

Chapter of Accidents.

Our northern exchanges report the following casualties: On Wednesday Peter Johnson of Montana, Rex Taylor of Idaho, was driving home, when suddenly, the team took fright and ran away. The driver was captured and the animal all driven over the ground. The horse was most injured. The lucky wheel struck the driver on the face, knocking out five teeth, cutting the upper lip through to the chin; his another tooth was cut from the corner of the mouth across the cheek bone.
