of the government, published today an inspired article ending as follows:

"The hour for notes has passed and the time for action has arrived. Diplomacy has laid before the world the just reasons which it has had for asking compensation for the grievances it has suffered. It has exhausted all the means at its disposal for setting threatening questions between nation and nation. We have waited long enough. Now is the time for reprisals."

Congor Reclaiming Concession. Pekin Sept. 3.—The United States minister, Mr. Conger, is taking steps to reclaim the American concession at Tien Tsin the title to which has practically lapsed of late years because of the government being unorganized and a majority of the American residents being scattered among the British and German concessions.

The need for the concession is chiefly for military uses, so as to avoid the experiences of last summer, when the U. S. army had difficulty in getting quarters and cooking facilities.

La Hogue Chang is becoming more feasible and it is not probable that he will ever be able to act as chairman of the council of state.

President's Appointments. Washington, Sept. 3.—The President today made the following appointments: Treasury, Wm. A. O'Malley, third lieutenant revenue cutter service.

LAGOON IS NOW A TENTED CITY.

Looks More Like a Military Outpost Than a Summer Pleasure Resort—Over 500 Soldiers There Today.

Lagoon is now a tented city. Instead of looking like a summer dancing resort it looks like a military outpost. Over 500 soldiers and officers of the Utah National Guard are occupying the grounds just west of the pavilion and little country boys with half awe and half fright are looking on open mouthed and the little country girls are looking shyly from under their sunbonnets at the men in blue uniform.

The camp is pitched, the companies have been assigned their quarters, and palatable dinner has been devoured by the hungry heroes, and what faces them now are eight days of drilling, and other features to which drill hasn't even a remote relation. The boys will have a good and profitable time is a foregone conclusion. There is nothing to prevent if the stormy weather man will keep his hand out of the game. The men are all in good spirits everything has been provided for their comfort and they are occupying a beautiful spot. Such are some of the elements that will go to make this the best and most satisfactory encampment the Utah National Guard has ever enjoyed.

Captain Denn of Nephi is the officer of the day, and Lieutenant W. G. Williams of this city is officer of the guard, so that the camp bears as much of a military aspect as though it were in the field and prepared for war.

The guard should have reached Lagoon at 7 o'clock this morning, but the train was something over one hour late. The column was formed at the Armory this morning, which took on a scene of activity at a very early hour. The line was finally formed and as the boys marched to the depot they presented a fine appearance. On every face there was a eager look indicating that they mean business as well as pleasure and will derive as much benefit from the encampment as they can.

The out-of-town companies make a very creditable appearance and are in no wise an embarrassment to the guard.

One of the interesting features of the encampment will be the election of a major for the first battalion, a position that is now vacant. Capt. Jack Alford, however, has been acting in that capacity. Company F of Manti will elect a captain to succeed Acting Captain Kameron and the two lieutenants which are vacant will also have to be filled.

The camp has not yet been named, but is expected to be christened tonight. A drill and dress parade will be the features this evening.

RECORD-BREAKING 24-HOUR RACE.

Marvelous Exhibition of Human Endurance and Cycling Speed—King Leads, With Lawson Crowding and Turville Overcome by Exhaustion.

Spartan stamina and pluck has come as near to being outdone during last night and all of today as it ever was in the brilliant annals of bicycle racing at the Salt Palace track. Never before did a race so test all the qualities of sand and endurance as the twenty-four hour event which began at a little after ten o'clock last evening and which is still being run down on the sugar bowl.

The three riders, "Billy" King of Los Angeles, John Lawson of Sweden, and Charles Turville of Philadelphia, have done what very few racers ever came to attempt, and in the doing of it they have been the participants in what is easily the greatest race ever seen in this city.

It is probably, too, one of the finest exhibitions of riding ever seen in any other city in the world, for during all of today, the men have kept many miles ahead of the world's record, which has been held by King within the past hour, reaching the 300 mile mark at 9:40. King took a fresh rub-down, reappeared on the track and easily regained the lead. The Swede is a puzzle, seemingly the freshest man on the track, but makes no effort to catch up. The score now stands:

King, 289 miles, 8 laps.
Turville, 259 miles.
Lawson, 276 miles and 1 lap.

10 o'clock.—The race is half over and is now in the hands of the world's record. Turville gained 4 laps on King within the past hour, reaching the 300 mile mark at 9:40. King took a fresh rub-down, reappeared on the track and easily regained the lead. The Swede is a puzzle, seemingly the freshest man on the track, but makes no effort to catch up. The score now stands:

King, 310 miles.
Turville, 303 miles, 1 lap.
Lawson, 296 miles, 7 laps.

11 o'clock.—Turville left the track at 10:30 on account of exhaustion and rested until 10:55. He rode but a few minutes, however, as he fell off his wheel and was carried away to his dressing room. King is still riding strong and maintains a big lead though Lawson is pushing steadily forward; and his stock is going up. At this hour the score stands:

King, 335 miles, 7 laps.
Lawson, 315 miles, 5 laps.
Turville, 315 miles, 5 laps.

12 o'clock.—Turville has returned to the track and is riding strong and hopes to recover his lost King, however, appears to be in good condition and is plugging right along, maintaining his lead. Lawson seems to be the same old John and his friends are predicting victory for him in the end. The score now is:

King, 354 miles.
Lawson, 339 miles, 1 lap.
Turville, 315 miles, 5 laps.

1 o'clock p. m.—King continues not only to hold his lead but to increase his lead. He has gained steadily on Lawson during the last hour. Turville is unable to ride for the present and still resting. The score now is:

King, 372 miles, 1 lap.
Lawson, 354 miles, 2 laps.
Turville, 315 miles, 5 laps.

2 p. m.—Lawson still keeps after King and appears to be anxious to force him off the track by hard riding. Thus far, however, King has been able to stand all the forcing that the sturdy Swede has been able to give. Not only that but he continues to widen the gap between them until he is now nearly twenty-eight miles ahead. It may simply be a question of endurance. It is now four hour championship of the world, but it is in greater danger today than it
