Stephens is busy looking up titles for grounds desired by the Griffin Car Wheel company of Chicago recently referred to in the "News" as desirous of establishing a plant in this city. The purchase of lands near the Idaho Grande shops was made through Rudolph Ortman for $25,000.

Tourist Got Away—A tourist named S. A. Smith was arrested by Officer Sorenson yesterday morning on a complaint charging him with assault. Smith was a guest at the Kenyon hotel, and it is alleged that he attacked a woman who was staying at the same place. The accused put up $10 bail when taken to police headquarters, but forfeited the same and made his exit from the city on the noon train.

Funeral of Contractor Lewis—Contractor Frank W. Lewis was buried in Mt. Olivet yesterday afternoon, from Odd Fellows hall, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows and the Knights of Pythias, the deceased having been a member of both orders. Rev. P. A. At the Tabernacle—Yesterday being the monthly convocation of the church, no regular services were held in the tabernacle, but a special organ recital was given for the benefit of tourists, and Elder William H. The address, as well as the numbers rendered by Prof. McClellan on the great organ, was well received by the visitors.

Sorenson Files Report—County H. Sorenson Inspector Sorenson has filed his report for the month of July with the county commissioners. It states that he and his deputies visited 468 orchards during the month and served 122 notices to clean up orchards and cut out the pear blight. It is the opinion of the inspector that the fruit crop in this county will be a very heavy one this year but he calls attention to the pear blight, which is becoming serious, and urges that it be attended to without delay.

Pleasing Lawn Party—Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Nilson gave a large lawn party on Saturday afternoon, in honor of the late Mrs. W. A. Peterson, who died in the young friend, Elder Hugo C. A. Can't Trace Lost Stock—A former official with the Wells-Fargo Express company called attention this morning to the fact that some embarrassment was caused the company by inability to trace many shares of the company's stock, on which dividends had not been paid for some years for that reason and which remained in the company's treasury unclaimed. The uncertainty as to these shares is cutting something of a figure in the Harriman fight to secure control of the company. J. E. Dooley says the organic law of the state should be amended so as to provide that all such unclaimed property after a certain time, be escheated to the state.

HOW HE GOT MONEY.

Raised His Employers' Check From Dollars to Hundreds of Dollars.

Vernon Dalton, a young man who formerly resided at Vernon, Togo county, is wanted upon the charge of raising a check given him by his former employers, N. Erickson & Sons, and is now a fugitive from justice. The last heard of young Dalton he was in Durango, Colo., and Sheriff Emery wired the officials there to look out for him and arrest him. As yet the search has been unsuccessful.

Several weeks ago Dalton got a check from Erickson & Sons for $4. He came to this city and raised it to $425, after which he took the check to a friend, Alexander Caldwell, at Murray, who cashed it for him and induced him to deposit most of the money in the Murray bank. Dalton kept out $185 and deposited the rest and then left the state and went to Durango. In checking up his bank book and cancelled checks, Mr. Erickson found that he was $400 short. The raised check was then discovered and the matter was called to the attention of the county attorney and a complaint and warrant issued.

On Saturday the Murray bank received a telegram from Durango asking if a check by Vernon Dalton for $100 was good. The sheriff's office was at once notified of the receipt of the telegram and Sheriff Emery telegraphed the authorities at Dalton's home. Up to a late hour this afternoon no notice of arrest had been received here.

CHURCHES IN CANADA.

They Are Very Numerous and Richly Endowed, Says Salt Lake.

Sidney W. Darke of this city spoke yesterday morning in the First Baptist church, giving a description of noted churches he had visited in Canada. Mr. Darke said:

"During the month of June I spent between two and three weeks in Montreal and Quebec, Canada. This is a country where the people call themselves Canadians and where the English language is spoken. The country was first settled by the French and that language is still spoken by the descendants of those who speak the pure English, however, and their language is called Canadian French. I believe the religion of the majority of the people in Canada is the Roman Catholic. They seem to be very earnest and sincere in their religious duties, and large sums of money have been expended in the erection of their churches. Montreal might be called the city of churches, for they seem to be on every street and many of them are very handsome structures. Every denomination appears to be well represented. There are several Episcopalians, Presbyterians and Methodist churches and two Baptist churches, but the most numerous and magnificent are the Roman Catholic churches. One of these, St. James Cathedral, is said to be an exact reproduction of St. Peter's church at Rome, although on a smaller scale, and its great dome towers 250 feet above the ground. On the front of the building are statues representing the twelve apostles, and the interior is profusely decorated and ornamented.

"The most magnificent church building I saw in mind was that of Notre Dame; it has two towers 222 feet high and among its bells is one weighing 13 tons, and it has an organ very large and fine. It is the second largest church in America, is about 25 feet long and 50 feet wide, and will seat 15,000 people. A chapel was built at the back of the church a few years ago, costing $1,000,000, and is the most beautifully decorated and ornamented building I ever saw. The church is open night and day and there are between two and three hundred priests connected with it and a service of some sort is constantly going on. Entering at the front of the church, one is struck at first with the dim light, but as one goes on, the eyes light the windows being of stained glass the light is much obscured. As one goes on, one begins to realize the vastness of the building. On each side is a deep gallery. The galleries and the roof are supported by massive columns and on each column is a carved statue representing some saint prominent among them being the virgin and child. The deep aisle and the dim light have an awe inspiring effect on that all talking is done in a whisper."

ASSAIL LITTLE GIRLS.

Two Suspects in Clutches of Police for Two Separate Offenses.

L. A. Foreman, a dishwasher employed at the Delicatessen cafe, on West South Temple street, was arrested yesterday charged with assaulting a 5-year-old girl. The child was often sent to the place on errands, and it was during one of these visits, when she was alone with the waiter, that the offense was said to have been committed. Foreman will answer before Judge C. B. Diehl in the criminal division of the city court.

For an alleged assault on a 10-year-old girl, John Hoover, a saloon porter, was arrested in default of bail in the sum of $250. The man was arrested at the instance of the girl's father, John Riddle, who resides at 271 West South Temple street. The present first administrator of a severe corporal punishment to Hoover, and then turned him over to the police. The accused is employed at the Grand Pacific bar, and it was there that the offense is alleged to have been committed.

"MAKE HAY WHILE THE SUN SHINES."

There is a lesson in the work of the thirty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers which are so liable to follow. So it should be with every householder. Dysentery, diarrhea and cholera morbus may attack some member of the home without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has cured millions of people for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as immediate treatment is necessary and may prove fatal. For sale by all druggists.

"If a man does not make new acquaintances as he passes through life he will soon find himself left alone. A man must keep his friendship in constant repair."—News wants ada have introduced more people to each other in this city than have met through any other means.

ARRESTED WRONG MAN.

Real English Lord Arrested for the Bogus Beresford Hope.

The goings and misdoings of the man who masqueraded for a time in Salt Lake as Beresford Hope would make a fair-sized volume, if not several. It would not make good reading, but it would be interesting, as showing the amount of perjury that sometimes stalks abroad in the person of one individual.

Hope, Beresford, Kingsley, or whatever his right name may be, married a Miss Pearl Shale in Denver, and when he could no longer conceal his wrongdoings here, he decamped, leaving his bride of a few months, who has a child, the issue of the marriage between herself and the man who has proved himself to be an adventurer.

Hope, as already published in the "News," passed for a time in the Colorado city as "Dr. Kingsley." He claimed to be a native of India, of noble English parentage. Soon after his arrival in Denver he won the heart and hand of Miss Shale and led her to the altar. The time was exceedingly short ere bliss had known alloy, and the trusting woman and her infant child are now, perhaps, scarcely remembered by the scoundrel who called himself Hope.

The man's career in Salt Lake is of recent date and too well known to need rehearsing. He has been weighed in the balance and found "wanting." Information as to his whereabouts is much wanted.

It was thought that Hope had been apprehended recently in the woods of Maine. He is most probably in the tall timber somewhere, but it turned out that he was not in that particular part of the country. The man believed to be Hope, however, was a real lord and a Douglass at that, front name Sholto. He was sojourning with his wife and child on the shore of Lake Sheshaog, Me., when detectives pounced upon him and were almost in the act of carrying him off to jail, when he proved his identity. The arrest was made at the instance of the police of Ashville, N. C. It was found that there was little resemblance between Hope and Douglass.

The latter married a few years ago a Miss Louisa Adams, a California variety actress. The match did not please the young man's aristocratic English relatives, and they refused to receive the bride, therefore the couple have made their home in this country. It is said that Lord Douglass for a time engaged in the saloon business at Spokane, Wash. Becoming dissatisfied with the vocation, he wound up the enterprise by gathering in all the thirsty element of the city that would respond to an invitation and telling them to help themselves. The disappearance of the "wet goods" was astonishingly rapid.
