

Premier Franco Has Relinquished Power.

Admiral Ferreira do Amaiãl Succeeds Him—New Cabinet Formed—It Is Coalition, None of State Ministers Being Retained—I Place Myself Entirely in Your Hands, Says the King—Lisbon Still Excited.

Lisbon, Feb. 3.—Portugal today saw the establishment of a new regime. Premier Franco has resigned office, and within 48 hours of the assassination of King Carlos, his dictatorship is at an end, at least for the present. Franco resigned for fear that his continuance in office would plunge the country into rebellion. The premier has been considered directly responsible for the political turmoil, which resulted in the assassination of the king, and his withdrawal from power is regarded as holding a promise of political tranquility.

A new cabinet has been formed under the presidency of Rear Admiral do Amaiãl, a member of the Progressist-Disident party. Some of the new ministers have notably been opposed to the rule of Franco but on the whole the present cabinet is liberal, with monarchist tendencies.

The opening session of the new council was held today, and the young monarch King Manuel II. placed himself in the hands of his ministers. He appeared before them and in a voice shaking with emotion, said:

"I am yet without experience either in science or in politics. I place myself entirely in your hands, needing and believing in your patriotism and wisdom."

Arrests are being made by the wholesale in Lisbon and all suspicious persons still at liberty are under police surveillance. Up to half past four this afternoon there has been no recurrence of disorders in Lisbon. The Portuguese frontier is being closely guarded to prevent the escape of suspects. The authorities are maintaining a strict censorship on all outgoing telegraph messages.

The Spanish government has ordered a cruiser to come to Portugal and it was learned here that two British warships are on their way to the Tagus. The general opinion here is that there will be a modification in the ministerial program after the funeral of King Carlos, which will take place Feb. 10. Lisbon, Feb. 3.—Premier Franco has relinquished power and a new cabinet has been formed with Admiral Ferreira do Amaiãl as president in the place of the late dictator, Franco.

The step signifies the withdrawal of Franco from power. It is calculated to pacify hostile public opinion at a time when only a spark is needed to inflame the whole country and hurl it headlong into revolution. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

The new cabinet is made up of coalition elements in the hope of reconciling the many disturbing elements. Some of the new ministers have been notably opposed to Franco's rule. No one, however, believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," but his official prerogatives are, at least for the present, intact.

NEGRO PUNCTURED BY GUN'S BULLET

Colored Prisoner Shot While Attempting to Escape from The Chain Gang.

KAST SCORED, FIRST SHOT

Making the Third Time Roseberg, Alias Smith, Has Been Hit While Making a Break.

Leon Roseberg, alias Charles Smith, a colored prisoner at the city jail, had a narrow escape for his life while at work on the chain gang in City Creek canyon shortly after 5 o'clock this morning. For several days to come the negro will eat his meals without the formality of sitting down to them. The reason is that he was made a target for a heavy Colt's revolver held in the hand of Guard Kast this morning. Smith, or Roseberg, thought he saw a chance to escape from the chain gang. He suddenly dropped his shovel and fled down the canyon road. Kast immediately took after him, calling out to the man to halt, but there was no halt in the erstwhile prisoner and he ran as the faster. Kast then drew his revolver, a .32 caliber Colt's, mounted on a .41 frame. He fired one shot and the next instant the negro stopped, picked up his hat and walked back to the officer. The bullet found its mark, hitting the man in the left hip and ranging downward, passing through the leg.

The patrol wagon was sent for and the wounded prisoner was hastily driven to the emergency hospital at police headquarters where Dr. S. G. Paul dressed the wounds. The physician stated that the wounds were not serious and that the man would be all right again in a few days.

HE IS A HUMORIST.

Asked why he tried to escape, Roseberg, or Smith, said:

"Did you see a chance to get away?" "See a chance? Oh course I seed no chance. What chance would der be of ter get away when dat big Dutchman was poundin' down der highway wid dat big gun a-shootin' at me? No, der was no chance. Dis bullet ain't deader stopped me. No, sir, I was deader one what I thought was a-comin' dat Ah sure thought der was deader one what shoot higher der nex' time, so Ah just picked up ma hat an' walked back like a good boy."

HAD BEEN SHOT BEFORE.

Ten days ago the man was sentenced by Judge Denti to serve 25 days at hard labor for the theft of two pool balls. It is not the first time he has been wounded. He proudly exhibited two other bullet wounds, old ones, which he admitted he received while trying to escape from jail.

"Dese oder ones," he explained, "didn't stop me, oder, I just kept a-gooin' an' if you'll look at ma back you'll see some few razah cuts. But, say! Dat man Kast am sure dere wid der shootin' he kin sure trow dem bullets anigh an' Ah didn't want a secon' one, chile."

UNITED MINE WORKERS.

Thos. L. Lewis of Bridgeport, Ohio, Declared President.

Indianapolis, Feb. 3.—Thomas J. Lewis of Bridgeport, Ohio, was declared elected president of the United Mine Workers of America at today's closing session of the annual convention. The report of the tellers showed that 127,025 votes were cast for president of which Mr. Lewis received 64,533 and W. B. Wilson, of Bloomsburg, Pa., received 62,492. Lewis' majority was 2,041. John P. White of Iowa, was elected national vice president, having no opposition. He received 116,775 votes. Roy Foster of Illinois, received 34,715 votes, John Fahy receiving 49,813.

RAISULA WILL BRING IN CAID SIR HARRY MCLEAN

London, Feb. 3.—The government has received a telegram from the British charge d'affaires at Tangier, Morocco, to the effect that the Raisula, the bandit chief, has promised to bring in Caïd Sir Harry McLean, who was held prisoner there, exactly seven months to a day from the time he was made prisoner by Raisula.

ESCAPED CONVICTS CAPTURED.

Lansing, Kan., Feb. 3.—Claude Kohl and J. Clark, the convicts who eluded the guards here late Saturday, were found last night, hiding in the loft of a warehouse on the penitentiary grounds. The men worked in the prison mines. One of them was known to have had dynamite in his possession and it was feared they intended to blow up the walls in an attempt to escape. Kohl once before made an attempt to escape.

MAJ. C. W. ANDERSON DEAD.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 3.—Maj. Chas. W. Anderson, aged 82, a member of Gen. Forrest's staff, and general freight agent of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, died today at his home near Florence station, Tenn. He was with Forrest in all his battles.

NEW TRANSFER RULE.

General Manager Jos. S. Wells Says Conductors Must Use Discretion.

That the new transfer rule does not contemplate the confiscation of any passenger's right to a transfer, and that it is merely a convenience, is explained by General Manager Joseph S. Wells of the Utah Light & Railway Co., this morning, in an interview.

"The new rule disposes of the business between passenger and conductor, with the least possible time and trouble," said Mr. Wells, "but it should be explained that conductors have discretionary power as to giving transfers at other times than at the time of collecting the fare. The rule is not arbitrary, and should not be so enforced."

The new rule, inaugurated on Jan. 15, has so far worked well except in a few instances where conductors have refused to give transfers, when not instantly demanded. General satisfaction seems to be the result of its feature which avoids a second trip through the car by the conductor with transfers.

ENGLAND MAY GET IN THE GAME

Her Squadron Avoids Tagus. But Developments Are Anticipated.

LOOKS LIKE INTERFERENCE.

Britain Has Tried Moral Persuasion With Trouble Breeders in Vain—What Next?

Gibraltar, Feb. 3.—The second British cruiser squadron left here this morning, steaming to the west. It was at first reported that the vessels were going to Lisbon, but it is understood now that the squadron will not go to the Tagus, unless the situation in Portugal takes on an unexpected turn, jeopardizing the lives or property of the British subjects.

LONDON'S VIEW.

London, Feb. 3.—It has been rumored for some time past that Great Britain proposed to interfere to restore order in Portugal and on occasion arising it has been said that there would be joint action to this end on the part of Great Britain and Spain. As a friend of Portugal Great Britain certainly has been using her moral influence to end the unsettled condition of affairs in that country and she will continue to do so but for any interference in the internal affairs of Portugal, that it would be necessary to take steps to protect the interests of Englishmen residing in Portugal, but the foreign office believes that this contingency is remote, having confidence that Portugal herself will be able to restore order.

FRANCO IS PRAISED.

Official opinion here is largely in sympathy with Senor Franco, who, it is believed, has been working for the best interests of his country. Officials are inclined, however, to believe that Franco is a man of great energy and ability, but that he is not a statesman, and that he is not a man of great vision.

The British Atlantic fleet which is now at Vigo, was to have visited Lisbon this morning, but the appearance of the British fleet in the harbor is being withheld from the Portuguese press, only the battleship Exmouth, the Hornet, and one other cruiser will go to the Tagus.

BOUND TO AID.

Existing treaties between Great Britain and Portugal bind the former power not only to protect Portugal from foreign invasion, but also to render aid to the throne in case of any internal revolution and this alliance has in the past aided greatly in preserving the peace of Portugal. King Edward of England and the late King Carlos were close personal friends.

BULLION WITHDRAWN.

London, Feb. 3.—Bullion amounting to £24,000 was taken into the bank of England today and £52,000 was withdrawn, of which £24,000 was for shipment to France and the remainder to South America.

WHEAT CLEARINGS.

San Francisco, Feb. 3.—Wheat clearings from the Pacific coast for the week ending February 1, amounted to 19,333 bushels of wheat consigned to the United Kingdom, 13,677 bushels of wheat and 686 barrels of flour consigned to China. All the clearings were made from Puget sound ports.

Roosevelt's Future.

After the White House—What?

Expressions on this interesting subject have been invited by the New York Herald from 28 of the world's eminent thinkers. All have responded and their views will be published in a group of American and English newspapers next Saturday and Sunday.

The Saturday "News."

Is the western member of the group, and the article will appear in no other paper published in this section.

The introduction is by Broughton Brandenburg and the following are the contributors: Grover Cleveland, Emperor William, Emperor Franz Josef, Andrew Carnegie, Prince Alexander Soukhan, engineer and explorer, Thomas W. Lawson, Keir Hardy, English labor leader, Dr. Isador Singer, eminent bibliographer, W. E. Chandler, former senator from New Hampshire, Senator Stephen B. Mallory of Florida, Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, Representative and Senator-elect John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, Representative James Burke of Pennsylvania, Representative John Dalzell of Pennsylvania, Representative Joseph C. Sibley of Minnesota, General James T. McCleary of Indiana, formerly auditor general of Pennsylvania, Harry Litchfield West, commissioner of District of Columbia, Scott A. Bone, editor Washington Herald, Charles A. Edwards secretary Democratic congressional committee, P. V. McGraw, fourth assistant postmaster general, Walter Wellman, correspondent and explorer, William M. Hoffman, Edward W. Bok, Frank H. Hitchcock, first assistant postmaster general, William E. Curtis, Alvor de Lina, James J. Corbett.

DIRECTORS CHOSEN.

The stockholders of the Utah Savings Bank & Trust company held their annual meeting this morning when these directors were chosen: W. Montague Perry, E. A. Wall, W. J. Halloran, E. O. Howard, Fred T. Jensen, M. C. Plank. The reports of the year showed a very gratifying condition of affairs with the institution, and with a prosperous year in advance. The year's earnings were reported at 12 percent on the capital stock; dividends 6 per cent; the balance being transferred to the surplus. The directors will meet later in the week, to choose officers. The present officers are W. S. McCormick, president; J. J. Daly, vice president; Heber M. Wells, secretary and general manager.

DENNING NOW A BRUNETTE.

Changes from a Blonde Since He Has Been in Jail.

Richard Denning's trial on the charge of highway robbery was set for this morning before Judge Armstrong, but when his case was called he announced to the court that he was not ready to go to trial. He said that he had written letters asking assistance to several relatives in Liverpool, where his only relatives live. No replies have been received and on this ground the continuance in his case was granted by Judge Armstrong until March 4.

"This is a serious case I am charged with," Denning said, "and I want to get a good lawyer to get me out of my trouble. I know my folks in the old country will help me, but I haven't got any word from them yet. I would rather have my own lawyer than to have the court appoint one because this is a serious thing with me."

The court, as is usual, was very polite to the prisoner, and granted his request. He offered the services of the state in bringing Denning's witnesses to court to testify in his behalf and said that if he does not hear from his relatives in 10 days to notify the court, and a good lawyer will be appointed. Denning is charged with having

CRIMINAL TAKES THAW CASE OUT

"Razor Jack" Assumes Dangerous Attitude and is Placed in a Padded Cell.

HIS TWO PALS GET 15 YEARS.

George Wilson and Paul Van Houghton Sentenced by Judge Armstrong Today to State Prison.

Within a few minutes after the word was received here that Harry Thaw had been acquitted of murder upon the ground of insanity, "Razor Jack" Richardson assumed a dangerous attitude and has been taken to the county jail, where he is now locked in the padded cell. "Razor Jack" is insane, say officers of the law, his attorney and several others who have seen him. In court when he heard the jury's report that Paul Van Houghton was guilty of robbing S. H. Carman of Eureka on Nov. 21 last, Richardson became seized with a severe spell of shaking, his eyes staring wildly and he began coughing and struggling to breathe at all. Then he was believed to be insane and is in the padded cell pending further development.

Richardson is charged with robbery. He is said to be the third man who was with Wilson and Van Houghton when they robbed Carman and his trial is coming up March 2, unless it appears that his insanity is real and not feigned. It is claimed by Richardson's lawyer that he is the only support of an aged mother and that if his case came on for trial at this time this case would kill her. The officers say that for many years Richardson has been of little assistance to his mother, and that he has been drinking almost all of his time and that in addition to this he is a drug addict.

George Wilson and Paul Van Houghton were before the court this morning to receive sentence for the robbery, which both were found guilty by the jury in Judge Armstrong's court last week. Both were sentenced to serve 15 years at hard labor in the state prison and a few minutes after sentence was pronounced, Deputy Sheriff Charles Perry and the E. Mery were on their way to the institution on the hill with the men.

SENATOR SMOOT TALKS AT TREATY BANQUET

(Special to the "News.")

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—The sixtieth anniversary of the treaty of Guadalupe-Hidalgo was celebrated last night by a meeting of the California association at the Elby hotel. This association is the organization of the people in the acquisition by the United States of the vast territory embracing New Mexico, Utah, Arizona, California, Wyoming and parts of other western states. The celebrants included Senator Smoot of Utah to attend as representative from Utah. The occasion gave the senator an opportunity to deliver an interesting address upon the history of the acquisition of the territory of Utah and surrounding territory. His address was received with marked attention and with evident pleasure by a few of the guests.

COL. T. G. LAWLER DEAD.

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 3.—Col. T. G. Lawler, postmaster of Rockford and commander in chief of the G. A. R. died today.

Col. Lawler died of bronchial pneumonia, which followed an attack of stroke. Col. Lawler was commissioned postmaster of Rockford by President Hayes and had held the office in every Republican administration since 1877. He was a commander of Nevin Post No. 1 of the G. A. R. continuously since 1872.

A record unequalled in the history of that city, when he was elected to the office of postmaster, seemed to be a foregone conclusion. The people of that city at that time.

Friday last it was believed the young man was under arrest in Chicago. Word was received here that Feinberg had been arrested and information was asked for. Chief Pitt sent the required information and requested that a picture of the man under arrest be sent to Chicago. The picture was sent to Chicago for the purpose of identifying the suspect and Chief Pitt went there for full particulars. This morning the chief received word that the young man under arrest was, in fact, the same Feinberg, but that he was not the man wanted and was no relation to the diamond thief.

After taking the diamonds and watches Feinberg was traced from Salt Lake to Birmingham Junction, thence to Springfield and then to Denver. Back time he managed to keep out of the clutches of the detectives. He got away on a train, coming from Denver to Chicago but since then no trace of him has been found.

IN DIEHL'S COURT.

Case Against Junk Dealer Morris Goldberg Continued Until Friday.

In Judge Diehl's court this morning the cases against A. Burt charged with grand larceny, the stealing of some wire cable, and Morris Goldberg, a junk dealer accused of receiving stolen property, were continued until the 7th at which time they will have a preliminary hearing.

The case of the state vs. H. M. Black, charged jointly with a man named Parsons of obtaining from Atty. J. D. Pardo, $250 by means of false pretenses, was set for this afternoon after the city call. The accused is represented by Atty. Job Lyon and Parley Christensen. It is stated on good authority that the case against Black will be dismissed.

CONDITION NO BETTER.

The condition of James Halverson of Richmond, who was beaten by Glenn Lewis during a quarrel at that place a week or two ago, remains unchanged. The patient is at the L. D. S. hospital, and information from his bedside today is to the effect that he is still in a semiconscious state, with no visible improvement. Denning's witnesses are to court to testify in his behalf and said that if he does not hear from his relatives in 10 days to notify the court, and a good lawyer will be appointed. Denning is charged with having

SPRING OPENING FOR WORKMEN

Fag Ends of Winter Find Plans Being Made for Out Door Activities.

A BIG BUILDING CAMPAIGN.

Architects Say it Will Come if Labor and Material Remain Down.

Railroad Construction and Repairs Will Take Small Army With Preferences to Salt Lake Married Men.

With Groundhog day safely passed, the fag ends of a hard and eventful winter are approaching, while plans for spring may be heard in the air. The hope for the unemployed lies in the spring. Winter shutdowns, so marked this season, have occurred every winter, but never so that the men out of work had out-of-door positions. Now they are wondering what will happen when the spring-time comes again, while those who will make the things happen to elongate wage lists are also getting ready for action.

"I'm taking on a few new men, my boy," said an Oregon Short Line construction superintendent to a young surveyor this morning; "but nothing to what we will take on in a month or two. Come on, my boy, and I'll pretty sure to have something." He was addressing a man who in November was getting $100 per month and no expenses, and at the end of that month was discharged with instructions to keep in touch for the time of spring opening.

At the Oregon Short Line depot this morning the preliminaries of the first place of spring construction work are to be seen. This is in the assembling of steam shovels, pile drivers, and excavating gangs for the big depot. Back of the depot, where the country is hidden away in railroad red tape an interesting story of a building that hard times didn't stop. When plans were laid aside, the building was suspended, and improvements ordered suspended. The plans for this one depot were finished from the pile, and on the grounds that a moral obligation existed between the people of Salt Lake and the railroad, it was allowed to go ahead, while blue prints of hoped-for improvements all around were sidetracked into drawers, pending better times.

The depot construction work will give employment to 100 men. Vice President Baccroft said this morning that the usual spring overhauling of the road, would give employment to a great many more, and he stated that the policy of the road would be to give preference to the men who had been in the road, and among these married men, in all the employment offered.

THE STREET RAILROADS.

"As soon as the weather permits," said General Manager Joseph S. Wells of the Utah Light & Railway company, this morning, "our track extensions will be resumed. The will of course, mean the employment of more men, and we expect to be able to use quite a number."

The 50 new cars ordered for the Salt Lake streetcar system are to be complete at the present time, with the exception of one piece of machinery, which when ready, will be fitted to all the cars and they will be started westward at once. There are now 60 cars in use in the city, so that practically the entire service will be renovated.

GOT WRONG MAN.

Chicago Police Arrested Feinberg All Right But Not Diamond Thief.

Abe Feinberg, the young Jew who stole about $2,000 worth of diamonds and watches from his employer, S. Samuelson, proprietor of the New York pawnshop some time ago, seemed to be a foregone conclusion. The police of this and other cities.

Friday last it was believed the young man was under arrest in Chicago. Word was received here that Feinberg had been arrested and information was asked for. Chief Pitt sent the required information and requested that a picture of the man under arrest be sent to Chicago. The picture was sent to Chicago for the purpose of identifying the suspect and Chief Pitt went there for full particulars. This morning the chief received word that the young man under arrest was, in fact, the same Feinberg, but that he was not the man wanted and was no relation to the diamond thief.

After taking the diamonds and watches Feinberg was traced from Salt Lake to Birmingham Junction, thence to Springfield and then to Denver. Back time he managed to keep out of the clutches of the detectives. He got away on a train, coming from Denver to Chicago but since then no trace of him has been found.

IN DIEHL'S COURT.

Case Against Junk Dealer Morris Goldberg Continued Until Friday.

In Judge Diehl's court this morning the cases against A. Burt charged with grand larceny, the stealing of some wire cable, and Morris Goldberg, a junk dealer accused of receiving stolen property, were continued until the 7th at which time they will have a preliminary hearing.

The case of the state vs. H. M. Black, charged jointly with a man named Parsons of obtaining from Atty. J. D. Pardo, $250 by means of false pretenses, was set for this afternoon after the city call. The accused is represented by Atty. Job Lyon and Parley Christensen. It is stated on good authority that the case against Black will be dismissed.

CONDITION NO BETTER.

The condition of James Halverson of Richmond, who was beaten by Glenn Lewis during a quarrel at that place a week or two ago, remains unchanged. The patient is at the L. D. S. hospital, and information from his bedside today is to the effect that he is still in a semiconscious state, with no visible improvement. Denning's witnesses are to court to testify in his behalf and said that if he does not hear from his relatives in 10 days to notify the court, and a good lawyer will be appointed. Denning is charged with having

SPRING OPENING FOR WORKMEN

Fag Ends of Winter Find Plans Being Made for Out Door Activities.

A BIG BUILDING CAMPAIGN.

Architects Say it Will Come if Labor and Material Remain Down.

Railroad Construction and Repairs Will Take Small Army With Preferences to Salt Lake Married Men.

With Groundhog day safely passed, the fag ends of a hard and eventful winter are approaching, while plans for spring may be heard in the air. The hope for the unemployed lies in the spring. Winter shutdowns, so marked this season, have occurred every winter, but never so that the men out of work had out-of-door positions. Now they are wondering what will happen when the spring-time comes again, while those who will make the things happen to elongate wage lists are also getting ready for action.

At the Oregon Short Line depot this morning the preliminaries of the first place of spring construction work are to be seen. This is in the assembling of steam shovels, pile drivers, and excavating gangs for the big depot. Back of the depot, where the country is hidden away in railroad red tape an interesting story of a building that hard times didn't stop. When plans were laid aside, the building was suspended, and improvements ordered suspended. The plans for this one depot were finished from the pile, and on the grounds that a moral obligation existed between the people of Salt Lake and the railroad, it was allowed to go ahead, while blue prints of hoped-for improvements all around were sidetracked into drawers, pending better times.

The depot construction work will give employment to 100 men. Vice President Baccroft said this morning that the usual spring overhauling of the road, would give employment to a great many more, and he stated that the policy of the road would be to give preference to the men who had been in the road, and among these married men, in all the employment offered.

THE STREET RAILROADS.

"As soon as the weather permits," said General Manager Joseph S. Wells of the Utah Light & Railway company, this morning, "our track extensions will be resumed. The will of course, mean the employment of more men, and we expect to be able to use quite a number."

The 50 new cars ordered for the Salt Lake streetcar system are to be complete at the present time, with the exception of one piece of machinery, which when ready, will be fitted to all the cars and they will be started westward at once. There are now 60 cars in use in the city, so that practically the entire service will be renovated.

GOT WRONG MAN.

Chicago Police Arrested Feinberg All Right But Not Diamond Thief.

Abe Feinberg, the young Jew who stole about $2,000 worth of diamonds and watches from his employer, S. Samuelson, proprietor of the New York pawnshop some time ago, seemed to be a foregone conclusion. The police of this and other cities.

Friday last it was believed the young man was under arrest in Chicago. Word was received here that Feinberg had been arrested and information was asked for. Chief Pitt sent the required information and requested that a picture of the man under arrest be sent to Chicago. The picture was sent to Chicago for the purpose of identifying the suspect and Chief Pitt went there for full particulars. This morning the chief received word that the young man under arrest was, in fact, the same Feinberg, but that he was not the man wanted and was no relation to the diamond thief.

After taking the diamonds and watches Feinberg was traced from Salt Lake to Birmingham Junction, thence to Springfield and then to Denver. Back time he managed to keep out of the clutches of the detectives. He got away on a train, coming from Denver to Chicago but since then no trace of him has been found.

IN DIEHL'S COURT.

Case Against Junk Dealer Morris Goldberg Continued Until Friday.

In Judge Diehl's court this morning the cases against A. Burt charged with grand larceny, the stealing of some wire cable, and Morris Goldberg, a junk dealer accused of receiving stolen property, were continued until the 7th at which time they will have a preliminary hearing.

The case of the state vs. H. M. Black, charged jointly with a man named Parsons of obtaining from Atty. J. D. Pardo, $250 by means of false pretenses, was set for this afternoon after the city call. The accused is represented by Atty. Job Lyon and Parley Christensen. It is stated on good authority that the case against Black will be dismissed.

CONDITION