

EVENING NEWS. Friday, July 25, 1888.

FRAGMENTS.

The school teachers are on their way back from the Coast. Parties pass through this city daily.

TODAY was the dullest Salt Lake seen for many months.

JOHN F. ENOS was fined $5 today for having been drunk.

RYAN, the man who was stabbed at Garfield on the 21st, is recovering. The cuts on his arm are still pretty sore.

The baseball game yesterday afternoon resulted in a victory by the Salt Lake, who obtained 10 runs to the Nationals' 3.

Those who wish an account of the celebration proceedings in the Tabernacle on the 24th can obtain it in the DESERET NEWS WEEKLY, at this office.

GEORGE H. CANNON, imprisoned on March last for a year's imprisonment for forgery, was pardoned yesterday by Governor West.

CHAS. MILLER is in custody on the charges of drunkenness and immorality. Wm. Brennan is in the same predicament as regards drunkenness and will be tried for vagrancy.

GEORGE SANDERS, accused of robbing Iona's second-hand store, is in the county jail in default of $1000 bail, asked for to secure his appearance before the grand jury.

WILLIAM BEAS, who was arrested on a charge of petit larceny, was tried yesterday, and resulted in a acquittal. It was a case of mistaken identity, just as Mr. Beas claimed.

The Ogden Standard has not reached this city since Wednesday. The mail service from the Junction city to Salt Lake is decidedly out of order from some cause or other.

TOMORROW, at 12 noon, the People's Party of Salt Lake County will hold its convention at the City Hall, to nominate candidates to be voted for at the general election on August 6th.

The registration lists are now posted at the various polling places, and voters should see that their names are properly entered, that they may have no trouble on August 6th.

SUIT, Wm. M. STEWART, D. R. Allen and M. C. Sorenson, of this city, and W. J. Kerr, of Logan, have returned from the National Educational Association convention at San Francisco.

This morning Brother Savage started for the Hall & Woodruff summer resort, in Little Cottonwood Canyon, for the purpose of taking a number of scenic negatives. He will return tomorrow.

The coal mines at Scodell, Emery County, are becoming dangerous to work in. William Masters and an old gentleman named Patterson were quite seriously injured last week by the roof of the mine caving in and burying them in the debris.—Provo American.

A 13-year old boy, son of John Strong, fell from the top of his father's barn in the First Ward, Provo, on Saturday last, and when picked up was unconscious. He has remained in that condition ever since. The boy is badly injured, having fallen on his head.—Enquirer.

ALLEN LARSEN was arrested this afternoon on a charge of grand larceny. He is accused of being connected with C. W. Chappell in the disappearance of the horse that Chappell agreed to sell. His bonds were fixed at $300 pending the preliminary hearing before Commissioner Norrell.

The proceedings against H. P. Folson and Thomas Hancock, for knocking down a shanty put up by William Hard, on property claimed by Mr. Folson, were continued before Commissioner Norrell today. After listening to the arguments, the Commissioner took the matter under advisement.

LODGE was not without a little excitement after last yesterday. About nine o'clock the brass band, which had been engaged by the committee on celebration at Johnson's pleasure grounds, appeared on the street to begin the procession at that resort for the day. A "procession," of the like of which has not been seen in Logan before, if in Utah, followed the band around the principal streets, eliciting favorable comments from a few, but was severely criticised by the majority. The "procession" was intended as a burlesque on the enterprise of the city fathers, we suppose in not getting up a celebration, judging by the motives displayed on each side of the wagon.

Nothing else to indicate that it referred to anything or anybody in particular. The first part of the "procession" consisted of a wagon, spanned of horses, several of which were painted face, and a driver with a highly painted face. The "goddess" was perched high in the air, and held a tattered umbrella over her head, the sides of the wagon being hung with notices suggestive of the death of our city fathers and all enterprises.

They were followed by a lot of boys on horseback and on foot, clad in various fantastic costumes and masked faces.—Logan Journal, July 25.

A Pioneer.
 Harley Mowrey writes from Verma, Utah County, July 20, as follows:
 Editor Deseret News:

I saw a notice in your paper requesting the names of the pioneers that came to the Valley in '47. I went into Salt Lake Valley on the 27th of July, 1847, three days after the Pioneers arrived there. I came in with the company that came from Pueblo.

When one of the Latter-day Saints that was detached at Santa Fe to guard the sick to Pueblo, where we stayed till spring, when we went through the hardships incident to the first settlement of that valley.

The notice to which Brother Mowrey refers was published at the request of the committee who were preparing to celebrate Pioneer Day in this city. They desired to learn the addresses of all living members of the Pioneer Company, in order to have them present at the celebration here, if possible.

Spring Bursting Out.
 Joseph Aggie writes from West Bountiful, on the 21st inst., giving an account of a somewhat remarkable process of nature in that settlement. For about two months past the mountain streams have failed to supply sufficient water with which to irrigate the land. In the mountains, however, copious springs, with a capacity all the way from seventy to two hundred gallons a minute, have burst forth in various places. In some instances these streams have been able to enable some of the farmers to irrigate their entire tracts under cultivation. The good people of that section, as they certainly ought to do, acknowledge the hand of God in this welcome boon, by which, according to the divine promise, the thirsty places are made fruitful.

SPRING CITY.

Scarcity of Water—The Sheep Nuisance—Doings of Deputies, Etc.

SPRING CITY, Sanpete Co., July 23rd, 1888.
 Editor Deseret News:

The News is a regular and welcome visitor. Its columns are always filled with a variety of news and reliable information; a defender of right, an expounder of truth and an exposé of hypocrisy and of men's wicked acts. May it thus continue.

It is not often that anything is heard through your columns from this place, and that which has been made known of late in the shape of news from here has not been of the most pleasing character. Thus it is sometimes that a whole community may be charged with criminality because of the misdeeds of a few, but as a citizen of Spring City and reader of your long standing paper, I feel it due to its inhabitants, which now number over one hundred, to say a few words in their defense.

We feel both humble and proud of being so closely situated to one of the Lord's houses, as the beautiful Mount Temple is: only distant seventeen miles.

Our hay and grain crops are very light, owing to the dryness of the season, and that which has been made known from our mountain streams; a greater scarcity than ever before has been experienced. Many acres of lucern, grain and hay have not had any water at all, and the greater part of the acreage under cultivation has had altogether too little.

THERE IS ONE REASON why that is very annoying to the community in these parts, and which is hard to combat or prevent, and that is the herding of sheep upon the cow range. This is a source of public domain and not worth the government price to secure it, and the people generally would be too poor to buy it.

The people do not object to sheepmen herding their flocks in the mountains, or even a few miles distant from towns and settlements; but they do feel aggrieved when a great number of sheep come to be, will come in sight of their very door yards and herd their sheep closely around cliffs and farm land till there is not a spear of grass left upon which the poor cows can feed. There are now a few, if any, among us that are in a position to get forage for much cows whole year round at home.

Complaints are frequent about streams and water courses being polluted by sheep and made unfit for culinary purposes. These nuisances, as the greater part of the community would be too poor to buy it, are so injurious, but still the people are seemingly unable to help themselves. The greater number of farmers have only small, and in many instances unremunerative farms and can only pay their taxes and honest debts and make all ends meet by using the greatest possible economy.

In the opinion of your correspondent the people here are entitled to credit for their frugal and industrious way of life. Most of them live in their own houses and that without being indebted to any one. This fact the Territorial Board of equalization of taxes must have understood when they ADDED FORTY PER CENT to the real estate taxes of Sanpete County, a measure to which the people do not take very kindly, as they look upon that movement to be too far stretched. But I suppose that it will be in this case as with the intruding sheep herds (the people) will have to grin and bear it, and yet at the same time the use of still closer economy, by wearing less leather for foot wear and more wooden shoes, which is a saving of both money and health.

On the afternoon of last Friday, three deputies, Clawson, McClellan and Norrell, swooped down upon the peaceful home of our fellow townsman James Christensen, passing through the neighboring lots and lucern patches, and laying themselves out for trespass; but happily for Mr. Christensen he was not to be found in bed nor the chaise house, nor yet in the manure pile, for as the sharp prongs of the pitchfork were driven through and through his hay, chaff and manure, that gentleman never wincing, but calmly and coolly, as if he were entered the premises, none were at home only two or three little girls, from three to seven years old, who fled in fright.

THIS IS THE FIFTH TIME that Mr. Christensen's premises have been raided and Deputy Clawson positively asked Mr. Christensen why she did not get Mr. Christensen to stay at home when they made their visits. The fact that Mr. Christensen never let her know of their coming before hand, hence she had been unable to comply with this request. Deputy McClellan had the impudence to ask her to tell Mr. Christensen to pray for him next Sunday. She told him that she might see the day when he would be glad to have Mr. Christensen comply with the request.

From there the officers went to the premises of Mr. A. Tallgren, and searched for that gentleman, but as they found no one at home they soon decamped. Later in the day they made a visit to Mr. Christensen's residence, inquiring for that gentleman, but unfortunately for them he was not at home.

On the same afternoon they also went to Mr. N. C. Jensen's house, a poor man and a tinker by trade. Here they found the object of their search, made him their prisoner, subpoenaed some of his family and neighbors, and bolted off with the whole lot for the commissioner's office. This is one of those FREQUENT CASES where apparently malice and prejudice had taken the place of law, and common sense. The arrest was unexpected to Mr. Jensen as the charge was not due to the community, that of cohabiting with his mother-in-law. She is an old feeble woman, 72 years of age, and unable to be his grandmother, tottering on the verge of the grave, who for several years has been supported by the charity of the ward. She lived with another old lady until quite recently, when she became feeble and helpless, and her daughter and son-in-law, who were her only support, died, leaving her a lady to her poor home, in a better able to wait upon her.

It was brought out in the evidence that about five years ago Mr. Jensen and wife went to Salt Lake City for the purpose of getting their endowment. The old lady resisted them to take her with them for the same purpose, and she needed to her husband, Mr. Jensen acting as proxy according to the doctrines of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. This sealing to a dead man was construed to be a marriage, and living together in the same house to be cohabitation.

Upon this evidence Commissioner Johnson had the defendants to answer in the sum of $500. Bail was readily furnished and Mr. Jensen was set at liberty. Fraternally yours,

SANPETE.

Soap Company.
 The Salt Lake Soap Company filed its articles of incorporation yesterday afternoon with the clerk of the Third District Court. The capital stock is placed at $50,000, and the stockholders are: L. E. Hall, William H. Rowe, Emanuel May, Herbert S. Goddard, James J. Phillips, Joseph W. Simons, Wm. Simons, John E. Doolley, Thos. R. Cutler, John H. VanHorn, W. H. Remington, Walter Price, Ezra Thompson, Joseph G. Potter, Frederick A. Mitchell, Wm. Peterson, Wm. Longmire, John H. White, Wm. W. W. L. Calmer, Philip Pargley, Joseph Pargley, Henry Hayward, Elias Morris, Oscar B. Young, John W. Cunningham, Fred. J. May, Asa Hedges, Robert Sherwood, Robert H. Haslam, James W. West, Zerubbabel Wood, Frederick G. Brooks, George F. Brooks, Wm. C. Rydahl, Henry Dinwoodey, James Chesney, Stephen R. Marks, Annie W. Chesney, Alma Pratt.

T. W. POINTDEXTER, of Dillon, Montana, complains of being swindled out of $50 by either G. B. Foster or J. Boyle, both of the Utah employment agency of this city. He sent the money for a servant girl's fare to Dillon, and heard no more of it. It seems that Boyle received the money, but no servant girl was sent.

SPRINGVILLE CELEBRATION.

A Fine Programme of Exercises, and Great Enthusiasm.

Lucian D. Crandall, Esq., furnishes us with the following account of the celebration of Pioneer Day at Springville, which was held on the 24th inst.

The citizens of Springville celebrated Pioneer Day with an enthusiasm never before felt here.

Opened with prayer by Chaplain Benjamin Blanchard. The oration by C. D. Evans, Esq., orator of the day, was fine effort.

The brass, martial and harmonica bands alternately discoursed sweet music.

"Only a Bluebell," by Lillie Bryer, with organ accompaniment, was excellently sung.

A spirited speech was made by L. N. Kendall, the only survivor Pioneer now residing in Springville.

Stump speech by G. E. Anderson, Esq.

Organ solo by Addie Bissell. A trio by Miss Francis Roylance, David Manwaring and Aaron Roylance called forth great applause.

Judithan Averett represented the Mormon Battalion in a short speech.

Benediction by Elder W. H. Kelsey. During the platform exercises special notice was taken of the aged who were present. They were mostly seated on the stand, numbers of whom had not attended a celebration for years.

A large number of the visitors present, and twelve Lamanites, the number being about 400, were present. Justice to a sumptuous dinner prepared for the occasion. The company were waited upon by 15 young ladies dressed in blue. Dinner over, the fragments were delivered to the poor.

A large crowd of persons, consisting of a mammoth cat procession, passing through town to Packard's store, where they were to be exhibited. The cat was an automatic horse; two clowns; two horribles; Irish police; uncle Sam on Zebra; cavalier; twelve young girls and twelve young ladies, appropriately costumed.

Ring performances, consisting of manueuvring of the ponderous chest, automatic horse, monkey and frog, together with bareback riding on the horses by Amasa and David Brinton with performances by the two clowns, under ring master Uncle Sam, called forth repeated and rapid applause.

In the midst of the proceedings suddenly there drove up and entered the ring, a triumphal car, consisting of a double team with rider in caricature, bespangled with banners immense appliances. After this, the oldest Church member, oldest person, oldest settler, Mormon Battalion and pioneer members, and the oldest person present who drew a hand-car across the plains.

The refreshment department, under M. E. Crandall, donated 1300 dishes of ice cream and lemonade. The ice cream was made by two 24 quart freezers run by a small steam engine loaned for the occasion.

Exercises consisting of foot races for prizes continued until sundown, thus closing one of the most joyous occasions of the kind ever experienced in Springville.

Celebration at Huntington.

"One of the Boys" writes as follows from Huntington, Emery Co., Utah, July 25th, 1888:

Editor Deseret News:

Yesterday was a gala day for Huntington. We had the best celebration of the Twenty-fourth ever held in Caspary. The day was a grand success, going on for a week previous. We had a fine bowery built, and had a fine band of music, capable of holding about fifteen hundred people, and there were plenty here to fill it.

Lines from London.

Elder Henry Ballard, now on a mission in England, writes under date of July 11th, from London:

"We have had some good meetings this summer in Hyde Park and on the public streets. Occasionally we have had a crowd of opposition, but withal we have had friends, and some are investigating our doctrines. We now have a church that has more members than ever before. The opposition is not so great as it was. An encouraging letter occasionally would help the Elders and allow a good deal of ill feeling toward us as a people. We can represent ourselves a good deal better than the world is willing to do this for us."

At Toquerville.

Pioneer-Day was observed here in about the usual style. At 10 a. m. Saints and strangers met in the public hall, where all were agreeably entertained until 12 m. by a Sunday School jubilee, under the direction of Martin Slack, superintendent. Singing by the choir; prayer by the chaplain, W. W. Hammond; singing.

The time was well occupied in short addresses by Elders Wm. A. Bringham, Jun., and John Steele. Song by Sister Eliza Steele, "Awake ye Disciples of Zion," songs, hymns and anthems by the choir, under the leadership of Elder John Batty. A number of recitations were well rendered, especially those of Clara Savage and Francis Nagle. A dialogue, "The Postal Card," was well rendered and highly appreciated. Benediction by Levi Savage.

The children enjoyed themselves from four to six p. m. The adult members of the community tripped the light fantastic from eight p. m. until closing hours.

The thermometer booming from 100 to 108—too hot for tramping.

Peaches, pears and grapes are ripening. It is very dry; fruit is plentiful. Hope you will give us a railroad soon.

A FINE $5 was assessed against S. Numan yesterday for keeping a vicious dog.
