Briere, who claimed that the murders were committed by two tramps, but who is suspected of having slain the children himself in a fit of drunken madness, has not yet confessed, but the authorities are satisfied that he is the murderer.

One of the most conclusive evidences of his guilt was discovered by pure ac-cident. He planned and carried out the crimes in the most cold-blooded manner and upset the furniture to convey the idea that the alleged mur-derers had ransacked the house for booty. But in overturning a drawer verturned a bottle of ink, and the doctors in dressing his wounds found his finger-tips stained with ink. The motive of the murder appears to be that Briere wanted to marry a widow, who had rejected him on ac-count of his large family. The crime has caused a tremendous sensation throughout France.

CHEW FOOD. Chewing Preserves the Teeth and Helps Digestion.

The finest specimens of teeth are seen in animals and human beings who chew the food thoroughly. Dentists agree that teeth must be used to properly preserve them and therefore urge people to chew their food thoroughly, but the nervous, hurried manner of ealing is altogether too common among people and when fed on soft mushes they are liable to swallow the food without chewing. Dyspepsia and bad teeth are the result

If this practice is continued. True one can eat soft food without detriment if the necessity of chewing is remembered. Grape-Nuts food is so crisp and brittle and withal so pleasant to the taste that the user can not forget to chew and thus the user can not forget to chew and thus the teeth get the necessary use and the glands of the gums are made to give the juices that Nature intends shall be mixed with the food before it enters the stomach. The diseases most feared are those which are inherited - handed down from generation to generation, and family to family. By far the most destructive of these is Cancer, which finds the greatest number of its victims among the children and grand-children of those whose blood was tainted with this dreadful malady. You may carry this poison in the blood for years, but as the vital powers begin to wane a slight bruise or cut, wart or mole, sore or pimple may develop into Cancer. From middle life to old age is the time when the stambering poison is most apt to break out, a sore or ulcer often degenerating into Cancer, and Tumors become more progressive and ulcerate through the skin, the sharp, shooting pains causing the most intense suffering.

The Cancer patient naturally grows despondent as one after another the usual remedies fail, and the sore shows no sign of healing. The impurities that have been accumulating in the system, perhaps for generations, cannot be eliminated nor the poisoned blood made pure by salves, washes and plasters.
