WATCHES & JEWELRY

ABOUT three months ago all the watch-makers in the city agreed and subscribed to certain prices for work in their line, for the purpose of obtaining uniformity and cheapness. This agreement has been broken by several watchmakers, who are underselling their fellow-workers and thereby providing themselves with the means for their own ruin. In consequence of which, the undersellers have withdrawn their names from said agreement and established their own prices, cheaper than any other watchmakers in Salt Lake City.

Socialist Convention.

NEW YORK, 12.—A county convention of the Socialistic labor party was held this evening. About 500 were present. After the address a platform was read and adopted, which demanded 8 hours as a day's work; the establishment of National and State departments of labor, agriculture and industry; equal pay for the services of women with that of men, when equal work was performed; no conspiracy against the right of workingmen to strike; abolition of the strike; a compulsory and gratuitous education of all children under 14 years of age; direct popular legislation; reduction of salaries of officers; establishment of a progressive income tax on all property; the removal of all obnoxious trusts; abolition of the lottery; speedy transfer to the city of all means of transportation; thorough and permanent investigation of the affairs of all chartered capitalist associations; establishment of State savings banks, fire and life insurance business and a city pawn shop; abolition of all Sunday laws, etc. A full State and local ticket was nominated, the names being unheard of Germans.

Government's Style.

The Times correspondent, traveling with Secretary Schurz, says: The latter informed the Indians at the council in the Indian Territory, that sooner or later the government would have to break the treaties in which it had guaranteed to the Indians possession of their land; also that Congress will propose in the next report, a law enabling the Indians to obtain complete title to individual land by long occupancy, and then dispose of them at will.

Activity in Iron.

Advices from Barrow, in Furness, say: The demand for iron is brisk, and prices for forward delivery to be advanced. It is to be expected that large shipments will be made to America and the continent. The orders in hand for iron and steel are said to be sufficient to maintain the activity of the trade throughout the winter. Several furnaces have been re-lighted.

Kentucky Blood-Heed.

CINCINNATI, 13.—The Gazette's Grayson, Ky., dispatch says: Jesse Underwood was shot in the door of his father's home known as the Underwood, yesterday morning. The hoodlump party surrounded the house, threatening to kill any body who would dare bury Jesse's body or rescue George who is badly wounded and with the women and children, all that remains of the unfortunate Underwood family inside of the house. George Underwood sent word to the county judge, praying for help and protection. The Governor has been appealed to but has not responded. This is the fifth murder within the last three weeks in Carter county, four of the murdered men being Underwood and one a man named the Hoodlump. Nothing has been done by any officer from the governor down to the county magistrates, to check this fearful bloodshed.

For Manhandling.

DETROIT, 13.—The coroner's jury which held an inquest to determine the cause of the falling of the grand stand at the Adrian fair grounds, by which 15 lives were lost and 200 injured, rendered a verdict late on Saturday night, to the effect that W. T. Lawrence, owner of the stand; Elmer, an architect; H. Armstrong and Henry Armstrong, carpenters, who built the stand, were guilty of criminal negligence. All but the latter were arrested yesterday on a charge of manslaughter, and were arraigned this forenoon and pleaded not guilty and were released on $3,000 bail. Their examination takes place October 22nd. Armstrong has not yet been arrested.

Another Collision.

CHICAGO, 13.—A railroad accident occurred this evening at Maywood, on the Northwestern Road, by which two men were killed and a number wounded. The cause was a collision between freight and passenger train.

The names of the killed are Monroe W. Anderson, of Elgin, and W. P. Seabury, of Chicago, both passengers. George Chisholm was severely, but not seriously, injured, and several other persons were injured and taken up. The cause of the evening accommodation on the Galena division of the Northwestern, and the train into which it ran was a gravel train. A misunderstanding as to signals was the cause.

An Editor Shot.

GALVESTON, 13.—A News special from Paris says that J. J. Wheeler, editor of the Banner, was shot dead this morning by a man named Bonner, a former associate of Wheeler, who had been charged for removal against Police Commissioner Clark, whom Bonner defended and succeeded in getting acquitted, which was the cause of the shooting. Wheeler was several times threatened by Bonner.

THE INDIAN WAR

Comments, Dispatches, etc., in connection with the Indian war.

NEW YORK, 13.—The Herald, discussing the Indian war, says that they have attacked our people, not only murdered individuals, but made war against the United States. They appear to have done so without provocation. But even if they had suffered wrong their treaty with us bound them to peaceful remedies. It will not do to say that they are entitled to their former treaty rights. They have deliberately forfeited those. The government may force them to settle, then, on their reservation; may reinstate them in their former and forfeited rights, but it need not do so, and in our judgment ought not to do so.

Washington, 13.—Secretary Schurz, immediately upon receiving the dispatch stating that the hostile Indians had retired, through the influence of Oursay, called at the War Department and conferred with Gen. Sherman on the subject. The latter at once sent the following telegram to Gen. Sheridan:

Headquarters, United States Army, Washington, Oct. 13, 1879.

To Gen. F. H. Sherman, commanding Division, etc., Chicago.

The Hon. Secretary of the War.

Has this morning called with a telegram conveying a proposition for peace, which is communicated to your own information, and which should go for what it is worth to Generals Crook and Merritt. The latter is on the spot and can tell if the hostilities have ceased fighting. If so, Gen. Merritt is to go in every event to the agency to ascertain the actual condition of facts.

As Indians who oppose must be cleared out of the way if they resist. If they surrender their arms and ponies, they should be held as prisoners to be disposed of by superior orders. The Secretary of the Interior will send a special agent at once to Oursay, who seems to be honest and to be our friend. He may prevent the Southern Utes from being involved, and the Interior Department can befriend him afterward by showing favors to some of his special friends. But the murderers of the agent and employees must be punished, as also the Indians who killed Major Thornburgh and men.

Please acknowledge receipt.

(Signed) W. T. SHERMAN, General.

In reply to the telegram from Indian Agent Sizer, the Secretary of the Interior sent the following:

Dep't. of the Interior, Oct. 13th, 1879.

To Stanley, Agent of Los Pinos Agency.

Your dispatch is received. Tell Oursay that his efforts are highly appreciated by the government. In view of the short time upon the troops and the massacre of the agent and employees, the troops will have to proceed to the White River Agency. Oursay should endeavor to prevent any resistance to this movement. The troops are now in great force, and resistance would result only in great disaster to the Indians. The hostiles will have to surrender, and throw themselves upon the mercy of the government. The guilty parties must be identified and delivered up. We shall see that no injustice is done anyone. The peaceable Indians will be protected.

Oursay's recommendation for mercy in individual cases will be respected as far as the general instructions permit. Special agents are being dispatched to Los Pinos with further instructions.

(Signed) SCHURZ.

Rawlins, Wyo., 13.—Mr. Emil Webber and George Fuhr, two cowboys, have just arrived from the mouth of the White River Agency. From them I learn the following particulars:

Gen. Merritt advanced upon the agency on the 11th inst. On his way he saw many dead horses. Among them he found the bodies of Carl Goldstein, an Israelite, who left here with Government supplies for the Utes at White River Agency. He was found in a gulch six miles this side of the agency and was twice shot through the shoulder. He was about two miles from the agency. A teamster named Julius Moore, formerly from Bainbridge, Mass., who was with him when he fell here, was found about 100 yards from Goldstein with two bullet holes in his breast and his body hacked and mutilated with a knife or hatchet.

A command advanced through the cañon, they came to an old coal mine, and in it they found the dead body of an agency employee, named Dr. H. He had evidently been wounded and crawled in the mine to die. His coat was folded up and placed under his head for a pillow. Beside him lay a Winchester repeating rifle with cartridges. In one of his pockets a letter was found, which, as near as the courier can remember, was as follows:

WHITE RIVER, Sept. 29, 1 o'clock p.m.

Major Thornburgh:

I will come with Chief Douglas and a crowd of Indians, and will go to-morrow. Everything quiet here and Douglas is flying the United States flag. We have been on guard tonight and expect any trouble, but because there might be. Did you have any trouble coming through the cañon.

(Signed) C. C. MEKKER, United States Indian Agent.

On entering the agency a scene of quiet desolation presented itself. All the buildings except one were burned to the ground and not a living thing in sight except the command. The Indians had taken everything except flour and deerskins. The women and children were missing and nothing which ever could be found to indicate what had become of them. They have either been murdered and buried, or else taken and unmercifully slain for the most profound sympathy.

The dead body of Father Meeker was found about a mile from his house, lying on his back, shot through the head. The left side of his head was mashed in with some blunt instrument, a piece of barrel stove being driven into his mouth and one of his hands and arms badly burned. The body of Mr. H. F. Foster, Father Meeker's assistant, was found between the building and the river, with a bullet hole through his left ear and one under the ear. As well as Father Meeker, were stripped entirely naked.

Another employee named Eaton was found dead. He was stripped naked and had a bullet hole in his left breast. He had a bullet hole in his left breast. Frank Dresser, a brother to the one found in the coal mine, was found badly burned. He had, without provocation, been killed by a bullet that passed through his head.

The bodies of Eaton, Thompson, Price, Kellogg, and all the other employees not noted, were found here being driven into his mouth and a bullet hole through his head. In the position occupied by the Indians during Thornburgh's battle, we found the dead body of an unknown white man dressed in buckskins. He was sitting on the ground and had his gun in position to fire, and was shot through the forehead. From this it appears the Indians are not alone in this hostile work. The supposition is that the Indians have gone south to join the southern Utes, and the impression among the officers of Meeker's command is that the Indians who attacked Thornburgh number at least 100.

Chicago, 13.—Colonel Merritt telegraphed military headquarters at der date of Oct. 11th, substantially as follows:

This morning I moved down the river to a point near the White River Agency. The cavalry has been out all day in different directions, looking for Indians, and all reports that trailled south to the Grand River. I have little doubt but the Indians have gone to the company's Agency. I expect Gilbert and Henry tomorrow and will then move toward Grand River, leaving a guard behind. I have buried seven bodies here including agent Meeker, and three on the road. I am entirely in doubt respecting the force the hostiles can muster. It is clearly ascertained that the hostile Indians joined the Utes before the Thornburgh fight. If the orders are to go to the Southern Agency and fight what we meet, I shall be glad to carry them out. Large numbers of hostiles will not be delayed.

Colonel Merritt regrets exceedingly that a number of military supplies could not be taken by ransomed.

WESTERN.

Grant in Oregon.

SAN FRANCISCO, 13.—An Astoria dispatch at 7 o'clock this morning says: A gun from Fort Canby announced that the steamer St. Paul had been sighted. The tug Canby, having on board General Greene, Major Thornburgh, Hon. W. D. Hare, and Representative, started from Astoria to meet the incoming ship. When the St. Paul arrived at the junction of the North Fork of the Columbia, and nearby the crews of English ships, gaily decorated and anchored in the bay, which were answered by the St. Paul's passengers. She took on the gentlemen from the Canby one mile east of Cape Hancock. As she neared Astoria the bells rung, whistles blew, and the ship was greeted with a salute of 21 guns was fired. A salute was also fired from F. N. Canby. As the St. Paul passed up the river she was greeted with cheers by the crews of English ships, gaily decorated and anchored in the bay, which were answered by the St. Paul's passengers. She took on the gentlemen from the Canby one mile east of Cape Hancock. As she neared Astoria the bells rung, whistles blew, and the ship was greeted with a salute of 21 guns was fired. A salute was also fired from F. N. Canby.

The St. Paul touched at 3.25, and the distinguished soldier was greeted with three rousing cheers, which were acknowledged with a salute of 21 guns was fired. A salute was also fired from F. N. Canby.

Major W. W. Park and the city council of Astoria came aboard, and were presented. Then Gen. O. O. Howard, with staff, O. G. Grant, Capt. H. Bladen and Lieut. C. E. S. Wood, accompanied by Major Wm. Governor Morris and Capt. D. H. Hill, came aboard with greetings. By invitation of Mayor Parker, General Grant went ashore and took his station on a stand on the wharf. When Mayor Parker had delivered a short address, General Grant responded as follows:

Friends—I am well pleased to again set foot in Oregon and be received in such a kindly manner. The scenes around me, the point of interest between Astoria and the Dalles returns to my memory. You have made great improvements. The hills don't look one-half as high as they did 23 years ago. I have never before set foot in Astoria. I have passed here eight times. There has been a great change and I am pleased to see it. I regret that my stay will be so short, as I would be pleased to visit every portion of the north Pacific coast. It seems like returning home again. Thanking you for your kind and cordial welcome, I assure you it will ever be cherished in my memory.

The general shook hands with the crowd as they passed by in single file.

The St. Paul left for Vancouver at 5.30 and the Lurline, with Gen. Howard and staff, Governor Ferry, the territorial officers and legislators, followed a few minutes later and reached the St. Paul six miles east of Astoria.

A dispatch from Portland, Oregon, dated 1.45 p.m., says: The steamer St. Paul arrived at Astoria at 5.15 this morning. After salutes from the forts the steamer immediately proceeded up the Columbia River. Grant will not reach Portland until to-morrow. He is stopping to-day at Fort Vancouver.

No Chinese.

A Victoria dispatch says: Large public meetings have been held at Vancouver Island and on the main land, British Columbia, at which resolutions were passed and a petition to Sir John A. Macdonald, Premier of the Dominion government, protesting against the employment of Chinese labor in the construction of the Canada Pacific Railway.
