Steel Awaiting Deposit on the New Grounds-Material to be Rushed

By tomorrow evening the broadguaging of the old Garfield line will have been completed as far as the new yards of the Oregon Short Line at Buena Vista, and the unloading of materfal for the Leamington cut-off will begin. There are now here 60 carloads of rails for the cutoff ready for unloading and they will be the first material to be deposited at the yards. After that the stuff for construction will be run out as fast as received and deposited ready for the grading and track-

When the grading contract shall have been let, which will probably be in a few days, grading camps will be stretched along the route of the cutoff and the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible, the tracklayers following closely upon the heels of the teams

CEMENT SPURS. Hantley was Not Surveying a New Line to Salt Lake.

A statement published in a recent issue of the Laramie Boomerang disposes of the rumor that Engineer Huntley of the Union Pacific was surveying a new route to Salt Lake from Laramie, through North Park, Colorado. The comerang says;

"That the new management of the Standard Cement Plaster company is about to enlarge their producing power was evident yesterday by the visit of Mr. H. S. Huntley, the assistant engineer of the Union Pacific road. The plaster company intends to run one spur out to a bed about a mile from the plant and also one to another bed on the Laramie river about five miles

It was to look over these spurs that Mr. Huntley was here. The arrival of G. S. Foster, C. N. Sawyer and T. P. Sexton with a gang of men with un-pronouncable names, started the rumor that the route through the North park region to Salt Lake would be surveyed. The Union Pacific formerly had a line to the soda lakes, the track being torn up two years ago. When seen last night by the Boomerang reporter, Mr. Hunt ley was quite indignant at the report given in an afternoon paper that he was here to make a resurvey of this Finished Its Work.

Portland, Ore., March 16 .- After meeting lasting through more than three weeks and a half, the Transcontinental freight bureau adjourned rine die yesterday. This was the longest meeting ever held by the bureau and its work is more complete than ever before. Still, its officers say, little was done that has any particular significance in trans-continental tariffs. complete revision of the tariff sheets has been effected and every item been cleared from the docket but the results of the incetings appear in a multitude of details rather than in important changer.
"We have had a long meeting of hard members have completed the most tariffs ever made. They have cleaned entirely the work that was before them, and we start out again with a perfectly clean slate. REVENUE DEPT. IS AFTER BROKERS

A Ruling That Stretches Law Over New Class.

UTAH SUGAR IS INCLUDED.

Capt. Wheelock of the Internal Revenue Bept. Says Mining Stock Brokers Pursue Loosest Methods.

The Hawkshaws of the government revenue department have again descended upon Salt Lake, and there is once more a hurrying and a scurrying among mining brokers, who are liable this time to be brought up standing for their failure to pay rigid attention to the requirements of the law with reference to revenue stamps. Capt. G. H. Wheelock, a special agent of the department, has been in the city the past several days investigating local condiions. He claims that there is all sorts of looseness going on among mining stock brokers in their methods of transferring stocks and that certificates sometimes pass through a half a dozen ands with only one revenue stamp af fixed. The brokers were warned some ime ago that if they were caught re peating their loose methods a second time the government would take vigorous action against them.
Capt. Wheelock also made an announcement regarding buyers and sellers of commercial stocks, which will cause something of a sensation if his views are correct. His first business on arriving in Sait Lake was to call at the office of the Utah Sugar company o see whether the stamp law had been fully complied with on the recent large transfer of stock. He found the necessary stamps, amounting to something like $165, affixed to the cancelled certificates and properly canceled. A examining the books he made the state ment that the officers of the company and all other persons who had been buying and selling the stock were liable for a tax as brokers. He reported his findings to Washington, and it is understood included in the list the names of those liable for the tax that of H. G. Whitney, secretary of the sugar company. Mr. Whitney, in addition to being a considerable stockholder in the company, had sent out circulars y the order of the board of directors to all stockholders, inviting those who wished to participate in the recent sale of stock to send their certificates to Under instructions from board, he acted as the stockholders agent, selling their stock for them and remitting them the proceeds. Cept. Wheelock is said to claim that this was an act of brokerage It is understood that other large cor-porations in the city will be investigat. companies who have been buying and selling stock will be reported as liable for the payment of a license, which is $50 per year with an added penalty of $25 per year. If such a course is taken Capt. Wheelook will have to take up end doubtless call on the government for a heavy increase in the number of

Whitney, of the sugar company, ade the following statement: flice the day after the recent sale of ugar stock was announced in the ers, for the purpose of seeing whether the necessary revenue stamps had been affixed to the canceled certificates, been. In the course of his examination transfers of stock which everyone in Salt Lake knows have been taking place in the past two or three years, and I understand his ruling is that those who have bought the stock, even hough they bought it for themselves they made any profit out of it, are able to be called on to pay a broker's ense of $50 a year. Such a ruling seems to me absurd. It would make brokers of several hundred private persons, merchants, bankers, clerks, ladies as well as gentlemen and most of the officers of the company who have been showing their faith in the company by buying its stock for the past several years. I am happy to say that I am one of these, and my and that I ever sold any. To say that this constitutes brokerage seems to me preposterous, and if the revenue of-ficers propose to examine the books of very corporation in Salt Lake to see what private persons or what officials ore buying or selling their stocks-it strikes me that they will not only have their hands full, but that they will be entering upon a line of espionage that he law never thought of contemplat either do I think that my action in sending out a circular to the stockhold ers of the company advising them of the chance to sell a part of their stock, and in remitting them the proceeds of the sale, makes me a broker That transaction was carried out by order of the board of directors and not a dollar of ofit was made by me or any one else performing it.

"The amount at issue is of course in-significant, but I for one shall resist its ayment as vigorously as I know how. Internal Revenue Collector E. H. Ca lister, of this district, when spoken to of the matter, stated that Capt. Wheelock was proceeding without any con-nection with his office. He was the agent of the department at Washingion, and his findings were reported the internal revenue commissione there, John W. Yerkes. Mr. would then issue instructions to Mr. Callister as to whether or not the lieense fee should be collected, and th parties concerned would be given hearing before him. The whole que ion is one that has often been before the department, but there has never ye een any clear definition as to wha onstitutes a broker and how buying and selling in stocks a private individual might do before he could be construed to have come within the provisions of the law.

A prominent young city official at th city and county building, making vigor. ous efforts to see a couple of young ladies home, while the ladies strongly objected to the young fellow's advances, led to considerable trouble between said official and Nightwatchman White late Friday night.

But for the fact that the ladies did not care to file a complaint against the young man, his name would probably now adorn the register of arrests at the The official, whose name is withheld for obvious reasons, tried to frighten Watchman White with the declaration that he would "get his head," but the officer called the bluff. The young official then tried to con the watchman, but the latter declined with thanks. The affair was witnessed by a number of persons who were greatly amused at the young man's The ladies approached the watchman on Third South street about 11 o'clock and demanded protection from the gallant young man who, they said, insisted on accompanying them home. Watchman White seized the young man, but the latter drew himself up to his full height and in indignant tones informed the officer that he (the official) was the greater of the two and he ordered the watchman to proceed about his business. "Don't you order me about, you scapegrace, you!" thundered the now thoroughly aroused White, and he em phasized the remark by giving the offl cial a severe shaking. The young man then swore he would have the officer discharged within three He claimed he was acquainted

ATTORNEYS HAVE A HOT ARGUMENT

Wanless and Garwood Exchange Compliments Today.

SALT LAKE MAN PROTESTS.

Did Not Want Attorney to be Admitted to Practice in Supreme

Quite an interesting and unusual cene was enacted before the supreme ourt this morning at the beginning of the arguments on the motion for a new trial in the case of the State of tah vs James Lynch and Robert L. King, who are convicted of the murler of Col. Prowse.

At the opening of court, Asst. Atty. en. White asked that Atty Harwood of Denver be admitted to the bar of this state temporarily. Atty Wanless who represents the defendants, at once objected to Mr. Garwood being admited to this bar or to him being allowed to take any part in this case. hat he was attorney for defendants and that Garwood had no connection with the case at all; that he had had chough trouble over the matter and didn't want any more interference by

Mr. Garwood, in answer to the object tions of Atty. Waniess, stated that King was an Italian subject and after conviction had appealed to Italian government, through its conul at Denver, for assistance, and that e had been appointed as the represenative of that government to appear and was here in that capacity. He said that he had no desire to interfere the complimented Mr. Waniess' brief very highly and said that he didn't very highly and said that he didn't very whether or not he would want to

Chief Justice Miner stated that through courtesy to the Italian gov-ernment, Mr. Garwood would be ad-

The arguments then proceeded, Atty-Wanless opening. He was followed by Mr. White, The arguments were not concluded at the noon hour, so an adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at which time Mr. White will conclude and will be followed by Mr. Garwood, who gave notice to the court that he would like to make a few statements in the case.

After the court adjourned Attorney

Wanless and Garwood had some hot words in the law library, which, but for the interference of friends of the parties, would have resulted in blows. 'I am going to settle this matter you before you leave town," said Attor-ney Wanless. "This thing has come to the point where either you or I will have to withdraw from the case, and I challenge you that before the court opens tomorrow morning you will either get out of the case or I will
