JOSEPH KENDALL HELD FOR MURDER

Verdict of Coroner's Jury on the Shooting of Mrs. Kendall

CRIMINAL CASES IN COURT.

Three Couples to Wed—George Russell of Chicago Comes After De-mented Daughter.

Joseph Kendall will have to answer in the charge of murder, that of shooting his wife, Elizabeth Jenkins Kendall, Wednesday morning at the Owl restaurant. A complaint charging him with murder was sworn to yesterday afternoon. It is believed the man will be given a speedy trial and the ends of justice quickly met. The state will have no trouble in proving the case against Kendall and he himself expects to pay the death penalty for his crime. The coroner's inquest over the remains of Mrs. Kendall was held yesterday afternoon before Judge Howell and a jury composed of Sam Thomas, R. P. O'Neil and Winslow Parr.

Joseph Rogerson and his wife Mattie were the principal witnesses they being the eye witnesses of the terrible tragedy. Their testimony was to the effect that Kendall entered their restaurant about 10:30 Wednesday morning. He asked his wife why she did not come home the night before, but she could answer, he shot her while she was alone. He then fired one shot at Mrs. Rogerson, which only caused a slight flesh wound, then tried to shoot Mr. Rogerson, but the pistol would not work and he ran to the street.

Fred J. Wecker, who runs a second-hand store, at 295 Twenty-fifth street, testified that the morning of the tragedy Kendall came into his store about 10 o'clock and wanted to buy a pistol. He said he shot a porcupine at last he fired a pistol for the first time, paying therefor $1. About an hour after he ran into the store and threw the gun with the remark "Here is a pistol. I am through with it now." Then Officer Hutchings came into the store and placed Kendall under arrest.

Frank McIntosh testified to the wounds inflicted. Officer Hutchings and Sergeant Chambers testified to Kendall's arrest and his making the statement as published about killing his wife because he was untrue to him.

The jury were out only a few minutes when they brought in a verdict that deceased came to her death from a fatal wound inflicted by Joseph Kendall, husband of deceased, with murderous intent.

Definite arrangements for the funeral have as yet been made.

CRIMINAL CASES IN COURT.

Sherriff Bailey has been instructed by Judge Rolapp to apprehend Roy Griffin and bring him before his honor Saturday morning for his hearing preparatory to sending him to the state industrial school, should the facts be sufficient. The boy was arrested about six weeks ago with three other boys on the charge of entering the home of Mrs. Kate Van Dyke and stealing $20. Judge Rolapp was permitted to go home to see to it that the parents would take him to Brigham City to live with his mother, so he would be away from the other boys, but it is understood the parents have now refused to let him go to Brigham City, hence the arrest. Charles Ashton, Thomas Admire and Charles Ashton were arraigned before the court on the charge of grand larceny, but as they were not prepared to pay the cases were continued and Eliza Farr was appointed to defend them.

ident Smith and Lund were Elder Hyrum Smith and mother, and Sister Borden of the Y. L. M. A. general board.

Conferees of the Primary, Relief society and M. I. associations were held in connection with the regular stake conferences at each of which some of the visitors were in attendance.

The sisters of the Relief society were somewhat disappointed in not receiving a promised visit from members of their general organization. Some further expressions of concern and regret were heard when it became known that two of the sisters from Salt Lake had come by hired conveyance from Marysville to within 12 or 15 miles of this place and had then taken a wrong road and spent a day and night wandering over the desert between here and St. George, while the conference here was in session. After traveling south across the Arizona line some 12 miles west of here, they turned back to the Long Valley settlement, arriving there with some of the teams returning from conference, they having been about 36 hours without food and without seeing a human being or habitation.

BIG SALES OF SHEEP.

It is now estimated that between 30,000 and 40,000 head of sheep will leave this county in the next few weeks, there being buyers both from Arizona and the north. It is understood that the prices are ranging from $1.75 to $2.49 per head, according to class and grade. The county commissioners held a sheep season, and attended to some business regarding the repairing of the roads, which as a result of the continued showers are yet in very bad condition.

PLAIN CITY.

Funeral of an Infant—Much Sickness—Canning Factory Putting Up Fruit.

Special Correspondence.

Plain City, Weber Co., Sept. 21.—Funeral services were held at the family residence yesterday afternoon over the remains of the three months old daughter of George Draney. As the child had suffered from whooping cough, the funeral was private. The affair is doubly sad as the father though recently operated on is still suffering from the dread disease, cancer.

The Y. M. M. I. A. was reorganized last Sunday, with an able board of officers, and it is thought the young men of Plain City will be given an excellent opportunity this winter for acquainting themselves with the principles of the Gospel.

Mr. William Dick is rapidly recovering from an attack of appendicitis. He considers himself extremely fortunate in escaping an operation.

There has been a great deal of typhoid fever and other sickness in this town this fall, but all seem now recovering.

Fall work is progressing rapidly, the threshing is done, and the farmers are engaged in putting up the last crop of hay; the work of hauling beets for the sugar factory has been commenced. Tomatoes, peaches and pears are being put up by the canning factory this fall.

BEAVER.

EPIDEMIC OF TYPHOID.

Death of James R. Lindsay, W. W. Hutchings and Miss Vida Gillies.

Special Correspondence.

Beaver City, Beaver Co., Sept. 21.—Just now Beaver City is suffering from a severe siege of sickness among the people, there being at the present time a number of cases of typhoid fever, none of them, however, are considered dangerous at the present time.

During the past week we have had several deaths. The remains of James R. Lindsay, a resident of this city, were laid away on Sunday, as was also an infant child of Titus and Edith Greenwood, and on Monday last the funeral services of W. W. Hutchings, Sr., an old resident and pioneer of this city, and who was held in the Latter-day Saints meetinghouse.

On Monday, the 19th inst., Miss Vida Gillies, an estimable young lady, the daughter of Ebenezer and Sarah S. Gillies, passed away after an illness of several weeks from typhoid pneumonia.

Our respected citizen, W. G. Bickley, has been confined to his room during the past 10 days, from an attack of la grippe and erysipelas, but is now convalescent.

The political situation here is becoming interesting, the Republicans met in convention last Thursday and placed their ticket in the field.

The Democrats met in primary on Monday evening and elected their delegates to the county convention, which will be held in this city on Saturday next, after which the battle will be on in earnest.

The names of 20 jurors have been drawn for the next term of the Fifth judicial district court, which will begin in this city Oct. 1.

Grain threshing is in full blast, but much of the grain is below the average in quality.

Over Remains of Patriarch Philmon C. Merrill.

Special Correspondence.

Thatcher, Graham Co., Arizona, Sept. 15.—Funeral services over the remains of Patriarch Philmon C. Merrill were held Sunday, the 13th in the Layton meeting house, and interment was made in the Safford-Layton cemetery.

The large meetinghouse was crowded to overflowing. The Layton choir furnished appropriate music. The speakers were among those who knew him longest and best, some as far back as the days of Nauvoo. Elder John Morris, counselor to Bishop Wilkes of the Layton ward, presided, and was one of the speakers. Patriarch Alvin H. Bennett, who presides over the little branch where the deceased lived and died, Patriarch Platt, Elder Alonzo Bingham, Sister Elizabeth Layton, Patriarch Samuel Claridge and the stake presidency were the other speakers. All eulogized the integrity and faithfulness of the deceased, and recounted interesting episodes in his eventful history, including the stirring scenes in Nauvoo, the march of the "Mormon" Battalion, and pioneer days in Utah. Nearly 50 carriages followed the remains to the cemetery.

the first semester of its seventeenth academic year on Monday, Sept. 19, under the most favorable and encouraging conditions that have surrounded the school in all its history.

The stake board of education met in the principal's office at 9 a. m. for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to the future development of the academy. Expressions of satisfaction and encouragement came from every member of the board, and the faculty with "loud applause" in all cases.

At 10 o'clock the teachers, students and many of the friends of the academy met in the assembly hall, where an interesting program, consisting of vocal and instrumental selections, dramatic readings, and short addresses was carried out. After the closing of the meeting the students repaired to their classrooms, where they were registered. The total number of students who presented themselves for registration on Monday morning was 117, which is the largest number enrolled at the opening of any previous school year in the history of the academy.

The many and substantial improvements that have been made in the building were noted and commented upon by all.

MILK AND CONSUMPTION.

The opinion stoutly maintained by the Veterinary Editor of the Country Gentleman that tuberculosis is not communicated from cattle to man as generally supposed is supported, in part at least, by that excellent authority, the New York Medical Journal, which says:

J. O. Cobb has collected statistics to show that tuberculosis is as prevalent in countries where milk is not used as it is in those where it is a prominent article of food. In the island of Guernsey the cattle are free from tuberculosis, yet the human inhabitants are afflicted with the disease. In Iceland it is prevalent, yet the cattle are said to be non-tuberculous. In Alaska milk is not used yet the Indians are affected by tuberculosis. The same is found to be the case with the Chinese, the Japanese, the Hindu whose religion prohibits the use of meat and milk, and in the Philippines. In none of these countries are cattle kept for the use of meat or milk for food. The author inclines to the opinion that it is a disease of filth and poverty. Tuberculosis among cattle as well as among the human race is a disease of contact.

What the Press of Two States Has To Say Regarding Bolters and Trouble Breeders.

The press of Utah and Idaho continues to devote considerable space to the antics of Dubois and the American Partisans generally, as the following additional installment of clippings indicates:

Provo Daily Enquirer: Just as has been expected the Tribune pretends that Tom Kearns is not, and never has been, a party to the "new move." The Enquirer predicted that Tom, himself, or his paper would at a convenient time make such a representation. The recreation bolting movement has met with is not very encouraging to the schemers; in fact, the affair is flattening out. Tom was to keep in the background until it could be proven that the movement was either a success or a failure; in the event of success Tom was to show himself and be welcomed with "loud applause" in all cases.
